

used her background and experience to make a difference in the lives of the residents of Hamden as well as those throughout the State. With more than a decade of experience working with local and regional offices of the Parent Teacher Association (PTA) as well as several years with the Connecticut Department of Education, Nancy focused much of her time on improving the quality of education for Connecticut's children. She served on the Assembly's Task Force on Student Financial Aid, the Blue Ribbon Commission on the Future of the Library, and the State Advisory Council on Special Education. As a legislator, she was recognized for her efforts, which is reflected by the myriad of awards and commendations she received throughout her tenure. Her distinguished career came to an end when she retired in 2003, however, she left an indelible mark on the institution which will be remembered by her colleagues and will certainly serve as an inspiration for members to come.

For her many invaluable contributions to her community and to the State of Connecticut, I am proud to stand today to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Nancy Beals. With her husband Richard, 3 children, and 9 grandchildren, she is certainly a busy woman, however, I have no doubt that though she no longer serves in public life, she will continue to work on behalf of her community and make a difference in the lives of others.

INTRODUCTION OF SSI MODERNIZATION ACT

HON. BENJAMIN L. CARDIN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 19, 2005

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program provides benefits to nearly 7 million elderly and disabled individuals who have few, if any, other resources. While it serves as the primary Federal program that assists low-income elderly and disabled Americans, many of the components of the program have not been updated in decades.

Since the inception of the program in 1972, the general income exclusion, which permits outside income to be added to the SSI benefit without penalty, has been set at $20. This income exclusion is generally applied to Social Security earnings, which are based on past employment. A second exclusion was also created to allow the first $65 in monthly earnings to be disregarded from SSI benefits, plus one-half of the remaining earnings. Neither of these provisions, which reward past and current work, have been increased in 33 years. As a result, these income exclusions have lost more than 75 percent of their real value over time. If they had kept pace with inflation over the last three decades, the general exclusion would be worth $90 a month, rather than $20; and the earnings exclusion would be worth $295 a month, rather than $65.

I am therefore pleased to introduce legislation today—along with Representative JIM McDERMOTT, the Ranking Member of the Human Resources Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee which has jurisdiction over the SSI program—to reduce the disincentives for work, savings and education in the SSI program. The SSI Modernization Act would reward work by increasing the general income exclusion to $40 a month and the earned income exclusion to $130 a month, then index the amounts to inflation in future years. The bill would also increase the SSI asset limit from $2,000 for an individual and $3,000 for a couple to $3,000 for an individual and $4,500 for a couple. Increasing the resource limits would provide an incentive for individuals to save for their future. Finally, the bill would encourage disabled children to complete high school by delaying the period in which they are required to go through a redetermination process to evaluate whether they remain SSI eligible under the adult program requirements. Because some disabled children may not be able to complete their secondary education before the age of 18, the legislation would delay a recipient's adult SSI redetermination if they are enrolled in secondary education and between the ages of 18 and 21.

Mr. Speaker, the provisions in the SSI program have not been updated in decades. Updating the program by rewarding work, savings and education will help improve the lives of millions of our most vulnerable seniors and disabled Americans who depend on this program to survive. As the Social Security Commissioner declared last spring before our Human Resources Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee, SSI recipients are the “poorest of the poor.” Efforts to improve the quality of life for these individuals will go a long way to ensuring that they have a basic level of support. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

RECOGNIZING THE GAY AND LESBIAN ACTIVISTS ALLIANCE OF WASHINGTON, DC 34TH ANNIVERSARY RECEPTION HONORING DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD RECIPIENTS

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 19, 2005

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I have the distinct honor and pleasure of representing America's oldest, continuously operational gay and lesbian rights organization: the Gay and Lesbian Activists Alliance of Washington, D.C. (GLAA). GLAA is a Washington, DC institution in the vanguard of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgendered civil rights movement. For 34-years, GLAA has remained a tenacious, persistent, and most importantly, respected advocate for lesbians and gays.

