INTRODUCTION OF THE RIGHT TO LIFE ACT

HON. DUNCAN HUNTER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mr. HUNTER. Madam Speaker, one of the most fascinating and popular shows on television today, In the Womb on the National Geographic Channel, provides viewers with amazingly detailed footage of unborn children growing and interacting in utero. Watching these babies suck their thumbs, smile and cry has led many to question why a nation, that can spend millions of dollars searching for life on other planets, is not able to discern life in the beating heart of an unborn child. For many years now, I have introduced an important piece of legislation that fulfills what I believe to be one of our most important obligations as elected leaders of this great Nation; protecting our unborn children from harm. I am proud to once again be introducing the Right to Life Act and I am optimistic of its future.

Unfortunately, over 1.3 million abortions are performed in the United States each year and over 38 million have been performed since abortion was legalized in 1973. Mr. Speaker, this is a national tragedy. It is the duty of all Americans to protect our children—born and unborn. This bill, the Right to Life Act, would provide blanket protection to all unborn children from the moment of conception.

In 1973, the United States Supreme Court, in the landmark case of Roe v. Wade, refused to determine when human life begins and therefore found nothing to indicate that the unborn are persons protected by the Fourteenth Amendment. In the decision, however, the Court did concede that, "If the suggestion of personhood is established, the appellants' case, of course, collapses, for the fetus' right to life would be guaranteed specifically by the Amendment." Considering Congress has the constitutional authority to uphold the Fourteenth Amendment, coupled by the fact that the Court admitted that if personhood were to be established, the unborn would be protected, it can be concluded that we have the authority to determine when life begins.

The Right to Life Act does what the Supreme Court refused to do in Roe v. Wade and recognizes the personhood of the unborn for the purpose of enforcing 4 important provisions in the Constitution: (1) Sec. 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment prohibiting States from depriving any person of life; (2) Sec. 5 of the Fourteenth Amendment providing Congress the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provision of this amendment; (3) the due process clause of the Fifth Amendment, which concurrently prohibits the Federal Government from depriving any person of life; and (4) Article I, Section 8, giving Congress the power to make laws necessary and proper to enforce all powers in the Constitution.

This legislation will protect millions of future children by prohibiting any State or Federal law that denies the personhood of the unborn, thereby effectively overturning Roe v. Wade. I firmly believe that life begins at conception and that the preborn child deserves all the rights and protections afforded an American citizen. This measure will recognize the unborn child as a human being and protect the fetus from harm. The Right to Life Act will finally put our unborn children on the same legal footing as all other persons and I hope my colleagues will join me in support of this important effort.

Mr. DAVID DAVIS of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Barry Brickey, a resident of the First Congressional District of Tennessee, who has received the 2006 Tennessee Public Fire Educator of the Year award.

Barry Brickey is a native of Kingsport, Tennessee. He graduated from Sullivan North High School and entered into the Tennessee Air National Guard where he served this great nation and was honorably discharged. He has been the voice of the Kingsport Mets, Co-host of a popular children's radio program entitled, "The WHCB 91.5 FM Kids Show" and now serves in his current capacity as Fire Education Officer for the Kingsport Fire Department.

Barry Brickey is a devoted husband and father. He is married to Rebecca and together they have two children, Nathaniel age 3 and Hannah age 1.

SIMEON BOOKER: INTEGRITY, COMPASSION AND SERVICE IN JOURNALISM

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mr. RANGEL. Madam Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to my dear friend, Simeon Booker, on the occasion of his retirement as Washington Bureau Chief of Jet magazine. One of our nation's greatest journalists, his legacy is that of trailblazing reporter, radio commentator, author, and most of all, selfless and courageous advocate and defender of his people.

Simeon, whom I have known since coming to Washington in 1971 at the time of the founding of the Congressional Black Caucus, was almost single-handedly responsible for informing the nation of our presence in the United States Congress and our fledgling role in the governance of the country. With his weekly column, he made it known to Black America that they too had a voice in national politics which spoke for them in the formulation of policies that affected their lives. The Caucus has grown from the original 13 to 43 members, one of them running for President. Simeon Booker has more to do with that than he would ever admit.

Trailblazer that he was, Simeon never made himself the story. Forever humble, his great, and only, mission was to advocate for and record the history of African Americans. Bravely, he covered the Emmett Till lynching, despite threats to his life by a local white sheriff; reporting the first freedom ride from Atlanta to Birmingham, he had to use his Washington connections to get Justice Department protection from an angry mob. He marched with Martin Luther King through the hisses and cat-calls from hostile white crowds. He covered the Little Rock 9 as they entered the Arkansas school house protected by federal troops. He traveled to Africa with Vice President Nixon and others as that continent threw off the yoke of European imperialism.

The first Black reporter at the Washington Post, he gave up the job to focus on covering the civil rights movement for the Black press. He was the first to win the Newspaper Guild Award, the second awarded the prestigious Nieman Fellowship to Harvard, and the first ever named to the pool of reporters covering the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

I congratulate and commend to my colleagues Simeon Booker, a preacher's son born in Baltimore, and his dear wife, Carol McCabe, who has stood by him. In the pantheon of American journalism, he stands in the first tier.

HONORING THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS 7899

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the 25th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus Council 7899, Mary Queen of Peace Parrish, in Clearlake, California. In Clearlake, throughout Lake County, and across the nation the members of the order, in keeping with their mission, have greatly contributed to the community and welfare of America.

The Mary Queen of Peace Parrish was chartered on December 17, 1981 with the mission to bring the values and benefits of the Knights of Columbus to Clearlake. Since that time, they have been active in numerous community charitable causes and have been model members of the community through their active civic participation. Their members are characterized by their love and charity for all, and their attention to members of the community, such as the elderly who may need companionship and support.

