

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

COMMENDATION OF THE SECOND CHANCE PROGRAM OF NEW MEXICO

HON. HEATHER WILSON

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mrs. WILSON of New Mexico. Madam Speaker, there are over two million people incarcerated in the United States, and nearly 6 percent of the adult population is under some form of correctional supervision.

Over the past 25 years, prison populations have grown 377 percent and prison budgets have grown 600 percent. The burden currently borne by the American taxpayer exceeds $162 billion annually.

The U.S. Department of Justice reports that the average criminal recidivism rate in the United States is 65 percent, and nearly two thirds of United States money is spent dealing with recidivism. Recidivism costs taxpayers over $35 billion a year in enforcement costs, and over $17 billion for additional court costs.

Over 80 percent of the crimes in the United States are committed by recidivists. The only continuous factor for the past 25 years linked to recidivism is drug addiction, two-thirds of the prison population recidivate, two-thirds of the prison population is addicted and approximately 90 percent of the incarcerated addicted recidivate.

The Second Chance Program is a secure long-term residential rehabilitation program treating substance abusers in the criminal justice system providing the judiciary an alternative to traditional incarceration.

The purpose of the Second Chance Program is to provide secure, long term rehabilitation and then transition individuals back into society so they can lead a stable life free of crime and drugs.

The Second Chance Program protocol is a non-medical social detoxification model of treatment based on nutrition, exercise and education.

The Second Chance Program has shown in three independent university studies to have a 90 percent success rate, and has been operational and achieving rehabilitation results in New Mexico for 1 year.

Congratulations to the Second Chance Program for successfully completing its first year of servicing the courts of New Mexico.

HON. THOMAS G. TANCREDO

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. TANCREDO. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the commitment and dedication of Scott Marian of Denver, Colorado who passed away unexpectedly on October 21st, 2007. Scott was a dedicated supporter of conservative causes and candidates and dedicated his life to following a path he believed to be morally correct.

He was active in politics for more than two decades including heading up a statewide initiative and running for the Colorado Legislature. Scott's career spanned from mortgage banking to owning his own business in Colorado.

Scott's life was one of great success and great difficulties but he always found comfort in his faith, his family and his friends. His dedication to spiritual needs of himself and others led his Priest to say his was one of the most prepared souls to join the Heavenly Father.

He was a great American, often spreading the positive attributes of capitalism and the word of God in the same breath. He inspired others to find their voice and express themselves in politics and faith.

Scott leaves behind his parents Joseph and Jean Marian, as well as his brother Craig, sisters Susan, Michelle, and Cheryl and eight nieces and nephews.

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the Boy Scouts of America Troop 515 in Cleveland, Ohio, on the occasion of their 50th anniversary. In the time Troop 515 has been in existence, it has served to teach young men the value of hard work, citizenship and leadership.

Troop 515 has had over 1,000 scouts in its ranks, with 35 of those scouts rising to the rank of Eagle Scout. Many of these scouts have gone on to serve their communities, influencing social policy and businesses alike. This troop has served the greater Cleveland community as an organization where young men can learn essential skills to serve them in their adult lives.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in recognizing the Boy Scouts of America Troop 515. For 50 years, Troop 515 has been committed to serving Cleveland and our citizens. I thank them for their service and I wish them another 50 years of vibrant leadership and civic engagement.

RECOGNIZING CHARLENE MAURO FEARON FOR RECEIVING THE FLORIDA OUTSTANDING HIGH SCHOOL SCIENCE TEACHER AWARD

HON. JEFF MILLER

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Madam Speaker, on behalf of the U.S. Congress, it is an honor for me to rise today to recognize Charlene Mauro Fearon, this year's recipient of the Outstanding High School Science Teacher Award from the Florida Association of Science Teachers.

Ms. Fearon currently teaches marine-science at Navarre High School in Navarre, Florida. She has been an educator for over 9 years, and prior to teaching, she worked as a marine science instructor and animal care specialist at Sea World in Orlando.

With thousands of teachers in the State, the Florida Association of Science Teachers critically examines the character and performance of each nominee. Teachers are evaluated on their ability to identify and address their students' educational needs and the impact they have on the students' learning. Only teachers with great enthusiasm for the subject matter and committed devotion to their pupils are considered.

This is not the first time Ms. Fearon has been recognized for her exceptional teaching skills. In 2005, she was named the Santa Rosa County Teacher of the Year, and in 2004 she was a recipient of the John Beakley Marine Science Educator of the Year Award. Students and faculty alike praise her for the passion she devotes to her work. Her enthusiasm for the subject matter combined with her expertise of the material has sparked an overwhelmingly positive response from her students.

Through her hard work and dedication in the field of education, the impact she has had on her students and the difference she has made in their lives have proven her to be among the great teachers of the Nation. We are honored and proud to have her as one of our own.

Madam Speaker, on behalf of the U.S. Congress, I am proud to recognize Charlene Mauro Fearon on this outstanding achievement for her exemplary contribution to the education of our children.

TRIBUTE TO MR. MARK
ALVARADO

HON. MICHAEL A. ARCURI

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. ARCURI. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Mr. Mark Alvarado, a resident of my congressional district in upstate New York. Mark currently serves as the field representative for New York DeMolay, but he is leaving this position at the end of the fiscal year.

DeMolay is a youth organization that develops leadership skills, civic awareness and personal responsibility among young men. With more than one thousand chapters worldwide, the organization combines its serious mission with a fun approach.

