

Purdy served as its chair for three years. It became NASFAA in 1969 and has always stressed the importance and needs of students.

A large part of the organization's success is attributed to Purdy's tireless efforts and ability to build strong relationships with key policy-makers and higher education advocates. He developed a reputation for being an excellent witness at congressional hearings and established NASFAA as a trusted resource for financial aid information.

In 1975, Purdy received the first Lifetime Membership Award, the highest award that NASFAA can bestow. He retired in 1979 and was appointed to the Missouri Higher Education Loan Authority's (MOHELA's) Board of Directors in 1981.

We have lost an irreplaceable advocate for college access and success. I believe educating our youth is one of the most important aspects in equipping our children with the necessary tools to succeed. Madam Speaker, I ask all my colleagues to join me in acknowledging Allan Purdy and his efforts to reduce barriers to higher education.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE APPROPRIATIONS AUTHORIZATION ACT, FISCAL YEAR 2011

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Ms. JACKSON LEE of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 5264, "The Department of Justice Appropriations Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2011." I would like to thank the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Rep. JOHN CONYERS for introducing this legislation, as it is important to embrace the Justice Department and its various offices and components.

As a senior member of the Judiciary Committee, I have had the privilege to work closely with the Department of Justice and become familiarized with many of their programs and initiatives. Over the past year, they have been extremely cooperative and have worked vigorously to implement new laws and set new standards to ensure the safety, protection, and equal treatment of all Americans.

The DOJ has made the civil rights of all Americans, no matter their race, religion, or socio-economic status, a priority. They have worked to implement the Hate Crimes Prevention Act, which created a general felony prohibition against crimes of violence based on prejudice against gender, disability, sexual orientation, or gender identity. They are also enforcing the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act of 2009 which clarifies that discriminatory compensation decisions and other such practices are unlawful according to the Civil Rights Act, Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Rehabilitation Act.

Furthermore, the DOJ has begun implementation of the Fair Sentencing Act, which takes steps to reduce the disparity between sentences involving crack cocaine versus those involving powder cocaine—a disparity which had a disproportionately negative effect on poor and minority communities for years.

I am so proud to see the continued funding to the Office of Violence Against Women.

Since 1995, the Office of Violence Against Women has made significant progress in reducing violence against immigrant women, however, there are still many women and children whose lives are in danger today. Made possible through the Violence Against Women Act of 2005, importantly, this act continues to implement VAWA's original intent by stopping the deportation of immigrant victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and trafficking who qualify for VAWA immigration benefits. The trafficking provisions in the bill are of particular importance to me and I am very pleased that additional protections for trafficking victims and tools to help prosecute traffickers have been included in the bill, thus I am overjoyed to see the appropriations made to this office especially.

I strongly support the appropriations made to the Office of Justice Programs that provide strong and revolutionary leadership base to federal, state, local, and tribal justice systems, by circulating state-of-the-art knowledge and practices across America, and providing grants for the implementation of crime fighting strategies.

As Chairwoman of the Congressional Children's Caucus and very strong advocate for children and children's rights, I am thrilled to see that the funds made to the OJP will also funnel to the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, which contributes to the reduction of youth crime and violence. The OJJDP upholds prevention and early intervention programs that truly make a difference in the lives of young people around America. Our continued support of the numerous programs provided by the OJP that help our youth and better their lives is critical to America's future. Providing support for and believing in America's youth is the best way to ensure a successful future for them and our Nation.

Furthermore, I am happy to see the funding that supports the Antitrust Division's hard work to promote and instill economic freedom and opportunity within our great Nation. In the economic climate we face today, it is evermore important that competition in the marketplace remains free and fair for all. With the many proposed mergers and acquisition taking place, the guidance and resources provided by the Antitrust laws and principles are desperately needed to ensure fair business and jobs for all.

I am also delighted to see the appropriations made to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Sadly, our country still lies under the microscope of those who wish our Nation harm and by appropriating money to the Bureau, we are shoring up our defenses against issues such as terrorist attacks, foreign intelligence operations, espionage, and public corruption at all levels. The FBI is a far-reaching organization with operations around the world and its continued funding is vital for the safety of all Americans.

