REVERSE MORTGAGES TO HELP AMERICA'S SENIORS ACT

Mr. FITZPATRICK of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2892) to amend section 255 of the National Housing Act to remove the limitation on the number of reverse mortgages that may be insured under the FHA mortgage insurance program for such mortgages.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 2892

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Reverse Mortgages to Help America's Seniors Act".

SEC. 2. ELIMINATION OF CAP ON NUMBER OF MORTGAGES INSURED.

Section 255 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1715z-20) is amended—

(1) in subsection (g), by striking the first sentence; and

(2) in subsection (i)(1)(C), by striking "limitations" and inserting "limitation".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. FITZPATRICK) and the gentleman from Utah (Mr. MATHESON) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania.

Mr. FITZPATRICK of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, as we continue to try and find the best ways to improve retirement security for our Nation's seniors, I have looked at numerous programs to lessen the burden that our numerous seniors face: health care, transportation, and homeownership. As a former Bucks County Commissioner and now as a Member of Congress representing Pennsylvania's 8th Congressional District, I have received many calls and letters from seniors looking to find ways to pay their bills so that they could stay in their homes.

Mr. Speaker, earlier this year, I had the great opportunity to meet Arthur Gerald, a constituent from New Hope, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, who took advantage of the reverse mortgage program. Arthur was faced with a horrible decision, whether to sell the home he had built for himself and his wife to pay mounting financial obligations or face certain financial ruin. Arthur told me stories of how he, as a young Broadway actor, moved from New York to Pennsylvania with his wife. His house was more than a home. It became a centerpiece of the community. He built a stage in his backyard to perform plays and shows for his neighbors. His house was a focal point for the community. Listening to his stories, I realized that the house was more than four walls and a roof. It was his life, it was his past, and it was his future.

The reverse mortgage allowed Arthur to stay in his home. He harnessed the power of this loan to achieve financial security and independence and to preserve his memories.

Today, I am proud to bring bipartisan, AARP-endorsed legislation to the floor that would help even more seniors preserve their homes and their memories. The Reverse Mortgages to Help America's Seniors Act, H.R. 2892, makes necessary improvements to the Department of House and Urban Development's Home Equity Conversion Mortgage program by removing the statutory limitation, or ceiling, on the aggregate number of FHA-insured reverse mortgages that may be issued in any given year. Only a complete removal of the volume cap will prevent the possibility of future program disruption that will be detrimental to America's seniors.

A reverse mortgage is a unique loan that enables senior homeowners to convert part of the equity in their homes into tax-free income without having to sell the home, give up title, or take on a new monthly mortgage payment.

Reverse mortgages are aptly named because the payment stream is, in fact, reversed. Instead of making monthly payments to the lender as with a regular mortgage, the lender makes payments to the homeowner. The homeowner has great flexibility in choosing
