ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, MAY 4, 2004

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until 9:45 a.m. tomorrow, Tuesday May 4. I further ask that following the prayer and pledge, the morning hour be deemed expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, and following the time for the two leaders, the Senate then begin a period of morning business for up to 60 minutes, with the first 30 minutes under the control of the majority leader or his designee and the final 30 minutes under the control of the Democratic leader or his designee; provided that following morning business, the Senate resume consideration of Calendar No. 381, S. 1637, the FSC/ETI JOBS bill, and the time until 12:30 p.m. be equally divided between the chairman and ranking member of the Finance Committee or their designees.

I further ask consent that the Senate recess from 12:30 p.m. until 2:15 p.m. for the weekly party luncheons.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PROGRAM

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, tomorrow, following morning business, the Senate will resume consideration of the JOBS bill. The chairman and ranking member of the Finance Committee will be here throughout the day tomorrow to work through additional amendments. Rollcall votes should be expected throughout the day tomorrow as the Senate continues the amending process on the JOBS bill. Senators will be notified when the first vote is scheduled. However, no votes are expected prior to the policy luncheon recess.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, if the Senator will yield for a question, tomorrow we have our usual party luncheons, as has already been announced. We also have the First Lady's dinner that we will go to on a bipartisan basis tomorrow evening, starting at about 6:30, so it is going to be a short day tomorrow.

The overtime issue has been kicking around here for a while. That amendment has been laid down with a couple of others. I am wondering if the Senator from Kentucky is going to be in a position to offer a companion to the overtime amendment that we have offered so we can vote on those sometime tomorrow.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I say to my friend from Nevada, it is likely there will be a side-by-side amendment offered. It is also likely we will get to vote on both of those amendments tomorrow. I would not want to call it a guarantee at this point, but I think it extremely likely we will be able to vote on both tomorrow.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I say to my friend, if we could get rid of the overtime issue and move on to some of the other matters, I think we can move through these amendments. As the Senator will recall, we had 18 on our side originally that we had whittled down to. When the majority came back with a larger number, we added some to it. But I still think we have 18 amendments, and maybe even that is a puffy number. We also, on the 18, had time agreements on every one of them.

So we are ready to move through those. The managers have indicated they could probably accept some of our 18.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I know I am safe in saying the majority leader wants to finish this bill this week. I do understand that part of the problem lies on this side of the aisle with the proliferation of amendments prior to the agreement we entered into limiting the amendments. We will be working hard on this side of the aisle to narrow the list and put us in a position to complete action on this bill this week.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:45 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 6:56 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, May 4, 2004, at 9:45 a.m.
