

new technologies and treatments to protect the public.

I am proud to recognize the insight that these researchers and VA have shown, and continue to show, in exploring cutting-edge research. This is yet another contribution that the VA health care system has made, not only to the health of our nation's veterans, but to our national safety and well-being.

CONFIRMATION OF MELANIE SABELHAUS

Mr. KERRY. Madam President, I speak today to congratulate Melanie Sabelhaus, who was confirmed by the Senate last evening as the Deputy Administrator for the U.S. Small Business Administration.

The U.S. Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship held a hearing on Mrs. Sabelhaus' nomination on February 27, 2002. On March 12, 2002, the Committee voted unanimously in support of her nomination and recommended her favorably to the full Senate, which approved her nomination by unanimous consent on April 8, 2002. I would like to thank the Senate floor staffs for their assistance in moving Mrs. Sabelhaus' nomination so quickly.

Mrs. Sabelhaus has had an excellent career that has provided her with both the necessary management and small business experience required of a Deputy Administrator at the SBA. Having chaired her nomination hearing and known her from her volunteer work with the Nantucket Historical Association, I can report that President Bush has made a qualified choice in selecting Mrs. Sabelhaus for the critical post of Deputy Administrator at the U.S. Small Business Administration.

I believe calling this position critical in no way overemphasizes its importance, for the Deputy Administrator has historically served as the day-to-day manager of the SBA in the Administrator's absence. In fact, the Deputy Administrator position was made subject to Senate confirmation a little over ten years ago, with the passage of the Small Business Reauthorization and Amendments Act of 1990, precisely because the Congress recognized its importance to the management of the Agency. During the nomination process, the Committee received assurances from Mrs. Sabelhaus and Administrator Barreto that one or both would be on hand to run the SBA on a daily basis, barring extraordinary circumstances.

The SBA's role is vital to our continuing economic well-being, especially now as we seek to improve our economy. Loan programs, technical assistance programs and contracting programs are just a few of the tools the SBA has to help small businesses—and a small sample of the issues Mrs. Sabelhaus will face on a daily basis as she seeks to aid the Administrator in implementing the President's policies and congressional initiatives. It is my hope that as a former small business owner and innovative thinker Mrs. Sabelhaus will steer the agency toward our bipartisan goal: to cultivate the entrepreneurial spirit of this country and provide all—including women and minorities in the small business world with adequate and equal access to capital and opportunities and the resources and counseling that often determine a business's success or failure.

I look forward to working with Mrs. Sabelhaus, the new Deputy Administrator for the U.S. Small Business Administration, as we seek to assist the small business community.

IN CELEBRATION OF THE CITY OF SANTA CLARA'S 150TH ANNIVERSARY

• Mrs. BOXER. Madam President, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize the 150th Anniversary of the City of Santa Clara in my home state of California.

As early as 4000 BC, Ohlone Indian settlements were found in the area. The City of Santa Clara began in 1852 as a small Spanish mission. After Santa Clara was incorporated as a city, the fertile valley became a magnet for farmers and Santa Clara was soon filled with bountiful orchards and farms. Today, Santa Clara is located in the heart of California's Silicon Valley, the technology capital of the world. From Indian settlement to Spanish mission, from orchard country to high tech mecca, Santa Clara has been part of the rich history of California.

Last year, the National Civic League bestowed the prestigious "All-America City" award on Santa Clara. Santa Clara was one of only 10 cities in the U.S. to be given this award for successful community collaboration. Santa Clara has also recently been given top marks as a "2001 Kid-Friendly City." I am delighted that Santa Clara is such an outstanding place for children and families. And Santa Clara's Code of Ethics and Values has been getting national attention as a model for using shared values to guide a city.

While Santa Clara receives national attention, a 2000 public opinion survey found that the residents of Santa Clara feel their city is one of the best places in America to live. This local pride is one of the things that makes this city such a California treasure.

Santa Clara is home to California's first school of higher learning, Santa Clara University, established in 1851. At the center of campus is the beautiful Mission Santa Clara de Asis, the eighth of the original 21 California missions.

