

my colleagues will join me recognizing the accomplishments of this outstanding member of the community.

Tony Martin's approach to leadership is formulated in his fervent belief in the concept of teamwork, as demonstrated by his track record as a healthcare executive.

A 20-year veteran of the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation, HHC, the largest municipal healthcare system in the United States, Mr. Martin was appointed chief operating officer of Queens Hospital Center, QHC, in July 1999 and executive director in 2002. Under his direction, the hospital successfully completed the construction and opening of a new state-of-the-art facility in January 2002, which has since expanded to a total of 243 beds. In the spring of 2005, QHC volunteered to be one of the first city hospitals to undergo an unannounced Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, JCAHO, survey, successfully completing the rigorous 4-day examination. This acknowledges the hospital's firm compliance with regulatory JCAHO standards at all times.

His overriding mission has been to make Queens Hospital Center the hospital of choice in the borough, and to broaden its appeal beyond the traditional populations within its surrounding community. Specific initiatives include a comprehensive disease management initiative that empowers patients to manage their chronic illnesses, as well as an overall redesign of the hospital's ambulatory care services to better expedite patient visits.

Managing an annual operating budget of $230 million, Mr. Martin currently oversees three Centers of Excellence within the hospital for Cancer Care; Women's Health; and Diabetes. For the past 3 years, he has aggressively promoted the technological advancement of the Queens Cancer Center of Queens Hospital, his objective being to present it as the premier cancer care facility in the borough. In addition, a new Ambulatory Care Pavilion is scheduled to open its doors in 2006, and a total of four family health centers affiliated with QHC are now offering comprehensive primary care services within the hospital's neighboring communities.

From April 1998 until July 1999, Mr. Martin served as deputy executive director of Network Behavioral Health for the Brooklyn/Staten Island Network of HHC, including Kings County Hospital Center, East New York Diagnostic and Treatment Center, Sea View Hospital and Nursing Home, Dr. Susan Smith McKinney, and Bedford-Stuyvesant Alcoholism Treatment Center.

Prior to his Network position, Mr. Martin was the executive director of East New York Neighborhood Family Care Center, ENYNFCC, in Brooklyn from 1990 to 1998. Under his leadership, ENYNFCC successfully received its article 28 designation from the New York State Department of Health in 1993, and became the East New York Diagnostic and Treatment Center, ENYDTC. He was the administrator for the Medical Records Department at Kings County Hospital and previously the acting director of Medical Records at Metropolitan Hospital, both of which are HHC facilities.

Mr. Martin recently served, along with other esteemed African-American leaders, as the healthcare executive on a regional panel addressing the current state of the African-American male. He was a delegate for the Health and Human Services, HHS-International Conference on Ethnic Health. He has received numerous awards for community service, most recent among them the Center for the Women of New York's "Good Guy" Award, 2004, the Metropolitan New York Association of Diabetes Educators "CEO of the Year" Award, 2004, and the NAHSE Award from the National Association of Health Service Executives, an organization of leaders in the healthcare field, 2002. Professional memberships are sustained with the following organizations: the Health Association of New York State, HANYS, East New York-Brownsville H.I.V. Steering Committee; New York Association of Ambulatory Care; Community Health Care Association of New York State, CHCANYS; National Association of Public Hospitals, NAPH; and the American Hospital Association, AHA.

Mr. Martin holds a master's degree in health service administration and policy from the New School for Social Research in New York City.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that it is incumbent on this body to recognize the accomplishments of Antonio D. Martin, as he offers his talents for the betterment of our local and international communities.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF CESAR E. CHAVEZ

HON. GENE GREEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mr. Cesar Estrada Chavez. Seventy-nine years ago one of the greatest civil rights leaders of our time was born near Yuma, Arizona. A man that embodied the strength to fight for civil rights, Cesar Chavez dedicated his life to the liberty and justice of farm workers across America.

Mr. Chavez dedicated his life to teaching others that persistence, hard work, faith, and willingness to sacrifice one's self breaks down barriers. He committed himself to achieving justice and equality for all farm workers and paved the way for momentous social change.

Mr. Chavez began early in his life dealing with injustice and inequality; his family was forced off their land and subjected to working in fields all over California. He attended 37 schools, never succeeding past the eighth grade. Despite his tribulations, he was able to instill his passion for education in the hearts of all that he touched. Mr. Chavez taught that the love for justice is inherent in each and every one of us and that it is the most amazing and true part of being human.

In 1962, Mr. Chavez put his beliefs into action and formed what is known today as the United Farm Workers. His efforts initiated one of the greatest social movements of our time; fighting for safe and fair working conditions, reasonable wages, decent housing and the outlaw of child labor for farm workers everywhere.

