

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. CLINTON). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Ms. CANTWELL. Madam President, I would like to take the opportunity to congratulate my colleagues on the passage of the unemployment extension bill which we just did by unanimous consent.

This really was a bipartisan effort by the Senator from Oklahoma and from two of our colleagues, the Senator from Illinois, Mr. FITZGERALD, and the Senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. SPECTER, who played a very important role in communicating the needs of unemployment benefit extensions in their States.

I thank the Chair, the Senator from New York, Mrs. CLINTON, who has since July advocated passage of this legislation, talked about the importance of making sure that as our economy has faced a downturn, we continued to make sure the opportunities for income and stimulus in our economy were there.

As she fought for the State of New York, which has been gravely impacted by the events of 9/11 and the downturn in the economy where jobs are just not being created, the Senator got all of us in the country to realize how critical the issue was for us moving forward at a time when the economy has not returned to positive growth.

Obviously the State of Washington has been greatly impacted by that same downturn, in the aerospace industry, in high tech. This legislation will actually help over 75,000 Washingtonians who will get the benefit of having an extension of a program and, being a high unemployment State, will qualify for the benefits of that program. This is actually something I think a few Washingtonians tonight, maybe a few Seattlites, will be sleeping a little bit better from, knowing that in the impending months, as we struggle to get the economy going again, they will actually be able to meet those mortgage payments, pay those health care bills, and continue to move forward.

Economists have said this kind of stimulus has a two-to-one effect; that for every dollar spent on unemployment benefits, it generates about $2.15 into the local economy. We have done a good service for my State's economy and for New York's and Pennsylvania and Illinois, for the whole country, because we will be stimulating those individuals' disposable income.

Again, I thank the Senator from New York for her hard work and vision, pointing out last summer the need to do it, being diligent in this process. And tonight, because of this bipartisan support, there will be more Americans sleeping better as we approach the tough challenges ahead in getting our economy moving but knowing that we have not left workers behind, workers who would rather have a paycheck than an unemployment check, but at least now they will be continuing to add to the economy.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. REID. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. CANTWELL). Without objection, it is so ordered.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. REID. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now proceed to a period of morning business with Senators allowed to speak therein for a period not to exceed 5 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF PAUL WELLSTONE

Mr. CHAFEE. Madam President, today I offer my condolences to all the friends, family members and admirers of Paul Wellstone. As has been said many times, Paul Wellstone was fiercely proud of the causes with which he associated himself. Certainly, to have Paul Wellstone articulately and strongly arguing on one's behalf was a great asset. His many friends are forever grateful for his wrestler's tenacity as he advocated for those issues in which he so emotionally believed.

Several years ago a candidate for Congress in Rhode Island retired from the campaign because of a shortage of funds, declaring that no longer could "Mr. Smith go to Washington." Paul Wellstone proved that yes, indeed, Mr. Smith could go to Washington. In 1990 he challenged an incumbent who possessed a huge financial advantage in what many assumed to be a quixotic and hopeless campaign. In November of that year Paul Wellstone was the only challenger to beat an incumbent, providing inspiration forever to long shots.

Three cheers for the people of Minnesota who have shown a propensity for embracing people of divergent philosophies. In the last few years Minnesota has elected Rod Grams, Jesse Ventura and Paul Wellstone; public servants with very different approaches to the issues of the day. I join Minnesotans and Americans in mourning the death of the passionate and good-natured Paul Wellstone.

TRIBUTE TO SENATOR MAX CLELAND

Mr. CONRAD. Madam President, I am honored to pay tribute and recognize the leadership, dedication to public service and hard work of my colleague from Georgia, Senator MAX CLELAND. Few Members of the Senate have sacrificed so much for their country.

Senator CLELAND has had a remarkable 30-year career in public service including a tour of duty in Vietnam in 1967 in which he was awarded the Bronze and Silver Stars for meritorious service. MAX started his career in the military soon after graduating from Stetson University, where he was a member of the Army ROTC. In 1967, he volunteered for duty in Vietnam. He quickly worked his way up the ranks, earning a promotion to Captain in 1968. In April of the same year, he was seriously wounded in a grenade explosion, which cost him both of his legs and his right arm. One month before his tour was up, he was sent home to recover from his injuries.

