

requiring international marriage brokers to provide foreign fiancées with information about the rights and resources available to domestic violence victims in the United States. Under current practice, American clients can get all the information they want about foreign fiancées, while foreign clients only receive information that the Americans choose to share, and have no way to make sure what they are told is true. By providing foreign women who meet their potential American spouses with ability to access their potential spouse's marital and criminal history, we are taking a further step to curb domestic violence. The decisions we in Congress chose to make concerning the Violence Against Women Act of 2005 sets in place the priorities and funding levels that will directly affect how we respond to and prevent domestic violence in the coming years.

Because of its occurrence behind closed doors, many Americans are unaware of the severity of this problem. While domestic violence most directly affects women, it hurts us all, no matter our sex, race, religion, or economic status. As our Nation recognizes Domestic Violence Awareness Month, let each of us consider what we can further do to prevent its continuation.●

NATIONAL PAYROLL WEEK

● Mr. CHAMBLISS. Mr. President, I would like to recognize National Payroll Week, which was designated by the American Payroll Association as the week of September 5–9, 2005. This week signified an important effort to recognize the over 156 million working Americans and the payroll professionals who support the American economy by paying wages, reporting worker earnings, and withholding Federal employment taxes.

Together, this hard working group of Americans contributes, collects, reports, and deposits approximately $1.4 trillion, or 71 percent, of the annual revenue of the U.S. Treasury. Payroll professionals continue to play a key role in maintaining the economic health of the United States by carrying out such diverse tasks as paying into the unemployment insurance system, providing information for child support enforcement, and carrying out tax withholding, reporting, and depositing. Payroll professionals also work with Federal and State tax officials to make the tax system more efficient and to improve compliance.

National Payroll Week celebrated the contributions of American workers and payroll professionals and the intricate role they play in our economy and everyday lives.●

TRIBUTE TO BILL WALSH

● Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I rise today to honor a constituent and a pioneer in substance abuse treatment, Bill Walsh, who is retiring this year.

Mr. Walsh grew up in New Bedford, MA, and attended Seton Hall University. He served as a Radioman First Class in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Aboard the USS Hyter, he participated in the naval escort for President Franklin Roosevelt as he flew to the conference at Yalta.

After he left the Navy, Bill Walsh nobly dedicated his life to helping those in need of mental health services and those debilitated by alcohol and substance abuse. For 3 years, he served as the executive director of the Mental Health Association of Eastern Connecticut, where he created community mental health services and educational seminars to meet the needs of eastern Connecticut.

And, for the last 34 years, Mr. Walsh has served as the president of the Southeastern Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence. In that position, he oversaw the development of three halfway houses, a detoxification program, outpatient services, and community-based education programs. He has helped thousands confront the devastating effects of drug and alcohol abuse and take the difficult steps to recovery.

Mr. Walsh was also a pioneer in long-term care in Connecticut. In 1979 he developed the Lebanon Pines Treatment Facility for those with chronic alcoholism, who are invited to live and work at the rural, alcohol-free facility for an indefinite period. This program has no doubt helped hundreds of individuals find sobriety.

Bill Walsh's selfless desire to truly help those in need is further evidenced by the extent to which he has been willing to share the vast knowledge that he gained working on the front lines. Over the last five decades, he has strenuously lobbied the Connecticut legislature on behalf of those suffering from addictions to drugs or alcohol and their treatment providers. He has served on numerous boards and advisory committees dedicated to substance abuse treatment. And he has lectured on substance abuse and community rehabilitation projects at colleges and universities in Connecticut and throughout our Nation.

Millions of Americans battle drug and alcohol addiction every day. Bill Walsh has dedicated his life to making sure that they don't fight alone. For his tireless service, Connecticut and, indeed, the whole Nation owe him a tremendous debt of gratitude.

Next week, a dinner will be held in honor of Bill Walsh's many contributions to the field of substance abuse treatment and to raise money for a scholarship fund to support those who want to become substance abuse treatment professionals. Both the dinner and the scholarship fund are wonderful tributes to Bill's contributions to serving those who struggle each and every day with addiction.

Once again, I thank Bill Walsh for his years of dedicated service to his community, to Connecticut, and to our Nation. And, I send my best wishes to him, his wife Cinda, and his family as he embarks on this new stage in his life.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATH OF LEON KLINGHOFFER

● Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, 20 years ago this month the world changed forever for the family of Leon Klinghoffer. Mr. Klinghoffer was a 69-year-old American Jewish retired appliance manufacturer from my State of New York. In October 1985, he and his wife Marilyn were celebrating their 36th wedding anniversary by taking a vacation aboard the Achille Lauro.

