

had a debate in the Senate on Senator DEMINT's amendment to strike $3.7 million in grants in the Appropriations bill for Labor, Health and Human Services and Education with $2.2 million going to the AFL-CIO Appalachian Council and $1.5 million to the AFL-CIO Working for America Institute. This funding applied to job-training programs covering some 11 States and the District of Columbia.

During the course of the debate, Senator DEMINT made the following statement:

This amendment is part of an effort to clear up what a lot of us have called the culture of corruption over the last several years. A lot of this has come from Americans connecting the dots between the earmarks that we give to our favorite causes back home and many of the campaign contributions and political support that we get back here in Congress. While motivations are generally good, at best the appearance of what is going on here has alarmed the American people.

When I outlined my reasons for supporting these grants, Senator DEMINT replied:

I agree with all the purposes the Senator stated, all of the ideas of getting teenagers to work in Philadelphia. All of those things are good. I am not taking argument with any of them. If the AFL-CIO is the best source to deliver these services, there should not be any problem with this at all. All we are asking is to make this a competitive grant so that we can have criteria and accountability in a system so that what we want to accomplish will actually get accomplished.

Senator DEMINT's amendment was rejected on a 60-34 vote.

After the floor debate and vote were over, Senator DEMINT and I discussed the issues in the debate. Senator DEMINT stated that he was not suggesting any corrupt practice or inappropriate conduct by me, but only that it was preferable to use the funds for competitive bids. Senator DEMINT and I agreed that it would be useful to correct any misimpressions by having this colloquy for the RECORD.

Mr. DEMINT. Senator SPECTER has correctly stated the conversation which we had after the floor debate and we agreed it would be useful to have this discussion to clear up the record. As I told Senator SPECTER privately and now state publicly, I was in no way suggesting that his support for these programs resulted from campaign contributions or political support. My reference to the "culture of corruption" was not intended to suggest that there was any corruption involved in this matter. In my statement, I was specific in not suggesting inappropriate motivations when I said "motivations are generally good." I was also careful to focus on the "appearance" and not the reality by noting it "has alarmed the American people." As many know, my objection to earmarks has to do with the system itself, not the people who participate in it. While Senator SPECTER and I naturally have differences on issues of public policy, which is to be expected in an institution like the Senate, I have worked with him during my tenure in the Senate of more than 3 years and do not question his integrity.

Mr. SPECTER. I thank Senator DEMINT for his candid and forceful statements which I think clear the record.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

STAFF SERGEANT CHAD A. BARRETT

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I rise today to honor the service and sacrifice of SSG Chad Barrett. Sergeant Barrett was assigned to the 64th Brigade Support Battalion, 3rd Brigade Combat Team, 4th Infantry Division out of Fort Carson, CO. He died last Saturday in Iraq at the age of 35.

A native of Jonesborough, TN, Chad grew up in a family with a proud history of service. By joining the Army, he followed in the footsteps of his older brothers, his cousins, and his grandfather, who earned the Purple Heart in World War II.

Chad was in his 12th year of service and his third deployment to Iraq when he died. He took on one of the most dangerous jobs of the war: that of a gunner tasked with defending supply convoys. Those convoys see it all: improvised explosive devices, rocket attacks, explosively formed penetrators, ambushes. Protecting the convoys is a job that takes courage, but it also takes a toll. In his second deployment, Sergeant Barrett's unit was attacked 42 times. He put himself in harm's way and no doubt saved countless lives, but each day, each mission, and each fight has a cost that we often forget. However steely one's nerves or how strong one's will, the daily sacrifices of our soldiers do cause wounds and injuries of their own. These wounds are sometimes less visible than those of a bullet or a blast, but they are no less painful and certainly no less deadly.

Mr. President, the daily heroics of Chad's service in Iraq will be remembered long after the words from this floor fade. This was a lesson of our 16th President, Abraham Lincoln, as he honored the tens of thousands who perished at Gettysburg. "The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced." As we honor the life of Sergeant Barrett, may we embrace this charge and rededicate ourselves to our unfinished work and to the dream for which every soldier serves—that of achieving stable and lasting peace.

To Sergeant Barrett's wife, Michelle, his sons, Guston and Zachary, his parents, Linda and Ronnie, and to all his family and friends, our thoughts and prayers are with you. I cannot imagine the pain and grief that you are feeling. In time, though, I hope your sorrow will be salved by the knowledge that Chad served his country with honor and that we are all grateful for his courage, sacrifice, and daily heroism. May his legacy always endure.