Since 1971, GLAA has fought to improve District government services to the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgendered (LGBT) communities, especially for those services provided by the Metropolitan Police Department, the Fire and Emergency Medical Services Department, the Department of Health and the Office of Human Rights. In every election year GLAA educates District voters by rating candidates for Mayor, Council, and Board of Education. GLAA outspokenly advocates safe and affirming schools for gay and lesbian youth. GLAA vigorously lobbies this body to defend gay families from undemocratic and discriminatory amendments to the District's budget.

On April 20, GLAA will hold its 34th Anniversary Reception honoring the recipients of its Distinguished Service Awards for 2005: recently retired Whitman-Walker Clinic executive director Cornelius Baker; the fundraising charity Brother, Help Thyself Inc.; D.C. Council Chairman Linda Cropp; Washington Post columnist Colbert I. King; and lesbian cultural trailblazer Jane Troxell.

GLAA's 34-year fight to secure all the birthrights enjoyed by Americans for the LGBT residents of Washington, D.C. is more poignant as United States citizens living in our nation's capital, who have served honorably in every American war, including the present war in Iraq, are taxed without representation. GLAA's open and forthright advocacy reminds us that LGBT soldiers, who have sworn to protect our country with their lives, must serve in silence, without the open support of their chosen families and communities, neither asking nor telling.

RECOGNIZING ROBERT MCCAFFREY

HON. MELISSA A. HART

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 19, 2005

Ms. HART. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize Robert McCaffrey of Allison Park, PA for his distinguished service during World War II.

Recently, the National Personnel Record Center (NPRC) confirmed Mr. McCaffrey's entitlement to ten medals related to his service. Several of these medals had been misplaced over the past 60 years. While a 1973 fire had destroyed his original service record, an alternate record recently confirmed Mr. McCaffrey's entitlement to these medals. It is my honor to present Mr. McCaffrey with these decorations.

Mr. McCaffrey served in the United States Army from June 1943 until January 1946. During this time, Mr. McCaffrey received the following medals for his service: the Bronze Star Medal, the Purple Heart, the Good Conduct Medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal with one bronze service star, the World War II Victory Medal, the Combat Infantryman Badge 1st Award, the Philippine Liberation Ribbon, the Honorable Service Lapel Button WWII, the Sharpshooter Badge with Rifle Bar, and the Marksman Badge with Carbine Bar.

I ask my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives to join me in honoring Robert McCaffrey. It is an honor to represent the Fourth Congressional District of Pennsylvania and a pleasure to salute citizens such as Robert who make the communities that they live in truly special.

IN RECOGNITION OF PAUL WARD FOR HIS 33 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE CONTRA COSTA COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT AND HUMAN SERVICES

HON. ELLEN O. TAUSCHER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 19, 2005

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the career accomplishments of Paul Ward for his 33 years of service to the Contra Costa County Department of Employment and Human Services.

For three decades, the Department has looked to Mr. Ward for the highest professional standards of analytical support, especially during periods of systems change.

Paul was a major force in developing the information systems necessary for the Department to succeed in its mission to move welfare participants into the workplace. His researched pick for an automated system was chosen by the Department to track the progress of participants toward independence, and he played a significant role in training Department employees to use it.

When impending welfare reform legislation prompted redesign of the benefits program, Paul became a leader for change inside and outside the Department, making presentations about the impacts of reform to fellow employees, other agencies, and local employers, and supporting critical community outreach of the Department Director.

Paul has taken on additional roles as resource to Department leadership inside and outside the organization, writing the Emergency Management Response Plan, staffing the Department Director in the Emergency Operating Center, and acting as Department liaison to other County departments, legislative advocacy associations, and university advanced degree programs.

Throughout his career, Paul has been respected and admired by those he has worked with in the Department and the community for his excellent analytical skills, voice of reason, collegial cooperation, exemplary professional demeanor—and for his dry, intelligent wit.

I thank Paul Ward for his contributions to the Contra Costa County Department of Employment and Human Services, and I wish him well in the community that he has served so well.

