SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 3, 2001, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

WHERE IS THE MONEY?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. JONES) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JONES of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, first, I would like to say I join my colleagues on both sides of the aisle in my concerns about the corporate scandals that are taking place throughout this country and certainly the investors who have lost so much money. I resent very much the corporate leadership and how they have misled and manipulated the investors, and I hope that there will be a severe price to pay for this action.

However, Mr. Speaker, I wanted to come back to the floor tonight to talk about my concerns about the government in their report, which was the "2001 Financial Report of the United States Government." On page 110, we can see from the chart that they acknowledge in this report that the taxpayers or the government has lost $17.3 billion of the taxpayers' money. My biggest concern is because the taxpayers do not have a choice, they have to pay their taxes at the end of the year, and those of us in Congress, I think we have a responsibility to make sure that the monies of our taxpayers are certainly being protected so there is not a report like the "2001 Financial Report of the United States Government," that said we have misplaced or lost or cannot reconcile transactions that total $17.3 billion.

Mr. Speaker, I actually wrote to Secretary O'Neill on June 6 asking him to please respond to my letter asking questions as to where in the world could this $17.3 billion have gone. I certainly think that the taxpayers of this country have a right to know. Certainly they are required to pay taxes, so they are investors in this government; and we have a responsibility to make certain that we can account for their monies.

In addition, there was the GAO testimony that was released on April 9, 2002. This was an appearance before the Subcommittee on Government Efficiency, Financial Management and Intergovernmental Relations. I want to read one statement from David Walker, Comptroller General of the United States. He said, "As in the four previous fiscal years, we were unable to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements because of certain material weaknesses in internal control and accounting and reporting issues. These conditions prevented us from being able to provide the Congress and the American citizens an opinion as to whether the consolidated financial statements are fairly stated in conformity with the U.S. generally accepted accounting principles."

Mr. Speaker, when I read that information to the House and to the American people, we certainly have our responsibility as elected officials to make certain that the people that have the privilege to work for the taxpayers of this country make sure that we spend their money wisely. I am almost embarrassed to be here on the floor to say to the American people and to my colleagues on the floor of the House that in this 2001 report we have acknowledged that we have lost $17.3 billion of the taxpayers' money.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to close by saying in addition to Secretary O'Neill, I have written a letter to Chairman DAN BURTON asking that he hold a hearing and let us see if we cannot find out where the taxpayers' $17.3 billion has gone. We owe them an explanation.

As we look into the corporate scandals, let us also look at the accounting system of the United States Government so that we can explain to the taxpayers of this country where their money is going.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. TERRY). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. BROWN of Ohio addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BURTON) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. BURTON of Indiana addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)