REMEMBERING LANCE CORPORAL JOHNATHON GOFFRED

• Mr. BAYH. Mr. President, with a heavy heart and deep sense of gratitude, I wish to honor the life of a brave soldier. LCpl Johnathon Goffred, 22 years old, died unexpectedly on January 26 in Camp Pendleton, CA. Johnathon was a dedicated soldier, loving son, grandson and brother, and a valued friend to many.

Johnathon grew up in Johnson County, IN, with his paternal grandparents, Walter and MaryAnn Sparrow. He graduated from Center Grove High School in Greenwood in 2003, where he was active in sports and assisted the Center Grove Little League. It was his dream to become an Indiana State Police trooper.

In 2005, Johnathon joined the Marines where he was a rifleman with the 3rd Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment. Johnathon served a 7-month tour of duty in the Anbar province of Iraq, returning in 2007. For his excellent service, Johnathon was awarded the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, and a Sea Service Deployment Ribbon. His comrades remember him as a devoted friend who was generous with all he had. One of his fellow servicemen described him as the type of person who would give you the shirt off his back if you needed it.

Johnathon is survived by his mother, Angie Martin Goffred; his paternal grandparents, Walter and MaryAnn Sparrow; his maternal grandfather, Bill Goffred; his seven brothers, Dale, Shawn, Nick, Tom, Wes and Kragen Sparrow and Michael Paul; and his eight sisters, Tina Seril, Mellisa, Keria, Keisa, Quinci, Brianna, Shannon and Masada Sparrow.

Today, I join Johnathon's family and friends in mourning his death. While we struggle to bear our sorrow over this loss, we can also take pride in the example he set, bravely fighting to make the world a safer place. It is his courage and kindness that people will remember when they think of Johnathon. Today and always, Johnathon will be remembered by family members, friends, and fellow soldiers as a true American hero, and we honor his service to our country.

It is my sad duty to enter the name of LCpl Johnathon Goffred in the official RECORD of the Senate for his service to this country and for his profound commitment to freedom, democracy, and peace. When I think about this just cause in which we are engaged, and the unfortunate pain that comes with the loss of our heroes, I hope that families like Johnathon's can find comfort in the words of the prophet Isaiah who said, "He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces."

May God grant strength and peace to those who mourn, and may God be with all of you, as I know He is with Johnathon.●

RETIREMENT OF DARRELL KERBY

● Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, good mayors are those who leave the communities, citizens, and environment of the towns they have led in better condition than when they were first elected. An exceptional mayor is one who imparts a vision of what the community could be and works with the members of his or her community and outside interests to achieve that vision. There are examples of this across my State of Idaho, and the outgoing mayor of Bonners Ferry, Darrell Kerby, is one such remarkable example.

Darrell is retiring from public service after serving the citizens of Bonners Ferry for over 20 years, first on the city council and most recently as mayor. He is known to city employees and the public as a man of outstanding character, courtesy, kindness, and confidence. His leadership has been marked by a penchant for conviction tempered in small-town graciousness. He was at the helm in 2003 when Bonners Ferry was selected as Idaho's Most Friendly Town by travelers and tourists. He was instrumental in the revitalization of downtown Bonners Ferry through the construction of the tunnel connecting the downtown business area to the Kootenai River Inn. He promoted the construction of the International Gateway Visitors Center, improved parking in the downtown business district, secured improvements to and expansion of the city water system that included obtaining a critical Federal grant, led improvements to the city powerplant, and fueled positive city growth.

Darrell's participation in the community extends beyond his mayoral office. He has served or serves on the Boundary Regional Health Center Board of Directors, the Idaho Board of Health & Welfare, the Association of Idaho Cities, the Idaho Energy Resources Authority, the Boundary County Economic Development Committee, and the Kootenai Valley Resource Initiative Committee, a collaborative effort that I have been pleased to work with him on over the years. Speaking of the Kootenai Valley Resource Initiative, Darrell has been instrumental in keeping my staff informed and involved as the stakeholders involved work to collaboratively manage the natural resources of the Kootenai Valley and begin restoration work on the Myrtle Creek Watershed after the devastating fire in 2003.

Darrell received the Harold Hurst Award in 2007 for exemplary performance by a city official and has contributed in an outstanding manner to the accomplishments of the Association of Idaho Cities.

