

Interparliamentary relations with other countries; the Secretary of the Senate has numerous legislative and parliamentary functions including presiding over the Senate during the election of the President Pro Tempore.

Upon the Democrats regaining control of the senate in 1987, she returned to the Dole Senate staff until joining Senator Dole's 1988 Presidential campaign. Following the campaign, she was named Executive Director of Campaign America, the leadership PAC she had helped Senator Dole found.

Never one to seek the limelight for herself, she was surprised at the media attention she received during the 1996 campaign as the GOP Presidential nominee's confidante. However, in many ways she was seen politically as Senator Dole's alter ego. In a feature article during the 1996 campaign, the New York Times Rick Berke called her "Bob Dole in ultra suede suit."

Following the Presidential campaign, senator Dole joined the Washington law firm of Verner Lipfert MacPherson and Hand as Special Counsel and Mrs. Coe joined him there as his chief of staff, and advised clients on legislative strategy. She also managed Senator Dole's personal business interests, including relationships with speakers bureau and the publishers of his books, and assisted on a voluntary basis with fundraising for a number of causes promoted by senator Dole, including the World War II Memorial Commission, the Dole Institute of Politics at the University of Kansas, and the Families of Freedom Scholarship fund, co-chaired by Senator Dole and Former President Clinton to assist the families of 9/11 victims.

Born Jo-Anne Lee Johnson in Coronado, California in 1933, Mrs. Coe was the daughter of Admiral Roy Lee Johnson, Commander in Chief of the US Pacific Fleet during the Vietnam conflict and the first commander of the USS Forrestal; and of the former Margaret Louise Gross of Georgetown, now both deceased. On her mother's side, she was a seventh generation Washingtonian.

Mrs. Coe attended the College of William and Mary and spent a year at Alexandria's George Washington High School during one of her father's many assignments in the Washington area. She was briefly married while in college to Benjamin P. Coe of New York and leaves one daughter, Kathryn Lee Coe Coombs, of Alexandria, Virginia.

She first came to Capitol Hill as an aide to Representative Harold D. Cooley, a conservative Democrat and powerful chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, who was credited with brokering the deal whereby then-Senator John F. Kennedy chose Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate.

In 1962-67, she left the Washington area to follow her parents in her father's various assignments to senior U.S. Navy posts in Nebraska, Japan and Hawaii. She worked as a secretary for the U.S. Navy and U.S. Air Force, returning to Capitol Hill in early 1968 upon her father's retirement. She interviewed for jobs among her Agriculture Committee contacts on both sides of the aisle and accepted a job with then-Rep. Bob Dole, whom she'd briefly met when he was a freshman Congressman on the Committee in 1961.

A former children's church choir instructor, she was an active parishioner at the church of St. Lawrence the Martyr in Franconia and a donor to a variety of Catholic and other charities. A month before her death, she had bought a historic farmhouse in King George County, Virginia and was in the midst of planning to work part time and telecommute so that she could spend more time painting and pursuing other hobbies.

In addition to her daughter she also leaves a nephew, Kevin Lee Johnson of Scottsdale, Arizona and niece, Kindra Lee Johnson Vincent, of Seattle; children of her late brother Roy Lee Johnson, Jr. The family and friends are establishing the Jo-Anne Coe Memorial Foundation to aid a variety of charitable and educational causes, including establishing an annual award to recognize up and coming young women on Capitol Hill who exhibit the traits of honesty, integrity, loyalty and humility for which Mrs. Coe was known.

ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 2002

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it stand in adjournment until 9 a.m. Tuesday, October 8; that following the prayer and the pledge, the morning hour be deemed to have expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in the day; that there be a period of morning business until 10 a.m., with Senators permitted to speak therein up to 10 minutes each, with the first half of the time under the control of the Republican leader or his designee, and the second half of the time under the control of the Democratic leader or his designee; that at 10 a.m. the Senate resume consideration of S.J. Res. 45; further, that the Senate recess from 12:30 until 2:15 p.m. for the weekly party conferences.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. REID. Mr. President, there was a unanimous consent request earlier today, which has been approved, that the time from when we come in at 10 o'clock tomorrow to begin work on this resolution until 12:30 be in 15-minute slots, and we would be happy to alternate back and forth. But it would be to everybody's advantage if those wishing to speak would notify their respective cloakrooms. What I will do in the morning, when we come in at 9 o'clock, is set that up so people will know when to come. We would set up an order of procedure for debate in this matter. I think that would save Senators a lot of time, and it would allow us to move along in the matter more quickly.

ORDER FOR ADJOURNMENT

Mr. REID. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask that the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order following the remarks of the majority leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The majority leader is recognized.

WORK TO BE DONE BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, let me thank the distinguished assistant Democratic leader for his characteristic leadership and cooperation as we have worked through so many of these procedural issues. I thank him so much for all he has done on the floor in the last few weeks.

We have had the debate on the resolution now for a couple of days. They have been good days. I think Senators have used the time wisely and productively, and I think it has been very constructive and respectful debate, as we hoped it would be.

I have indicated to Senator LOTT it is my hope we can reach an agreement tomorrow about how we might proceed to the completion of the debate. I am hopeful we might propound a unanimous consent request that would accommodate the Senators who wish to offer amendments, that those amendments be debated tomorrow, Wednesday, and Thursday, and that we have a vote on final passage on Thursday night.

That would allow an entire week to have debate on this resolution. Senators will have ample time to be heard and to speak tomorrow, Wednesday, and Thursday. We will go late into the night, if we have to, to accommodate Senators who wish to be heard. But I think that is sufficient time. So I will make such a request after further consultation with colleagues on both sides of the aisle.

I hope Senators will accommodate our desire, recognizing first that, as important as this is, there are other issues that still have to be addressed prior to the time we leave. We have to deal with the continuing resolution; we have to deal with the budget enforcement resolution; we have to deal with homeland security.

Given the fact that tomorrow will be 1 month to the day before the election, that is a lot to be done in a very short period of time. So I urge Senators to work with us to accomplish these legislative goals and recognize there are other issues as well that we hope to deal with, such as nominations, perhaps conference reports; the election reform conference report ought to be done. I would like to see bankruptcy done.

In any case, we have work that cannot be done unless we are cognizant of the limited time available and make use of every day. Again, I appreciate everyone's cooperation to date. I hope we can reach that agreement tomorrow and we can complete our work on this resolution by sometime Thursday night.

I yield the floor.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9 A.M. TOMORROW

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate stands in adjournment until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Thereupon, the Senate, at 6:15 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, October 8, 2002, at 9 a.m.
