

TRANSPORTATION, HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2011

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 5850.

□ 1355

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 5850) making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, and Housing and Urban Development, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2011, and for other purposes, with Mr. SNYDER in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to the rule, the bill is considered read the first time.

The gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) and the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 10 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, it is my privilege and pleasure to present the fiscal year 2011 Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies appropriations bill to the House.

I want to thank all of the subcommittee members for their input and help with writing this bill. In particular, I would like to recognize my ranking member, TOM LATHAM, for his valuable insights during the 13 hearings the subcommittee held covering the budgets and the challenges facing transportation and housing. We do not always agree, but I greatly appreciate his partnership, and his input has made the bill better.

I also want to recognize the hard work of our staff, specifically on the minority side, Dena Baron—who I notice is soon to multiply—Matt McCardle and Doug Bobbitt, and on the majority side, Kate Hallahan, David Napoliello, Laura Hogshead, Sylvia Garcia, Patrick Hatch, Eve Goldsher, Kristin Palmer, and Blair Anderson. My ranking member and I are lucky to have such a dedicated staff who work amicably and respectfully together. They have spent many late nights putting this bill together, and we would not be here today without their hard work.

The committee-reported bill provides $67.4 billion in discretionary resources, a decrease of $500 million below the FY 2010 enacted level and more than $1.3 billion below the President's request. Within an allocation that is 2 percent below the President's request, we have still been able to develop a bill that creates jobs through investments in infrastructure and supports families that have been hit the hardest by the foreclosure crisis. These targeted increases are possible because the bill makes a number of significant reductions from the budget request by not funding $4.8 billion in new, unauthorized initiatives that were proposed by the administration, including the National Infrastructure Bank, the Choice Neighborhoods program, and a major program to transform how our 3,200 public housing authorities function.

Specifically within transportation, investments are targeted to areas that will create skilled jobs immediately and build the infrastructure that underpins future economic growth. The fact remains that our transportation network has great investment needs with aging highways, bridges, and transit systems, and an air traffic control system in desperate need of modernization. It is my belief that we can no longer defer investments in our transportation systems, which provide the foundation for our Nation's economy.

Specifically, the bill provides: $45.2 billion for the Federal Highway Administration, which is an increase of $3.9 billion above the President's request, that will allow States to complete additional infrastructure projects, spur the economy, and create approximately 142,000 new jobs.

It provides $11.3 billion for public transportation programs, an increase in total budgetary resources of $508 million above the President's request, in order to help address the nearly $80 billion maintenance backlog needed to meet a state of good repair on the Nation's fixed guideway and bus systems.

It provides a total of $3.2 billion for Amtrak, the High-Speed Intercity Passenger Rail program, and investments in Positive Train Control. This includes a $127.5 million increase for the first year of Amtrak's fleet plan that will support the development of a domestic manufacturing base for locomotives and railcars, and it provides $1.16 billion for NextGen, to modernize our outdated air traffic control system, which will reduce operational costs and allow airlines to utilize our airspace more efficiently.

Within housing, we were able to use a portion of the savings, which I mentioned above, to fill holes where the President eliminated or deeply cut vital programs, including:

Restoring funding to construct housing units for the elderly and disabled to their fiscal 2010 levels;

Restoring $75 million for 10,000 new VASH housing vouchers, which continues Congress' commitment to homeless veterans;

Providing $200 million for HOPE VI to rehabilitate the most severely distressed public housing communities in the Nation; and Restoring $455 million to the Public Housing Capital Fund to help Public Housing Authorities make critical repairs and improvements to public housing units. Every dollar invested in this program returns over $2 to the local economies and to the construction industry.

This bill also recognizes that, as the foreclosure crisis continues and with experts estimating that a record 1 million households will lose homes in 2010, access to supportive services is critical.

To that extent, the bill continues the National Reinvestment Corporation's Foreclosure Mitigation Counseling program, because homeowners who receive such counseling through this program are 60 percent more likely to avoid foreclosure than those who do not use such aid. It provides $2.2 billion for homeless assistance grants to shelter families forced from their homes, and it takes a strong step forward in our commitment to reducing chronic homelessness.

Overall, HUD programs are maintained at levels that will ensure affordable housing opportunities are available as families recover from the economic downturn.

