

and thinking somehow we can overcome that burden on our economy and prosper. It is wrong thinking; it is wrong-headed. They're wrong on the science, Madam Speaker, and they're really, really wrong on the economics.

And so as this debate unfolds here on the floor of the House and throughout the committees and subcommittees and through the media and through the living rooms of Americans, the American people need to understand and remember that if they can't make the case on the science, there is no sense of talking about the economics, because it falls on its face not having the science to underpin the argument.

Even if they could make the case on the science—and they haven't and can't. And 31,000 scientists have signed a petition saying they can't support the conclusions of these climate change models, and we're getting more and more that will step forward and say, I can't take you there, I can't be with you. And these are topnotch experts: meteorologists, physicists, people that really understand these issues in a scientific way. More of them are peeling off and walking away from this and saying Al Gore is wrong.

But even if they were right, even if one stipulated that—and I don't for a minute—but if one stipulated that the global warming models were right, the economic calamity that comes from adding to the cost of all of America's business is intolerable. And the burden that it shifts onto future generations and what it does to our economy, our culture, and our civilization are intolerable, Madam Speaker. And so let them make the case.

Once as Muhammad Ali said after he fought Joe Frazier to a tie in 15 rounds was this: Well, you tied. How come you're still the world champ? Ali said, You got to whoop the champ.

Well, the champ is free enterprise. The champ is sound science. The champ is empirical data. The champ is the history of the United States succeeding by believing we can achieve and by making logical conclusions with the science we have and the economics we have. And by the way, it's free enterprise and it's not nationalization.

And let's add an extra czar or two to this list of 22. Let's do the denationalization czar and the exit-strategy czar. Put those two people together, and maybe they can get to work to eliminate all of the rest of these czars and get us back to sense, Madam Speaker.

And with that, I yield back the balance of my time.
