

1 hour of the memorial service. And of course LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART or somebody should have stepped up to stop that, and thank goodness he did.

I am really sad that a service we should have all agreed on would be the priority of the morning, we couldn't manage for that to be the priority of the morning. We had to start the 1 hour of work we had to do 50 minutes before that service turned out to end and 30 minutes before it was scheduled to end.

I am regretful that my good friend had to rise to this moment of personal privilege, but I certainly support him in seeking this privilege and hope that the Members of the House will understand what happened here and appreciate the great respect we all have for Tom Lantos.

Mr. HOYER. Madam Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. I rise, as I have a couple of times in the past, to simply say that I think on our side, obviously, we believed that we needed to move forward on the work. All of us, however, share what has been said about Tom Lantos, for whom we had the greatest respect, and we all share a sadness at his loss.

I regret that the actions that precipitated this hour that you are taking have occurred. They have occurred. We can't change them. Having said that, I want to say that I understand the point the gentleman is making, and I understand the point my friend Mr. BLUNT has made. I think it will suffice to say that. But I can appreciate the position the gentleman found himself in and that Mr. BLUNT and his leadership found themselves in.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Thank you.

Madam Speaker, I utilized the opportunity of the rules to rise to a question of personal privilege due to the statements attributed in the press that I mentioned before to a spokesperson, which I stated and restated I believe were totally uncalled for and unacceptable.

I thank all of you for having listened to me with such courtesy. It is for someone who arrived as a 4-year-old refugee with his family fleeing oppression, an extraordinary moment in the midst of the sadness of the day, and the offense that I felt, it is an extraordinary moment to be able to rise and invoke the rules of the House to seek the attention of the representatives of this extraordinary Nation. So I thank each and every one of you for your patience and your courtesy.

At this point, after thanking Mr. DREIER, thanking Mr. BLUNT, and thanking the majority leader for their kind words, I simply end remembering a friend who everyone in this room can agree enriched our lives. My son mentioned the other day this week when we were talking about the sad news, he said, Dad, do you remember when I was a little kid and you wanted me to get my posture up, what you would tell me? I will never forget, he told me. Lantos. Your posture. That is one of the first things that impressed me about Tom Lantos, even before I learned about his zealous extraordinary commitment to the oppressed everywhere where people are still longing to be free.

So let us all then end this recollection of what I believe was a very unfortunate moment remembering someone who we can all agree was extraordinary, enriched our lives, and was a great Member of Congress and a great American. Thank you all very much.

□ 1543

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. HALL of New York. Madam Speaker, on rollcall No. 65, I was chairing the VA Disabilities Subcommittee hearing. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

Ms. SOLIS. Madam Speaker, during rollcall vote No. 65, on motion to suspend and pass H.R. 4169, Placement of American Braille Tactile Flag, I was unavoidably detained. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

Mr. SESTAK. Madam Speaker, on rollcall No. 65, H.R. 4169, I was at a special access briefing with U.S. Air Force and immediately attempted to return but votes closed just as I arrived. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

Mr. WELLER of Illinois. Madam Speaker, on rollcall No. 65, I was inadvertently detained. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."

Mr. TIM MURPHY of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, on rollcall No. 65, I was unavoidably detained. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea."