Mr. Chavez embraced nonviolent tactics to help focus national attention on the problems that existed for farm workers. The non-violent tactics Mr. Chavez utilized included fasting, marching, rallying, picketing and boycotting. The vast attention that was drawn to the plight of the farm workers educated America of the great pain and exploitation the farm workers endured to produce food for millions of American families.

Mr. Chavez was said to have given his last ounce of strength defending the farm workers before he died in his sleep on April 23, 1993.

Cesar E. Chavez is honored throughout America for his tireless work to help those that could not help themselves. In my hometown of Houston, every year we celebrate the life and times of Mr. Cesar E. Chavez by holding a Hispanic Pride parade. An event sponsored by the community and an event to bring us together and celebrate as one.

We honor him today in life and in death for his leadership, his vision, his bravery, and his unselfish commitment to the principles of social justice and respect for human dignity. He will forever live on as an inspiration to those of us who seek to create a better world, and his legacy is one which serves to remind us that "Together all things are possible." Si se puede!

A TRIBUTE TO KATHIE T. RONES M.D., M.P.H., FACP

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of a Brooklynite and distinguished physician, Dr. Kathie T. Rones. It is an honor to represent Dr. Rones in the House of Representatives and it behooves us to pay tribute to such an outstanding leader.

Mr. Speaker, Dr. Rones is currently the Medical Director at Kings County Hospital Center a position she has held since 1996. Dr. Rones manages a staff of over a thousand doctors and hundreds of residents. As the busiest trauma in the State of New York, King's County has a minimum of 120,000 emergency room visits a year.

Dr. Rones is a Senior Clinical Associate Dean and Assistant Professor of Medicine at SUNY Downstate. Prior to her appointment as Medical Director, Dr. Rones served as Chief of Ambulatory Care Services and Director of the Medical Clinic at King's County and more recently as the Medical Director of Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center-Ambulatory Care Network. Dr. Rones went to Medical School at Brown University and earned her M.D. in 1980.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that it is incumbent on this body to recognize the achievements and selfless service of Dr. Rones as she continues to offer her selfless health services for the betterment of the community.

Mr. Speaker, may our country continue to benefit from the actions of altruistic community leaders such as Dr. Kathie T. Rones.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE TRUEMAN KIRK PEEK

HON. HOWARD P. "BUCK" McKEON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. McKEON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the life and memory of Trueman Kirk Peek.

Every once in a while, a person comes along who has the capacity to positively influence people, the community, and life in general. Kirk Peek was just such a man. It saddens me to say that, tragically, he perished in a plane crash on January 17, 2006.

Kirk was born on August 14, 1938 in Unionville, Missouri. Very patriotic and dedicated to our country, he joined the Marines in 1956. He was an avid outdoorsman and after his discharge, Kirk settled in Lone Pine, CA. A 41-year resident, he was the community's beloved barber and his shop was considered the unofficial center of town. People went to Kirk's barbershop for a friendly chat, to find shelter from inclement weather, shoot pool, or to pick up dry cleaning. Kirk was not always there, but the door was never locked. His shop was also a sort of self-help bank as well because frequently the cash register wasn't locked either. As Lone Pine's informal ambassador, Kirk welcomed tourists and his barbershop felt like a second home for many people.

Kirk was involved in several organizations over the years including the Lions Club, Mt. Whitney Golf Club, Little League, the volunteer fire department, Lone Pine Chamber of Commerce, Inyo Associates, and the Lone Pine Booster Club. Appointed to the Inyo County Board of Education in 1998, Kirk felt it was an honor to serve and he continually provided astute insights, wise counsel, and humble leadership.

An accomplished pilot, Kirk flew almost everywhere. He loved to fly and said it gave him a sense of spirituality and a sense of awe. He felt at home in the air and he would always make sure his plane was available for a friend in need.

Although Kirk will be remembered as a gregarious, honest, and caring man who was generous with his time and talents in order to help others, Kirk's lasting legacy rests in his family. He was a dedicated husband to his wife, Judy, and a loving father to daughter, Beth, as well as a devoted grandfather to Sara and Daniel Blodgett. Sadly, Kirk's son, Phillip Shawn Peek, passed away in 1991.

When Oscar Wilde said, "Some people cause happiness wherever they go," he could have been talking about Trueman Kirk Peek. With his contagious sense of fun and enthusiastic love of life, Kirk always brought out the best in people. He had a genuine affection for others and made friends wherever he went. And those friends deeply miss Kirk and mourn his passing.

A TRIBUTE TO PATRICIA DEANS

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Patricia Deans, a decorator, designer, economist, coordinator, organizer and entrepreneur. I hope my colleagues will join me in recognizing her accomplishments.