RECOGNIZING PETER F. BROWN

HON. JAMES P. MORAN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, April 19, 2005

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding public servant, Peter F. Brown, as he completes more than 24 years of continuous service within the civilian leadership of the Department of Defense, DoD. He began his public service life as a naval architect at the Naval Sea Systems Command, NAVSEA, and is ending it as NAVSEA's Executive Director. Throughout his career, he worked tirelessly to serve America and our Navy and Marine Corps.

Mr. Brown joined NAVSEA in 1981 as Ship Project Manager and then Branch Head for Command and Amphibious ships. In 1987, he was appointed to the Senior Executive Service and assigned as Deputy Program Manager for Amphibious and Combat Support Ships where he directed maintenance and modernization for over 175 surface ships and over 40 intermediate maintenance activities.

Over the next decade, Mr. Brown provided exceptional service to the Navy in a succession of complex and demanding assignments as NAVSEA's corporate planner, civilian manpower manager, Deputy Commander for Fleet Logistics Support, Chief Information Officer, and Executive Director of the Logistics, Maintenance and Industrial Operations Directorate. He was instrumental in supporting the command's restructuring under the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act and its headquarters move to the Washington Navy Yard.

In July 1998, Mr. Brown assumed his current position as the Executive Director of NAVSEA. In this role as the Command's senior civilian executive, he quickly implemented strategic changes in the Navy's largest systems command, comprised of 49,000 civilian and military personnel at 36 geographically dispersed activities with an annual budget of approximately $20 billion. A number of these changes are being widely adopted across the Department of the Navy and DoD.

Mr. Brown was the Program Team Chair and Product Integrator for a comprehensive DoD team that recommended the creation of a National Security Personnel System, NSPS, Program Executive Office to design and implement the new civilian human resources management system. Based on his team's design, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld agreed to establish the NSPS Program Executive Office, with Mr. Brown assuming the role of interim Program Executive Officer. He was the driving force behind the successful launch of the NSPS program structure. Mr. Brown was instrumental in advancing the One Shipyard concept, which revolutionized the nation's entire ship industrial base to better meet the Navy's Fleet Response Plan requirements in response to the challenge of the Global War on Terror and the dynamic world situation.

Mr. Brown's visionary leadership included the identification of proven private sector programs and processes and their rapid deployment. His active endorsement of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's Voluntary Protection Program, VPP, led to Portsmouth Naval Shipyard's recent designation as a STAR VPP site, the highest ranking available and the second DoD site to achieve this status and the first Navy site to do so. Mr. Brown is recognized throughout the shipbuilding industry as a leader who can be trusted and is the Navy's sole representative on the Executive Committee of the National Shipbuilding Research Program Advanced Shipbuilding Enterprise.

Mr. Brown has been an exceptional innovator of strategies to solve the most difficult challenges in personnel downsizing, work force renewal, and to reduce costs in acquisition and support of ships, submarines and systems. He provided executive leadership for several initiatives aimed at improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the Navy's five systems commands under the auspices of the Virtual System Command. He led the migration to common processes, streamlining responsibilities and systems and instituting the adoption of best practices in many key areas. Additionally, these efforts have created a single Fleet distance support solution that provides a conduit for virtually all of the technical and logistics support. These efforts collectively represent over $6 billion in savings across the Navy over the Future Years Defense Program.

Within NAVSEA, Mr. Brown established a formal control structure for over 166 technical authority areas that are key to the engineering performance and safety of ships, systems, and the sailors who operate them. Nationally recognized individuals known for their professional expertise were assigned as the technical authorities in each area. Not only do these individuals represent the ultimate technical authority for their field of expertise, they are responsible to oversee the technical health of the Government, academia, and private sector network that supports that expertise. This approach has been recognized across the Navy for its clarity, effectiveness, and efficiency and has been adopted by other Navy systems commands.

Mr. Brown's visionary approach to challenges allows for the transformation from a "business as usual" mentality into actions that permit innovative improvements in the way the Government and its private industry partners achieve best value products and services. It is, therefore, a pleasure to recognize Mr. Peter F. Brown for his many contributions in a life devoted to our nation's security as he leaves the Department of the Navy. I know my colleagues join me in wishing he and his wife Terri much happiness and fair winds and following seas as they begin a new chapter in their lives.