I stand today with Rep. CONYERS and other members of Congress in reaffirming our support for justice in our Nation. By enacting these types of economic incentives to the offices that protect our Nation, Americans, women, and children will be safer; our country will be more efficient in bringing all to justice and communities and economy will grow in strength.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues for their support of H.R. 5264, as well as for their continued support of all that is done by the Department of Justice in order to protect our great Nation. By increasing our support for these types of appropriations, we will ensure that our country remains a leader in security, justice, and freedom.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting H.R. 5264.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. LOIS CAPPS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Mrs. CAPPS. Madam Speaker, I was not able to be present for the following rollcall votes on November 15, 2010 and would like the RECORD to reflect that I would have voted as follows: rollcall No. 566, "yes"; rollcall No. 567, "yes"; rollcall No. 568, "yes."

IN RECOGNITION OF JOHN AND MARCIA GOLDMAN

HON. JACKIE SPEIER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Ms. SPEIER. Madam Speaker, I rise to honor John and Marcia Goldman of San Francisco. They are civic volunteers of epic proportions who have long been active in the fight against HIV/AIDS. Since 1989, they have been ardent supporters of the American Foundation for AIDS Research (amFAR) which has invested over $9.5 million in more than 180 research projects in the Bay Area. They have generously supported many of San Francisco's other leading organizations in the fight against HIV/AIDS, including The Shanti Project, San Francisco AIDS Foundation, Haight Ashbury Free Clinics, National AIDS Memorial in Golden Gate Park, and FACE AIDS, which develops leadership skills for college students while supporting people with AIDS in Africa.

Additionally, through their foundation they have championed programs to help underprivileged children. Their caring knows no boundaries.

John has been president of the San Francisco Symphony since 2001 and is on the advisory boards for the Wildlife Conservation Society and the Trust for Public Land. He is also president of the Walter and Elise Haas Fund, which support arts, public education and Jewish organizations. He serves on the board of FACE AIDS as well as Building Future Now, which enables underprivileged children in East Palo Alto and East Menlo Park, California, to pursue a college education. His current commitments are dwarfed by prior service to such institutions as Swathmore College and various non-profit groups, including the Institute on Aging of Mt. Zion Health Systems.

Marcia co-founded the Learning Place Preschool in San Mateo which integrates special needs children with typical preschoolers. She also founded New Beginnings Family Workshop in San Carlos, a therapeutic-based program for autistic children and their families. She joined the Pacific Autism Center for Education as school director in 2002 and served as education director until June 2010. She specializes in individualized curriculum development, parent and staff training and behavior planning.

Madam Speaker, it is only right and fitting that amFAR will present this remarkable couple with its Award of Courage on November 12 at its annual San Francisco Gala. Their substantial contributions have advanced AIDS research and the treatment and prevention of HIV. I ask that this house join me in thanking the Goldmans for their philanthropic efforts to better this world for those in need.

IN HONOR AND RECOGNITION OF RINALDO S. BRUTOCO

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor and recognition of Rinaldo S. Brutoco, a successful technical innovator, entrepreneur and businessman who has dedicated his life to transforming the consciousness of business to be a force for the common good. Mr. Brutoco consistently invests his time, expertise and personal resources to incubate peace-building, ecological sustainability and consciousness-raising initiatives.

As President and founder of the World Business Academy, he has worked to educate, inspire and assist business leaders to take responsibility for society. His work with the Academy led Deepak Chopra to select Mr. Brutoco as his "favorite intelligent optimist," saying, "Rinaldo Brutoco has provided a platform for harnessing the creativity and compassion of some of the best minds in the world to create a vision of the future of socially and ecologically responsible business. As we now enter a global economic crisis, Rinaldo's ideas on the creation of true wealth that will benefit society will become even more valuable."

Mr. Brutoco was instrumental in the founding of the National Peace Academy, a historic learning institution that focuses on peace through programs that develop an understanding of the self's role in non-violent conflict resolution. The National Peace Academy is preparing the next generation of peace builders who will bring their unique background to communities as well as the corporate, nonprofit, and government workplace.

As Principal and CEO of the ShangriLa Group, Mr. Brutoco consults on the leading edge of business, renewable energy, international micro and macroeconomics, technology and finance.

Madam Speaker, please join me in honor of Rinaldo S. Brutoco a practical visionary, change agent and futurist who has compassionately devoted his life, extensive knowledge and considerable talents to the betterment of life on our planet.

