

work as Senior Staff Director for the Gore and Kerry Presidential Campaigns. In addition to these national campaigns, Joe also has been elected delegate to numerous Democratic State and National Conventions.

Mr. Ricca has had great success in the private sector as well. After starting his own firm, Ricca and Associates, he joined the Dewey Square Group, which is considered by many to be one of the leading communication/consulting firms in the country.

I commend my friend, Joe Ricca who has dedicated his life for the betterment of his community and our country. His commitment to public service helps all of us. In tribute to his tireless work and dedication, I congratulate Mr. Joseph Ricca on receiving this award. I know all of my colleagues will join me in paying tribute to him today.

HONORING MARVIN CARUTHERS

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the contributions that Dr. Marvin Caruthers has made to the advancement of science. I would like to thank him on behalf of all Coloradans for the gifts he has made in this field.

Dr. Caruthers' impressive career began when he received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from Iowa State University. He went on to earn a doctorate in biochemistry from Northwestern University and complete his post-doctoral studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After becoming a research scientist at the University of Wisconsin and MIT he decided to settle in Colorado.

In the 1980s, Dr. Caruthers' laboratory developed methods to speed up the chemical synthesis of DNA. This advancement led to the sequencing of the human genome, which allows us to study diseases, solve criminal cases more efficiently and will lead to better medical treatments.

Dr. Caruthers' contributions have extended far beyond his lab. He helped found the biotechnology company, Applied Molecular Genetics (AMG). AMG has since become the largest biotechnology company in the world. AMG introduced two of the first biologically derived human therapeutics, which helps better the lives of patients suffering from chronic kidney disease and cancer. The company has gone on to make advancements in treating anemia, rheumatoid arthritis and many other diseases. Dr. Caruthers also co-founded another impressive organization, Applied Biosystems, which has revolutionized research in the pharmaceutical industry.

I want to acknowledge Dr. Caruthers for his generous gift to support the Colorado Initiative in Molecular Biotechnology Program at the University of Colorado. Dr. Caruthers has taught chemistry and biochemistry at the University for the past 34 years. He wants to ensure that biomedical students will continue to do groundbreaking work. His recent financial contribution is the largest gift ever contributed by a University of Colorado faculty member and will undoubtedly lead to significant advancements.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join with me in expressing our gratitude to Dr.

Marvin Caruthers for his dedication to the advancement of biotechnology. I wish him success in all his future endeavors.

TEXAS BLACK GOLD

HON. TED POE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. POE. Madam Speaker, 77 years ago, during the month of October, the biggest known oil field in the world was discovered in east Texas by Alabama wildcatter C.M. "Dad" Joiner. The nearby towns of Kilgore and Gladewater became bustling boom towns practically over night as thousands of people moved in trying to get their share. By the next year, the wells in the field were producing over 900,000 barrels of oil a day. When all was said and done, the oil field spanned over 40 miles and contained more than 30,000 wells in all. The discovery of oil in the State attracted hundreds of independent oil companies to the area, pushing Texas into the industrial world for the first time.

Oil is still an important part of the Texas economy, but times have changed. Now the largest oil fields are in the Middle East, which means America is dependent on foreign countries for its oil. The increased tension and turmoil in that region only reinforces the importance of decreasing our dependency on foreign countries for a resource that in the year 2007 we can't live without.

We need to continue to look at alternative and renewable energy sources to decrease our reliance on oil. We need to continue to search for oil in our own backyard to reduce our need to work with countries that don't have our best interest in mind. We need to protect our oil companies at home. We need to do these things so that our future generations aren't living the consequences of our inactions.

And that's just the way it is.

TRIBUTE TO MICHAEL FITZGERALD, BUSINESS MANAGER AND FINANCIAL SECRETARY OF THE INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF ELECTRICAL WORKERS LOCAL UNION 134

HON. DANNY K. DAVIS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a good husband, a good father, a good friend, a good son, and a good man; who devoted his life to his family, to his union and to his work on behalf of the working people throughout the world. Madam Speaker, Michael Fitzgerald was a third-generation electrician who joined Local 134 in December of 1974. He was appointed special assistant to the business manager in 1991 prior to being elected as business manager in 1995, where he served until 2006. He served on the executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and as its second vice-president. He also served as vice president of the Chicago Cook County Building Trades Council, and served as chairman and as president of the Illinois State Conference of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Under Michael's leadership, Local 134 continued the tradition of strong and aggressive growth and has become one of the largest and most influential Electricians locals in North America, with over 17,000 members.

