

her many years of dedicated service in advocating for worker justice and dignity for employees in work places throughout San Diego County.

Mary started out as a Wellesley College student intern for SEIU in Boston and at an early age saw firsthand the injustice that many workers face. After several years of work with the International Union, Mary came to work as an organizer in San Diego in 1987. At the time, SEIU Local 102 was a 1,600-member union on decline, but after teaming up with Eliseo Medina, Mary helped to transform Local 102 into the second largest union and one of the most powerfully political unions in San Diego County: SEIU, Local 2028.

Since 1996, Mary has served as executive Director of SEIU Local 2028, representing over 14,000 workers in many different jobs—ranging from janitor to librarian, racetrack program seller to registered nurse, housekeeper to code enforcement officer. In addition, she has acted as spokesperson for not only the workers she represents, but also for all working people in San Diego County.

Mary has led the effort to increase wages and benefits for immigrant and low-wage workers, has worked to expand health care coverage to the County's 650,000 uninsured workers, and has helped to create good jobs in the region.

In local 2028, Mary has worked tirelessly to bring together this large and diverse organization based on the principle of justice for all. And as an important mark of all leaders, Mary has found and developed many leaders who lead their co-workers in organizing and building economic strength in their industries.

Congratulations to Mary Grillo for her work in fighting for justice for the workers of San Diego County.

Wednesday, October 6, 2004

Mr. MCINNIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mourn the passing of John Attardo, a dedicated firefighter from my home State of Colorado who lost his life serving his fellow citizens. Our Nation will long endure due to the strength and character of the men and women like John who serve our country.

TRIBUTE TO MR. THADDEUS
ROBERT STEBBINS

HON. HENRY J. HYDE

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 6, 2004

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to commend to the House for its edification a recent event of note, that on the 3rd of September of this year, in Exeter, New Hampshire, Thaddeus Robert Stebbins celebrated his 17th birthday.

Although still in the formative period of his life's journey, Mr. Stebbins has already demonstrated remarkable abilities across a broad range of endeavor, from academics and music to sports and debate. These preternatural accomplishments must command our attention and admiration. But even more noteworthy are the maturity of thought and manner already manifest and the generosity of spirit evidenced by the unhesitating respect granted others.

The birthday was celebrated quietly at the Phillips Exeter Academy where Mr. Stebbins is currently enrolled in his Upper year and where he is manfully displaying talents and capacities notable even at that prestigious institution. Although they were not physically in attendance on that day, Mr. Stebbins was very much in the thoughts of his proud parents and sisters, of his godfather, and of his many admiring friends.

I cannot speak to Mr. Stebbins' religious beliefs, but I have no doubt that the Almighty has prepared great things for him and ever watches over him. And that he has entertained angels, unaware.

Mr. Speaker, Wordsworth wrote that "the Child is the father of the Man". We will be fortunate indeed to know the Man he will become.

HONORING HARVEY L. GOLDEN'S
50 YEARS OF PRACTICING LAW

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 6, 2004

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to praise the works of one of South Carolina's outstanding legal minds, Harvey L. Golden, who celebrates 50 years of practicing family law this month. I am proud to call Harvey a good friend, a fellow member of the Bar of South Carolina, and I ask all of my colleagues to join me in honoring his lifetime of hard work and service in the law profession. I ask that the following information on Harvey's life and achievements be added into the official record.

Harvey Laurance Golden was born in Brooklyn, New York, October 15, 1929, the only child of Gertrude Dribbon Golden who had, come to this Country from Manchester, England, and Irvin (Jack) Golden who was born in New York. When Harvey was four years old, his mother, father and he moved from Brooklyn to Hartford, Connecticut, where his father spent World War II working at the Colt Firearms factory and, subsequently, became a supervisor in Pratt and Whitney Aircraft factory. In Hartford, his mother became a buyer for Brown and Thompson Department Store. In Hartford, Harvey attended the Vine Street School and subsequently Jones Jr. High School. Whereupon the family moved to Columbia, South Carolina, after a brief summer in Augusta, Georgia. In Columbia, he attended Columbia High School and became Business Manager of the school newspaper, "High Life" and became active in the high school debate team. Harvey was also active in the drama club and chorus.

While in Columbia, Harvey and some of his best friends joined the S.C. Air National Guard in 1948 and when the Korean war began, he turned down a college deferment when his S.C. Guard unit was federalized. The South Carolina Guard was the first guard unit in the country to be nationalized and he was the first guardsman in Korea and one month later was promoted to Sergeant. He spent two years as a Weapons Specialist in charge of the 157th Fighter Bomber Squadron Armament, including napalm, bombs, rockets, machine guns and small arms. This work was accomplished on F-51 aircraft that had already been sent to the war zone and had SCANG scrubbed from the side of the planes. These were the same aircraft on which Sgt. Golden had been working back at Congaree Air Base in Columbia. Upon returning to Columbia he was hospitalized in the Columbia VA Hospital for three months and released.

Whereupon, he approached Dean Sam Prince of the USC Law School requesting special dispensation to be allowed to attend law school without vacation and thus be able to graduate in two years rather than three or two and a half. The Dean grudgingly allowed him to become the first student to petition the law school to enter and while in law school he was awarded membership in Wig and Robe Honor Society, having begun in September 1952 and finished in September, 1954 with only one grade below a B. He was also elected by the faculty and editorial board as Editor-in-Chief of the South Carolina Law Review. He had already been elected president of his fraternity. After graduation, he had become very active in the University Theatre and had played many roles there as well as in Town Theatre and later he founded the Workshop Theatre and Columbia City Ballet as he began the practice of law. After law school, he practiced with Edens and Woodward and then Isadore Lourie, the late legendary State Senator, joined him as Golden and Lourie for the next four years.

On July 15, 1962, he married Heide Engelhart and they are the proud parents of three children and two grand children.
