

throughout all branches of the military. In March 2007, the Department of Defense (DoD) released their third annual sexual assault report, which stated that there were 2,947 allegations of sexual assaults reported in 2006; a 24 percent increase from 2005. In 2004, the DoD reported 9,000 incidents of spousal abuse. A 2005 Sexual Harassment and Assault Survey of the Service Academies found 6 percent of females and 1 percent of males said they were sexually assaulted in 2004–2005, and less than half the females who experienced sexual assault reported it. In this same survey, 60 percent of female cadets indicated sexual harassment was about the same as when they first enrolled at their academy.

While the DoD has been making efforts to improve its prevention and response to domestic and sexual violence, victim services remain incomplete and inconsistent among the various branches. There have been reports that victims advocates, charged with protecting the victim's rights, have been denied resources to do their job, and in some instances been forced off the base altogether. Furthermore, DoD policies are not codified in the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) and do not offer the same level of rights and protections afforded to civilian victims. Perhaps most importantly, victims are unable to seek confidential counseling and treatment without fear that their records might become public if they press charges against their assailant.

My bill, the Military Domestic and Sexual Violence Response Act, seeks to bring military law up to par with civilian laws by establishing a comprehensive approach for the military to address domestic violence and sexual assault among our soldiers. Specifically, this bill will:

Establish an Office of Victims Advocate (OVA) within DoD, bring the Family Advocacy Program under OVA, and create a Director of OVA to oversee and coordinate efforts to prevent and respond to cases of family violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking with the military and among military families;

Codify rights, restitution policies, treatment and other services for victims within the UCMJ, including creating comprehensive confidentiality protocols to protect the rights of victims within military law;

Strengthen policies for reporting, prosecuting and treating perpetrators of violence;

Create counseling and treatment programs through the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The military should be at the forefront of prosecuting assailants and setting the highest standards for treatment of service men and women, or military family members, victimized by sexual assault and domestic violence. Our Armed Forces must be able to guarantee the most basic protections to ensure these victims can receive necessary counseling, treatment, and justice.

If a victim cannot access essential care for fear of stigma, threats to their career, or because they just do not know what resources are available, the military will continue to lose valuable female and male soldiers. These men and women who serve our country in uniform put themselves in harm's way to protect our Nation from threats at home and abroad. They deserve the same rights and protections as the civilians whose freedoms they protect. My bill ensures service members are adequately protected when dealing with the horrible tragedy of sexual assault or domestic violence.

Do not allow our brave service members to be victimized twice, once by their perpetrator and then again by the military's lack of appropriate, compassionate, and confidential treatment and response.

Madam Speaker, I encourage all Members to join me in cosponsoring the Military Domestic and Sexual Violence Response Act.

IN HONOR OF THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. STEPANOS ARMENIAN APOSTOLIC CHURCH, ELBERON, NJ

HON. FRANK PALLONE, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. PALLONE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the 20th anniversary of St. Stepanos Armenian Apostolic Church. St. Stepanos is across the street from my home in Elberon, New Jersey. It is a daily reminder to me of Armenian heritage and culture.

St. Stepanos is also named in honor of the patriarch of the Hovnanian family, who has contributed so much to my district and the goal of affordable housing across the Nation. The Hovnanian family is the main benefactor of the church and many of its activities.

St. Stepanos Church was consecrated in 1987. It sits on the site of St. Mary's Armenian Church, which served as the religious and cultural center for the Armenian community of the Jersey Shore for much of the 20th Century.

St. Stepanos is one of the most beautiful examples of Armenian architecture in the United States. One can easily feel that you are in Armenia by standing in front of it, or inside the sanctuary. On the 10th anniversary of its consecration, the church added an Armenian khachkars, a traditional ancient art form in which a cross is intricately carved out of stone, to further enhance its architectural splendor.

The Armenian School is an integral part of the St. Stepanos community, focusing on the study of Armenian language and culture, with participants ranging from age 4 to adult. Sunday school promotes St. Stepanos emphasis on religion within the Armenian community in Central New Jersey.

The Women's Guild organizes fundraisers, dinners, and cultural activities. It has become increasingly important in promoting a sense of community at St. Stepanos. The church's youth organization also hosts fundraisers and trips for the younger Armenian population at St. Stepanos. The activities hosted by the church in addition to its commitment to religion and culture only serve as further proof of the active role that St. Stepanos Armenian Apostolic Church has taken in the community throughout the years.