At the 36th Convention of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Michael Fitzgerald served as Secretary to the Law Committee at the 37th Convention. In addition, Michael Fitzgerald was active in many other civic and community endeavors. He served on the Mayor's Zoning Reform Commission from 2000 to 2004, and on the Illinois Medical Center Commission from 1998 until his death. He was president of the Chicago Children's Advocacy Center for abused children from 1999 to 2005, and on the executive committee of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Pier and Exposition Authority, which governs the activities at Navy Pier and the McCormick Place complex from 2001 through 2005. Michael was also an attorney and member of the American Bar Association and the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association.

Michael Fitzgerald gained recognition for his outstanding work and commitment to humankind. He was named Man of the Year by several organizations including, The Coalition for United Community Action, 1996; Irish American Alliance, 1997; Maritime Trades and The Greater Chicago and Vicinity Port Council, 1998; Hispanic Electricians Alliance, 1999; Italian American Labor Council, 2001; and The Anti-Defamation League, 2001. He also received the Rerun Novarum Award for Labor from the Archdiocese of Chicago in 1999. He served as a member of the board of directors of Amalgamated Bank of Chicago and was appointed to the Catholic Charities Advisory Board. He has been recognized for his commitment to St. Xavier University in 2007; Mayor Richard M. Daley presented Mr. Fitzgerald with the John E. Rooney Corporate Hero Award for his tireless efforts on behalf of the city of Chicago Children's Advocacy Center.

We extend our heartfelt condolences to his wife and their two children, Marty and Sarah.

Madam Speaker, the steps of a good man are ordered and directed by the Lord.

Michael Fitzgerald was a good man; may his soul rest in peace.

TRIBUTE TO CHEBOYGAN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

HON. BART STUPAK

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. STUPAK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor an important institution in my district that serves the health care needs of the people of northern Michigan. Next week, Cheboygan Memorial Hospital (CMH) will celebrate 65 years of service to northern Michigan residents.

Cheboygan Memorial Hospital traces its history back to 1929, when a group of local citizens united in an effort to build the first community hospital in Cheboygan. This small, but committed, group of volunteers collaborated to raise funding for a hospital in Cheboygan.

Their efforts ultimately paid off in 1942 when Community Memorial Hospital, as it was then called, opened its doors.

Throughout its history, CMH has often had to overcome challenges that health care providers in major metropolitan areas do not face. Rural health care providers like CMH often have more difficulty recruiting staff. They also serve a larger geographical area than their counterparts in more urban areas. Despite these challenges, over the years CMH has developed into a first-class health care facility, offering excellent health care services to my constituents.

Today, CMH is a 96-bed general hospital with 46 beds for medical and surgical patients, including a four-bed intensive care unit and a six-room Family Life Obstetric Center. CMH also offers emergency care, 24 hours a day and 7 days a week. The hospital's urgent care walk-in clinic is also open every day in the health center.

CMH also offers both inpatient and outpatient services in surgery, laboratory, cardiopulmonary, X-ray, nuclear medicine diagnostic ultrasound, CT scanning, MRI, mammography, bone densitometry, and physical therapy. The hospital's medical staff includes specialists in the areas of anesthesiology, cardiology, emergency medicine, dermatology, family medicine, internal medicine, general surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, neurology, otolaryngology, pediatrics, oncology, urology, radiology, ophthalmology, orthopedic surgery, oral surgery and pathology.

The hospital has also dedicated a great deal of effort and time towards educating members of the community about important health issues. CMH offers several free classes in smoking cessation and in diabetes education. Childbirth education classes have also been recently re-introduced, providing important education to expecting parents.

CMH has registered pharmacists on staff at CMH and available around the clock. The hospital houses audiology and speech therapy services.

Thanks to generous donations and support from the community, the hospital continues to improve, with several recent additions. The hospital recently updated their Intensive Care Unit Family Waiting Room. The hospital also enjoys a newly expanded Nurses' Station. Remodeling work and technology updates are also being made in the Radiology Department. Other projects to help grow and improve the hospital remain on the horizon, including plans for developing a Cardiac Wellness Center.

CMH describes its own greatest asset as the dedicated men and women who work in the hospital to care for their friends and neighbors. The hospital is currently the largest employer in Cheboygan County with over 500 employees on the payroll.

Throughout the years, the hospital's leadership has set the tone of excellence that defines CMH. Today, the hospital is led by President and CEO Barbara Cliff; Board of Trustees Chair Michael Konicki; and the President of their Medical Staff David Dram, M.D.

