ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). There are 5 minutes remaining in this vote.

□ 1805

Messrs. DANIEL E. LUNGREN of California, TIERNEY, HASTINGS of Florida, LEE of New York, and LATHAM changed their vote from “yea” to “nay.”

So the motion to adjourn was rejected.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 2997, AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT, FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2010

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There are 17½ minutes remaining in debate.

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, I would now like to yield 2 minutes to my colleague from Florida (Mr. MICA).

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker and my colleagues, I just want to take a couple of minutes of the House’s attention on this rule. I’m not a happy camper tonight because my amendment was not accepted as part of this rule.

I have the honor and privilege of representing not only suburban and urban areas in central Florida, but I have some rural areas. Maybe you have some rural areas. I asked for a simple amendment to assist my potato farmers. Now you wouldn’t think in Florida of potato farming being a big industry; but in part of my district and rural area, we had an incredible disaster hit several months ago. We had 25 to 30 inches of rain over several days, and it wiped out the potato crop. Have you ever seen rotten water-sogged potatoes? These are rotten water-sogged potatoes.

Now this may not mean a lot to many of the folks on the Rules Committee, but we’ve had a custom in the House of helping Members when they have a disaster in their district. I had a disaster in my district. This isn’t affecting me personally. We’re talking about $45 million not that I even need appropriated, just that I need a small adjustment to get to these potato farmers, who are losing their livelihoods, who are closing down their farms.

Again, we had a disaster in my district. I asked for an amendment—one of many that were rejected—to give a little bit of leeway to farmers in central Florida who will lose their businesses, not be able to employ people, not to be able to have the money to plant the crops so next year they won’t be in business. That amendment was rejected summarily by the Rules Committee. So I’m not a happy camper.

Now I thought of coming out here and calling a motion to adjourn after every bit of business that went on here in the House. I didn’t do that. I still may take that option, I’m telling you, because I have people that don’t have jobs, don’t have the possibility of continuing their farm business. I have asked for a simple change, not more money—the money’s there—but to allocate money through some of the existing programs so they can get the money now to put people to work, save their crops and save the next crop. I didn’t get that cooperation, so I’m not a happy camper.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

I appreciate that the gentleman is not a happy camper, and my sympathies go to his district for what it’s going through. But as he knows, this is an appropriations bill. What he was doing was attempting to legislate on an appropriations bill, which would have been subject to a point of order under any circumstances. So maybe the gentleman could work with the appropriate committee to try to resolve this issue. I surely would be willing to try to help him. But on this bill his amendment would have been made out of order under any circumstance.

I have no further speakers other than me. I would yield to the gentledady to close, and I reserve the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from North Carolina has 3 minutes remaining.

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, the American people know that in these tough economic times, they should save, not spend money. However, the Federal Government does not reflect the common sense I see throughout my district. Instead, the Democrats in charge continue to borrow more and spend more, increasing our Federal deficit on the backs of our children and grandchildren. The bill facing us after this rule is a 12 percent overall increase in funding from last year’s bill. The U.S. national deficit is currently $11.5 trillion. With over 300 million people in the U.S. today, each citizen’s share of this debt right now is $37,500. This bill will increase the deficit even more by borrowing and spending money we do not have. The majority can no longer blame the deficit and economic difficulties today on the previous administration. The Democrats in charge have shown they do not care about the deficit by continuing to dig America into a bigger and bigger hole with more reckless spending. This borrowed money is all being spent by Speaker PELOSI, the Obama administration; and as a result, the unemployment rate continues to rise, and the deficit continues to skyrocket. There are 322 earmarks tucked into this bill, totaling $220 million in borrowed money for pet projects. The bill contains $1.3 billion in grant funding, awarded solely at the discretion of the administration.

Mr. Speaker, there is an article today in Politico that says that we have a train wreck in this country because of out-of-control Federal budget deficits. I would like to include that in the RECORD today.

I’m going to urge my colleagues to vote “no” on the previous question so I can amend the rule to allow all Members of Congress the opportunity to offer his or her amendment to the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies appropriations bill under an open rule.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the amendment and extraneous material be placed in the RECORD prior to the vote on the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from North Carolina?

