

□ 1852

Messrs. CUMMINGS, BLUMENAUER and MILLER of Florida changed their vote from "nay" to "yea."

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. KIRK. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 276, due to mechanical problems on United Flight 618, I missed rollcall No. 276. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

COMMENDING MEDGAR WILEY EVERS AND MYRLIE EVERS-WILLIAMS FOR THEIR LIVES AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The pending business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 220.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. FRANKS of Arizona) (during the vote). Members are advised 2 minutes remain in this vote.

□ 1918

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION WAIVING POINTS OF ORDER AGAINST CONFERENCE REPORT ON S. 342, KEEPING CHILDREN AND FAMILIES SAFE ACT OF 2003

Mr. SESSIONS, from the Committee on Rules, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 107-154) on the resolution (H. Res. 276) waiving points of order against the conference report to accompany the Senate bill (S. 342) to amend the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act to make improvements to and reauthorize programs under that Act, and for other purposes, which was referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, because of a rainstorm delay in Houston, I was unavoidably detained on rollcall vote No. 267, the Bruce Woodbury Post Office Building; and to my great disappointment, rollcall vote No. 277 to commend Medgar Wiley Evers and Myrlie Evers-Williams. If I had been present, I would have voted "yea" on rollcall No. 276 and "yea" on rollcall No. 277.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY CELEBRATES CENTENNIAL

(Mr. MCCOTTER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MCCOTTER. Mr. Speaker, 100 years ago today an innovative man named Henry and 11 pioneering entrepreneurs signed the articles of incorporation of the company destined to revolutionize the entire world. The innovative man was Henry Ford. And the company, an employer of 300,000 Americans, a global automotive leader and a cherished symbol of our Nation's entrepreneurial spirit and manufacturing might is, of course, the Ford Motor Company.

This past weekend, more than 1 million people from across the globe gathered on the grounds of the Ford Motor Company headquarters in Dearborn,

Michigan, to celebrate the storied achievements of the first 100 years of the Ford Motor Company and its founder, Henry Ford, and to commence the company's next 100 years of unparalleled economic vitality under its current leader, William Clay Ford, Jr.

Mr. Speaker, let us, too, add our voices to those voices across America and the entire world and wish the Ford Motor Company a hale and heartfelt "Happy Birthday."

ROADLESS RULE ROLLBACK

(Mr. BLUMENAUER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Speaker, people who care about the environment were heartened 2 weeks ago when the administration declared they would uphold the roadless area conservation rule. But alas, the other shoe dropped. Last week the administration announced it would be proposing new regulations to exempt Alaska's national forests from the rule, reopening them to logging and road-building. More troubling, the administration will also turn over significant authority over Federal forests to States, allowing governors to apply for exemptions.

As pointed out by the Boston Globe on June 15, the national forests are called that because they belong to the Nation as a whole, not to governors, and certainly not to an administration in Washington that has put a former timber lobbyist in charge of them. Now the Bush administration is doing its best to turn over large sections of the forest to timber companies in spite of a Clinton administration rule that would have protected them. The result is the largest, most extensive rulemaking in United States history is now being undertaken, and it is a tragedy.

WOMEN INVOLVED IN MIDDLE EAST PEACE PROCESS

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE. Mr. Speaker, in the backdrop of 50 Israelis and Palestinians losing their life, there was a glimmer of hope in Oslo, Norway, where I met with Palestinian women, leaders of government, along with Israeli women, members of the Knesset Israeli parliament. Although it started off with tense feelings, members walking out of the meeting, recounting the deaths of their loved ones, at the end these women stood together and committed themselves to a cooperative effort toward peace.

Mr. Speaker, I believe it is imperative that women be engaged in the peace process. That is why I will file