His dedication to public service continued when he won a seat in the Georgia State Senate. As the youngest state senator, he pushed for a State law making public facilities accessible to the disabled. In 1975, Senator CLELAND began his lifelong mission of improving the lives of the men and women in the military. MAX was asked to work for the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, and 2 years later he accepted the position to head up the U.S. Veterans Administration. He was the youngest administrator and only Vietnam veteran to ever head up the agency. During his time with the Veterans Administration, MAX instituted the "Vets Center Program," which for the first time provided psychological counseling to combat veterans. This program has now led to over 200 Vet Centers around the country.

Senator CLELAND continued his public service for the people of Georgia in 1982, when he was elected Secretary of State. During his time in this position, he fought relentlessly for campaign finance reform and to reduce telemarketing fraud. Senator CLELAND also played a key role in the implementation of the National Voter Registration Act, or Motor Voter, in the State of Georgia. This in turn allowed an increase in access to government by getting nearly 1 million citizens of Georgia registered to vote.

MAX was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1996; he filled the spot that was vacated by the retiring Sam Nunn. The 6 years that he spent in the Senate were marked by his passion and drive to accomplish what was of importance to the people he served. He was a proponent for the Patients' Bill of Rights and doggedly battled for the improvement of education by way of increased resources for teacher training and certification.

As a former military man who served his country in Vietnam, Senator CLELAND brought an understanding to the Senate Chamber, of the sacrifices made by individuals in the armed forces. This understanding led him to champion military causes. As chairman of the Personnel Subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee, he fought for improvements in the quality of life of our active-duty, reserve, and retired military personnel through enhancement of the Montgomery G.I. Bill and improvement of retirement benefits. All his hard work has not gone unnoticed, Senator CLELAND has been recognized nationally as the "Minute Man of the Year," an award given by the Reserve Officers Association of America to two individuals annually for their tremendous leadership in the areas of military and national security. There is no doubt that on and off the battlefield, MAX was a leader for the Armed Forces.

Senator CLELAND also provided support to military personnel stationed at the Grand Forks Air Force Base in North Dakota. In 1997, during the devastating floods in North Dakota, several hundred active duty personnel from the Grand Forks base were unable to access disaster relief because Federal law limited assistance to personnel living on the base. Senator CLELAND, as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, was instrumental in amending the law to enable those servicemen living off base to be eligible for this critical disaster assistance.

MAX's bravery, courage, and passion for these issues and many others will be missed. It has been an honor to serve with somebody who represents his constituents with such energy, drive and passion. I would like to join my colleagues in wishing the Senator and his family the best in the future and paying tribute to his outstanding public service. I wish him well.

TRIBUTE TO REPRESENTATIVE JAMES V. HANSEN

Mr. HATCH. Madam President, I rise to pay tribute to my long-time friend and colleague, Representative JAMES V. HANSEN. After 22 years of dedicated service to his country and to the State of Utah, Jim has chosen to end his career as a Member of Congress and return home to Utah and to his grandchildren.

I am pleased that Mr. HANSEN will be able to enjoy his retirement, but we will miss him. Utah has never been better served by a Member of Congress. Just this year he was described by a national media source as one of the 10 most powerful Members of the House of Representatives. Considering the number of Members of that body, that is really saying something. Representative HANSEN has had a very positive impact on our Nation, but his impact on Utah and Utahns is truly incalculable.

Mr. HANSEN was the first Representative from Utah to chair a full committee. Due in large part to the respect he earned among his colleagues on both sides of the aisle, he was appointed to chair the high-profile Committee on Standards of Official Conduct.

As some of my colleagues may know, Utah is made up of about 70 percent public lands which includes national parks, Bureau of Land Management lands, national forests, national monuments, national wildlife refuges, and vast military holdings. As a very senior member of the House Armed Services Committee and the Chairman of the Committee on Natural Resources, Representative HANSEN has the protector and promoter of so many of Utah's interests.

Mr. HANSEN's service to the public has spanned more than four decades. He spent the first 12 years of his public service career on the City Council of Farmington, UT. Following that, he served for four terms as a member of the Utah House of Representatives, including one term as the Speaker of the House. In 1980, Mr. HANSEN was elected to Congress where he has served diligently until today.