There was no objection.

Ms. FOXX. Again, I urge my colleagues to vote “no” on the previous question and “no” on the rule.

I yield back the balance of my time.

□ 1815

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, we need to pass this rule and we need to pass this bill. This is a bill that provides funds to protect public health, moneys for the Food and Drug Administration, and it funds hunger and nutrition programs including fully funding WIC. There is money in here for rural development, conservation, oversight, and enforcement.

Let's be clear, Mr. Speaker, the reason why we need this bill is in large part due to the 8 years of Republican neglect and indifference on a lot of these issues. More people in America today are hungry than a year ago. And I will tell the gentlelady from North Carolina that yes, there are increases in this bill, although it still comes in under the requests of President Obama, but there are increases in this bill, especially to help deal with the fact that so many in this country can't afford to put food on the table.

I will also say to the gentlelady that these aren't just homeless people or these are not just people without jobs. These are increasingly working families, people who are working who can't afford to put food on their table in the United States of America, the richest country on this planet. That is shameful. And globally, because of a lack of leadership over the last 8 years, over 1 billion people are hungry. That may not bother some of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, but it bothers me, it bothers my constituents, and it bothers the American people.

My friends can complain all they want, but it won't feed a single hungry child. My friends can try all the obstructionist tactics that they want, but it won't save a single rural family farm. The American people want relief. They want us to provide a helping hand. I think too many of my friends on the other side of the aisle seem to me more interested in delaying, obstructing, and killing important legislation than advancing it. That may be the advice of some high-priced political consultant at the Republican National Committee, but it is a bad way to serve the American people.

Our side has repeatedly tried to reach out and reach an accommodation on debate and on amendments with the minority, only to be rebuffed.

Mr. MICA. Will the gentleman yield? Mr. MCGOVERN. No, I will not.

Be that as it may, our job as the majority party is to do the business of the American people, and passing this legislation is a part of doing that job.

I urge my colleagues to vote "yes" on the previous question, "yes" on the rule, and "yes" on the underlying bill.

The material previously referred to by Ms. FOXX is as follows:

AMENDMENT TO H. RES. 609 OFFERED BY Ms. FOXX OF NORTH CAROLINA

Strike the resolved clause and all that follows and insert the following:

Resolved, That immediately upon the adoption of this resolution the Speaker shall, pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XVIII, declare the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill (H.R. 2997) making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2010, and for other purposes. The first reading of the bill shall be dispensed with. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived except those arising under clause 9 or 10 of rule XXI. General debate shall be confined to the bill and shall not exceed one hour equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations. After general debate the bill shall be considered for amendment under the five-minute rule. Points of order against provisions in the bill for failure to comply with clause 2 of rule XXI are waived. During consideration of the bill for amendment, the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may accord priority in recognition on the basis of whether the Member offering an amendment has caused it to be printed in the portion of the Congressional Record designated for that purpose in clause 8 of rule XVIII. Amendments so printed shall be considered as read. When the committee rises and reports the bill back to the House with a recommendation that the bill do pass, the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and amendments thereto to final passage without intervening motion except one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

(The information contained herein was provided by Democratic Minority on multiple occasions throughout the 109th Congress)

THE VOTE ON THE PREVIOUS QUESTION: WHAT IT REALLY MEANS

This vote, the vote on whether to order the previous question on a special rule, is not merely a procedural vote. A vote against ordering the previous question is a vote against the Democratic majority agenda and a vote to allow the opposition, at least for the moment, to offer an alternative plan. It is a vote about what the House should be debating.

Mr. Clarence Cannon's Precedents of the House of Representatives, (VI, 308-311) describes the vote on the previous question on the rule as "a motion to direct or control the consideration of the subject before the House being made by the Member in charge." To defeat the previous question is to give the opposition a chance to decide the subject before the House. Cannon cites the Speaker's ruling of January 13, 1920, to the effect that "the refusal of the House to sustain the demand for the previous question passes the control of the resolution to the opposition" in order to offer an amendment. On March 15, 1909, a member of the majority party offered a rule resolution. The House defeated the previous question and a member of the opposition rose to a parliamentary inquiry, asking who was entitled to recognition. Speaker Joseph G. Cannon (R-Illinois) said: "The previous question having been refused, the gentleman from New York, Mr. Fitzgerald, who had asked the gentleman to yield to him for an amendment, is entitled to the first recognition."

