

REGARDING AMERICAN GOLD
STAR MOTHERS DAYHON. TODD TIAHRT

OF KANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. TIAHRT. Mr. Speaker, this Sunday, September 25th, is American Gold Star Mothers' Day. This important day honors not only fallen patriots, but the grieving families they left behind.

Throughout our America's history, brave men and women have left their mothers and fathers to take up arms in defense of this Nation and its ideals. Sadly, many of these heroes never return home. Although our nation will be forever grateful of their ultimate sacrifice, too often we do not remember the sacrifice of their families, especially mothers, who are left behind.

For over 75 years, the American Gold Star Mothers organization has stood strong in support of mothers who have lost their children in service to this country. Serving as a support group and a service organization, American Gold Star Mothers, Inc is a shining example of American compassion and strength. I am thankful to have an American Gold Star Mothers' chapter in Wichita, tirelessly serving and supporting one another in south-central Kansas.

This Sunday, I hope we can all take a moment to remember the sacrifices made for this country and say a prayer for the families that were left behind. I know that it is not natural for a parent to experience the loss of a child. They deserve our love, support and gratitude. We will never forget those who served and those who lost.

May God bless America, and may God bless our Gold Star Mothers.

SAM DURAN: THE SAN DIEGO CHICANO
FEDERATION'S COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD!HON. BOB FILNER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, Sam Duran has devoted more than 30 years of his life to empowering, advocating and improving the lives of inner city youth. As the founding chief executive (CEO) of the Urban Corps of San Diego, Sam has grown the organization from its original budget of $120,000 to more than $5 million. Under his direction, the organization has been responsible for training, employing and providing educational opportunities for 5,700 at-risk youth.

The mission of the Urban Corps of San Diego is to provide job training and educational opportunities to young adults in the fields of conservation, recycling and community service, which assists them in becoming more employable, while protecting San Diego's natural resources and instilling the importance of community involvement.

Sam's passion is empowering youth. He inspires leadership by helping young people provide for themselves through solid education and environmental job training within a structured environment. It has been through Sam's continuous personal belief and commitment to empowering underprivileged youth from all walks of life, and giving back to the community through integrity and hard work, that the Urban Corps of San Diego has had the honor of being the only conservation corps to have ever received a grant from the Smithsonian Museum to conduct a survey of all outdoor sculptures in the county of San Diego. The Urban Corps assessed and cataloged the condition of San Diego's outdoor sculptures in order for the Smithsonian to begin the important and much-needed work of repairing and preserving them for future generations to cherish and enjoy.

He has been a committed community leader, environmentalist and activist for his entire adult life. During his tenure as Academy Superintendent for the California Conservation Corps from 1978-1980, Sam oversaw the life skills training for 740 youth per month. As a board member of the National Association of Service and Conservation Corps, Citizens for Clean Air Policy and EarthShare of California, he is actively involved in statewide conservation efforts and has contributed to the empowerment of youth in the conservation and environmental fields through education and vocational job training.

Sam also served as the Deputy Director of Eureka Communities, a nonprofit organization created by San Diego philanthropist Deborah Szekely, to increase the capacity of executive directors of community-based organizations to improve the lives of children, youth and families in need. In that role, he encouraged other nonprofit leaders to raise environmental awareness in their organizations and communities; to better the lives of disadvantaged children and youth; and to create forums for learning exchanges that would expose leaders to effective methods and best practices throughout San Diego and the nation.

In addition to his service on the task force created to advise President Bill Clinton on AmeriCorps, Sam serves on the boards of the San Diego Juvenile Justice Prevention Commission, the San Diego Maritime Museum, the Conservation Corps State Museum, San Diego Riverpark Foundation and the Farmworkers Institute for Education & Leadership Development (FIELD).

Sam is also a decorated Vietnam veteran who holds a Bronze Star and an Air Force Commendation with two Oak leaf clusters.

Congratulations, Sam, on this Award for Community Service!

RECOGNIZING DR. FRANK BROWN

HON. LYNN A. WESTMORELAND

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. WESTMORELAND. Mr. Speaker, I recognize the accomplishments of a great citizen of the Eighth Congressional District, Dr. Frank Brown.

Dr. Brown is best known to those of us from Georgia as the President of Columbus State University, and has served in that capacity since 1988. Dr. Brown has overseen the dramatic growth of the university, and worked closely with the City of Columbus to make the school a central part of the city.

But we were able to see another side of Dr. Brown last month, when he was awarded the Distinguished Citizen Award by the Boy Scouts of America, Chattahoochee Council. The Chattahoochee Council gives the award to recognize an individual or group that undertakes outstanding service to our nation, the state, or the local community. By presenting the award, the Chattahoochee Council calls attention to the honors the contributions and good works of individuals.

Dr. Brown is a worthy recipient, due to his commitment to his community. It is my privilege to lay such an achievement before the House.

IN HONOR OF THE OPENING OF THE ANDERSON-ABRUZZO INTER-NATIONAL BALLOON MUSEUMHON. TOM UDALL

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, it is my great pleasure to rise today to commemorate the opening of The Anderson-Abruzzo International Balloon Museum, in Albuquerque, New Mexico. This museum celebrates and honors the long-standing tradition of ballooning in the Land of Enchantment. This opening is the culmination of a tremendous effort on the part of the Anderson and Abruzzo families and devoted friends and business partners, all of whom have shared in the vision and dream to create a world class collection of ballooning memorabilia and equipment.

The exhibits and programs stand as a testament to the history, science and art of ballooning. This museum will be a significant addition to the city known as the "The Balloon Capital of the World" and will prove to be a wonderful complement to Albuquerque's annual International Balloon Fiesta.

