

and the likelihood of its extension. Responding to this directive, the U.S. Attorney argued that the costs of failure to reauthorize the USPC were so high, and the constitutional issues so serious, that reauthorization was essentially guaranteed. "Congress itself has expressed concern over potential ex post facto problems that a failure to authorize might create," the U.S. Attorney wrote, relying on language from the legislative history of the Parole Phaseout Act of 1996. "Constitutional requirements, specifically the ex post facto clause, necessitate the extension of the commission or the establishment of a similar entity authorized by statute to perform its functions."

The Third Circuit crisis in 2008 led Congress to reauthorize the USPC just in time, but only for another 3 years. The ordeal dealt a serious blow to the USPC. This year, we seek to obtain reauthorization not only well ahead of time, but to avoid a ritualistic reauthorization of a permanent law enforcement agency every 3 years. It will be particularly important to bear in mind that the close call the USPC had in the Third Circuit, could be repeated in the other 11 circuits. It is clear that a timely, simple reauthorization would have been beneficial to all concerned—the USPC, Congress, and the courts. I ask Congress to permanently extend the USPC to ensure the smooth and constitutional operation of the Federal and District of Columbia criminal justice systems.

EXPRESSING APPRECIATION FOR REPRESENTATIVE DALE KILDEE

SPEECH OF

HON. GARY C. PETERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, February 23, 2010

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise here today to honor Congressman DALE KILDEE on the occasion of his twenty thousandth vote.

Congressman KILDEE has proudly represented Flint area residents in Michigan's State House, State Senate and U.S. Congress for over 46 years.

Only missing twenty seven votes during his thirty three years in Congress, with a large portion of those during a hospital stay, Congressman KILDEE has been nicknamed the "Cal Ripken of Congress". His strong work ethic demonstrated in his exceptional voting record has also translated into many legislative victories.

Throughout his career, Congressman KILDEE has been a champion for children, from serving as a local high school teacher, to Chairman of the House Page Program, to working to establish child protection measures and additional development programs for children as a Member of Congress.

As a senior member of the Education and Labor Committee, and as the Democratic Chairman of the Congressional Auto Caucus, Congressman KILDEE has been a tireless supporter of auto workers in Michigan and around the nation, helping to establish worker retraining programs and new job opportunities. Through these efforts, Dale was able to establish a Job Corps Center in Flint to provide vocational and academic training for young people with the goal of helping them to improve their own quality of life.

I am proud to serve alongside my good friend DALE KILDEE, who has been a fighter for the people of Michigan; from his avid protection of our Great Lakes, to his support for worker protection laws and support of children's education. DALE has served as a mentor to me throughout my career in Michigan public office and I am proud to call him a friend, and happy to be able to congratulate him on the occasion of his 20,000th vote here in the House of Representatives.

HONORING CONGRESSMAN
CHARLIE WILSON

HON. MIKE QUIGLEY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 24, 2010

Mr. QUIGLEY. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor of Congressman Charles Wilson, who passed away on February 10th, 2010. Representative Wilson was a great statesman who served the 2nd Congressional District in Texas from 1972–1996.

Charles was born in a small town in Texas, where he developed a deep sense of pride as a Texan and a strong dedication to the American way. As a young man he served in the United States Navy where he rose through the ranks and was given the privilege to serve as part of a Soviet Union nuclear intelligence unit based out of the Pentagon. While serving in the military, 27-year-old Charles was able to effectively run for and win the office of State Representative in his native Texas. This began a 12-year political career in Texas that earned him the nickname "liberal from Lufkin".

In 1972, Wilson was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, where he became most recognized for his role in the dismantling of the communist Soviet Union's occupation of Afghanistan. He deeply believed in the sovereignty of the Afghani people and was able to use his influence on the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense to help provide the funding for their liberation. Although the media has primarily focused on his accomplishments abroad, Charles always maintained Lufkin, Texas as one of his number one priorities. Some of his greatest domestic accomplishments include the creation of the 100,000-acre

Big Thicket National Preserve and the Lufkin VA Hospital.

Madam Speaker, Charles Wilson was a political giant who brought his Texas-sized gusto for democracy and his passion for serving the American people to our Nation's capitol. He will be greatly missed not only by his wife and sister, but by the American people.

RECOGNIZING HONDA'S MANUFACTURING COMMITMENT TO THE UNITED STATES

HON. JIM JORDAN

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 24, 2010

Mr. JORDAN of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I am honored to commend to the House the extraordinary commitments made by Honda over the last three decades to create jobs and expand its solid manufacturing base in Ohio and throughout the nation.

In 1979, Honda opened manufacturing operations in the United States with small-scale production of dirt bikes in Marysville, Ohio. From that initial footprint, Honda has grown into one of our nation's most important job creators, with nine manufacturing and thirteen research and development facilities located across the nation. Honda directly employs roughly 27,000 Americans—15,000 in my home state alone.

With so much focus on jobs moving overseas, Madam Speaker, it is often too easy to overlook the value and importance of direct foreign investment in this nation. The more than $12 billion invested by Honda in the United States—with $7 billion of that invested in Ohio alone—supports not only those 27,000 employees but also more than 340,000 others employed at Honda suppliers, dealers, and servicers nationwide.

Honda was the first Asian automaker to build products in the U.S., recognizing the value of siting manufacturing plants in sales markets. Since 1996, three in four Honda and Acura automobiles sold in this country have been manufactured in North America. The company's total U.S. auto production reached one million in 2007—with 700,000 produced at Ohio's Honda plants.

Three communities in my district are home to major Honda facilities. More than 2,750 are employed in Anna, which produces engines, drivshafts, and brake components. The transmission manufacturing facility in Russells Point employs an additional 1,050. The 2,500 workers at the plant in East Liberty assemble the Crosstour, CR-V, and Element. Thousands more in my district work at the dozens of companies of all sizes that provide parts to these facilities.