Because the vote today may look bad for the Democratic majority they will say "the vote on the previous question is simply a vote on whether to proceed to an immediate vote on adopting the resolution . . . [and] has no substantive legislative or policy implications whatsoever." But that is not what they have always said. Listen to the definition of the previous question used in the Floor Procedures Manual published by the Rules Committee in the 109th Congress, (page 56). Here's how the Rules Committee described the rule using information from Congressional Quarterly's "American Congressional Dictionary": "If the previous question is defeated, control of debate shifts to the leading opposition member (usually the minority Floor Manager) who then manages an hour of debate and may offer a germane amendment to the pending business."

Deschler's Procedure in the U.S. House of Representatives, the subchapter titled "Amending Special Rules" states: "a refusal to order the previous question on such a rule [a special rule reported from the Committee on Rules] opens the resolution to amendment and further debate." (Chapter 21, section 21.2) Section 21.3 continues: Upon rejection of the motion for the previous question on a resolution reported from the Committee on Rules, control shifts to the Member leading the opposition to the previous question, who may offer a proper amendment or motion and who controls the time for debate thereon."

Clearly, the vote on the previous question on a rule does have substantive policy implications. It is one of the only available tools for those who oppose the Democratic majority's agenda and allows those with alternative views the opportunity to offer an alternative plan.

ECONOMIST DECLARES "TRAIN WRECK"

(By Victoria McGrane)

If you thought last week's job numbers were bad, take a look at the latest from Morgan Stanley's chief economist, Richard Berner.

In a research note that's been making the rounds of economics blogs this week, Berner declares that "America's long-awaited fiscal train wreck is now under way."

By "train wreck," he means out-of-control federal budget deficits that he's sure will finally drag the economy under—as if we weren't already feeling badly enough about its shaky state.

"Depending on policy actions taken now and over the next few years, federal deficits will likely average as much as 6 percent of [the gross domestic product] through 2019, contributing to a jump in debt held by the public to as high as 82 percent of GDP by then—a doubling over the next decade," Berner writes on Morgan Stanley's online Global Economic Forum.

"Worse, barring aggressive policy actions, deficits and debt will rise even more sharply thereafter as entitlement spending accelerates relative to GDP. Keeping entitlement promises would require unsustainable borrowing, taxes or both, severely testing the credibility of our policies and hurting our long-term ability to finance investment and sustain growth," he adds. "And soaring debt will force up real interest rates, reducing capital and productivity and boosting debt service."

"Not only will those factors steadily lower our standard of living," Berner concludes, "but they will imperil economic and financial stability."

Mr. MCGOVERN. I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 and clause 9 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on ordering the previous question on House Resolution 609 will be followed by 5-minute votes on adopting that resolution, if ordered; and suspending the rules and adopting House Concurrent Resolution 142, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 239, nays 183, not voting 10, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
 The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). There are 2 minutes remaining in the vote.

□ 1837

Ms. GRANGER changed her vote from “yea” to “nay.”
 Mr. KRATOVIL changed his vote from “nay” to “yea.”

So the previous question was ordered.
 The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

(By unanimous consent, Mr. HOYER was allowed to speak out of order.)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, JOHN DINGELL

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, my colleagues, I have two duties that I want to perform tonight. One is a very happy one, and I will do that first.

This institution has existed for a little over 200 years. One who sits among us has served for a quarter of that time. He is a historic figure. He is one of the most masterful legislators that ever has served in this body. He is a man of great integrity, intellect and, as I said, legislative skill.

He has chaired one of this Congress’s and this House’s most important committees with broad jurisdiction and has dealt with matters across the spectrum of the jurisdiction of that committee. But 25 years from now, when he retires, he will be remembered most for his leadership on health, on health care for all Americans, on a passion to ensure that each and every American has the availability of affordable, quality health care. We are engaged in that issue on a bill that will be sponsored by this gentleman.

