

of 20 containers in the State that are operated by local fire and law enforcement officials and maintained by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. Since the first container was opened in October 1998, the 20 containers have processed meth lab waste from 9,525 labs across the State. This accounts for 378,491 pounds of hazardous waste and has saved the State approximately $22 million over conventional waste handling.

Mr. President, the efforts of Chief Harris has been essential in fighting the proliferation of methamphetamine in Missouri and throughout the United States. I am honored to share his accomplishments with my colleagues, and I wish him all the best for the future.●

SERGEANT JASON J. GRELLNER

● Mr. President, I wish to salute SGT Jason J. Grellner, a Missourian who has valiantly fought against the meth epidemic and who strives every day to make his community safer from this drug menace. I commend him for his exemplary service and join the Office of National Drug Control Policy in honoring him for his efforts.

Sergeant Grellner, in his work for the Franklin County Sheriff's Office and the Franklin County Narcotics Enforcement Unit, has been influential in efforts to curb meth production. His unit within the sheriff's department has implemented many local and statewide programs aimed at stopping meth labs as well as ending and preventing addiction to substance abuse. These programs include CHEM, Companies Helping Eliminate Meth; PARTY, Peers Acting Responsibly in Teenage Years; the Franklin County Families in Transition Program; and the Anhydrous Ammonia Tank Lock Program.

Sergeant Grellner has contributed to the vigilant enforcement of meth laws in Franklin County, leading to the investigation and seizure of over 650 labs. As part of several State task forces and State and national coalitions, he has helped to bring together prevention, rehabilitation, and law enforcement experts to fight to keep Missouri safe from meth labs.

Mr. President, the efforts of Sergeant Grellner has been essential in fighting the proliferation of methamphetamine in Missouri and throughout the United States. I am honored to share his accomplishments with my colleagues, and I wish him all the best for the future.●

SERGEANT SONYA ZIMMERLE

● Mr. President, I salute SGT Sonya Zimmerle, a Missourian who has valiantly fought against the meth epidemic and who strives every day to make her community safer from this drug menace. I commend her for her exemplary service and join the Office of National Drug Control Policy in honoring her for his efforts.

In her current assignment with the Franklin County Sheriff's Department, Sergeant Zimmerle has assisted in the creation and maintenance of the Multi-Jurisdictional Narcotics Task Force and Drug Endangered Children Task Force, which have served as vital resources for numerous law enforcement and government officials in Missouri. Additionally, Sergeant Zimmerle has been an integral component of a multistate working group that has sought to address the proliferation of methamphetamine throughout the country and is responsible for disseminating significant information shared by the group's members and maintaining cohesiveness as the membership continues to grow.

Mr. President, the efforts of Sergeant Zimmerle has been essential in fighting the proliferation of methamphetamine in Missouri and throughout the United States. I am honored to share her accomplishments with my colleagues, and I wish her all the best for the future.●

MAJOR JAMES F. KEATHLEY

CAPTAIN RONALD K. REPLOGLE

● Mr. President, I also wish to salute MAJ James F. Keathley and CPT Ronald K. Replogle, Missourians who have valiantly fought against the meth epidemic and who strive every day to make their communities safer from this drug menace. I commend each of them for their exemplary service and join the Office of National Drug Control Policy in honoring them for their efforts.

As the current and past directors of the Missouri State Highway Patrol's Division of Drug and Crime Control, Major Keathley and Captain Replogle have been instrumental in bringing much needed training to State and local officers regarding the safe investigation and handling of hazardous materials involved with methamphetamine labs. Through a partnership with the Missouri Department of Natural Resources, the Missouri State Highway Patrol has been able to provide clandestine methamphetamine lab training to over 800 law enforcement officers throughout the country. They have been instrumental in securing funding to help fund local multijurisdictional task forces throughout the State.

As members of State and Federal narcotics agents' coalitions, they represent officers throughout the country who have been on the front lines of the meth battle for over a decade. Through this involvement, they have influenced the national debate on comprehensive methamphetamine legislation and assisted in passing the Combat Meth Act.

Mr. President, the efforts of Major Keathley and Captain Replogle have been essential in fighting the proliferation of methamphetamine in Missouri and throughout the United States. I am honored to share their accomplishments with my colleagues, and I wish them all the best for the future.●

HONORING ROCKY FLATS COALITION OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

● Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I wish to honor and celebrate the accomplishments and service of an outstanding civic organization, the Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments. Having accomplished its task of working with Federal and State officials to transform Rocky Flats from a nuclear weapons facility to a wildlife refuge, the coalition will cease to exist on March 6, 2006. It is fitting that we pause to reflect on and to learn from the record of service and success of the governments and people of this coalition.

The Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments was established in February 1999 by agreement of the seven local governments that neighbored the Rocky Flats nuclear production site in central Colorado—Boulder County, Jefferson County, the city and county of Broomfield, the city of Arvada, the city of Boulder, the city of Westminster, and the town of Superior. The coalition was formed to serve as the representative of these local communities and to advise the State and Federal governments in the cleanup and closure of Rocky Flats and the future use of the site.

Since its inception, the coalition has provided an effective vehicle for communities to work together on issues such as workforce safety, outreach, and advocacy, as well as future use and long-term stewardship of the site. The Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments created a forum for governments and elected officials to come together to proactively discuss and address extremely complex issues and contributed to a rapid, successful, and cost effective resolution. The Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments has shown us by example what can be accomplished through effective advocacy expressed in a spirit of cooperation.

