THE NEED FOR A HOMELAND SECURITY BILL

(Mr. FOLEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FOLEY. Madam Speaker, I woke up this morning to a lot of noise on my TV set as two prominent Senators were berating the President of the United States, so I tuned in to listen and find out what all the fuss was about.

It turned out there was a concern echoed by the President that there is a national homeland security bill that left this Chamber in July. In July. We had promised the American public action on this critical legislation before the anniversary of the terror attacks in New York, Washington and Pennsylvania on September 11.

So I thought to myself, why would our President, our Commander-in-Chief, be outraged? Why would he be concerned, and why would we hear such volume from the Senate? Well, he is concerned about the life of every American living here in the United States who wants a safe homeland.

We passed our bill. I cannot urge action on the other body, it is prohibited by the rules of the House. But I would at least hope that the American people would speak out loud and clear about the need for a homeland security bill, about the need to protect our national security.

CODE ADAM ACT

(Mr. LAMPSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMPSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of the Code Adam Act. Code Adam is a proven, successful program that has saved lives in the retail environment. It is time to bring that same measure of safety to children in Federal buildings.

Since the Code Adam program began in 1994, it has been a powerful preventive tool against child abductions and lost children in more than 25,000 stores across the Nation. The House and Senate versions of the Code Adam Act would require the implementation of this protocol in all Federal buildings.

Wal-Mart started this fantastic program in the name of Adam Walsh, John and Reve Walsh's son, who was abducted from a mall and murdered in Florida about 20 years ago. Every day I see children walking through the Halls of Congress and in Federal buildings back home in Texas. God forbid, if a child would go missing in one of these buildings, this bill would make sure that a plan was in place to secure that building and find the child before something tragic could occur.

Join me, the gentleman from Puerto Rico and many of our other colleagues in supporting this great piece of legislation.

URGING ACTION ON HOMELAND SECURITY

(Mr. BURTON of Indiana asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Madam Speaker, we are at war. Homeland security legislation passed this body in July, as the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY) just mentioned, and yet the Senate has not acted.

The President wants the tools that he thinks are necessary to protect every man, woman and child in this country, and yet the Senate has not acted.

He wanted it done before September 11, the anniversary of the tragedy that happened in New York, here in Washington, D.C. and in Pennsylvania, but the Senate has not acted.

It is almost October. We are about to get out of here, and the Senate has not acted.

The other body wants to give the President less authority over national security than any other agency of government, and that is wrong. He needs the tools to protect this country, and yet the Senate has not acted.

Let me just say to the leaders of the Senate who were raising Cain yesterday: Get on the ball, protect America, support our President, and protect all the people who want to be protected in this country. We do not need another attack of terror.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. BIGGERT). Members are to be reminded that they should not characterize inaction or action of the Senate.

ILL-CONCEIVED CUTS IN MEDICARE

(Mrs. CAPPS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mrs. CAPPS. Madam Speaker, seniors back at home have been waiting for years for Congress to pass a prescription drug benefit as part of Medicare. Each month, many choose between buying medications and paying rent. I am not exaggerating. They are desperate.

To make matters worse, many seniors were told by their doctors this year that they had to go somewhere else for care. This is because an arcane formula arbitrarily cuts the fees Medicare pays physicians. The administration says there was nothing they could do.

Now seniors in my district will be told they cannot get other health care, like a pacemaker or a pint of blood, because Medicare is cutting these rates also. And this time it is not because of some formula. The administration is actually doing this on purpose. This will hurt our already stretched seniors.

This will also get in the way of efforts to prepare for bioterrorism. Hospitals depend upon Medicare to help pay the bills. These cuts will mean our hospitals will be even more strapped for resources and less prepared.

I urge the administration to reject this ill-conceived idea and support our seniors, our doctors and our hospitals.

BANKRUPTCY REFORM BILL UNDERMINED BY TAINTED AMENDMENT

(Mr. PITTS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PITTS. Madam Speaker, some proponents of the current bankruptcy reform bill have claimed they want to stop violence. Well, we already know that fines and judgments for violent acts cannot be discharged in bankruptcy, so we have been arguing that the amendment added in conference committee is really out to stop peaceful, nonviolent protestors at abortion clinics.

Well, last week the Senator who wrote the amendment said on MNPR, and I quote, "They'd pay their fine and go back and stand in front of the clinic again. And they'd pay their fine and go back and stand in front of the clinic again; and they'd pay their fine and go back and stand again. They were taking the law into their own hands; in a peaceful way, but a very serious way, that led us to write the law."

Well, there we have it, right from the horse's mouth. Peaceful, pro-life protestors are the target of that amendment.

Madam Speaker, the current bill discriminates against pro-life Americans for no other reason than for what they believe. That is not right, not in America; and as much as I want to vote for bankruptcy reform, I cannot support the bill with this harmful language restricting first amendment rights of pro-lifers.

HONORING ALEXANDER LOPEZ FOR HIS APPOINTMENT TO THE CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

(Ms. SANCHEZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SANCHEZ. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Alexander Lopez of Santa Ana.

Alex, a junior pursuing a Bachelor of Science Business Administration degree at California State University, Fullerton, has been appointed to one of the two student slots on the California State University Board of Trustees.

