

contributions to the legal profession and the community of Superior Court Judge Carlos Cazares.

The oldest of 11 children who came from a hard-working Mexican family, Judge Cazares distinguished himself as a trailblazer serving in the Army during the Korean War and later attending college at night through the GI Bill, earning an accounting degree. He subsequently earned a law degree, becoming one of the first Mexican-American lawyers in San Diego County.

In 1972, then-Governor Ronald Reagan appointed him to a Municipal Court judgeship. Five years later, Gov. Jerry Brown elevated him to the San Diego Superior Court, an event witnessed by his parents, Carlos and Norberta Cazares.

In addition to his accomplishments on the bench, Judge Cazares was instrumental in ensuring that people have the highest quality of care and respect, both personally and professionally. For example, he helped establish the San Ysidro Health Clinic and was a member of the Knights of Columbus and a lay minister at St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church, ministering to the sick at hospitals.

He was a dedicated son, father, grandfather, brother and uncle.

Mr. Speaker, Judge Carlos Cazares was a hard-working community leader. It is our great pleasure to recognize his selfless commitment to the betterment of our community and our fellow citizens. We urge our colleagues to join in honoring his achievements. He has truly served our society with relentless dedication, and his community contributions distinguish him as an example for us all.

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY HONORS
REVEREND RICHARD MILLER

HON. RUSH D. HOLT

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. HOLT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize, honor and thank Reverend Richard Miller, Pastor of The Stanton Reformed Church in Stanton, New Jersey since 1965, and dedicated community leader.

In a span covering four decades Reverend Miller has provided more than religious services. He has long been a dependable and reliable listener, who has always taken a personal and heartfelt interest in all of the community.

In fact Reverend Miller and the Stanton Reformed Church provide an example of what a community church should be. Ten years ago, when a member of the community was diagnosed with leukemia, Reverend Miller opened the doors and initiated a bone marrow drive. The program was subsequently supported by Merck & Co and has resulted in several matches.

This is but one example, however, of the many lives he touched. Reverend Miller has also served as the Chaplain to the Hunterdon County Jail and the Readington Township PBA. Furthermore, he has served as a role model to our youth as both an Assistant Scoutmaster and Scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts of America since 1969. The Stanton Grange recognized this distinguished service in 1975 with a Community Service Award.

It is with great pride that I join the members of the Reform Church in recognizing the thirty-seven years of service that Mr. Miller has given to the people of Stanton. He has been the ear that listens, the shoulder to lean on and the modest individual who gave all he had to his community. Reverend Miller is truly a treasure in New Jersey's cultural heritage. His example is an inspiration to all Central New Jerseyans.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, again, I rise to celebrate and honor this true New Jersey treasure. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Reverend Richard Miller of the Reformed Church in Stanton, New Jersey.

MARITIME TRANSPORTATION
ANTITERRORISM ACT OF 2002

SPEECH OF

HON. PETER A. DeFAZIO

OF OREGON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 4, 2002

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to express support for H.R. 3983, the Maritime Transportation Antiterrorism Act. I also want to mention a couple of areas where the bill needs to be improved during Conference Committee consideration. According to the Economist magazine, last October, a discovery at the southern Italian port of Gioia Tauro shook the foundations on which world trade has grown so rapidly in the past half century. A suspected al-Qaeda terrorist was found inside a container. The Egyptian suspect, who later disappeared while on bail, was equipped in comfort for the duration of the container's intended sea voyage from Italy to Halifax in Canada. He carried plans of airports, an aviation mechanic's certificate and security passes. Intelligence sources say other containers similarly outfitted were found at the Italian port.

Had this container actually reached an American or even Canadian port, this suspect would likely have escaped into the interior of the United States. Why? Because many terminal operators have abandoned the practice of inspecting so-called empty containers to ensure that the container is actually empty. They have also abandoned the practice of inspecting container seals, to ensure that no tampering of the container has taken place. It is time for Congress to step in and demand that every terminal operator do their part to enhance the security of American ports, containers, and our communities.

The International Longshore and Warehouse Union testified before the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee and made a compelling case for legislation to mandate security checks of containers. Port workers can inspect the outside seal of every container moving through our ports. A broken seal would alert the port facility that the container has been tampered with and that it needs to be carefully inspected before entering a facility or being placed on a vessel. A systematic check of container seals also provides authorities with a record of the parties responsible for placing the seal on any container that may contain a terrorist or contain the means of a terrorist act.