Mr. HANSEN's honesty, hard work, and strong character have made him a lawmaker that we will never forget. I am one of many who will sorely miss his plain talking leadership and his wisdom on matters of public policy. On behalf of my colleagues in the Senate and the people of Utah, I would like to publicly thank JIM and his wonderful wife Ann for giving so much of themselves to their State and to their Nation.

GRATITUDE FOR NEW ZEALAND'S FIREFIGHTERS

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Madam President, I rise today, on behalf of my State of Oregon, to express our deepest gratitude for the New Zealanders who put their lives on the line this last summer in fighting the ravenous wildfires experienced in the West.

Even as the rains of fall settle into the forests of the Pacific Northwest, it is not difficult to remember the fiery infernos that engulfed the West only a few months ago. The year 2002 was the second worst fire season in 50 years. Nationwide 21 lives were lost and 6.7 million acres were burned.

It was one of the Nation's largest fires, called the Biscuit Fire, that drew a cadre of international firefighters to Oregon, the world's best sent to join the fight against our worst disaster. The Biscuit Fire, the largest wildfire in Oregon in over a century, eventually burned 500,000 acres in southwestern Oregon. At times, firefighters put the chances of losing one or all of the Illinois Valley's four towns at 75 percent. However, 7,000 of the world's best firefighters beat the odds and staved off an exploding fire that threatened hundreds of square miles and thousands of homes. As a result of their relentless work, no lives were lost and structural loss was virtually nonexistent.

On behalf of my State of Oregon, I want to thank and commend the brave New Zealand firefighters who helped win that battle against wildfire. They are John Barnes, Darryl Robson, John Sutton, Richard McNamara, Paul Tolladay, Phil Wishnowsky, Robin Thompson, Trevor Tiday, Jock Darragh, and Ross Hamilton.

While I hope that such perilous circumstances will never call these firefighters back to Oregon or elsewhere, I know that forest fires will continue to burn and brave firefighters will continue to put their lives between the fire and ours. We will never forget that.

TRIBUTE TO SENATOR BOB SMITH

Mr. CONRAD. Madam President, I take this opportunity to pay tribute to and recognize the hard work of my colleague from New Hampshire, Senator BOB SMITH. Since joining the Senate in 1990, he has fought with honesty and commitment for the issues that he believed to be most important.

As the ranking member and former chairman of the Environment and Public Works Committee, he focused great attention on reforms of the Corps of Engineers and funding to expand and improve transportation infrastructure. Also, as a senior member of the Armed Services Committee, Senator SMITH fought passionately for a strong military, and always made national security a top priority.

I had the pleasure of working with BOB SMITH in his efforts to establish accountability measures for missing MIAs and POWs. In his capacity as a member of the Senate Select Committee on POW/MIA Affairs, Senator SMITH was very helpful in answering and addressing questions about Vietnam POWs from North Dakota. He also helped North Dakotans on POW issues from the cold war era.

I also had the privilege of serving with Senator SMITH on the Ethics Committee, which he chaired. I found him to be completely fair and non-partisan in his conduct of his duties.

He also was one of the first of my colleagues to console me on the untimely death of my chief of staff, Kent Hall.

Mr. President, it has been an honor to serve in the Senate with BOB SMITH. I have the utmost respect for his service to the people of New Hampshire. While sitting in the historic desk of Daniel Webster, he has made contributions not only to the Senate but also to our Nation. I would like to join my colleagues in wishing Senator SMITH and his family the best in the future.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT ACT OF 2001

Mr. SMITH of Oregon. Madam President, I rise today to speak about hate crimes legislation I introduced with Senator KENNEDY in March of last year. The Local Law Enforcement Act of 2001 would add new categories to current hate crimes legislation sending a signal that violence of any kind is unacceptable in our society.

I would like to describe a terrible crime that occurred December 28, 2001 in Marshfield, MA. According to police, a teenage assailant beat a man because the assailant thought the victim was gay. The victim was standing outside a local store when a car containing three men pulled into the parking lot. One of
