

Franklin was a deist. He said these words: "I have lived, sir, a long time. And the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth: God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid?"

He went on, and Franklin said, "We have been assured, sir, in the sacred writing that except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." He said, "I firmly believe this. And I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel." And he went on to speak longer and then said, "I, therefore, move henceforth we begin every day with prayer in this room." And from that day, June 28, 1787, to this day today that we are about to wrap up, we begin with prayer.

So America works when people let their elected representatives hear from them and let them know their mind. It works when we do what Ben Franklin suggested. That doesn't sound like a deist.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I yield back.