In addition to the hospital's 500 employees, who make caring for their neighbors and friends their daily business, the hospital enjoys the support of many tireless volunteers and auxiliary members. Anyone who has spent any length of time in a hospital can attest that the quality of the experience can hinge on the attitude of the caregivers. Those receiving care at Cheboygan Memorial Hospital are treated by professionals with positive attitudes and warm, kindly demeanors.

Madam Speaker, this year CMH is celebrating "65 Years of Caring." As this institution celebrates 65 years of service to my constituents, I would salute its employees—past and present—the people who make the hospital the excellent caregiver that it is. I would ask, Madam Speaker, that you and the entire U.S. House of Representatives join me in recognizing the fine work of CMH and paying tribute to this important northern Michigan health care provider.

RECOGNIZING EMILY PEEPLES

HON. JAMES P. MCGOVERN

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. MCGOVERN. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Emily Peeples of Shrewsbury, Massachusetts. A talented and intelligent young woman, Emily has been named one of the recipients for the Eleanor Roosevelt Humanitarian Youth Award from the Shrewsbury Democratic Town Committee.

A graduate of Shrewsbury High School, Emily was active in all parts of high school life. She was an officer of the Young Democrats in addition to other groups, and was on volleyball and lacrosse teams. She was elected to Anti-Defamation League Interfaith Youth Leadership Camp, which teaches acceptance and community involvement. Emily also achieved the Silver Award for Girl Scouts during her time in high school.

Now a freshman at the University of Wisconsin, Emily is continuing her involvement. She has joined the College Democrats, the Campus Liaisons, and is running as a freshman representative to the student council.

I would like to take this moment to wish Emily luck on her campaign and ask my colleagues to help me honor her for winning this award.

HONORING NATIONAL HIRSCHFELD

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Madam Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge the 100th anniversary of National Hirschfeld Press, Inc. in Denver, Colorado. National Hirschfeld is the largest digital and commercial printing company in the western United States.

National Hirschfeld was opened in 1907 by A.B. Hirschfeld with only a $35 hand press, which still sits in their lobby today. Only 19 years old at the time, A.B. Hirschfeld used his experience from working at his brother's print shop in Cincinnati to make National Hirschfeld a success.

The company eventually became a family business, spanning three generations, all of which have contributed greatly to the economic and social fabric of Colorado. A.B. Hirschfeld's son, Edward, carried on the family tradition, and started working at the store when he was 15 years old. Now, A.B.

Hirschfeld is run by the third generation of printers, represented by Barry Hirschfeld. In December 2005, this family-owned printing store expanded by merging with two other printing companies to become National Hirschfeld.

Through the years, National Hirschfeld has made significant contributions to Colorado. The company has published inaugural programs for the Denver Bears, the Denver Broncos and the Colorado Rockies.

The Hirschfeld family has also been involved in many philanthropic efforts in Denver. They are a genuine all-American success story.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in acknowledging National Hirschfeld and their employees for their commitment to uniquely serving their community. I congratulate all of them and wish the company another 100 years of success.

THE FREE SPEECH HYPOCRISY AT GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

HON. TED POE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 25, 2007

Mr. POE. Madam Speaker, it's Islamo-Fascism Awareness Week. This week involves events on college and university campuses across the Nation to promote awareness of the ideology that motivates terrorist groups like al Qaeda and Hamas.

While this event has sparked free speech debates on college campuses across the country, it has also revealed hypocrisies that exist in "free speech."

On October 8th, antiwar student activists covered the George Washington University campus with anti-Muslim posters. We now know that this was a hoax targeted at conservative student-members of the Young America's Foundation. Right after the posters appeared on the campus, the George Washington University Student Association Vice President, Brand Kroeger said he "would support expulsion" of the responsible students.

The George Washington University Administration brought the conservative students into its office, presumed the students were guilty, and pressured the students to sign a statement disavowing hate speech. The students refused to sign the statement and said they were innocent. The students were then dragged before a university "peace forum" and subjected to heckles from their fellow students. After all of this, 7 antiwar activist students took responsibility. These 7 students said the entire event was just a hoax. Guess what happened to the 7 responsible students? Nothing! No disciplinary action at all! The hypocrisy at American universities is appalling. If you are a liberal student, you can say anything. If you are a conservative student, you are denied free speech by the public university.

It seems that if you have one viewpoint, universities will punish and ridicule you, but if you agree with the universities, you'll be able to say whatever you want. There doesn't seem to be any equal opportunity in free speech on college campuses.

Colleges and universities preach liberal viewpoints without presenting the other side.
