

fact, Bud Bennett is currently the President of the Main Street Corydon Board of Directors and has been active in Rotary and other community organizations since moving to the town in 1960. Throughout this time, his wife Betty has been the anchor of the family, often pushing Bud and their children to give to their community.

Betty, Bud, and Larry purchased the home in 1999 and conducted an extensive renovation updating it to modern standards and adding a new rear bedroom suite to the home. The process required two contractors—one adding the addition and another updating the main house. Particular attention was paid to preserving the structure's historic value. After more than 3 months of diligent, backbreaking work it was completed.

I am grateful to the Bennetts for preserving this treasure in Corydon, and the community is richer for Cedar Glade's history and contribution to the Corydon landscape. In recognition of Cedar Glade's Bicentennial, as well as that of Corydon, I want to again congratulate its citizens and wish them well at the October 5 event. I look forward to seeing how this unique and wonderful town develops for decades to come.

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. UPTON. Madam Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor Mrs. Bernice Metzger, Michigan's Outstanding Older Worker for 2008.

TRIBUTE TO ST. GEORGE'S HELLENIC BENEFIT SOCIETY

HON. JAMES P. MCGOVERN

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. MCGOVERN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the St. George's Hellenic Benefit Society of Tsamantas in Worcester, Massachusetts, for its generous contributions to communities both in the United States and Greece. The Society is a not-for-profit fraternal organization that seeks to promote and preserve Greek heritage and culture in America and is celebrating its centenary in October of 2008.

For the past 100 years, the St. George's Society has helped friends and neighbors in Worcester, MA, and Tsamantas, Greece in a variety of ways. Some examples include building a school in the village of Tsamantas in the 1930s, offering financial support for a development workshop held at Tsamantas in September 2005 to help its declining economy, and funding scholarships for the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the original immigrants in America. The St. George's Society is active in promoting education in the immigrant community through its generosity and involvement in the teaching of Greek Heritage, especially focusing on the contributions Greeks have made in the United States.

The St. George's Society will celebrate its founding through a series of events and activities to be held on Sunday, October 11, 2008. The goal of these events is to recognize and honor the contributions made by Greek immigrants and Greek-Americans throughout the United States and the world. The first event will take place at the Worcester Art Museum and seeks to educate the greater Worcester community about the social and philanthropic contributions made, both in Europe and the United States, by Greek immigrants—including those who founded the Society. A commemorative symposium will then take place at St. Spyridon Greek Orthodox Church in Worcester to discuss history, and is meant especially to remind the children and grandchildren of immigrants about the importance of preserving their heritage and participating in community service. The third event of the day, an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary academic conference on immigration to be held at Hellenic College in Brookline, MA, aims to bring together specialists from a variety of disciplines to examine issues of identity and belonging, and the relationship between the past and the present in the context of cultural globalization. The conference will make a significant contribution to public understanding about the identity and culture of diasporic societies and inspire future research in this area.

Madam Speaker, I commend this wonderful group for its dedication to the Worcester and international community in promoting education and giving financial aid to students, for supporting research and promoting public works. I congratulate the St. George's Society for the centennial celebration of its founding. I ask all of my colleagues join me in paying tribute to this fine example of community involvement.

INTRODUCTION OF A BILL TO AMEND PUBLIC LAW 106-392 TO EXTEND THE AUTHORIZATIONS FOR THE UPPER COLORADO AND SAN JUAN RIVER BASIN ENDANGERED FISH RECOVERY PROGRAMS

HON. TOM UDALL

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to introduce a bill today that will extend authorization of the Upper Colorado and San Juan River Basin fish recovery programs. I am pleased to be joined in doing so by Representatives MARK UDALL, JOHN SALAZAR, JIM MATHESON, MARILYN MUSGRAVE, DIANA DEGETTE, and HEATHER WILSON.

The Upper Colorado River Endangered Fish Recovery Program and the San Juan River Basin Recovery Implementation Program were established under cooperative agreements as multiagency partnerships in 1988 and 1992, respectively.

This bill will allow the continuation of two already very successful programs. Established in 1988 and 1992, the Upper Colorado River Endangered Fish Recovery Program and the San Juan River Basin Recovery Implementation Program are run as partnerships between water users. These partners include the States of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming; Bureau of Reclamation; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; Western Area Power Administration; Bureau of Land Management; National Park Service; Bureau of Indian Affairs; Southern Ute Indian Tribe; Ute Mountain Ute Tribe; Jicarilla Apache Nation; Navajo Nation; environmental organizations; water users; and power customers. The cooperation and compromise that emerges from the union of such diverse parties has been key to the past success of these programs, and to the preservation of western fish species.

State, tribal, and community partnerships have allowed these fish recovery programs to succeed without compromising the rights and wellbeing of surrounding communities and water users. Recovery programs have actually helped 1,600 Federal, tribal, and non-Federal water projects meet Endangered Species Act, ESA, compliance in their consumption of three million acre-feet of San Juan and Colorado River basin water per year. Passage of this bill would help ensure the recovery of endangered fish and the continued compliance of water users to ESA standards. Water and fish habitat, so scarce in the arid West, can only properly be managed through the kind of cooperation and coordination that is made possible by the Endangered Fish Recovery Programs Improvement Act.

Upper Colorado and San Juan River basin recovery programs focus on four fish species, including humpback chub, bonytail, Colorado pikeminnow, and razorback sucker. Successful restoration projects have included the construction of fish passages, fish screens, hatcheries, flood plain and instream habitat, and even a reservoir to provide flow augmentation.

These facilities, costing approximately $100 million to date, will require rehabilitation and replacement into the future as the natural impact of floods and debris wears on them. Extended authorization and increased funding, as included in this bill, will allow for continued upkeep of these facilities, and completion of other habitat preservation projects.

With bills such as this, we are clearing a sound path for addressing our future water scarcity issues. Through the programs authorized in this bill, western water users are able to gain access to this vital resource while not compromising the habitat and survival of the species who share that water.

HONORING THE LIFE AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF JOHN "JACK" PATRICK GILLESPIE

HON. JOE BARTON

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 26, 2008

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Madam Speaker, today, I rise today to honor the life and accomplishments of the late Jack Gillespie. This American, immigrant, veteran, and patriot passed away on April 17th, 2008. Today would have been his 87th birthday and, in his honor, I would like to submit for the record the eulogy his son Ed read at his funeral on April 22nd of this year.

In November 1929, young John Patrick Gillespie—called Sean at the time—left his home by the Eanybeg stream at the base of Carnaween Mountain to head into Donegal Town with his mother and brothers and sisters.

He was beginning a journey to a new life in a wonderful place where he would find happiness, achieve glory, and eventually discover waiting for him there the woman he was meant to be one with.

By the time he came to be called "Jack" in his new country, he had figured out what success in America required.

He may have read some tips on board the Lititia, the steamer on which he spent two