Patricia was born in Wilson, NC in 1941 and is the oldest daughter of Samuel and Helen Ruth Reid. Patricia graduated from Charles H. Darden High School and moved to New York in 1959. In September 1963, she graduated from Adelphi Business School and began working in the health care profession where she remained for 30 years. She is the mother of three children, Sharon, Walter and Sean, and the proud grandmother of nine grandchildren.

As a community advocate, she is involved with the following organizations: National Association for the Study of African-American Life and History; National Juneteenth Observance Foundation, state coordinator; Solid Waste Advisory Board, SWAB, Brooklyn Borough President's appointment May, 1996; Glenmore Plaza Tenant's Association, president; Brownsville Heritage House Inc., first vice president; Faith Hope and Charity Community Services, Inc., secretary; Brooklyn Public Library Friends Group; Stone Avenue and Brownsville Branches; Multi-Cultural Committee for District 23, member; Youthbuild Brownsville, member.

Patricia's art exhibits have touched both children and senior citizens. Mt. Ararat-Presentation Church Community Senior Citizen Center exhibited her art during its Thanksgiving Convocation for resident leaders.

Patricia's work, which has a multi-cultural focus—Kwanzaa, Dr. Martin Luther King's Celebration, Hispanic Heritage and Black History Month to name a few—is also exhibited at the Brownsville Heritage House. Founded by Mother Rosetta Gaston in March 1981 at the age of 96, Brownsville Heritage House was to be a beacon of hope to the Brownsville Community. Patricia's commitment is to safeguard and enhance the work started by Mother Gaston. One of Patricia's greatest objectives is to see Brownsville Heritage House become to Brooklyn what the Schomburg Center is to Harlem. She desires to see children take advantage of the rich heritage contained within its walls. Patricia wants more people to become aware that Brownsville Heritage House, located on the third floor of the Stone Avenue Branch Library, is the first library built for children and therefore should have landmark status.

Patricia's art graced the Fort Greene Senior Citizen Center and other venues around the city as well as a library dedication at PS/IS 332, which was attended by the former first lady of New York City, Mrs. Joyce Dinkins along with other dignitaries.

Patricia's strong belief in improving the quality of life in urban and rural environment led her into becoming an entrepreneur in July 1994. She saw the need for community based partnerships to provide opportunities for the elderly, the children and the homeless. By pooling resources, sharing gifts and talents, the end results will provide multiple opportunities and empowerment for this population.

To further this quest, Patricia conducts workshops, consults on arts, education, restoration and environmental community development through the use of intergenerational instruction.

Mr. Speaker, Patricia Dean's selfless service has continuously demonstrated a level of altruistic dedication that makes her most worthy of our recognition today.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. MICHAEL G. OXLEY

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. OXLEY. Mr. Speaker, I was absent from the House floor during rollcall votes 74, 75, and 76, taken last week.

Had I been present, I would have voted "no" on rollcall 74, the motion to instruct conferees on H.R. 4297; "yes" on rollcall 75, final passage of H. Res. 742; and "yes" on rollcall 76, the motion to table H. Res. 746).

A TRIBUTE TO MARIE I. HOLNESS-FLEMMING, LCSW

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, April 3, 2006

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Marie Isabel Holness-Flemming, Senior Associate Director of Social Work Services at North Brooklyn Health Network. I hope my colleagues will join me in recognizing her accomplishments.

Ms. Holness-Flemming is an accomplished professional, dedicated to helping people cope with illness and crisis. As a social work professional for over 20 years she has worked with and developed programs to service a wide variety of populations such as critical ill newborns, the elderly, persons with HIV/AIDS, victims of violence and substance abuse.

Ms. Holness-Flemming was born in Panama City, Republic of Panama to Boswell and Vera Holness. At the age of two, she immigrated with her family to the U.S. where they settled in the Bronx. Education, highly valued in her household, Ms. Holness-Flemming was a New York State Regent Scholarship winner. She went on to attend Union College in Schenectady, New York obtaining a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology and Psychology. After working for several years with preschool children as a day care teacher, she returned to academia and obtained a Master of Social Work degree from Hunter College School of Social Work.

Pursuing her interest in children, she worked for a child-abuse prevention agency focusing on "at risk" families in order to prevent children from entering the foster care system. Understanding that violence in the household was not only directed toward the children, she developed support groups for victims of domestic violence in an effort to empower women to protect themselves as well as their children. In 1987, she then joined the social work staff at Lincoln Medical and Mental Health Center where she served for 14 years in a variety of positions moving from direct practice to program development and administration. She worked as a Social Work Supervisor, Discharge Planning Coordinator, and Coordinator for HIV AIDS testing counseling programs, Director of Social Work and Associate Director for the Emergency Department. Ms. Holness-Flemming was honored by the Generations+ Health Network as one of its outstanding women in March 2001.

Currently, at the North Brooklyn Health Network, Ms. Holness-Flemming is responsible for