As Colorado's attorney general, I worked closely with the coalition to refine cleanup standards to better match community interests. Together, we developed strategies to address long-term management needs of Rocky Flats, issues concerning mineral rights, and other concerns central to the protection of Rocky Flats as an asset for future generations. The coalition also worked with Senator ALLARD and Congressman UDALL in developing and securing the passage of The Rocky Flats National Wildlife Refuge Act of 2001, one of their most significant achievements, and a milestone in the history of the Rocky Flats cleanup.

I rise today not only to recognize the Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments but also to celebrate the successful completion of its work and to acknowledge the significance of the coalition's accomplishments to the State of Colorado and to the Nation. The site has come a long way since the closure of the weapons plant that once stood there. After years of cleanup, hazardous material disposal, and rehabilitation, the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons facility is well on its way to becoming the Rocky Flats National Wildlife Refuge.

The dissolution of this coalition coincides with the completion of the physical cleanup and the beginning of the process to transfer oversight over much of the site from the Department of Energy to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. As the focus of efforts shifts from cleanup to future management, the members of the coalition now join with other local governments, organizations, and individual representatives to form the Rocky Flats Stewardship Council, which will continue local oversight of postclosure plans for the site. The Stewardship Council will facilitate ongoing discussion between Federal and local officials and will ensure that the best interests of Colorado citizens will be served as Rocky Flats makes its transition to wildlife refuge.

For their devoted advocacy of the interests of fellow citizens, for the work they have done to ensure the safe and thorough cleanup of the Rocky Flats weapons facility, for the example that they have given us of what can be accomplished when governments work together, and for the tremendous success they have helped to achieve at Rocky Flats, I offer my sincere thanks and congratulations to the members of the Rocky Flats Coalition of Local Governments.●

RECOGNITION OF MICHIGAN'S ALEX "IZY" IZYKOWSKI

● Ms. STABENOW. Mr. President, I rise today in recognition of Michigan's own Alex "Izy" Izykowski and to pay tribute to his recent accomplishment in winning a bronze medal in the 5,000-meter short track relay at the 2006 Winter Olympics in Turin, Italy.

I join my colleagues and everyone across the great State of Michigan in honoring Izy's outstanding representation of his team, his State, and his country. Izy's medal winning performance on behalf of Team USA was the culminating achievement of an athlete's career that has embodied the finest in both the American spirit and the Olympic ideal.

From his earliest days as a member of the Bay County Speedskating Club, Izy's career has stood as an example of excellence. His hard work, dedication, and focus have resulted in success at every level of his sport, leading to Izy's stellar performance last week in the pinnacle of athletic contests, the Olympic Games.

It is not just Izy's success on the speedskating track, though, that I stand to pay tribute to today. Izy's journey to the Olympic medal podium has been one that makes us all proud. The manner in which this fine young man has conducted himself should stand as an example to all of us and as a tribute to the support and love of his family. The Izykowski family, and the extended family of Bay City, should take special pride in knowing that they played an essential role in molding a young man who truly embodies the Olympic creed: "The most important thing in the Olympic Games is not to win but to take part, just as the most important thing in life is not the triumph, but the struggle."

I rise today in honor of Alex Izykowski's bronze medal winning performance at the 2006 Winter Olympics. Success in a sport as physically and mentally demanding as short track speedskating requires years of dedicated and regimented training focused into intense bursts of incredible effort. The personal sacrifice, self discipline, and competitive spirit required to earn an Olympic Medal are attributes to which we should all aspire and Izy clearly embodies all of these qualities. It is because of young men and women like Izy that I remain confident in the continued success of our great State and Nation. I honor Izy for representing the values that are so essential to our Michigan way of life on the world stage.●

DRAFT OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION ENTITLED "LEGISLATIVE LINE ITEM VETO ACT OF 2006"— PM 42

The PRESIDING OFFICER laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, together with an accompanying report; which was referred to the Committee on the Budget:

To the Congress of the United States:

In my State of the Union Address, I asked the Congress to give the President a line item veto. Today, I am sending the Congress a legislative proposal to give the President line item authority to reduce wasteful spending. This legislation will help to limit spending and ensure accountability and transparency in the expenditure of taxpayer funds.

Although the Congress achieved significant spending restraint this past year, appropriations and other bills that are sent to my desk still contain spending that is not fully justified, is a low priority, or is earmarked to avoid the discipline of competitive or merit-based reviews. When this legislation is presented to me, I now have no ability to line out unnecessary spending. In 1996, the Congress gave the President a line item veto—an important tool to limit wasteful spending—but the Supreme Court struck down that version of the law in 1998.

My proposed legislation, the "Legislative Line Item Veto Act of 2006," would provide a fast-track procedure to require the Congress to vote up-or-down on rescissions proposed by the President. There has been broad bipartisan support for similar proposals in the past. Under this proposal, the President could propose legislation to rescind wasteful spending, and the Congress would be obligated to vote quickly on that package of rescissions, without amendment. The same procedure would apply to new mandatory spending and to special interest tax breaks given to small numbers of individuals.

Forty-three Governors have a line item veto to reduce spending. The President needs similar authority to help control unjustified and wasteful spending in the Federal budget. I urge you to promptly consider and send me this legislation for enactment to reduce unnecessary spending and help achieve my goal of cutting the deficit in half by 2009.

GEORGE W. BUSH.
