

vs. Kraemer. The outcome of this case ensured that states could not defend nor enforce restrictive covenants as a state action, effectively giving blacks the legal right to move into the neighborhood of their choice.

After presiding over both city and state branches of the NAACP, Ms. Wilson became the first African American woman to head the national NAACP board in 1975. After completing nine terms as Chairwoman, Ms. Wilson returned to St. Louis, where she continued to practice law, champion justice and equality, and mentor young law students and civic leaders until her death.

Madam Speaker, I ask that all Americans honor Margaret Bush Wilson for her exceptionally brave career as a legal advocate and human rights pioneer. Her life has brought honor to all of us and she will live forever in our memories. I ask that my colleagues join me in paying tribute to Margaret Bush Wilson.

CONGRATULATING JOYCE RICHARDS, RECIPIENT OF JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT WORLDWIDE'S 2009 CHARLES R. HOOK AWARD

HON. HARRY E. MITCHELL

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 10, 2009

Mr. MITCHELL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the accomplishments of Junior Achievement of Arizona. I am a strong supporter of JA's mission and programs. During my twenty eight years as a teacher of Government, I used their materials, hosted speakers in my classroom and visited their facility.

Good programs reflect the quality of the people who run them. I would like to congratulate the organization's President, Joyce Richards, for winning JA Worldwide's 2009 Charles R. Hook Award. This award is the top honor for JA Presidents who demonstrate superior results in promoting the growth and development of Junior Achievement in their area.

Junior Achievement is the world's largest organization dedicated to teaching students in Kindergarten through 12th grade about the importance of economics, entrepreneurship, and financial literacy. The organization reaches over 9 million students around the world each year, with over 130 local offices in the United States and operations in over 110 countries worldwide. One of the things that makes JA so unique is its use of adult volunteers to bring business to life for students. In the United States alone, young people in more than 188,000 classrooms benefit annually from these positive role models.

Ms. Richards is clearly deserving of receiving this year's Hook Award. She joined the Junior Achievement of Arizona office in 1997 as Vice President of Development, and was named as President in 2001. The organization has grown dramatically under her leadership, and JA of Arizona now reaches nearly 90,000 students. The organization's programs are provided at no cost to schools and are funded entirely through the private sector. As part of these efforts, Ms. Richards spearheaded a $4 million capital campaign to build two JA BizTown programs, and expanded JA's impact into the Tucson community by launching a JA operation that now reaches 10,000 students.

Especially in the current economic climate, teaching students the importance of economics and financial literacy is of the utmost importance, and I congratulate Ms. Richards and Junior Achievement of Arizona for their efforts.

HONORING THE CREWMEN AND THEIR SERVICE TO THE USS ALABAMA

HON. JO BONNER

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 10, 2009

Mr. BONNER. Madam Speaker, the city of Mobile and the state of Alabama are honored to be the home of the USS Alabama, and I rise today to honor her former crewmen for their tremendous sacrifice and service.

For more than 40 years, the USS Alabama has graced Mobile Bay with her beauty. As one of Alabama's top tourist attractions, she continues to serve as a lasting memorial and tribute to the "Greatest Generation."

Constructed in the Norfolk Navy Yard on December 1, 1940, the USS Alabama was commissioned on August 16, 1942, with Captain George B. Wilson in command.

In nearly five years of commissioned service, the USS Alabama earned nine battle stars for participation in the Atlantic and Pacific Campaigns of World War II. The USS Alabama is representative of the South Dakota class of American battleships that fought against Japan in World War II. She also earned the Navy Occupation Service Medal Pacific, for the period fought in Korea during September of 1945.

The USS Alabama defended her nation against an enemy of oppression and now reflects the pride of a grateful nation. After retiring in 1962, the USS Alabama was stationed in Mobile Bay and opened as a museum the following year. Nicknamed the "Mighty A," she was added to the National Historic Landmark registry in 1986.

Former Alabama Governor George C. Wallace received the battleship on behalf of the state. Years later, in remembering the event, he said, "On the day we were piped aboard by the U.S. Marine Band from Washington, tears welled up in my eyes, and chills went down my spine, as I thought of all the boys killed in World War II, and who died and were dying in the Vietnam War, and that this was a tribute to them for us to save this ship as a lasting monument."

Madam Speaker, the USS Alabama holds a reunion every year in April, to honor the crewmen who fought for each American's freedom. Of the approximately 6,000 original members of the USS Alabama, the following members were able to attend the most recent reunion: Hildrey H. Arnette, Frank Basham, Preston A. Bristow, John R. Brown, Stan Bryn, Gene Giarrusso, Daniel R. Glass, Leo J. Goulet, Albert A. Grimm, William Hahn, Millard F. Hill, John Kilgore, Jimmie D. Maish, Raymond Medved, Sr., Dr. William R. Miller, Frank Radulski, Sr., Leuico B. Sealy, Frank Sherman, John Simpler, Edward J. Suchy, Kenneth E. Thomas, and Leva Loyd Witt.

They personify the very best America has to offer. I urge my colleagues to take a moment to pay tribute to these men—and all of the soldiers who fought in World War II—for their selfless devotion to our country and the freedom we enjoy.

BEATRICE ROSENBERG'S 90TH BIRTHDAY

HON. KENDRICK B. MEEK

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, September 10, 2009

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Madam Speaker, I'd like to take this opportunity to say a few words about one of my constituents, Beatrice Rosenberg, born "Bernice Zam" on her 90th birthday.

Beatrice Rosenberg, born Bernice Zam, in the Bronx, New York, September 12, 1919, has lived through a Great Depression, two World Wars, and the many other events that have marked the last 90 years in America and through it all has continued to laugh and to dance. Her family and friends have said that through all of this, through poverty, through wartime and through widowhood, she has been relied on and has "been there" for them.

Bernice's father died when she was six months old. Her mother was a factory seamstress paid by the piece to sew lace onto ladies' undergarments. In 1935, when Bernice was 16, she had to quit high school to work in a laundry to support her pregnant mother and out-of-work stepfather. She gave all her earnings to her mother, except for carfare to work and to dance clubs, where she jitterbugged her cares away.

In 1943 she married a young pilot just before he shipped off to fight in World War II. (When her license application didn't match her birth certificate, she learned that her birth name actually was Beatrice, not Bernice). Her husband was overseas when she gave birth to their daughter in July 1944, and a few months