Student trustees are an important part of the governing body overseeing the 23-campus California State University system. They are responsible for creating policies, for hiring university presidents, and for representing the concerns of over 400,000 students in the California State University system.

I met Alex following a commencement address I gave at Cal State Fullerton this past year. He was all the things we hope our young people will grow to be: bright, ambitious, and compassionate. In addition to serving as the president of the student government, Alex is committed to advocacy for programs that will help low-income and minority students attend college.

I am very proud of Alex for his achievement, and I wish him luck. I also wish we would take note of this and invest in education instead of war.

OVERSIGHT HEARING TO INVESTIGATE HESHAM HEDAYET

(Mr. GEKAS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEKAS. Madam Speaker, as chairman of the Subcommittee on Immigration of the Committee on the Judiciary, I am scheduling an oversight hearing next week on the bizarre case of Hesham Hedayet. He is the Egyptian national who killed two people at the Los Angeles International Airport back on July 4.

After that incident happened, the press reported that this individual had applied for a green card and was denied, and then later, was granted a green card based on the diversity application lottery that we have for visas based on diversity.

Later on, we got so worried about it that I issued a letter to the INS commissioner asking for full access to that Hesham Hedayet file so that we could inquire into it. Madam Speaker, 2½ months later, we still have not received a reply and then, somehow, that became clear to the Attorney General that there were questions about this individual, and the Attorney General has asked the INS to clarify it.

We are going to have an oversight hearing next week to determine answers to all of the inquiries about this matter.

MORE MONEY FOR FIRE PREVENTION

(Ms. SOLIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SOLIS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to talk about an incident that is occurring now in the San Gabriel Valley in California and that is the Williams fire. We just went through a very, very debilitating fire several weeks ago in the same area. Now the Williams fire is continuing to burn there without much success to put it out.

Every day we spend about a million dollars just to try to bring resources to put this out. The problem here, though, is that there is not enough money being put in for preventive measures, and that is when the forest, the national forest is but up against our communities. We have community development areas, we have housing, we have people that are going to be affected.

Madam Speaker, 44 structures have already been burned; and I can tell my colleagues right now that with the conditions in California, the drought, the fact that we do not have enough preventive measures going in to help with containment is a serious problem. We need to put more money into this area, because we cannot afford to lose houses and human life and not even to mention the habitat that will not be replaced. It is important for us to understand that.

Madam Speaker, I ask this House to help by considering providing more support for fire prevention.

HOMELAND SECURITY

(Mr. REHBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. REHBERG. Madam Speaker, time is of the essence. With national security on the minds of many Americans, I urge my colleagues to seize the opportunity and pass legislation to create the Department of Homeland Security.

Each day that passes without this coordinating effort is a day that America is vulnerable to the very people who attacked this country on September 11. Creating the Department of Homeland Security will send a resounding message to the world: America is stronger and safer than it was 12 months ago.

I applaud those who have put partisan agendas aside to do what is right for this country. An entire year has passed. Let us get our work done. Let us put an end to the politics and provide Americans with the safety they deserve.

A NOTE OF REMEMBRANCE

(Mr. HAYWORTH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HAYWORTH. Madam Speaker, I rise this morning with a note of remembrance. Raymond Hall Hayworth, age 98, passed away peacefully yesterday. The last teammate of Ty Cobb has now left his earthly field.

Ray Hayworth wore a major league uniform in parts of 3 decades. His career spanned 13 years in the major leagues, first called up in 1926 to the Tigers.

For purposes of full disclosure, Madam Speaker, I should note that Ray Hayworth was my granddad; and the lessons he taught me, not only about sports, but about life, are lessons far more valuable than I can express on the floor of this House.

Our founders said they moved to secure the blessings of liberty for themselves and their posterity. In much the same way, my grandfather has left a legacy of freedom, as an athlete, as a role model, but, most of all, as a man. I was blessed for having his example to guide me.

SUPPORT H.R. 4600, THE HEALTH ACT

(Mr. KINGSTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KINGSTON. Madam Speaker, the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, was forced to close its trauma unit after 57 of 58 surgeons quit, citing exposure to costly medical malpractice. In LeHigh, Pennsylvania, one-third of the surgeons quit because of unrelenting problems with medical malpractice. In Wheeling, West Virginia, all of the neurosurgeons have left, so that trauma patients needing brain surgery must be flown to Pittsburgh. And in Philadelphia, the Methodist Hospital stopped delivering babies June 30 because of malpractice insurance costs.

But this House will have an opportunity to do something about that with the passage of H.R. 4600. This will help get health care malpractice premiums in line that will bring some balance, protect the interests of the patients, and restore the doctor-patient relationship.

The objective of H.R. 4600 is to put patients into the emergency room and not get lawyers into the courtroom. I urge my colleagues to support it.

HELP FOR FIGHTING FIRES

(Mr. DREIER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DREIER. Madam Speaker, over the last several months we have seen the terrible fires that have hit Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Oregon, and other parts of the country. We are feeling the impact of the droughts. But now the fires have hit the Los Angeles area, and over the past several weeks we have had what was known as the Curve fire burn over 20,000 acres, and right now, the Williams fire, which started 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, has hit the Angeles National Forest, the number one most-used national forest, national park in the country. We have had many structures damaged.

I would like to congratulate the President and thank him for the fact that we are going to, through the Federal Emergency Management Agency,
