

fees imposed by cellular telephone companies; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

Whereas, the issue of early termination fees imposed by cellular phone companies is one of great importance to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, lawsuits by customers adversely affected by early termination fees have been filed in courts in California, Florida and Illinois; and

Whereas, a "petition of the Cellular Telecommunications and Internet Association for an expedited declaratory ruling" has recently been filed with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC); and

Whereas, the major cellular phone companies are now mounting efforts to preempt strong State consumer protection statutes in an effort to circumvent legal challenges in a number of States by their petition to the FCC on March 15, 2005; and

Whereas, this petition from the cellular phone industry requests that early termination fees should not be defined as penalties designed to restrict consumer choice, but rather as part of the rates that the companies charge their customers for cellular phone services; and

Whereas, recent reports dispute the industry's claims and find that 89 per cent of consumers believe that early termination fees are used as penalties to prevent consumers from shopping for better, more fairly-priced service; now therefore be it

Resolved, that the Massachusetts General Court joins and asks the Federal Communications Commission to deny the "petition of the cellular telecommunications and internet association for an expedited declaratory ruling" and that the FCC not recognize early termination fees as part of a company's rate structure and allow for continued State action; and be it further

Resolved, that the Massachusetts Senate memorializes the Federal Communications Commission, the Bush Administration, and Congress of the United States not to take any steps requested by cellular phone companies of their industry representatives that are designed to prevent cellular phone companies from being held legally accountable at the local, State or Federal levels, for the negative impacts of early termination fees; and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted forthwith by the Clerk of the Senate to the Federal Communications Commission, President George W. Bush, and the members of the United States Congress from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