Another equally necessary security measure is the mandatory inspection of so-called empty containers, which regularly move on and off ships each day. Many countries, including Japan, require such inspections because of the increased risk that these "empties" pose for the placement of bombs, weapons and contraband. In fact, inspection of empty containers on American docks was the customary practice up until a few years ago when companies decided it cut into profits. We can no longer allow our port facility operators to place profits over the security needs of our country.

H.R. 3983 is a good bill, but it is weak on container security solutions. I hope that provisions providing for security checks of empty containers and the integrity of container seals are considered by the Conference Committee.

A TRIBUTE TO PASTOR ED JOHNSON OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF ROSEMOUNT, MINNESOTA, FOR 35 YEARS OF INSPIRING MINISTRY AND DEDICATED SERVICE

HON. JIM RAMSTAD

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Pastor Ed Johnson, Senior Pastor of First Baptist Church of Rosemount, Minnesota, who will soon become Pastor Emeritus.

Pastor Ed and his loving wife, Ellie, have been doing the Lord's work in our state and nation for 35 years and have truly made a difference in the lives of thousands of people.

Pastor Ed has been a special friend and spiritual mentor since the day we first met in the spring of 1990—over 12 years ago. From my first major vote on "Operation Desert Storm" to coping with my mother's Alzheimer's disease, Pastor Ed has been there for my family and me. His wise counsel, friendship, support and prayers are deeply appreciated.

Mr. Speaker, many of our colleagues remember Pastor Ed Johnson from his service as Guest Chaplain for the House of Representatives several years ago, when he made a lasting impression on all of us.

That's Pastor Ed—always serving the Lord in a loving, kind and gentle way. Whether he's motivating young missionaries on the mission field, encouraging young preachers, supporting Sunday school teachers and bus drivers, counseling families, teaching new members and students or reaching out to the community to build a growing flock for his remarkable church, Pastor Ed has been there for all of us the past 35 years.

Pastor Ed has been repeatedly recognized by local, state and national religious organizations for the phenomenal growth of his church and his many other accomplishments. It's easy to understand his success once you meet him.

Pastor Ed Johnson's First Baptist Church has been successful because of its family-oriented approach centered firmly on the Bible. No one escapes the reach of Pastor Ed's inspiring motivational tools: a warm heart, an unyielding resolve and an eloquent speaking style.

Pastor Ed's dynamic approach to building faith is based on what he learned at Tennessee Temple University and Temple Baptist Theological Seminary in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Mr. Speaker, Pastor Ed doesn't just encourage people to come to church, he goes out and gets them! He has assembled an armada of buses to go out into a 15-mile radius from Rosemount and bring people to his church and Sunday school. Then he sends the members of his congregation out into the world to spread the gospel and do good works to help people in need.

Under Pastor Ed's visionary leadership, First Baptist Church of Rosemount has developed a missionary program that oversees 46 missionaries in countries throughout the world, 7 Christian schools and colleges and numerous full-time Christian ministries right here in the U.S.

Also, Pastor Ed founded the First Baptist Church Christian School in 1971. Today, that school has produced 400 graduates, many of whom have entered the ministry full time throughout the world, as well as many other callings.

Pastor Ed has been recognized for his accomplishments time and again, and he has been honored with Doctor of Divinity Degrees from Hyles-Anderson College and Baptist Christian University.

A past President of the Minnesota Association of Christian Schools, Pastor Ed is now that group's Executive Director. He also serves as a member of the Board of Directors of both the American Association of Christian Schools and the General Council of Baptist Mid-Missions.

In these positions, he has traveled throughout the nation in recent years, spreading faith with an evangelistic and Biblical conference ministry.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, Pastor Ed Johnson has made a difference in politics and government both in Minnesota and our nation. From our work together in the Minnesota Legislature to save the option of home-schooling for Minnesota families to my very first and most challenging endorsing convention for Congress, Pastor Ed has been a key ally and loyal friend. I treasure his wise counsel and consider his friendship a true blessing.

Mr. Speaker, as Pastor Ed Johnson retires from his active ministry, we wish him and his wonderful wife, Ellie, all of God's blessings and thank him for the great impact his ministry has had on countless people in Minnesota and around the world.

May God bless you, Pastor Ed and Ellie, and may God bless America!

CONGRATULATIONS TO BELLEFONTE AREA HIGH SCHOOL MOCK TRIAL TEAM ON WINNING THEIR DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. JOHN E. PETERSON

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. PETERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge the accomplishments of a dedicated group of young students from Bellefonte Area High School in Bellefonte, Pennsylvania. I wish to pay tribute to those students on the Mock Trial team and their advisors who participated in the Mock Trial program sponsored by the Pennsylvania Bar Association. This is the second year in a row that Bellefonte Area High School Mock Trial team has won the competition against other student teams in their district.

