The House was not in session today. Its next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 25, 2003, at 12 noon.

Senate

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 2003

The Senate met at 9 a.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore [Mr. STEVENS].

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, Who gives to us the swift and solemn trust of life, since we know not what a day will bring forth, we lift our hearts to You for wisdom and guidance. Take us above those habits that keep us from Your purposes and make us worthy stewards of Your world. Help us to make a real difference in these momentous times, improving the lives of humanity. Bless the Members of this body. May they remember to give You their burdens. Give them confidence that You will take care of each challenge. Keep these gifted leaders from slipping and falling. And force the enemies of freedom to retreat. Lord, let Your truth march on. Keep watch over this land we love, for You are the Lord Almighty. We pray this in Your triumphant Name. Amen.

NOTICE

If the 108th Congress, 1st Session, adjourns sine die on or before November 25, 2003, a final issue of the Congressional Record for the 108th Congress, 1st Session, will be published on Monday, December 15, 2003, in order to permit Members to revise and extend their remarks.

All material for insertion must be signed by the Member and delivered to the respective offices of the Official Reporters of Debates (Room HT-60 or S-410A of the Capitol), Monday through Friday, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. through Friday, December 12, 2003. The final issue will be dated Monday, December 15, 2003, and will be delivered on Tuesday, December 16, 2003.

None of the material printed in the final issue of the Congressional Record may contain subject matter, or relate to any event that occurred after the sine die date.

Senators' statements should also be submitted electronically, either on a disk to accompany the signed statement, or by e-mail to the Official Reporters of Debates at "Record@Sec.Senate.gov".

Members of the House of Representatives' statements may also be submitted electronically by e-mail, to accompany the signed statement, and formatted according to the instructions for the Extensions of Remarks template at <http://clerkhouse.house.gov/forms>. The Official Reporters will transmit to GPO the template formatted electronic file only after receipt of, and authentication with, the hard copy, and signed manuscript. Deliver statements to the Official Reporters in Room HT-60 of the Capitol.

Members of Congress desiring to purchase reprints of material submitted for inclusion in the Congressional Record may do so by contacting the Office of Congressional Publishing Services, at the Government Printing Office, on 512-0224, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. daily.

By order of the Joint Committee on Printing.

ROBERT W. NEY, Chairman.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The PRESIDENT pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Does the Senator from Iowa seek recognition?

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I was told we should report the bill first, and then I will make my statement.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

MEDICARE PRESCRIPTION DRUG, IMPROVEMENT, AND MODERNIZATION ACT OF 2003—CONFERENCE REPORT

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of the conference report to accompany H.R. 1, which the clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

Conference report to accompany H.R. 1, an act to amend Title XVIII of the Social Security Act to provide for a voluntary prescription drug benefit under the Medicare Program and to strengthen and improve the Medicare Program, and for other purposes.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the time until 12:30 shall be equally divided between the chairman of the Finance Committee or his designee and the Democratic leader or his designee, with the last 10 minutes prior to the vote to be allocated between the Democratic leader for 5 minutes to be followed by the majority leader for the final 5 minutes.

The Senator from Iowa.

SCHEDULE

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I would like to state the plan for today. Under the previous order, the cloture vote will occur today at 12:30. The debate time until that vote is limited, and Members will only be allocated short debate times. The cloture vote on the conference report will be the first vote of the day. It is the leader's hope and expectation that cloture will be successful. Once cloture is invoked, the leader hopes we will be able to proceed to a vote on the passage of the Medicare prescription drug bill in very short order after that.

On our side, we are obviously going to start with the Senator from New Hampshire. But since the time is very tight, probably most Members would be limited to 5 minutes or less, beyond that of Senator GREGG. I would like to make sure people are very orderly as they come over here and ask me for time. I cannot speak for the Democratic side, but for the Republican side, it is very essential for people to be here and be ready to speak.

Does the Democratic whip wish to be recognized?