Madam Speaker, we are honored in New Jersey on the 20th anniversary of St. Stepanos to receive Supreme Patriarch and Catholicos of All Armenians, his Holiness Karekin II, from St. Etchmiadzin, Armenia. St. Stepanos has received many Armenian prelates over the years including the Patriarch of Jerusalem on its 10th anniversary, but this is the first time the head of the Armenian Church has visited.

I sincerely hope that my colleagues will join me in celebrating the 20th anniversary of St.

Stepanos Church for its contributions to the Armenian-American residents of Central New Jersey, as well the larger Armenian-American community in the United States.

IN RECOGNITION OF MAJOR GENERAL ROBERT W. MIXON

HON. DOUG LAMBORN

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. LAMBORN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my sincere gratitude for Major General Robert W. Mixon's service to Fort Carson as Commanding General of Division West, First Army and previously as Commander of the 7th Infantry Division.

He was also the Deputy Commanding General, Assistant Commandant, and Director of the Unit of Action Maneuver Battle Lab at Fort Knox as well as the Assistant Division Commander 4th Infantry Division at Fort Hood.

Major General Mixon, an Armor Officer, has served in numerous capacities at the operations, planning and training levels including as Command of L Troop, 3rd Squadron, 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment at Bad Hersfeld, Germany, Command of 2nd Squadron, 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment at Fort Bliss, Texas, and as Command of the 1st Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division, Republic of Korea.

CONGRATULATING CRIDER HEALTH CENTER

HON. W. TODD AKIN

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. AKIN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Crider Health Center, located in St. Charles, Missouri. Recently, the Department of Health & Human Services announced that Crider Health Center's application to become a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) was approved.

For the past 27 years, the Crider Health Center has provided mental health treatment and services for underinsured and uninsured adults, children and families affected by persistent mental illness and serious emotional disorders. Since its inception, the Center has notably expanded its service programs to meet the rapidly changing expectations in the area of mental health service delivery. Such dedication has enabled Crider to serve over 35,000 residents a year in a four-county area who are in desperate need of such services.

Previously, the Crider Health Center faced consistent challenges in obtaining medical and oral health care services for their patients. In fact, the nearest federally qualified health centers for persons living in this four-county area were in St. Louis, Potosi and Columbia, Missouri. Such distances created a considerable challenge in terms of access for low-income residents in Crider's service area.

Crider Health Center's new FQHC status will allow Crider to integrate its current mental health care services with primary and oral health care services. This integration not only allows Crider to better serve its consumers but aid in further addressing the health care disparities in the St. Louis region.

I congratulate the Crider Health Center's recent FQHC designation. The Crider Health Center is an exemplary example of the leadership we have in Missouri and I am pleased to honor them in their continued endeavor to provide for the needs of the people in the St. Louis region.

IN TRIBUTE TO MAJOR ALEA HOKUAO MORNINGSTAR

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 29, 2007

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, poet and capitol tour guide Albert C. Caswell has penned a number of heartfelt tributes to our military, and recently, he has recognized the service of Major Alea Hokua Morningstar, U.S. Army.

Major Morningstar has served in Iraq extending care to coalition and civilian casualties. As an emergency physician, she has served honorably and bravely at three combat support hospitals and as a field surgeon.

Major Morningstar symbolizes the professionalism of America's military. I want to thank her and all the brave men and women of our armed forces for their service. They are fighting to defend our freedom and protect American families.

I gladly submit the following into the RECORD.

A Morning Star,
That's who you are . . .
A light which shines so very fine . . . so very far, that's who you are . . .

A woman of heart,
Of Hopi Sioux, great American Indian blood
. . . a fine woman of soul . . .

A healer, a great Hawaiian . . . For, but the gift of life . . . to so give, as what you chose . . .

A light,
In the darkest of days and nights . . .
Which burns bright, as a Morning Star . . .
can cheat death, can so bless . . . and can give fight!

Out in darkness of evil war, out in harms way . . .

Amidst the darkness and solemn gray . . .
amidst the death, and all of that sad decay . . .

To save a life, to hold a dying hero's hand
until that night . . . Morning Star, that was your way . . .

As there, in The ER . . .
You'd hear the screams, and the devil's roar it seems . . . trying to save life, you'd go far!

All in the midst of his evil gore, all in the face of hell . . . you fine heart choose to swell, for one life more

Living in the shadow of death, Pouring out your very heart and soul, until none lies left . . .

As with your God given skills, the gift of life and hope you instilled . . . staying with the dying until death!

