TRAINING FOR REALTIME WRITERS ACT OF 2003

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of Calendar No. 790, S. 480.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the bill by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 480) to provide competitive grants for training court reporters and closed captioners to meet requirements of realtime writers under the Telecommunications Act of 1996, and for other purposes.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be read a third time, passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, with no intervening action or debate, and that any statement relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The bill (S. 480) was read the third time and passed, as follows:

S. 480

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Training for Realtime Writers Act of 2003".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) As directed by Congress in section 723 of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 613), as added by section 305 of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-104; 110 Stat. 126), the Federal Communications Commission adopted rules requiring closed captioning of most television programming, which gradually require new video programming to be fully captioned beginning in 2006.

(2) More than 28,000,000 Americans, or 8 percent of the population, are considered deaf or hard of hearing, and many require captioning services to participate in mainstream activities.

(3) More than 24,000 children are born in the United States each year with some form of hearing loss.

(4) According to the Department of Health and Human Services and a study done by the National Council on Aging—

(A) 25 percent of Americans over 65 years old are hearing impaired;

(B) 33 percent of Americans over 70 years old are hearing impaired; and

(C) 41 percent of Americans over 75 years old are hearing impaired.

(5) The National Council on Aging study also found that depression in older adults may be directly related to hearing loss and disconnection with the spoken word.

(6) Empirical research demonstrates that captions improve the performance of individuals learning to read English and, according to numerous Federal agency statistics, could benefit—

(A) 3,700,000 remedial readers;

(B) 12,000,000 young children learning to read;

(C) 27,000,000 illiterate adults; and

(D) 30,000,000 people for whom English is a second language.

(7) Over the past 5 years, student enrollment in programs that train court reporters to become realtime writers has decreased significantly, causing such programs to close on many campuses.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, that concludes the unanimous consent requests at this time. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. HARKIN. Mr. President, briefly, I wish to thank the Senator from Idaho. The bill that was just passed is a bill that provides grants for training court reporters for closed caption reporting. In 1996, the Congress passed a bill that said by 2006 all television shows have to be closed captioned. By 2010, all Spanish-speaking shows have to be closed captioned. That is going to take about 3,000 people trained to do this. We have less than 500 trained right now. We are not going to meet that date, but we have to move ahead and try our best to get these people trained in our community colleges all over the country. That is what this bill does.

I especially want to thank Senator MCCAIN, the chairman of the Commerce Committee, for his expeditious handling of this bill and letting it go through. I am assured the House is going to pass it unanimously, so we can get on with the business of training our reporters so that they can do realtime closed captioning.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, so our colleagues will know what our plans will be tonight and tomorrow—and I talked with the Democratic leader briefly earlier—the House will finish the omnibus tonight, midnight or 1 o'clock. Because I know many Senators have lots of other things to do, since we cannot say with definition when the House will complete the bill, I think it is best that we say there are no more rollcall votes tonight and that we will address the omnibus tomorrow.

In addition, we have IDEA, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, which we need to vote on tomorrow as well. We will talk back and forth as to what time we will be coming in tomorrow morning.

We have had a very busy day. It has been a very constructive day, a great day in terms of tributes on both sides of the aisle. So we have had a good day.

We will, unfortunately, not be able to complete our business until tomorrow. There will be a lot of phone calls in terms of what time we will be voting. We cannot really say at this juncture—depending on how people view the omnibus coming over—whether or not a rollcall vote will be required on IDEA. My expectation is we will have one or two votes over the course of tomorrow. As soon as we get some sort of certainty in the schedules—it is a little bit out of our hands, depending on what action is taken in the House—we will be sure, through our respective conferences, to let everybody know tonight.

Before we leave tonight, we will set a time to come in tomorrow morning. I assume it is going to be around 9:30 or 10 o'clock. We will address that accordingly.

That is it in terms of information. I thank the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Florida.