Today, he is 83 years of age, 83 years young. My colleagues, as all of you know, JOHN DINGELL is revered by many, feared by some, respected by all.

Let me now yield to my colleague and friend, the Republican leader, Mr. BOEHNER.

Mr. BOEHNER. Let me thank my colleague for yielding and say, JOHN, that there’s hardly a Member in this entire body that is more respected than you, because while you can be a fierce partisan, many of us know that you are someone that we can work with, and we have worked with, and there is a lot of mutual respect.

On behalf of all of our colleagues, JOHN, we love you and want to say happy birthday to you.

And while you are all standing, I have done this once before, it probably doesn’t comply with the rules of the House, but for those of you who don’t know the BOEHNER birthday song, the second verse is exactly like the first verse.

This is your birthday song. It doesn’t last too long. Hey.

All right, everybody, ready. This is your birthday song. It doesn’t last too long. Hey.

Happy birthday.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I know that every Member would, if we were going to take the time, rise to express their deep affection and respect and admiration for you, my friend. And I count it a great honor that you have been my friend for every year that I have served in the Congress, and I am looking forward to being with you for a long time to come.

HONORING SALLY CROWE

Mr. HOYER. Now, ladies and gentlemen, I said I rose for two purposes, one was happy. Obviously, that was the happy one.

I came to Congress 29 years ago. JOHN DINGELL came to Congress 53 years ago. Sally Crowe came to Congress 57 years ago. You may not know Sally Crowe by name, but you know Sally Crowe.

Sally Crowe was the hostess who greeted all of us in the House restaurant. She was a wonderful spirit. She died while we were on break this month. She died after having had a very substantial fall. And others may have retired, as she surely could have. She chose not to retire, however, and she returned to the place that she loved and served so well.

We are all advantaged by those who are not known widely outside this institution, but who served this institution with a devotion to country, devotion to the institution, and devotion to each and every one of us and, in Sally’s case, to the guests who came and visited with us and ate with us in the dining room or were visitors here and ate there.

She was courteous, kind, respectful, affectionate. I will remember Sally with great affection. Her family lives in my district.

I want to say on behalf of all of us to her family how much we appreciated her love, her service to us and to her country; and I want to yield to my friend, ZACH WAMP of Tennessee.

□ 1845

Mr. WAMP. I thank the leader, and on behalf of our side, we all rise to honor Sally's extraordinary life and service.

I think there is nothing we can do more than to serve those men and women in the uniform of our armed services, and Sally thought there was nothing she could do greater than to serve us. And she did that for 57 years.

She died at 92, and she didn't like to talk at all about how long she had worked here or how old she was. She was Irish to the core, and she loved her Irish blood. She was feisty, beautiful, always pleasant.

Many of you remember John Corbin who was her senior partner. He had 2 years seniority on her, and he passed a couple of years ago. And no one really ever got out of him how long he had been here except he had been here 2 years longer than Sally, and now we know that he literally served 57 years and he passed 2 years ago. He would leave the Members' Dining Room and go work the post office all the way through his life, and lived almost as long as Sally, and she worked and wanted to work as long as she could breathe.

She came here at 4:30 in the morning every day to beat the traffic. She was a creature of habit. She would sit there and wait for us to come in the morning. And I have to tell you, every one of you, the angels in Heaven are fascinated to be talking to Sally today. They are fascinated because she loved us and loved this House for 57 years. And we rise to honor her beautiful life. And her daughters today I hope will know that the full House appreciates Sally Crowe's life and service to us.

Mr. HOYER. I want to thank my friend, ZACH WAMP, for his memory of Sally and his expression of love on behalf of all of us.

Sally was awarded the John W. McCormack Annual Award of Excellence for Service to the House. Without Sally Crowe, life in this building would have ground to a halt in many respects. Now it won't grind to a halt, it won't grind to a halt because we are advantaged by so many who care for this institution. And we thank them all.

But today, we remember a wonderful, decent, good, loving human being, our friend, Sally Crowe. God rest her soul.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, 5-minute voting will continue.

There was no objection.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which the previous question was ordered on the resolution, H. Res. 609.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to reconsider.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.