On October 7, 1985, four members of the Palestine Liberation Front took control of the Achille Lauro liner off the coast of Egypt. While these hijackers held the passengers and crew hostage, they directed the vessel to sail to Tartus, Syria, and demanded the release of 50 Palestinians then held in Israeli prisons. After being refused permission to dock at Tartus, the hijackers killed the wheelchair-bound Leon Klinghoffer and threw his body overboard into the sea.

Nothing can ever repair the mindless horror that act of terror visited upon the innocent. Nothing can replace the love of a husband and father. Yet we can learn from this cowardly act of terror and others like it. Indeed we must learn from it if we are to survive as a free nation in a world stalked by the terrorist gun and bomb. We must understand that terrorism has gotten more dangerous to the United States since Leon Klinghoffer's senseless murder. The Achille Lauro hijacking signaled the beginning of a new era and shattered illusions that Americans were not vulnerable to international terrorism.

Mr. Klinghoffer's widow, Marilyn and his two daughters courageously sought to turn their grief into meaningful action by speaking out against the scourge of terrorism and establishing the Leon Klinghoffer Memorial Foundation of the Anti-Defamation League. Since Marilyn's passing in 1986, the foundation that now bears both their names continues to raise awareness about the growing reach, sophistication, and lethality of terrorism, to identify gaps in America's counterterrorism law, and to advocate for their closure.

Having seen firsthand the destruction and pain caused by the murder of even one victim, the Klinghoffer family has reached out to other victims of terror to share their support, strength and experience. The Klinghoffer Foundation has developed educational, political, and legal strategies to enhance the fight against terror worldwide.

The Senate salutes Leon and Marilyn's two daughters, Lisa and Ilsa, whose longtime education efforts helped put a human face on the threat of terrorism long before fighting terror became a necessary way of life for Americans, and whose advocacy has helped secure vital improvements in American counterterrorism policy. And we join them in remembering Leon and Marilyn Klinghoffer.●

IN HONOR OF MAJOR GENERAL
STEPHEN R. LORENZ

● Mr. ALLARD. Mr. President, I would like to take a moment today to recognize one of the finest Air Force officers on active duty, MG Stephen R. Lorenz. On September 6, General Lorenz left his present position as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Budget to become Special Assistant to the Air Force Chief of Staff. During his time in Washington, and especially with regard to his work on Capitol Hill, General Lorenz personified the Air Force core values of integrity first, service before self and excellence in all things. Many Members and staff enjoyed the opportunity to work with him on a variety of Air Force issues and came to appreciate his many talents. Today it is my privilege to recognize some of Steve's many accomplishments since he entered the military 32 years ago, and to commend him for the superb service he provided the Air Force, Congress, and our Nation.

Steve Lorenz earned a bachelor's degree in international affairs from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1973 and attended undergraduate pilot training at Craig Air Force Base, AL. From 1975 to 1980, he flew the EC-135 as aircraft commander at Ellsworth AFB, SD, and over the course of later assignments to Wright-Patterson AFB, OH, and Castle AFB, CA, attained the qualification of KC-135 instructor pilot. General Lorenz demonstrated his skill as an aviator in the T-37, T-38, T-39, UV-18, EC-135A/G/C, KC-135A/R, KC-10A, and C-141B aircraft. He is a command pilot with over 3,300 hours of flying time.

From early in his career, General Lorenz's exceptional leadership skills were evident to superiors and subordinates alike as he repeatedly proved himself in numerous select command positions. He has commanded an air refueling squadron, the 93rd Air Refueling Squadron, Castle AFB, CA, a geographically separated operations group, the 398th Operations Group, Castle AFB, CA and holds the distinct honor of four Wing commands; the 22nd Air Refueling Wing, March AFB, CA, the 722nd Air Refueling Wing, March AFB, CA, the 305th Air Mobility Wing, McGuire AFB, NJ, and the 34th Training Wing, United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, CO, as the Commandant of Cadets. Under his command, two of those wings were recognized and honored as the "Best Wings" in their respective numbered Air Forces.

