

this issue. He is a strong defender of the small, entrepreneurial companies in this industry. We worked together before committee consideration of this bill to address his concerns about the impact of user fees on the innovative companies in his home State of Utah. I welcome his support and cosponsorship of the Senate bill.

Of course, I want to thank our staff for laboring so diligently to find a workable, reasonable compromise and doing so under difficult time constraints. In particular, I want to thank Jennifer Hansen, Abby Kral, Ellen-Marie Whelan, Ben Berwick, Anne Grady, Patricia Knight, and Patricia DeLoatche. I also want to thank my committee staff Amy Muhlberg and Stephen Northrup.

Finally, I must express my deep appreciation and thanks to the ranking member, Senator KENNEDY, and his staff, David Bowen and David Dorsey, for their hard work and support during this process. We have produced a fair deal, and I urge my colleagues to lend it their strong support.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.

“(1) FUNDING.—From amounts appropriated to the National Institutes of Health, for each fiscal year, the Director of NIH shall transfer not less than $500,000 and not more than $1,250,000 to the Foundation.”.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, I strongly support the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health Improvement Act.

The bill makes several improvements in the 1990 law that established the Foundation. Most significantly, it assures the Foundation at least $500,000 annually from the NIH to support its administrative and operating expenses. The annual allocation is capped at $1.25 million. These funds will enable the Foundation to use its own resources for the actual support of projects to strengthen NIH programs, rather than raise money for its own expenses. As the bill makes clear, the NIH Director and the Commissioner of Food and Drugs are ex officio members of the Foundation's board of directors.

Congress established the Foundation in 1990 to raise private funds to support the research of the NIH. The Foundation has been a remarkable success. For every dollar the Foundation received from the NIH in 2003, it raised $426 in private funds. Since its creation, it has raised $270 million, or $68 in private support for every dollar from the NIH.

The Foundation is currently managing 37 programs supported by $270 million generated from private contributions. As one important example, the Edmond J. Safra Family Lodge on the NIH campus gives families of patients receiving in-patient treatment at the NIH Clinical Center a place to stay, at no cost to them.

In addition, the Foundation has formed partnerships with the NIH to develop new cancer treatments, to identify biochemical signs of osteoarthritis and Alzheimer's Disease, and to build on the promise of genomics. Through a public-private partnership, the Foundation has helped accelerate the sequencing of the mouse genome. It is also collecting private funds to study drugs in children. In 2003, Bill Gates announced a gift to the Foundation of $200 million over the next 10 years to support research on global health priorities. Clearly, the Foundation's partnership with the NIH will grow productively in the coming years.

I urge my Senate colleagues to support this legislation, which will enable the Foundation to continue its effective support of the work and mission of the NIH.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the committee reported amendment be agreed to, the bill, as amended, be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.