HONORING THE 135TH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. JOHN BAPTIST CHURCH IN FLETCHER, NORTH CAROLINA

HON. HEATH SHULER

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Mr. SHULER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the 135th anniversary of St. John Baptist Church in the town of Fletcher, North Carolina. Since 1875, this church has brought light and joy to the lives of many devoted members.

St. John Baptist Church has long been a sanctuary shared by for those seeking Christ and deserves commendation for its many years of good service to the people of Fletcher. The importance of faith in community rings true in St. John Baptist Church's long and storied history. From its humble beginnings, St. John Baptist Church has grown to be a proud and prominent part of the Fletcher community. Over the past one hundred and thirty-five years, the Church has witnessed many significant moments in history from both World Wars to the Civil Rights Movement.

The strength and longevity of St. John Baptist Church has proven to be an inspiration for many, and I look forward to seeing what the future holds for the Church as it continues its journey through future years. Madame Speaker I urge my colleagues to join me today in congratulating St. John Baptist Church on its outstanding service to the community over its 135-year history.

HONORING FORMER WEST VIRGINIA HOUSE OF DELEGATE MEMBER BEATRICE "JACKIE" WITHROW

HON. NICK J. RAHALL II

OF WEST VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Mr. RAHALL. Madam Speaker, Jackie Withrow was an angel for the ages. She was Florence Nightingale, Susan B. Anthony and Eleanor Roosevelt all rolled into one.

If the Almighty had to pick a day to open Heaven's Gates for Jackie, none could be mean more meaningful than Veteran's Day for no one cared more or worked harder for our veterans. One estimate credited Jackie with 27,500 hours of service to our veterans.

I am sure that number would pale in comparison to all she really did over her lifetime of dedication to our veterans, taking them to church services on Sundays and planning new ways to serve them at all hours.

Many people blaze trails, and Jackie accomplished that but made sure others were able to follow her.

Jackie was always known for breaking new ceilings for women. She cared about that, of course. But I think she and the women who supported her and followed in her footsteps were proudest of the issues on which they could command attention in their day, like health care. Health care was on Jackie's radar screen from the beginning—for our miners, our children, and those needing mental health services.

Senator Bill Wooton led the charge to make sure we would forever be reminded of her trailblazing leadership by appropriately naming a hospital for her.

Bill spoke of "Mercy" and "Justice" to describe Jackie's contributions to us. To those we must surely add, "Commitment" and "Dedication."

Her public service never wavered. Although she served in our state's legislature for a generation, her longest public service was as a good citizen and dependable neighbor.

Long out of office, Jackie continued opening doors of opportunity and opening the eyes of the rest of us. Always with a warm heart and determined will, Jackie Withrow changed our world for the better.

Jackie's lasting legacy to each of us was her fierce loyalty to what she believed in the most—the "least" of us, as Christ taught. And, we recall the loyalty of Ruth in the Old Testament as we celebrate Jackie's loyalty to those who needed her hand and hope the most:

Do not press me to leave you or to turn back from following you!
Where you go, I will go;
Where you lodge, I will lodge;
Your people shall be my people and your God
my God.

Where you die, I will die
There I will be buried.
May the Lord do thus and so to me
And more as well
If even death parts me from you!

Next to my family, Jackie was my earliest and strongest supporter. I will celebrate Jackie's life the rest of my days. I know countless others will never be far from her firm hand of friendship, her warm smile of compassion, and that ever present twinkle in her eye of figuring out how she was going to help.

My family and I offer Jackie's family and her many friends our thoughts and prayers, as we all celebrate this extraordinary woman's life.

TRIBUTE TO LINDA LEHMAN

HON. WILLIAM L. OWENS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 16, 2010

Mr. OWENS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Linda Lehman for being recognized as the 2010 Caregiver of the Year by the Behavioral Health Services North Inc. Caregiver Resource Center in Plattsburgh, NY.

Behavioral Health Services North Inc.'s Caregiver Resource Center bestows the honor of Caregiver of the Year each November, in commemoration of National Family Caregiver's Month. Lehman was chosen as Caregiver of the Year in recognition of her work as full-time caregiver for her father, Reggie Love.

The award is presented in recognition of outstanding service and sacrifice, and Mrs. Lehman's actions have demonstrated exactly this. She has enjoyed a full career as a caregiver, describing her work as a labor of love and crediting her family and friends for providing a support system that is so critical to her work.

Mrs. Lehman's work for her father is representative of what makes our community great, and today I congratulate her on her achievement.
