SALTONSTALL-KENNEDY GRANT PROGRAM AND CREATION OF THE ALASKA FISHERIES MARKETING BOARD

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, the Saltonstall-Kennedy (S-K) Grant Program is a competitive program administered by the National Marine Fisheries Service of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, NOAA, Department of Commerce. The S-K program was established by the Saltonstall-Kennedy Act of 1954 to promote U.S. seafood products around the world and generally support our Nation's fisheries. For the first time in 1979, S-K receipts from import duties on fishery products were transferred to NOAA's base budget to fund an industry/government partnership. However, without my amendment in fiscal year 2003 NOAA would transfer $75 million to its base budget, leaving only $220,000 for the original purposes of this program—promoting domestic seafood production. This provision ensures that a little less than 15 percent of those receipts transferred to NOAA will be used for their intended purpose—promoting domestic seafood from Alaska, home to half of the U.S. domestic seafood production.

This bill includes $10 million from the S-K program to market Alaska seafood products and creates the Alaska Fisheries Marketing Board to administer these funds. This program will help develop and promote high-value fresh and fresh-frozen Alaskan seafood products, allowing Alaska fishermen to better compete in the global and domestic markets.

The Secretary of Commerce will appoint the members of the board and the executive director. In appointing members to the board, the Secretary shall fully consult with and seek recommendations from the Governor of Alaska. The membership should reflect the various aspects of seafood production, distribution, State oversight and the retail of Alaska seafood products. This would include three individuals with experience in harvesting Alaska seafood, two individuals with experience in fish processing, one individual from the Alaska transportation industry, one individual from the Alaska State legislature—preferably with experience on the State of Alaska's Salmon Task Force, one individual with experience in mass market food distribution, one individual with experience in mass market food retailing, one individual with experience in niche marketing of Alaska seafood products, and one individual recommended by the Alaska Seafood Marketing Institute.

The board will solicit grant proposals for marketing Alaska seafood from the public, review them, and fund those that will do the most to help reinvigorate struggling sectors of the Alaska seafood industry. These proposals can promote region-specific or species-specific marketing programs that do not undermine existing statewide "Alaska Seafood" marketing efforts.

The board may choose to promote the development of new processing technologies to insure the commercial viability of Alaska seafood and improve related transportation costs in delivering these products to market, and will work to improve the overall marketability of Alaska seafood.

I look forward to working with the Secretary of Commerce on establishing the Alaska Fisheries Marketing Board and helping the Alaska seafood industry get its message out to the world.

HAPPY 100TH ANNIVERSARY TO THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Mr. HOLLINGS. Madam President, tomorrow the smallest of our Cabinet agencies, the Department of Commerce, will celebrate the biggest of big anniversaries, and as the ranking member of the Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee, I rise to salute them on 100 years.

We have a whole list of their accomplishments, starting with the development of the Gross Domestic Product in the 1930s, the measure that gave us for the first time a true picture of our economy. Commerce houses the Census, the top statistical agency in the world. It is home to the Patent Office, which has witnessed an incredible amount of American history, issuing more than 6 million patents, be it to Orville and Wilbur Wright for a flying machine, or for the development of television, transistors, and computers.

In the last century, Commerce created the first atomic clock, fostered the development of public television; assisted more than half a million minority-owned businesses; and helped thousands of economically-distressed communities generate commercial development in every Senator's States. Having a hand in creating NOAA, I will always remember the last 100 years for the great advancements made in weather predicting and the saving of the gray whale and dolphin.

When Teddy Roosevelt wrote to this body a century ago, he asked us to create the Department for the "purpose of broadening our markets . . . and making firm our new position in the international industrial world" William Redfield, the first Secretary of Commerce, set a clear goal: "We are going out into the markets of the world to get our share."

This Senator knows that times change and situations change, but that for our long-term economic well being no words hold truer. We need our share to bring back jobs into this country. I wish the good people at Commerce a happy birthday. Most of all, I hope President Bush and Secretary Evans set their mark on the Department's next 100 years with trade policies that can truly build our economic potential in global markets.

(Paragraph 7(b) and (c) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules.)