The Mock Trial program gives young students an opportunity to learn about the law, legal strategies, and courtroom etiquette and procedure. This is accomplished by "trying" a fictitious court case in front of an actual judge and jury. Student participants portray both the witnesses and the attorneys on both sides of the case. Members of the Bellefonte Area High School Mock Trial team were Erika Dillon, Karen Stringer, Jeremy Winn, Alex Henderson, Katey Glunt, Jon Judiech, Tim Williams, Sara Waugh, Justin Kirk Houser, and Joe Putnam. Their advisors were Ed Fitzgerald, Gregg Kohlhepp, and Assistant District Attorney Lance Marshall, who donated his free time to help these dedicated students.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing the Bellefonte Area High School Mock Trial team who brought deserved recognition to their school and community. Their enthusiasm and desire to learn the judicial system should be commended and encouraged by all. Their success demonstrates that today's youth are our leaders of tomorrow.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE TOWN OF FREEDOM

HON. MARK GREEN

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. GREEN of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, today before this House I recognize and honor the Town of Freedom, a Wisconsin community that exemplifies the American dream in its past, present and future.

On June 5, Freedom celebrates the 15th anniversary of its founding.

Freedom has a rich history. Its first inhabitants were Indians that called the area Sagola, which means "good morning." Some of Freedom's first settlers were James Jackson, an ex-slave, and his Native American wife. In recognition of his release from slavery, Jackson named the place "Freedom" In the years that followed, the demand for lumber from northeastern Wisconsin brought a number of Irish, German and Dutch immigrants to Freedom.

In 1848, Wisconsin gained statehood, putting Freedom one step closer to its formal foundation. In June of 1852, Ethan Powers, Albert Cook, and James Taylor met for the first time as the town's Board of Supervisors, marking Freedom's beginning that we celebrate this year.

Throughout the 19th Century, Freedom continued to build and prosper, growing along with the area's burgeoning timber industry. As the 20th Century arrived, and agriculture began to replace logging, the citizens of Freedom also began to change with the times. Like its Indian name, Sagola, meaning "good morning," today the citizens of Freedom have woken to the glory of a new day and continue to march forward toward a bright future ahead.

On this sesquicentennial anniversary of the inception of Freedom, I offer my congratulations to the town and its residents. Since its founding, Freedom has lived true to its name, welcoming every newcomer and providing all with the liberty and independence to prosper.

A TRIBUTE TO JIM AND MISTY JOHNSON OF LAVACA, ARKANSAS

HON. MIKE ROSS

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today with a heavy heart to pay tribute to a young woman and colleague of mine, a pharmacy technician from Lavaca, Arkansas, along with her husband, Jim, and three-year-old daughter, Shea Nicole, who lost their lives in the Interstate 40 bridge collapse on May 26, 2002.

Misty Johnson was only 28 when she was so tragically killed, but in those 28 years she brightened the lives of friends, family, even her customers at Rose Drug Store in Paris, Arkansas. Her coworkers say Misty was fun to work with, always on time, and always ready to work hard.

Six years ago, she married Jim, her high school sweetheart. Their friends say no one can remember either of them having dated anyone but each other. Jim worked as a route sales representative for Wonder Bread, and started work at 3 am. He had to go to bed earlier than the rest of his family, and he made sure he kissed his daughter Shea every night before doing so. The two lived for their young daughter and always put her first in their lives. In fact, they were headed to Tulsa for a day at the zoo when their lives were unexpectedly taken.

My heart goes out to Misty's and Jim's parents, Hursel and Linda Henson and Juanita Brown Johnson, and their families. I know this is an extremely difficult time for them, and for all families who lost loved ones on that terrible day, and I keep them in my thoughts and prayers. While Misty, Jim, and Shea are no longer with us, their spirit lives on, in the lives of all those they touched.

COMMENDING STATIONS ON MAKING THE TRANSITION TO DIGITAL TELEVISION

HON. CHRISTOPHER JOHN

OF LOUISIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, June 6, 2002

Mr. JOHN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my support for the ongoing efforts by our Nation's broadcasters to make the transition to digital television. This exciting new technology will open the door to a new world of possibilities like High Definition TV, interactive television, and expanded programming options.

I am proud that one of the broadcasters in my congressional district has taken a lead in making this advancement. KLFY, a Young Broadcasting station, currently serves residents in Louisiana's Seventh Congressional District with a digital signal.

It is no small accomplishment to make the transition to digital. Broadcasters across the country are making substantial investments in new transmitting facilities, new production
