

United States of America

Congressional Record

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 108th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

Vol. 149

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 2003

No. 141

Senate

The Senate was not in session today. Its next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 14, 2003, at 9:30 a.m.

House of Representatives

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 2003

The House met at 10 a.m.

The Reverend Ky Weekley, Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church, Overland Park, Kansas, offered the following prayer:

Holy One of all creation, once again we come into Your presence, seeking Your blessing, as we gather in these hallowed walls of democracy.

I give You thanks, O God most holy, for each of those gathered this morning. Many skills and gifts and talents, commitments and passions are represented in this Chamber. May the tapestry they weave be one that builds up the Nation, strengthens our common good, and encourages us to be and act as brothers and sisters to one another.

God of all nations and every people, we thank You for the life and history that is ours, for the wealth of resources, both natural and human. May we be good stewards of our blessing. We are grateful for our people, those whose ancestors have been here for a thousand years and those who have just arrived. We thank You for the variety of our traditions and cultures and richness and diversity of our beliefs.

As we seek to honor You, I pray for each of these honorable Representatives, praying that working together, they may face You and the future together in confidence and hope.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. ALEXANDER) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. ALEXANDER led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

WELCOMING THE REVEREND KY WEEKLEY

(Mr. MOORE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Reverend Ky Weekley, the associate pastor for Operational Ministries at Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church in Overland Park, Kansas, which is located in the Third Congressional District. Reverend Weekley, serving as today's guest chaplain, offered today's invocation.

Reverend Weekley has served as a Presbyterian pastor for 31 years, with the last 24 years spent in the Kansas City area. For the last 3 years he has pastored the Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church in Overland Park. His service also extends beyond the spiritual world to the temporal one; Reverend Weekley has served for the past 7 years on the city council of Fairway, Kansas, where he currently is council president.

Reverend Weekley is married to Dr. Tracy Cowles, and they have two daughters, Erin, who is a sophomore at Williams College, and Cristin, a junior at Shawnee Mission East High School in Johnson County, Kansas.

Mr. Speaker, Ky and Tracy have been long-time friends of my wife, Stephanie, and myself; and we are very happy to welcome them to Washington, D.C.

MANSOUR BROTHERS, HARD- WORKING AMERICANS

(Mr. PITTS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, yesterday we considered H. Res. 234, condemning bigotry and violence against Arab Americans, Muslim Americans, South Asian Americans, and Sikh Americans.

After September 11, Arab American-owned businesses were boycotted simply because of the ethnicity of their owners. These men and women came to this country to escape this kind of intolerance, to build a new life, to worship freely, and to do business freely. They did not expect to be blamed and ridiculed for something they did not do. This is not what America is all about.

One such business was the Sunset Diner in Ephrata in my district. The diner is owned by Mike and Sam Mansour, two Egyptian-born brothers. Mike and Sam experienced significant

This symbol represents the time of day during the House proceedings, e.g., 1407 is 2:07 p.m.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

Printed on recycled paper.

H9285

hardship after the terrorist attacks. Just as we should not single out anyone of German, Russian, or Japanese descent for what some of their countrymen may have done in the past, we should not single out people like Mike and Sam for what 18 men with similar ethnic backgrounds did on one terrible day. I am pleased that the House has considered this bill, and I hope our communities will all take this lesson to heart.

HONORING ILLINOIS' NOBEL LAUREATES

(Mr. EMANUEL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EMANUEL. Mr. Speaker, I am proud to rise in honor of the Illinois Nobel Laureates. Illinois has always been well represented in this competition of the world's best and brightest, but this year three individuals from Illinois have won the Nobel Prize: Paul Lauterbur, a researcher at the University of Illinois, won for his research leading to the development of MRI technology; Alexei Abrikosov of Argonne National Laboratory; and Anthony Leggett, another researcher at the University of Illinois won for physics.

Each of these individuals works at a public institution dedicated to the exploration and expansion of human knowledge, and each of these institutions relies on public support to do the public good. These individuals and their work represent the future of our country; and if we are to maintain our status as a world leader, we must continue to support their works.

Mr. Speaker, although their work is diverse, their ability to pursue their intellectual endeavors is singular. So those who run down our public institutions, I hope they take note of these individuals' accomplishments.

