

storage is so, so critical for us out there.

Finally, keep in mind what water storage, what it does. It provides flood control. It provides hydroelectricity. It provides recreation. And probably as important as anything that I have just mentioned, probably more important than anything that I have just mentioned, it allows us to save water and build up a reservoir so when we face the kind of drought conditions that we are facing today in the West, we have the capability to draw from that reservoir, at least from a limited period of time to try and get us through until the next snow season.

Colleagues, I appreciate your time this evening. I appreciate the fact that I am allowed, and have this great privilege in this country to come to this House well and try to work with my colleagues in the East, Republican or Democrat, to tell you how important it is that you understand the geographical differences, the water differences between the eastern United States and the western United States.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate this time, and look forward to Members' cooperation on these issues in the future.
