

America's seniors in the prescription drug bill, and until we address the needs of the victims of Katrina.

It is made even more urgent, this staying in session, by the fact that rumor has it that Congress will not be coming back until January 31. That would be six down weeks of no action on the part of this Congress at a time when America's families are feeling severe pain.

Again, I urge this Congress to stay in session until we get our job done for the American people.