More broadly, this bill recognizes that the current paradigm in which affordable housing is connected to unaffordable commutes is unsustainable for families' budgets. As such, the bill provides $677 million to coordinate transportation and infrastructure investments with the availability of housing and community services in order to decrease transportation costs, improve access to jobs and services, promote healthy communities, and enhance community connectivity.

Finally, I expect many Members to come before this body today to talk about reducing spending and the moral imperative of not leaving a deficit for future generations. Let me remind everyone that the investments in this bill address another looming deficit, specifically our transportation and housing infrastructure deficit.

The Department of Transportation's most recent Conditions and Performance Report indicates there is an annual investment gap of $26.9 billion to maintain our current system of highways and bridges and an annual gap of $95.9 billion to improve the system. Every dollar deferred today will catch up to the next generation in the form of falling bridges, broken roads, deteriorating housing, and an economy choked by congestion.

In conclusion, we worked hard to balance many competing needs to produce a bill that reflects the bipartisan needs of transportation and housing and that puts Americans back to work. I am pleased with the product, and I urge Members to support it.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I am going to be very brief as Mr. OLVER has told us an awful lot about H.R. 5850, the fiscal year 2011 Transportation and Housing, or THUD, bill.

I just want to say, on a personal level, thank you to Chairman OLVER for his ability to work together on this bill. He has been a true gentleman and very, very cooperative. He has reached out and has really made this a pleasure to go through the entire hearing process this year.

I also want to thank the staff for all of their hard work. Mr. OLVER has already named the staff members, but I also want to make sure that they know how much we appreciate all of their hard work.

I really believe, this year, that we did have an opportunity to adhere to a normal appropriations process. We have a closed or a modified open rule here today, and it hasn't always been easy throughout the whole process. We did have a very entertaining and, I think, a very productive hearing season, and I appreciate all of the efforts to bring some of the housing and transportation concerns to light, especially when the chairman and I don't always agree on the best solutions to tackle these complicated issues of spending, housing, and transportation.

The result of those hearings is the bill before us, totaling $67.4 billion, which is a mere $500 million below the fiscal year 2010 levels. Before we celebrate this reduction, we need to remember that the fiscal year 2010 bill was a whopping 23 percent over the year before. I want to say that again. The bill last year was 23 percent higher than the year before that. So, really, the $500 million reduction in this bill is a drop in the bucket of where we need to go to bring us back to some sanity and a reasonable state.

While Mr. OLVER is a most accommodating chairman, I do have some disagreements with some of the funding decisions he has made in the bill before us. I know the administration has come to Chairman OLVER and has complained that he didn't fund each and every new idea in the bill—and I commend him for that. However, in light of the drastic deficit situation that is facing this country, I would prefer a little more critique and restraint on some of the new, untested, and expensive programs before proposing funding at or above the President's request.

Livability? Sustainability? Have we defined these concepts? Obviously not, since this bill gives the Department of Transportation $4 million to figure out how to measure livability.

Should we be asking the American taxpayers to give us $4 million for the Department of Transportation to go and figure out what they want to do in your local communities when families are trying to keep their homes and invest in their businesses? I would say no.

Another example, really, is high-speed rail. The President got $8 billion in the stimulus bill for high-speed rail back in 2009, and only a very small fraction of that $8 billion has gone out the door as the Federal Railroad Administration is still working with recipients of those funds to nail down a grant agreement. The only industry that has been stimulated by the high-speed rail funds are the planners and the lobbyists. Yet this bill gives another $400 million on top of the President's request of $1 billion and on top of the whopping $2.5 billion they got in fiscal year 2010.

So if this bill becomes law, the taxpayers will have given—or more appropriately, borrowed—almost $12 billion for high-speed rail, and we still don't have one single operating high-speed rail line on the horizon.

Is this a horrible bill? No, it's not. Does it spend too much? Certainly, it does.

I would encourage Members to give careful consideration to the few amendments that are made in order today. There are some very thoughtful amendments that would reduce the cost of this bill, which would still fund the core programs under THUD at a respectable level.

In closing, I want to thank Chairman OBEY, Chairman OLVER, Ranking Member LEWIS, and all of the members of the subcommittee for getting this bill to the House floor. Again, I would like to thank the staff, both the committee staff and personal office staff, for all of their hard work in putting together this legislative package.

I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1410

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY), the chairman of the full committee.

Mr. OBEY. I thank the gentleman for the time.

Mr. Chairman, I would describe this bill as a fiscally responsible jobs bill. It is below the President's request by $1.3 billion, and below last year by one-half billion dollars.

