

think that somehow pulling away from Russia is the answer. It is the worst solution. It is the worst alternative in terms of dealing with the concerns of our homeland and its security.

So I would encourage our colleagues to look at this legislation, to cosponsor it and to work to get it brought up on the House and Senate floors as quickly as possible.

Finally, in closing, Mr. Speaker, let me just speak a word or two about a man who I think will go down in history as the 21st century Winston Churchill. I was not a big fan of Tony Blair's up until this year, Mr. Speaker, but let me tell you, I have changed my mind.

You know, Britain went through a very difficult time when Adolf Hitler was in power in Germany, and I remember from my history lesson the position of Winston Churchill as a minority voice in Great Britain, calling out for the people to be wary of this man Hitler and what he might do to dominate people around him and to eventually inflict pain on Britain.

The people of Britain laughed at him. They said Churchill was an alarmist. Instead, they listened to Neville Chamberlain. Neville Chamberlain had a very famous meeting with Adolf Hitler. At that meeting he supposedly received assurances from Adolf Hitler that Hitler had no intention of harming Great Britain, that Hitler had no intention of harming Europe.

So Neville Chamberlain went back to Britain and gave a famous speech. In that famous speech he pronounced those famous words: "Don't worry, Britain. Peace is at hand." Within a matter of a few short weeks, Britain was being bombarded with missiles launched by Germany, Adolf Hitler.

It was Winston Churchill who then rose to prominence. It was Winston Churchill, who had been mocked by the people of Britain, who stood up and provided leadership, and perhaps Britain, Europe and the world's worst hour. It was Winston Churchill who had the courage to do the right thing, in spite of the animosity generated by the people of his Nation and by those who said, "We can negotiate with Hitler. He will listen to us. He has agreed not to attack us and agreed not to harm Europe."

Thank goodness for Winston Churchill, that he was there, to call to arms Great Britain, Europe and eventually America.

I am convinced, Mr. Speaker, Tony Blair is the Winston Churchill of the 21st century. Under absolutely outrageous odds, from his own party, internal bickering and sniping at him, to the British people, to world opinion, to the European leaders, his neighbors, Tony Blair stood up, and he stood for his convictions, and he did the right thing.

So, Mr. Speaker, I rise tonight in final summary of my discussion about the war to pay tribute to someone who I think will go down in history as an equivalent to Winston Churchill in the 21st century, a man who stood up and did the right thing under impossible conditions.

Now, that is not to minimize the leadership of our great President. George Bush provided the vision, but it would have been far easier for Tony Blair to blend in with the European crowd, with the Jacques Chiracs, the Gerhard Schroeders, and said that is not our battle, that is not our worry. Tony Blair did not do that.

This Nation, this body and the world owes Tony Blair on this evening of the celebration of the stabilization of Iraq and Baghdad a tremendous vote of thanks.
