

Karen, together with other members of my staff, successfully negotiated with House and Senate committee, floor, and leadership staff with respect to controversial provisions in the Military Reservist and Veteran Small Business Reauthorization and Opportunity Act of 2007, H.R. 4253, critical legislation that will expand business opportunities for veterans and help reservists keep their businesses afloat during and after deployment. Karen was instrumental in helping the Senate to clear this bill by unanimous consent in late January before President Bush signed it into law in mid-February. Karen was also pivotal in helping to include a bipartisan and bicameral small business title to the energy bill that was signed into law last December. In addition, Karen also helped the Disaster Response and Loan Improvement Act, S. 163, to pass the Senate last August. It was her political savvy and innovative thinking that helped produce a less costly bill that met both the Senate's and the administration's objectives and was able to garner the support of the entire Senate Chamber.

Finally, I would also be remiss in not pointing out that there are often concerns when an executive branch employee comes to the Senate for a work assignment, as Congress and the administration sometimes approach issues from differing viewpoints. Karen carefully and gracefully fulfilled her fiduciary duties relating to confidential information received from the two branches of Government, which could not be shared between those entities. She was also able to give fair and balanced advice, explaining in an unbiased manner both sides of an issue. In addition to Karen's in-depth knowledge of the SBA, she also provided broader insight into executive branch operations, including the Federal rulemaking and administrative processes, as well as the Office of Management and Budget's role in the budget and appropriations process.

Karen has truly been a vital part of my team and has provided a unique viewpoint and voice that has truly broadened this committee's grasp on the SBA and small business issues. Karen's extraordinary performance has far exceeded my expectations, and she will be greatly missed. I wish Karen and her husband Stephen all the best as she returns to the SBA.●

RECOGNIZING THOS. MOSER CABINETMAKERS

● Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, I congratulate Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers, a family-oriented business from my home State of Maine that continues to thrive after 36 years of producing extraordinary furniture. With galleries open in nine locations, including one in South Korea and its newest in Los Angeles, Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers has truly exceeded expectations while staying true to its Maine roots.

Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers' founder, Thomas Moser, began his professional career as a professor both throughout the United States as well as in Saudi Arabia. Shortly after getting married in 1957, Mr. Moser and his wife began purchasing old furniture, refurbishing it, and then reselling it to supplement their income. Realizing how passionately he enjoyed woodworking, Mr. Moser gave up teaching to pursue the legacy that has now propelled his product into a household name. Working with his sons, Mr. Moser is dedicated to maintaining a family business for years to come and credits his success to his partnership with his wife.

What has always stood out about Thos. Moser is that the company adheres to a creed that stresses function over fashion, creating beautiful works for everyday living. From dining tables and stools to beds, benches, and rocking chairs, Thos. Moser's furniture belies a unique and timeless quality. The company's various collections and pieces have frequently resulted from Mr. Moser's worldwide travels and experiences. The inspiration of Danish furnituremaking provided the impetus for the curved Astral Bench while the Eastward Stool pays tribute to the famed Japanese-American woodworker George Nakashima. Mr. Moser's furniture additionally celebrates places of natural beauty in Maine, from its largest peak, Mount Katahdin, to the island-laden coastal town of Harpswell, to farm-draped New Gloucester, the placid town where Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers got its start. One of the company's most admirable aspects is its warranty. Guaranteed for life, Thos. Moser furniture is ensured to be replaced if it is ever found to be faulty.

To continue constructing such superb furniture, and to stay competitive in the woodworking industry, Thos. Moser recently teamed up with the Maine Manufacturing Extension Partnership to incorporate the Lean manufacturing program into its regular business practices. This program helps workers and management alike think in an innovative, goal-oriented manner, and as a result, many employees at Thos. Moser have taken up leadership positions they never would have attempted otherwise. In all, 35 employees were trained through the program, but the benefits were far-reaching.

Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers grew out of a passion for woodwork, and the current operation has sacrificed none of that early fervor. The company is a strong example of Mainers' determined entrepreneurial spirit, and it shows no signs of letting up. I congratulate Thos. Moser Cabinetmakers and its over 200 employees for their steadfast enthusiasm and committed work ethic, and wish them much continued success.●