This commanding building is a fitting tribute to Albuquerque balloonists Ben Abruzzo and Maxie Anderson who are recognized internationally for their first non-stop crossing of the Atlantic Ocean by gas balloon. Not only will this museum serve as a constant reminder of their legacies, but it will also offer extensive and educational exhibits that will inform and broaden ballooning enthusiasts for years to come.

The Anderson-Abruzzo International Balloon Museum will serve as an educational institution. The museum's innovative educational outreach plan includes field trip opportunities, lectures, and an emphasis on integrating the Balloon Museum into the Albuquerque Public Schools curriculum.

I am pleased to congratulate the Anderson-Abruzzo International Balloon Museum and all of those whose efforts and contributions have made this opening possible. I would like to especially thank the Anderson and Abruzzo families, whose vision and continued dedication have been the driving factor in the museum's completion. I would also like to thank the City of Albuquerque for embracing and financing this project. I am proud to join the community in celebrating this amazing new addition to New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I ask that all my colleagues rise to congratulate the many professionals and volunteers who have helped to make this wonderful new museum a reality.

THE INTRODUCTION OF THE TEMPORARY AGRICULTURAL LABOR REFORM ACT OF 2005

HON. BOB GOODLATTE

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce, along with my friend and colleague Representative MARION BERRY of Arkansas, the Temporary Agricultural Labor Reform Act of 2005, a bi-partisan bill to reform the H-2A guest worker program. As Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, I have traveled across the nation and seen first-hand that the H-2A temporary visa process is not working. I have talked face to face with producers who have to deal with participating in a costly, time-consuming and flawed program. For example, employers have to comply with a lengthy labor certification process that is slow, bureaucratic and frustrating. In addition, they are forced to pay an artificially inflated wage rate. My bill will streamline the cumbersome requirements of the current H-2A program to make it a more viable option for our nation's farmers.

Likewise, as a long-time Member of the House Judiciary Committee, I understand the immigration problems that currently face our country. Illegal immigration penalizes those legal immigrants and citizens who play by the rules. It is estimated that there are over 10 million illegal aliens currently living in the United States. This population grows by over 350,000 each year. Clearly, this situation has reached crisis proportions and cannot be allowed to continue.

Some believe that the only way to reform the guest worker program is by including amnesty provisions and allowing illegal aliens to adjust to Legal Permanent Resident (LPR) status. However, this would create the wrong incentive by encouraging foreign nationals to come into the country and break our laws. Amnesty is unfair to those foreign nationals trying to comply with our laws and encourages more people to come into the U.S. illegally with the thought that they, too, will get rewarded for their illegal actions in the future.

My bill would not grant an amnesty. Instead, it would require that anyone wishing to participate in the guest worker program must first return to their home country and apply from there to participate legally. This requirement will help us track who is entering our country and will create an incentive for those currently present illegally to return home and begin the process again while respecting our immigration laws.

In addition, this legislation would address a troublesome wage issue. Employers are required to pay an inflated wage called the Adverse Effect Wage Rate or AEWR. The AEWR was designed to protect similarly situated domestic workers from being adversely affected by guest workers coming into the country on a seasonal basis and being paid lower wages. However, the shortage of domestic workers in the farm workforce forces employers to hire foreign workers, and thus, is also forcing them to pay an inflated wage. My bill abolishes this unfair wage and creates a prevailing wage standard, under which, all workers are paid the same wage as workers doing similar work in that region.

The facts are simple. Agriculture needs a reliable guest worker program. Workers need access to stable, legal, temporary employment. It is in our national security interest to create a sensible way for workers to come in on a temporary basis, work, and go back to their home countries. My bill addresses problems in the guest worker program, and I look forward to working with Representative BERRY and all of the Members of this body to reform this program and make it a more viable process for everyone involved.

HONORING MR. BRUCE DE YOUNG ON THE OCCASION OF HIS RETIREMENT

HON. SCOTT GARRETT

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 22, 2005

Mr. GARRETT of New Jersey. The work of educating our youth is one of the highest callings to which an individual may aspire. The values and information imparted to the minds of our children remain with them throughout their lives helping to guide their decisions and consequently, the directions of their families, communities, state, and our nation.

In recognition of the outstanding dedication of one man to this noble calling, I am pleased to extend my warmest commendation to Mr. Bruce De Young on the occasion of his retirement as Superintendent of Schools in the Ramsey, New Jersey Public School District.

Since 1992, Mr. De Young has served in the position of Superintendent of Schools, yet his dedication to education extends over many more years. Indeed, Mr. De Young has devoted thirty-six years to the field of education. From his position as Mathematics Supervisor for the Ramsey Public School District, to his tenure as Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction, through his present position of Superintendent, Mr. De Young has enjoyed a career focused on providing the best education to his students.

Mr. De Young's contribution, however, reaches even beyond the classroom. As a member of the Legislative Committee of the New Jersey Association of School Administrators and a member of the Bergen County Association of School Administrators, the Association for Supervisors and Curriculum Development, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Mr. De Young has been willing to share his experience and knowledge for the purpose of bettering educational quality for countless students, both in New Jersey and across this great nation.

Moreover, through his willingness to mentor other Superintendents as they travel the path to permanent certification, Mr. De Young has ensured that his contribution to education will last not only throughout his career but also well into the future.

It is, therefore, with great honor and humility that I offer my sincerest appreciation and congratulations to Mr. De Young on the occasion of his retirement and I wish him a future filled with continued success.