Mark's first experience with DeMolay came when he joined, and later became the master councilor of, the David J. Nye chapter in Ohio. After serving as the secretary and president for Northeast Ohio, he became the state secretary in July 1995. Due to his outstanding work in Ohio, Mr. Alvarado was offered a position at the DeMolay International Headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri. In 2002, he became the field representative for New York DeMolay.

During his tenure as field representative, Mark has traveled throughout the state to help the members of New York DeMolay as they have contributed approximately ten thousand hours of community service per year. He has developed and implemented a membership education curriculum, and planned conventions, athletic weekends and charity functions.

Perhaps Mark's greatest accomplishment as field representative has been the redevelopment and expansion of the Mohawk Valley chapter, which is based in my hometown of Utica. Due to his encouragement and support, the chapter has become involved in many community events, including the Boilermaker Road Race and the St. John's Day Festival.

In recognition of his work with DeMolay, Mark has received numerous honors including the Leadership Correspondence Course, the Blue Honor Key, the Chevalier, the Legion of Honor and the Representative DeMolay Award.

Mark's exceptional dedication is to be commended. As the father of two teenagers, I recognize the importance of organizations like DeMolay that encourage young people to get involved in their communities. I thank him for his commitment and wish him luck as he pursues his future goals.

RECOGNIZING THE RETIREMENT OF TERRY NEUSTAEDTER AS PRINCIPAL OF BERRYHILL ELE-MENTARY SCHOOL

HON. JEFF MILLER

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Madam Speaker, it is an honor for me to rise today and recognize the retirement of Terry Neustaedter, a great educator.

For over 33 years, Terry has served as the principal of Berryhill Elementary School in Milton, FL, and under his leadership the school's size, facilities, and reputation have flourished. When he took the helm at Berryhill in 1974, the school served 350 students with a faculty and staff of only 35 people, and when he retires at the end of this year the student body will have more than doubled to 850 students and a faculty and staff of 115.

When the State of Florida implemented the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test, FCAT to determine how well schools were meeting the standards set by the No Child Left Behind Act, every school principal was faced with a new challenge of making sure the schools under their charge lived up to its highest potential. Within 2 years, Terry Neustaedter had Berryhill Elementary School earning an "A" grade, and it has remained that way ever since. In addition, the Florida Department of Education recently awarded Berryhill with a Certificate of Achievement for having exceeded the standard for annual progress, and the school is 1 of only 12 schools out of 1,400 to receive such distinction.

Terry's leadership of Berryhill Elementary was not limited to just within the school walls. The school has received numerous awards on both the State and local level for community involvement, especially in the area of volunteering in the surrounding community. These volunteer efforts have included helping raise money for the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Association, and for many years Berryhill has received the Department of Veteran Affairs "Outstanding Service" award recognizing its outstanding service to our nation's veterans through the Voluntary Service Program. In addition, he has brought programs into the school that teach the importance of civic participation through activities such as voting, reinforcing the importance of being involved with one's community.

Madam Speaker, Terry's leadership and friendly positive demeanor will be missed by past and current students of Berryhill Elementary School. I am confident that those following in his footsteps will aspire to achieve the same great results for our Nation's youth as Terry has achieved, and I know he will continue to be looked up to as a great educator.

IN RECOGNITION OF LYNDA
SACKETT

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Lynda Sackett as she retires from her position as Director of Dance at the Beck Center for the Arts in Lakewood, Ohio. For the last 40 years, she has touched the lives of thousands of young dance artists as she has worked to establish the Beck Center as a great arts resource for Northeast Ohio.

Lynda began her career in the 1960s in Beck Center's Theatre Education Program. During the 1970s, she helped to create the Dance Education Program and has led that program ever since. Her passion for dance and for the arts led her to get even more involved with the Beck Center, serving as both director of Outreach Education and program director for Visual Arts Education while continuing to lead the dance program.

In her honor, the Beck Center has recently announced the establishment of the Lynda Sackett Endowment Fund for Dance Education. This money will serve to honor Lynda's spirit and dedication to dance by continuing her efforts to reach out to the community and encourage more young people to learn about the art of dance.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honoring Lynda Sackett for her service to her community and to arts education.

CONGRATULATING JUNIOR
ACHIEVEMENT OF ROCKY MOUN-TAIN INCORPORATED

HON. THOMAS G. TANCREDO

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. TANCREDO. Madam Speaker, today I am honored to acknowledge the achievements of Junior Achievement of Rocky Mountain Incorporated for serving Colorado's youth attending Littleton public schools. This year, Junior Achievement is being recognized by the Colorado Association of Partners in Education for its outstanding volunteerism and academic contributions in the fields of economics and finance. Their commitment has instilled a strong sense of financial prowess and capitalist spirit within the youth of their community; a valuable asset which will undoubtedly yield great benefits in the years to come.

The successful history of Junior Achievement mirrors the entrepreneurial character it strives to instill. Founded in 1919, it has grown from being an after school mentoring program to become the world's largest organization focused on educating students on the dynamics and benefits of local and global financial markets. By introducing young individuals to the values of economics, they are better prepared and responsible to establish and manage their financial and personal goals as they grow older.

In addition, all Junior Achievement programs are taught by volunteers who successfully mentor roughly 8 million individuals annually. These volunteers are comprised of a myriad of experiences and backgrounds, from business professionals to college students. They instill economic knowledge and understanding in youth and reflect the importance of service to local communities; a value which my district is distinguished to have.

Madam Speaker, it is my distinct pleasure to have such a fine organization at work in my district. Please join me in congratulating Junior Achievement for their many successes.