A young hero's last vision, before they were gone . . .

A bright Morning Star, holding their hand
. . . as was your decision, not leaving them alone . . .

The last Angel they would see on Earth, showing your worth . . . with tears in eyes your mission honed!

And in the coming years,
There will be many a tear, when in that moment
it all comes back to you . . . so here . . .

But, what baby born . . . to save the world
. . . or love so great, to this our world adorned that you saved here!

And for all of those Mothers of Sons,
And all of those Fathers of Daughters, who so lost their most precious of all loved ones . . .

They may gain strength, in knowing what your love to their dying loved ones so meant! At the end!

A Morning Star,
Yes, my Lady . . . that's who you are . . .
A light which shines so very bright . . . so very far, into the night, that's who you are!

High above,
With your gift of life, your gift of love . . .
Holding a dying hero's hand, On The Wings of a Dove!

NATIVE HAWAIIAN GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION ACT OF 2007

SPEECH OF

HON. MAZIE K. HIRONO

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 24, 2007

Ms. HIRONO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to thank the 261 Members who supported H.R. 505, the Native Hawaiian Government Reorganization Act of 2007. I also want to encourage my colleagues who did not support the bill to talk to me and Congressman ABERCROMBIE to learn more about the merits of the legislation. The passage of the bill has been celebrated by the people of Hawaii—Native Hawaiians and non-Native Hawaiian alike. I thank all the members of this body for the respectful and deliberate manner in which the debate was conducted.

During the course of my remarks on the bill, I was privileged to place into the record several recent letters of support for H.R. 505, including letters from the Governor of the State of Hawaii, as well as the National Congress of American Indians and the American Bar Association, two of more than 50 national and state organizations that worked hard on behalf of the bill.

After the vote on the bill, I received another letter of support from the Japanese American Citizens League, one of many civil rights organizations championing the efforts of Native

Hawaiians to regain their right of self-governance and self-determination.

Americans of Japanese ancestry fought their own battles against discrimination and subjugation, although for a shorter duration, when they were sent to relocation camps during World War II. They understand all too well the deprivation suffered by the Native Hawaiians, since their sovereign government was overthrown, and have lent their full support to the Native Hawaiian cause, which I deeply appreciate.

It is therefore important that this letter from the Japanese American Citizens League be inserted into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD to reflect the support of the JACL for this historic vote to recognize the inherent sovereignty of the indigenous, native people of Hawaii. I thank the members of JACL for their valuable support.

JAPANESE AMERICAN CITIZENS LEAGUE,

Washington, DC, Oct. 23, 2007.

Hon. MAZIE K. HIRONO,
1229 Longworth House Office Building, U.S.
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE HIRONO: The Japanese American Citizens League (JACL), the nation's oldest and largest Asian American civil rights organization, fully supports the passage of H.R. 505, The Native Hawaiian Government Reorganization Act of 2007 (NHGRA), introduced by the Members of the Hawai'i Congressional Delegation. The bill is scheduled for a vote before the House on Wednesday, October 24th and I ask that you vote in favor of the bill and against any motion to recommit H.R. 505.

A process of U.S. recognition is already available to American Indians and Alaska Natives, and enactment of NHGRA extends a similar process to Native Hawaiians. There are over 560 federally recognized Native governing entities functioning in the U.S., along side local, state and federal governing entities. Native Hawaiians are the indigenous people of Hawai'i, whose ancestors practiced sovereignty in their ancestral lands that later became part of the United States. The establishment of a process of federal recognition for Native Hawaiians moves us toward fairness in federal policy toward American Indians, Alaska Natives and Native Hawaiians.

Protection of Native Hawaiian culture, as well as existing Native Hawaiian programs is critical for future generations. Perpetuation of distinct, living cultures requires self-determination, and that is necessary for the Native Hawaiian culture as well. Enactment of NHGRA protects this greater self-determination, and thus the distinct culture. It protects existing programs because it establishes a single U.S. policy reaffirming that as the indigenous people of Hawai'i, Native Hawaiian people have a special political and legal relationship with the U.S., consistent with the Hawai'i Constitution, over 150 existing Federal laws addressing Native Hawaiians and the U.S. Constitution regarding Native people of the lands of the 50 states.

Sincerely,

FLOYD MORI,
National Director.

INTRODUCTION OF THE HEALTHY AIR AND CLEAN WATER ACT

HON. JOHN M. McHUGH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. McHUGH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Healthy Air and Clean Water