Mr. REID. Yes, if my distinguished friend will yield.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, we have, on this side, a number of people who wish to speak. It is my understanding, to make this debate fair, that on this side the time will be given to those who are opposed to cloture being invoked. So the people who speak on this side will be opposed to cloture. I want all the people who have asked for time on this side to understand that. And we are—this is just for Democrats—we are going to give 9 minutes to the following Senators, and in no necessary order. Whoever is here can speak. They should all be alerted that if there are quorum calls, they are going to lose time. So, Mr. President, I would, on our side, grant 9 minutes to Senators AKAKA, LAUTENBERG, KERRY, LIEBERMAN, DODD, CLINTON, MIKULSKI, PRYOR, KENNEDY, with KENNEDY to have the last time before the Democratic leader speaks, closing the debate.

Now, again, I want to tell those listening, this side is for those who oppose cloture.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, could I make an inquiry?

Mr. REID. Yes. And I think it would be better if we alternated back and forth until 12:30.

Mr. GRASSLEY. That is the point I wanted to make.

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, today we stand on the threshold of a truly historic moment. Not for Republicans. Not for Democrats. Or for the House of Representatives. Or the United States Senate. But, for over 40 million American seniors and individuals with disabilities, who may finally be getting prescription drug coverage under Medicare.

Saturday morning, the House of Representatives passed H.R. 1, the "Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003."

Also Saturday, President Bush called upon the Senate, once again, to finish the job. He urged us to send him legislation that will provide badly needed prescription drugs to seniors.

For years, Congress has debated whether, and how, to provide prescription drug coverage to seniors and to strengthen and improve the Medicare program. Now, it is time for us to Act.

Mr. President, this generation of seniors survived the depression, fought World War II, and helped make the United States into a prosperous and thriving Nation. Time and again, they stepped forward to serve. Now, is the time to fulfill our duty to that great generation. Now is the time to answer their call.

What President Lyndon Johnson said in 1965 still stands:

... No longer will this Nation refuse the hand of justice to those who have given a lifetime of service and wisdom and labor to the progress of this . . . country.

Let us not stay that hand of justice now. Let us not turn our back on America's seniors and individuals with disabilities.

There are nearly one quarter of a million seniors in my home State of Tennessee who have no prescription drug coverage. There are millions more across the Nation for whom this legislation, literally, means the difference between life and death. They cannot afford to wait any longer. I have treated thousands of Medicare patients. And I know firsthand that, without Medicare, millions of seniors would not have received needed medical services. Millions more would have faced financial ruin. Medicare has helped save and heal lives.

But this cherished program has failed to keep pace with medical and scientific progress. Prescription drugs are an integral part of modern medicine. They are as important as the surgeon's knife. Yet, they are not part of the Medicare program.

In the nearly four decades since the Medicare program was created, the American medical system has transformed from one focused on treating episodic illness in hospitals to one characterized by an increasing emphasis on managing and preventing chronic disease in outpatient settings with advanced medical technologies and prescription drugs. Life expectancy has increased by nearly ten years. Death rates associated with heart disease have been cut in half, and new treatments and diagnostic tools have improved survival rates for prostate, colon, and breast cancer. Our medical and scientific knowledge and, along with it, our ability to treat illness and disease has improved dramatically over the past four decades. Yet, Medicare itself has not kept pace with these dramatic changes. It has been too inflexible and bureaucratic. Designed for the 1960s health care system, it has been unable to adapt to changing medical practice. Medicare does not provide true preventive coverage, disease management, or protection against catastrophic health care costs.

As a result, we have today glaring and unacceptable gaps in the coverage that is available to seniors and individuals with disabilities—the most obvious of which is the lack of prescription drug coverage.

Over the past three decades, for example, the death rate from atherosclerosis has declined by over 70 percent and deaths from ischemic heart disease have declined more than 6 percent, largely due to the advent of beta blockers and ACE inhibitors. During the same period, death rates from emphysema have dropped nearly 60 percent due to new treatments involving anti-inflammatory medications and bronchodilators.