I am thrilled that the City of Santa Clara, its local government and its residents maintain such a strong community spirit while its high-tech companies provide new products to change the way we live. Santa Clara's sesquicentennial slogan, "150 years of democracy, diversity, distinction," could not be more appropriate. I hope the people of Santa Clara enjoy this yearlong celebration and I wish them another 150 years of success.●

THE 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR EMPLOYER SUPPORT OF THE GUARD AND RESERVE

• Mr. BOND. Madam President, today I wish to congratulate the National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, ESGR, its 4,200 volunteers and Department of Defense, DOD, staff, in celebrating 30 years of service to this Nation.

The National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve was established in 1972, the year the United States ended the Selective Service System and established an all-volunteer military force. DOD realized that support from employers and communities would be instrumental in maintaining Reserve component membership. ESGR was created to obtain employer and community support for the National Guard and Reserve and to promote the role of Reserve forces in the national defense.

ESGR has lived up to the task and accomplished much more. Since 1972, with the help of the Advertising Council, Inc., ESGR has benefitted from nearly $1 billion in pro bono advertising reaching the six million employers with one or more employees in the United States.

Employers have, in turn, signed ESGR Statements of Support, publicly committing to support the National Guard and Reserve. The former Chairman of the Board and CEO of General Motors, Mr. James H. Roche signed the first Statement of Support in the Office of the Secretary of Defense on December 13, 1972. The next day, President Richard Nixon signed a Statement of Support covering all Federal civilian employees. Since the inception of this program, Presidents Ford, Carter, Reagan, Bush, Clinton and President George W. Bush have all signed Statements of Support, along with hundreds of thousands of employers, including Dell Computer Corporation, Xerox, the Society for Human Resource Management and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. To date, over 300,000 employers have signed statements of support. Additionally, the strategic alliance formed in 1998 between ESGR and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce resulted in more than 1,200 chambers of commerce nationwide signing a Statement of Support for the Guard and Reserve.

ESGR offers Ombudsman services designed to provide information to employers and Reservists regarding their rights and responsibilities under the law, and to resolve conflicts through informal mediation. These services operate in cooperation with the Department of Labor. ESGR volunteers in 54 U.S. States and territories contribute thousands of hours of effort representing millions of dollars of volunteer service in support of ESGR programs, its services, and the men and women of our nation's Reserve forces.

The National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve is smart government in action. The small ESGR staff in Arlington, VA under the direction of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Reserve Affairs provides guidance and support to a network of 4,200 volunteer business, civic, and community leaders.

ESGR educates employers on their rights and obligations under the law and recognize employers who actively support employee participation in the Guard and Reserve. ESGR also educates members of the National Guard and Reserve in regards to their rights and responsibilities to the value of their employers support. Committees can be found in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam.

With the end of the cold war, the Reserve components have been called with increasing frequency. During the Gulf War in 1990–1991, more than 250,000 Reserve component members were called to active duty to support military operations in the Persian Gulf. Since the start of Operation Noble Eagle and Enduring Freedom, more than 80,000 National Guard and Reserve troops have been activated and are playing a critical role.

Thousands of employers, local and State government officials, Active and Reserve component leaders, and military members from across the Nation and around the world request ESGR's employer support expertise on a daily basis. When Guardsmen and Reservists return home following mobilization, ESGR committee members are there to provide information and support services to those in need.

The U.S. Congress passed the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, USERRA, of 1994, and updated it in 1996. This law completely revised the Veterans Reemployment Rights Act of 1940. USERRA articulates the rights and responsibilities of Guard and Reserve members with regard to job protection and explains employer rights under Federal law. ESGR helps employers and Reservists understand this law and helps them informally resolve any employment conflicts that may arise.

Again, I want to congratulate ESGR and its 54 ESGR committees on their 30 years of service and commend this network of over 4,200 volunteer patriots for their time and talent. They are serving their country and maintaining the much needed support of our employers and communities for the Guard and Reserve. Through the efforts of agencies like ESGR, we can call on our Reserve forces to answer the Nation's call without the fear of job loss.

