NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER AND FASTING

Mr. REID. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Judiciary Committee be discharged from further consideration of S. Con. Res. 155, and the Senate proceed to its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The clerk will report the concurrent resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 155) affirming the importance of a national day of prayer and fasting, and expressing the sense of Congress that November 27, 2002, should be designated as a national day of prayer and fasting.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the concurrent resolution.

Mr. REID. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the concurrent resolution and the preamble be agreed to; the motion to reconsider be laid on the table; and any statements relating to the resolution be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 155) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

The concurrent resolution, with its preamble, reads as follows:

S. CON. RES. 155

Whereas the President has sought the support of the international community in responding to the threat of terrorism, violent extremist organizations, and states that permit or host organizations that are opposed to democratic ideals;

Whereas a united stance against terrorism and terrorist regimes will likely lead to an increased threat to the armed forces and law enforcement personnel of those states that oppose these regimes of terror and that take an active role in rooting out these enemy forces;

Whereas Congress has aided and supported a united response to acts of terrorism and violence inflicted upon the United States, our allies, and peaceful individuals all over the world;

Whereas President Abraham Lincoln, at the outbreak of the Civil War, proclaimed that the last Thursday in September 1861 should be designated as a day of humility, prayer, and fasting for all people of the Nation;

Whereas it is appropriate and fitting to seek guidance, direction, and focus from God in times of conflict and in periods of turmoil;

Whereas it is through prayer, self-reflection, and fasting that we can better examine those elements of our lives that can benefit from God's wisdom and love;

Whereas prayer to God and the admission of human limitations and frailties begins the process of becoming both stronger and closer to God;

Whereas becoming closer to God helps provide direction, purpose, and conviction in those daily actions and decisions we must take;

Whereas our Nation, tested by civil war, military conflicts, and world wars, has always benefited from the grace and benevolence bestowed by God; and

Whereas dangers and threats to our Nation persist and in this time of peril, it is appropriate that the people of the United States, leaders and citizens alike, seek guidance, strength, and resolve through prayer and fasting: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that—

(1) November 27, 2002, should be designated as a day for humility, prayer, and fasting for all people of the United States; and

(2) all people of the United States should—
(A) observe this day as a day of prayer and fasting;

(B) seek guidance from God to achieve greater understanding of our own failings;

(C) learn how we can do better in our everyday activities; and

(D) gain resolve in how to confront those challenges which we must confront.

COMMENDING AND CONGRATULATING THE ANAHEIM ANGELS

Mr. REID. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the consideration of S. Res. 357, submitted earlier today by Senators FEINSTEIN and BOXER.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 357) commending and congratulating the Anaheim Angels for their remarkable spirit, resilience, and athletic discipline in winning the 2002 World Series.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Madam President, I rise today with my friend and colleague from California, Senator BARBARA BOXER, to commend and congratulate the Anaheim Angels for winning the 2002 World Series 3 weeks ago.

The Angels are world champions for the first time in their 42-year history. After defeating the New York Yankees in the first round of the playoffs and then going on to beat the Minnesota Twins for the American League Championship, the Angels battled my hometown team, the San Francisco Giants, in an exciting all-California World Series. The Angels have proven to the world their outstanding ability to win and work as a team.

Led by manager Mike Scioscia and players Scott Spezio, Garret Anderson, and Darin Erstad the Angels offense destroyed even the mightiest pitchers through October. Most Valuable Player Troy Glaus batted an astounding .385 average with three homeruns in the seven-game series.

Another key player in the Angels' march to glory is Troy Percival. The veteran closing pitcher stifled the Giants' hitters in pivotal game 7 and throughout the playoffs. Furthermore, Troy Percival would not have been able to perform his masterful pitching had it not been for starting pitcher John Lackey who pitched five strong innings in game 7.

Manager Mike Scioscia's leadership proved to be invaluable to the team. His experience as a catcher with Southern California's other major league franchise, the Los Angeles Dodgers, helped the Angels through what started as Anaheim's worst season ever and turned it into a glorious year.

The Anaheim Angels truly epitomize the importance of teamwork, as nearly every member of the roster contributed to their phenomenal season. It should be noted that the championship could not have been won without the dedication of the entire team: David