Steve Lorenz excelled in a variety of key staff assignments. These include serving as Director of Plans and Programs, Headquarters U.S. Air Forces in Europe; Chief, European and North Atlantic Treaty Organization Policy Branch, European Division, Directorate of Strategic Plans and Policy on the Joint Staff; Chief, Northeast Asia Branch, Far East/South Asia Division, Directorate of Strategic Plans and Policy on the Joint Staff; and Deputy Chief Senate Liaison Office. General Lorenz is also a published author providing articles to military journals on Leadership and the Air Force resource allocation process.

During his service to the 107th, 108th, and 109th Congresses, General Lorenz served as our principal budget liaison with the Air Force, providing clear, concise, and timely information on issues affecting sustainment, modernization and readiness of our airmen. Most importantly, he proved an essential conduit between appropriators in Congress and frontline combat operations during Operation Iraqi Freedom, Operation Noble Eagle, and the global war on terrorism. In his 4 years as Director of Budget, he developed, advocated, and executed over $37 billion of warfighter requirements through supplemental appropriations. General Lorenz's leadership, professionalism, and expertise enabled him to foster exceptional rapport between the Air Force and the Senate, and enabled Congress to better understand Air Force priorities and programs.

I was pleased the President nominated and the Senate confirmed General Lorenz for his third star with assignment as Commander, Air University, Air Education and Training Command, Maxwell Air Force Base, AL. This higher grade and command are exceptionally well deserved. I offer my congratulations to him, his wife Leslie, and children, Tracy, Stephen, and Kelly. The Congress and country applaud the selfless commitment of his entire family to the Nation in supporting Steve's military career.

I know I speak for my colleagues in expressing my heartfelt appreciation to GEN Stephen Lorenz. He is a credit to both the Air Force and to the United States. We wish our friend the very best and are confident of his continued success in a new command.●

CELEBRATING THE DEDICATION OF THE FEDERAL COURTHOUSE
BUILDING IN FRESNO, CALIFORNIA

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I rise to recognize the dedication of the Federal courthouse building in Fresno, CA, which is to occur October 18.

The magnificent Federal courthouse building will provide the much-needed space and capacity to effectively serve a region that is continuing to grow at a rapid rate. This building will help ensure the swift and efficient administration of justice to the people of the Fresno Division of the Eastern District, which covers the counties of Calaveras, Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, Stanislaus, Tulare, and Tuolumne. Furthermore, this impressive edifice will be the most tangible and powerful symbol of the American justice system to the people of the region.

In addition to meeting the needs of the court for additional space and related purposes, the Federal courthouse building will be a centerpiece and catalyst for the continued renaissance of downtown Fresno. The strikingly designed courthouse stands as part of the downtown skyline that continues to grow. I am particularly pleased that the Federal Government has been an integral partner in downtown revitalization with this and other projects. Together, they have brought thousands of employees to the area. I applaud the efforts of all those in the community who, through their commitment and dedication, helped make this latest addition to the downtown Fresno landscape a reality.

I hope this courthouse will ultimately be named for Senior U.S. District Judge Robert E. Coyle, a man who is widely and greatly admired and respected for his work as a judge. Judge Coyle has had a distinguished career as an attorney and on the bench. Appointed to California's Eastern Court in 1982, Judge Coyle has served the Eastern District for 20 years, including 6 years as a senior judge.

For over a decade, Judge Coyle has been a tireless champion of the effort to build this courthouse. He has been seen daily walking to and from the building site assuring that the job was done right, which I am proud to report is certainly the case. A courthouse building named in his honor will stand as a testament to the people of California of the distinguished career and the dedicated work of Judge Robert E. Coyle.

I am proud to commemorate the dedication of the Federal courthouse building in Fresno, and wish its occupants and the people of the Fresno Division of the Eastern District a bright future as we continue to work to bring justice and equality to all.●

THANKING AND CONGRATULATING
JANA DAVIS

● Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, each year at about this time, three dozen or so scientists descend on Capitol Hill looking to work for Members of Congress or congressional committees. They come to us offering their expertise and service free of charge, courtesy of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, AAAS. For over 30 years now, AAAS and its constituent professional societies have provided science fellows, and Congress and the Nation are better for it.

Science and technology dominate our lives and yet there are relatively few scientists and engineers engaged in formulating public policy, either as Members of Congress or as congressional staff. As Carl Sagan said, "We live in a society exquisitely dependent on science and technology, in which hardly anyone knows anything about