I wish Darrell well in his retirement and thank him for his exemplary years of public service. The residents of Bonners Ferry and Boundary County, as well as the State of Idaho, have gained immeasurably from Darrell's efforts and dedication.●

RETIREMENT OF MARK SMITH

● Mr. HARKIN. Mr. President, today I pay tribute to a very special Iowan and a truly exceptional labor leader, Mark Smith. Mark retired earlier this month after serving 28 years in leadership roles in the Iowa Federation of Labor. He served as secretary-treasurer from 1974 until 1997, and as president from 1997 until his retirement. Throughout, he has remained a member of the American Federation of Teachers, Local 716.

Prior to coming to the Iowa Federation of Labor, Mark spent 5 years as an instructor at the University of Iowa's Labor Center, where he taught up-and-coming union leaders about labor law, labor history, communication, leadership, economics, and public policy. Mark may have left the classroom, but he never stopped being a teacher and mentor. He has always believed strongly that to achieve real successes for working families and to advance a progressive public policy agenda, it is critical to train people to organize and advocate for themselves.

Throughout his distinguished tenure as IFL president, Mark was respected for his keen intelligence and his direct, honest, feisty style of doing business. He understood the political system, and how to get things done. He didn't believe in top-down political engagement; he believed in organizing and empowering people at the grass roots to fight for a brighter future—and to win.

Mark is a proud progressive, with a passion for economic and social justice. He is also a passionate believer in bringing people together in collective action, whether in the political arena, at the bargaining table, or in the community. He has devoted his life to building stronger unions because he believes that they are an ideal vehicle for effecting positive change for ordinary people.

For many years, I have counted on Mark for his friendship, counsel, and support—and that will not change. But his retirement is a tremendous loss for working families and for the labor movement in Iowa. In the Bible, it says that "if the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who will prepare himself for battle?" For more than a decade as president of the Iowa Federation of Labor, there has been nothing uncertain about Mark Smith's trumpet. He has been a great labor leader, and a strong, unwavering voice for progressive change. I wish him a long and happy retirement with his family, including wife Marty, daughter Christine, sons Michael and Erich, and grandson Isaiah.●

TRIBUTE TO DENNIS SWANSON

● Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, today I wish a happy 70th birthday to Mr. Dennis Swanson, a kind and generous man who has been one of the leading innovators in television broadcasting over the last 30 years.

Mr. Swanson, who currently serves as president of stations operations at FOX Television Stations, Inc., has been called a "mastermind" of the broadcast industry. It is high praise, and very well deserved. With keen foresight, tremendous business acumen, and a willingness to take chances, Swanson has improved the fortunes of every station he has worked for. Most importantly, he did this not by offering viewers programs that appealed to the lowest common denominator, but instead he developed creative, high-quality programming that appealed to the needs of the stations' communities.

In 1976, Swanson was hired as executive producer of KABC, Los Angeles' ABC affiliate. At that time, the station had never finished higher than third in local news ratings, and Swanson saw that the station needed to do something to offer its viewers a new perspective. In 1977, with the debate over Proposition 13 raging throughout California, Swanson invited the measure's author, Howard Jarvis, to come on the 5 p.m. newscast and debate the measure's opponents every day for a month. In addition, Swanson worked hard to improve the quality of the station's reporting. These efforts paid off when in 1978 he was awarded the George Foster Peabody Award, the most prestigious award in broadcasting, for KABC's reporting on the Los Angeles Police Department. KABC became the No. 1 station in the region, and Swanson was promoted to station manager in 1981.

In 1983, Swanson was asked to take over WLS-TV, an ABC owned and operated station in Chicago with low ratings. It is here that Swanson made perhaps the best broadcasting decision of his career and one that reveals his strong character. Impressed by her audition, Swanson offered a morning show to a woman from Baltimore with a unique name. As Swanson recalled years later, Oprah Winfrey wasn't sure she was ready for such a job. She was concerned that her color and appearance would prevent her from winning over viewers. Swanson would have none of that, "I'm not in the color business," he told her. He assured her that he didn't want her to change her appearance, but to simply "be the person I saw audition."

As we all know, the decision to hire Oprah was an unqualified success, rocketing WLS to the top of the Chicago market and eventually reaping billions in revenues for ABC. It also launched the career of one of the most influential and inspirational figures in America today.
