

80TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GOODYEAR BLIMP

• Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, today I would like to recognize the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, based in Akron, OH, upon the 80th anniversary of the operation of its Goodyear Blimps. Since 1925, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company has operated its blimps throughout the country, providing aerial coverage of sporting events and other major public gatherings. Over time, the Goodyear Blimp has become one of the most readily recognizable corporate symbols in the United States and throughout the world. I wish Goodyear the best, as it celebrates the 80th anniversary of the Blimp, and ask that the following proclamation honoring this occasion be printed in the RECORD.

The material follows:

A PROCLAMATION HONORING THE GOODYEAR BLIMP ON ITS 80TH ANNIVERSARY

Whereas, the Goodyear Blimps have been operating in the skies of America since 1925; and

Whereas, from 1941 to 1944, Goodyear built airships for the United States military to help protect America and its troops by escorting convoys safely across the Atlantic during World War II; and

Whereas, for 45 years, the Goodyear Blimps have provided aerial television coverage of America's most-watched sports, entertainment and news events, including Super Bowls, World Series, Final Four Tournaments, college football bowl games, and political conventions; and

Whereas, the Goodyear Blimps have responded to requests from the American Red Cross and other emergency response agencies and used their aerial electronic signs to help victims of hurricanes and earthquakes by communicating with victims to let them know where to find help, food, water, and medical aid; and

Whereas, the Goodyear Blimps annually support non-profit and public service groups through promotional programs and rides donated to the charities, which are then auctioned off helping to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars every year; and

Whereas, the Goodyear Blimps are celebrating their 80th Anniversary as the world famous icon for America and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

Now, therefore, I, Mike DeWine, United States Senator from the Great State of Ohio, join with the residents of Ohio and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in honoring the Goodyear Blimp on its 80th Anniversary.

On this, the Sixteenth of March, Two Thousand and Six.●

HONORING THE LIFE OF SAMUEL M. SHARKEY, JR

• Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, I rise to pay tribute to Sam Sharkey, who died on Tuesday at the age of 90. Mr. Sharkey, who joined the New York Times in 1945 as a copy editor on the foreign desk, was one of the founding executives of its International Air Edition, now the International Herald Tribune, in 1948, and in 1950 he became head of the national news desk. Five years later, he moved to the National Broadcasting Company as its first editor of NBC News, a position comparable to the editor of a newspaper, and was one of a triumvirate of executives who in 1956 put together the Huntley-Brinkley news program.

While working at the Times, he had become frustrated with the slowness with which the two major wire services reported national election returns—one relayed all returns from west of Kansas City through that city and the other through Chicago, both producing delays. In 1956 at NBC, he invented a system based at the start on buying the fastest Associated Press State wires in every State and funneling their returns electronically through 10 centers around the United States, thence to computers in Studio 8-H in New York, where they were displayed immediately, beating all competition by substantial margins. His system for collecting votes in national elections is still used today by broadcasters, wire services, and newspapers.

In 1958, Mr. Sharkey expanded the system and turned to volunteer teams of members of the League of Women Voters in every State who staffed every polling place and phoned in results to State headquarters, where the data were sent electronically directly to computers in the studio. In 1960, CBS News and the ABC News were added to form the Network Election Service, a cooperative. That was expanded with the addition of the A.P. and United Press International to form the News Election Service, which continues to this day. At NBC, Mr. Sharkey also headed an internal NBC News Service at national political conventions linking reporters at various locations with Chet Huntley and David Brinkley at the anchor desk.

Born March 26, 1915, in Trenton, NJ, he began covering sports on a "stringer," free lance, basis for the Trenton State Gazette at the age of 13. He attended Rutgers University in the class of 1937 but was a Depression dropout. He then worked for the State Gazette as sports editor, columnist, reporter, music and theater critic, and acting city editor. Among the stories he covered were the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby and the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the crash of the Hindenburg at Lakehurst, and the burning of the Bermuda cruise liner Morro Castle off Asbury Park, NJ.

He was a copy editor on the Saratoga Springs, NY, Saratogian and foreign editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer during World War II. He also was a contributing editor to Printing News. At NBC, he was a member of the FCC National Industry Advisory Committee that created the Emergency Broadcast System, and he wrote the broadcast closed-circuit radio advisories from every location to which a President could be taken in time of national emergency—in the air, on land, at sea, under the sea.