Thank you Madam President, and thank you ESGR.●

WE THE PEOPLE COMPETITION

● Mr. HOLLINGS. Madam President, I want to recognize the 20 students of Wilson High School in Florence, SC, who will be visiting the Capitol in early May to compete in the national finals of the "We The People . . . The Citizen and the Constitution" program. Right now the students are conducting research and preparing for the contest, which will test their knowledge of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights against 1,200 students from across the country. They have earned the trip by showing they were the best of the best in a statewide contest in February.

Obviously, I hope my fellow South Carolinians win it all, but whatever happens, we are all winners in this country. When young people, on their own, want to understand the fundamental principles and values of our democracy, they are more likely to vote. They are more likely to participate in political life. They are more likely to take serious the civic duties that this nation needs of our citizens in the new century.

I wish the very best to the Wilson Tigers: Jessica Anderson, Whitney Benjamin, Carol Chen, Cameron Coker, Katherine Collar, Joshua Croteau, Matthew Daniels, Leon Dock, Cara Dowling, Christine Gonzales, Latrese McElveen, Matthew Meggs, Philip Miller, Virginia Munson, Ashley Neel, Dacey Riley, Elinor Rooks, Gregory Schuetz, Priscilla Suggs, and Jingtian Yu.●

TRIBUTE TO RHONA CHARBONNEAU

● Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Madam President, I rise today to pay tribute to Rhona Charbonneau, of Hudson, NH. Charbonneau has been named the Greater Hudson Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year for her outstanding devotion and positive influence to the community.

I commend her active role in both the local and State governments. By serving as Town Selectman, and as Selectmen's Representative to the planning Board, Charbonneau has been able to serve her community in many capacities. Aside from these positions, she currently serves as a member of the Board for the Salvation Army as well as the Advisory Board to the Community Council. Even more eager to serve the community of Hudson, she also works as a representative on the State level, serving on the Hillsborough County Board of Commissioners and the New Hampshire Finance Authority.

Aside from serving in advisory capacities for numerous organizations and boards, Charbonneau has worked hard to improve the Lion's Hall. Under her request, the Department of Corrections sent a community service group to paint and do repairs, leaving the Lion's Hall with a fresh face. Because of her creative thinking, other departments came together to make considerable improvements to the facility.

Rhona Charbonneau has set a positive example for not only the community of Hudson, but for the entire Granite State. By consistently working to improve her community she has shown a tremendous dedication to the community in which she and her family have lived for more than 50 years. She has brought high profile political figures to the town, whereby she allowed a forum for candidates to share their beliefs as well as bringing the spotlight to the ever growing town of Hudson. I applaud her commitment and congratulate her on being named this year's Citizen of the Year. It is truly an honor to represent her in the U.S. Senate.●

THE 110TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DAILY CARDINAL

● Mr. KOHL. Madam President, I am proud to rise today to honor the Daily Cardinal, one of the student newspapers at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, on this the occasion of its 110th anniversary. For 110 years, Cardinal reporters, photographers, and editors have educated and entertained their peers. As one of the nation's oldest student-run papers, it is truly a treasure of the State and its university.

Since the newspaper's establishment in 1892 by a University of Wisconsin-Madison student, thousands of young journalists have covered some of the most important issues and events facing the university, the community, and the country. Cardinal contributors have simultaneously developed strong journalistic skills and informed their community by covering such important events as the United States' declaration of war in 1941 to the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and most recently, the events and aftermath of September 11. Furthermore, the staffs of the Cardinal have served their journalistic role as public watchdog throughout its history, and have undoubtedly made their university, community, and State better for it.

As an alumni of the University of Wisconsin, it is my great honor to congratulate the Daily Cardinal for 110 years of dedicated and quality student journalism, and I wish them all the best as they extend this tradition.●

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE FRANKLIN ELECTRIC PLANT BOARD

● Mr. BUNNING. Madam President, today I rise to congratulate the Franklin Electric Plant Board for winning the Public Power Association's 2001 Electric Utility Safety Award for safe operating practices. The Franklin Plant Board earned this top honor in the category for utilities with 25,000 worker-hours of annual worker exposure.

The Franklin Plant was one of more than 200 utilities to enter the contest,