In Lake County, the Knights of Columbus have been the sponsors of many good works and projects. They have given ongoing support to People Service, Inc., an agency created to support members of the community who need assistance in their daily lives. They run an annual Tootsie Roll drive in support of the Knights of Columbus' work to help fund the Special Olympics and lend support to the annual Passion Play each spring.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, it is appropriate at this time that we recognize the Knights of Columbus Council 7899, Mary Queen of Peace Parrish, in Clearlake, California, in honor of the 25th anniversary of their foundation.

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mr. ARCURI. Madam Speaker, I would like to recognize Mrs. Ethel Hertline of Utica, New York who celebrated her 100th birthday on January 19, 2007. CONGRATULATIONS TO TONY GWYNN

HON. SUSAN A. DAVIS

OF CALIFORNIA

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mrs. DAVIS of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate one of San Diego's hometown heroes on a very special occasion.

Tony Gwynn, who played as a San Diego Padre for 20 years, was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame on January 9, 2007 for his great accomplishments in Major League Baseball. He will be inducted on July 29, 2007 along with fellow baseball legend Cal Ripken.

It is a privilege to be joined by my distinguished colleagues from San Diego, Representative BOB FILNER, Representative DUNCAN HUNTER, Representative BRIAN BILBRAY, and Representative DARRELL ISSA to introduce a resolution honoring Tony Gwynn for reaching it to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

With a lifetime batting average of .338, Gwynn is widely considered one of the greatest hitters in baseball history. Gwynn has 3,141 career hits, with only 17 players beating this benchmark. Gwynn has received eight Silver Bats for the eight batting titles he won—tying him for the National League record. He has not only proven to be a great hitter but a great defensive player, winning five Gold Glove awards. Gwynn has been selected to 16 All-Star teams and played in two World Series.

Gwynn is an exemplar of superior sportsmanship and a role model for Americans of all ages. In an era when money dominates the game of baseball, Tony Gwynn chose to play in San Diego and remained loyal to the Padres.

Gwynn is a well-known philanthropist, supporting the Tony Gwynn and Alicia Gwynn Foundation, the Casa de Amparo, the Police Athletic League, the New Haven Home, the Jackie Robinson Family YMCA, the Epilepsy Society of San Diego, and many more organizations.

In recognition of Gwynn's vast involvement in the community, he was named Individual of the Year at the 1998 Equal Opportunity Awards Dinner, was the 1995 Branch Rickey Award winner, and was the 1998 Padres nominee for Major League Baseball's Roberto Clemente Man of the Year Award.

After his amazing career in baseball, Gwynn chose to give back to the community by returning to his alma mater to coach the San Diego State University Aztecs. After leading the Aztecs to a conference title in only his second season as manager, Gwynn was named the Mountain West Conference Baseball Coach of the Year in 2004.

Madam Speaker, thank you very much for the opportunity to introduce a resolution today honoring a great man and superb athlete as he is inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame.

TRIBUTE TO W.W. "FRENCHIE"
LAJOIE

HON. BART STUPAK

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, January 22, 2007

Mr. STUPAK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a constituent of mine who has spent the last 50 years serving his community in a local business with deep community roots. W.W. "Frenchie" LaJoie began working for Central Savings Bank in 1957 as a teller. Since then, Mr. LaJoie has held just about every position at the bank except for cashier. Today, as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Central Savings Bank, he continues to serve the community as an extraordinary banker and community leader. Like Frenchie, the Central Savings Bank is the oldest independent bank in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

Over the course of this remarkable tenure, Mr. LaJoie has always continued to put his community first, consistently working to see the Sault Ste. Marie (Soo) area grow and thrive economically.

Mr. LaJoie was raised in Barbeau, Michigan, graduating from Pickford High School. It was there that he first received the nickname "Frenchie," which has stuck with him for over five decades. As he puts it, even his teachers never knew his real name.

After attending Lake Superior State University, Mr. LaJoie played a couple of years of professional baseball as a catcher for the Graceville Oilers in the Florida State League.

Leaving baseball behind, Mr. LaJoie returned to the Soo where he began his tenure at Central Savings Bank. Starting as a teller in the then tiny bank, he quickly moved into the collections department, where he would re-write loans for customers that were experiencing difficulty paying off their loans. Frenchie was then transferred to the loan department.

Mr. LaJoie was named President and Chief Executive Officer in 1985 and Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer in January of 1994. To learn more about banking, Mr. LaJoie went back to college and graduated from the University of Michigan Graduate School of Banking and the University of Chicago National Installment Credit School.

Under Mr. LaJoie's leadership, Central Savings Bank achieved a number of important banking milestones as it grew and expanded with new branch offices in De Tour, Kinross, Pickford, Rudyard, Cedarville, St. Ignace and Mackinac Island. Mr. LaJoie was recognized by his peers and served a 3-year term as a Director of the Federal Reserve Board.

In addition to his professional accomplishments, Mr. LaJoie should be commended for his many achievements on behalf of his community. In 2002, LaJoie was named the Elks Lodge #552 Citizen of the Year. In April of 2004, he was appointed to the Lake Superior State University Board of Trustees.

His previous charity involvements include chairing the United Way Campaign, the Department of Social Service and the boards of Le Sault de Sainte Marie Historical Sites and Kiwanis Club. He also was a member of the finance Committee for the Sault Ste. Marie Country Club. Mr. LaJoie has twice chaired Group One of the Michigan Bankers Association. He has also served on the Executive Committee and Legislative Committee for the Michigan Bankers Association. He is currently a Director on the Board for the Chippewa County War Memorial Hospital.

Madam Speaker, Mr. LaJoie's personal and professional record demonstrates how business can be not only profitable, but also strengthen and assist their community. In rural communities, having a local bank with truly local roots in the community can be essential