In 1963, Mr. Sharkey moved to Seattle as managing director of news for the King Broadcasting Company's stations there and in Spokane, WA, and Portland, OR. While at KING-TV, he won two local Emmys for news and documentary programming. When Bonneville International Corporation purchased KIRO-TV-AM Seattle in 1964, he was appointed corporate director of news for all Bonneville stations nationwide.

In 1965, Mr. Sharkey was named Newhouse National Service economics and labor columnist, based in Washington, DC, later adding the news editor role. He entered government in 1972 as public information director for the then-new Occupational Safety and Health Administration, OSHA, moving to the same position at the FCC in 1975.

Mr. Sharkey also taught at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism for 9 years and taught economics and public affairs at the Tobecoburn School for Fashion Careers in New York. Known as a witty speaker, he lectured widely for the Times and NBC News. He also was a choral singer, a private airplane pilot, an automobile and outboard motorboat race driver, a motor yachtsman, and even a clown in the Aquacade at the 1939 New York World's Fair. Mr. Sharkey was a life member and former vice commodore of the Capital Yacht Club here in Washington, DC.

Sam Sharkey was a pioneer in journalism for over 70 years, and he left an indelible mark, especially in the field of broadcast journalism. I extend my condolences to his wife Marilyn and the rest of his family.●

S. 1184. An act to waive the passport fees for a relative of a deceased member of the Armed Forces proceeding abroad to visit the grave of such member or to attend a funeral or memorial service for such member.

S. 2064. An act to designate the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 122 South Bill Street in Francesville, Indiana, as the Malcolm Melville "Mac" Lawrence Post Office.

S. 2363. An act to extend the educational flexibility program under section 4 of the Education Flexibility Partnership Act of 1999.

PETITIONS AND MEMORIALS

The following petitions and memorials were laid before the Senate and were referred or ordered to lie on the table as indicated:

POM-279. A resolution adopted by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relative to authorizing the development of a secure electronic balloting system for active duty military personnel; to the Committee on Armed Services.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 411

Whereas, the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are obligated to ensure that servicepersons participate in the very democracy they are fighting to defend; and

Whereas, the National Defense Committee has recently completed a survey of the nation's 7,838 election offices; and

Whereas, twenty-eight and four tenths percent of persons who applied for a military absentee ballot in the November 2004 election were disenfranchised because their ballots could not be received, executed and returned in a timely fashion; and

Whereas, the National Defense Committee is recommending that the Congress authorize the development of an electronic balloting system for active duty military personnel: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the Congress to authorize the development of a secure electronic balloting system for our active duty military personnel; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the presiding officers of each house of Congress and to each member of Congress from Pennsylvania.

POM-280. A concurrent resolution adopted by the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana relative to taking such actions as are necessary to require the Federal Emergency Management Agency to honor the preferences of local governing authorities in determining the location of temporary housing sites; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas, in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has established a number of temporary housing sites consisting of trailer homes for thousands of displaced families; and

Whereas, there has been much disagreement as to the appropriate locations of these temporary housing sites; and

Whereas, local governing authorities must be permitted to make the final determination as to whether or not a FEMA trailer community is established within their respective parishes and municipalities; and

Whereas, it is imperative that the power to accept or refuse the placement of a FEMA temporary housing site rests with the citizens of the community in question and not with FEMA; and

Whereas, citizens, through the power of the local elected governing authorities that represent them, should be empowered to either allow or disallow the establishment of FEMA trailer sites in their communities: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Legislature of Louisiana does hereby memorialize the United States Congress to take such actions as are necessary to require the Federal Emergency Management Agency to honor the preferences of local governing authorities in determining the location of temporary housing sites; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States of America and to each member of the Louisiana congressional delegation and to the acting director of FEMA.

POM-281. A resolution adopted by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relative to supporting the CORRIDORone regional rail proposal and encouraging its support by counties and municipalities in the region of the CORRIDORone project; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 565

Whereas, transportation planning efforts in south central Pennsylvania should incorporate a regional planning perspective to ensure that economic development efforts are enhanced with linkages to regional development initiatives; and

Whereas, regionwide efforts must encompass a vision for the future to most wisely accommodate future growth needs, including means of transportation; and

Whereas, transportation systems in south central Pennsylvania should include multimodal forms of transportation to ensure that the full breadth of options, including rail, bus and others, are made available to citizens for the most efficient means of travel; and

Whereas, it is extremely important to preserve the existing rail rights-of-way throughout the region and this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, the intersection known as the Lemoyne Connection will provide additional