Mr. Speaker, these Nobel Prize winners are from Illinois, we are proud of them, but they are national treasures.

PROTECT AMERICANS IN UNIFORM ABROAD

(Mr. KIRK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KIRK. Mr. Speaker, the top priority of our foreign policy must be to protect Americans in uniform abroad. Our troops need allies to help shoulder the burden in Iraq. More allies will show the Iraqi people that the world community is strengthening its support for a new Iraqi democracy.

Yesterday, the National Assembly of Turkey voted to authorize the deployment of at least 6,000 peacekeepers to Iraq. Turkey has long been a NATO ally, even as she borders Iraq, Syria, and Iran. Her soldiers fought next to ours in far-off Korea in support of the United Nations.

Despite temporary problems, I thank Prime Minister Erdogan and Foreign Minister Gul for adding Turkey's peacekeeping troops to our mission of building a free and democratic Iraq.

OUR NATIONAL DEBT

(Mr. ALEXANDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, it has been 881 days since President Bush and his party embarked on their economic plan for our country. During that time, the national debt has increased by $1,174,114,828,749.14. According to the Web site for the Bureau of Public Debt at the Treasury Department, yesterday at 4:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, the Nation's outstanding debt was $6,814,440,215,107.91. Furthermore, in fiscal year 2003, the interest on our national debt, or the debt-tax, totaled $318,148,529,151.51.

COMMENDING AFGHAN WOMEN

(Mrs. BIGGERT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. BIGGERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend the women of Afghanistan and to encourage my colleagues to join me in expressing strong support for their inclusion in the new Afghan constitution.

Nearly 2 years after the fall of the Taliban government, Afghan women are reclaiming their rightful place in society, returning to jobs and professions they held before the Taliban. No longer do they live in fear of a brutal regime. Instead, they are working to build a new democracy.

Under the Bonn Agreement, the people in Afghanistan will have in place in the coming months a new constitution. As the drafters continue the hard work of crafting that important document, we must continue to include the women of Afghanistan in the protection of their human rights.

It is for this reason that the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. MALONEY) and I introduced today a resolution commending the participation of women in Afghan government and society and advocating the protection of women's human rights under the constitution. I urge Members to support this resolution.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION CREATES JOBS

(Mr. ETHERIDGE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ETHERIDGE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to call on this Congress to pass school construction legislation to create jobs and improve education here in America. More than 3 million workers have lost their jobs in this sorry economy; over 2 million were in manufacturing sectors alone. My State of North Carolina has seen devastating job losses in such vital industries as textiles, furniture, and tobacco.

Congress must act now to get America working again. We should start by passing legislation to put people to work building schools. In many urban and rural areas of this country, schools are crumbling and localities lack the resources to rebuild. In many communities in my district, schools are bursting at the seams from overcrowding.

Since my first term in this body, I have worked to pass school construction. This year's version, H.R. 717, will provide $25 billion in zero interest bonds for school construction in this country. This bill will put workers back to work building quality schools for our country.

Mr. Speaker, Congress will soon consider the President's request for $87 billion for Iraqi reconstruction, including building new schools. The President is going to get his money, but we need to spend some money here at home on schools. So Congress should pass H.R. 717 to build schools in America.

SUPPORTING THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

(Mr. RYUN of Kansas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RYUN of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, the Oath of Allegiance has served as the gateway to American citizenship for over 200 years. When immigrants speak its forceful words, they pledge their unfettered allegiance to America, our Constitution, and our laws.

This important symbol of American citizenship is not specified by law. However, it can be changed on the whim of a government agency. In fact, such a change was recently attempted and would have transformed an absolute commitment to our Constitution into a conditional statement, thereby weakening our citizenship. That is why I introduced H.R. 3191, which would establish the oath as Federal law.

Mr. Speaker, throughout our history, our Nation has been strengthened by immigrants who came here to pursue the American dream. Establishing the oath as the law of the land would remind all Americans that pursuing that dream also requires a full-time commitment to citizenship. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this legislation to strengthen the meaning of our citizenship.

JUNGLE CAMOUFLAGE IN THE DESERT?

(Mr. DEFAZIO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I have heard about the sweetheart deals and