Last year, the Recovery Act demonstrated that investments in transportation and housing both support decent paying jobs, while providing critical infrastructure investments.

Let me review some of the facts: To help the economy save jobs, we put over $60 billion in the Recovery Act for transportation and housing programs. With the exception of two new programs that were created in that bill, nearly all of the money, 98 percent, has been obligated. It has started over 14,000 transportation construction projects supporting an average of 41,000 direct jobs each quarter. It has rehabilitated or developed more than 188,000 units of low-income housing, and served over 357,000 low-income individuals through housing for the homeless.

But the economic downturn was far worse than was predicted. There are still many families reeling from the housing crisis. In fact, approximately 6 million homes have been foreclosed upon in the past 3 years, and our roads, bridges and mass transit systems are in desperate need of additional investment.

The Department of Transportation states that there is a yearly investment gap of $27 billion just to maintain our current highways and bridges. And the state of our transit system isn't much better.

This bill increases the amount that can be spent on highways and transit by a modest $4.5 billion over fiscal 2010, and over the President's request, even as we come in under last year and under the President's request overall. According to DOT's job model estimates, this increase will support more than 150,000 transportation jobs.

In addition, vulnerable populations affected by the economic downturn, such as the homeless, the elderly and the disabled, are also supported in this bill through programs such as funding for section 8 housing vouchers. We have $113 million for foreclosure mitigation counseling. The bill also includes $75 million for 10,000 additional vouchers for homeless veterans, support for the homeless, with $2.2 billion allocated for housing and services, and a new demonstration linking HUD and HHS funding to better support these families and individuals.

Low-income individuals have disproportionately been affected by this economic crisis. We need to focus instead on the right kind of affordable housing for seniors, the disabled and the homeless. That's what this bill does, and I urge support of it.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS), the ranking member.

Mr. LEWIS of California. I very much appreciate my colleague yielding.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to start my remarks by paying tribute to one of the great staff members we have around here. Dena Baron wants us to get through quickly, for she's just about ready to give delivery to her second child. And for those who are curious about all of that, Dena is planning to deliver us a baby girl.

I very much want to express, Mr. Chairman, my appreciation and thanks to Chairman OLVER and Ranking Member LATHAM for their efforts in producing this legislation. While they may not agree on the overall spending level for this bill, they have worked together in a bipartisan fashion. While they have real policy differences, Chairman OLVER and Mr. LATHAM know that it's in the best interest of the House and the American public to get this bill done.

Yesterday's passage of the MILCON-VA bill marked the second latest date in the last 15 years that the House passed its first regular appropriations bill. The only other year in recent history with a more dismal record was 2 years ago when MILCON-VA was the first—and only—appropriations bill brought to the floor—on August 1.

Astonishing that we are now 2 months away from beginning the new fiscal year, and only a day away from the 6-week August congressional recess, and we are only now considering the second of 12 annual spending bills.

So far this year, 11 of the 12 funding bills have been marked up in subcommittee. And yet, only two of the 12 bills have been considered by the full Appropriations Committee. Those two bills, the bill we passed yesterday and the bill we're considering today, are likely to be the only bills passed by the House this year.

The full Appropriations Committee was scheduled to mark up the Agriculture and Homeland Security bills 2 days ago. As members of the committee began to enter the room for those markups at 3 p.m., the session was abruptly postponed, and as of this moment, there's been no explanation.

Let me state the obvious as clearly as I can. This year's appropriations process has been a complete and utter failure. Members of both sides of the aisle have voiced frustration for months about the committee's inability to get its work done. Traditionally, June and July are the months we're debating and passing our spending bills. Not this year, Mr. Chairman. Not this year.

As Mr. WOLF pointed out last night, this has become the "Suspension Congress." This year, the Appropriations Committee—once known as the "Workhorse Committee"—has done virtually nothing. The House itself has done very little in the way of substantive work, instead debating frivolous bills on the suspension calendar. Week after week, the majority leader has given away Friday legislative sessions because the Democrat majority refuses to move appropriations bills, and because there was no other legislative work to keep Members in town.

It's also worth noting, Mr. Chairman, that on the very rare occasion when our appropriations bills are brought to the floor, they are brought up under a closed rule to stifle debate on issues that the Democratic majority would prefer to ignore until after the election.

All Members, whether they're Republicans or Democrats, have a legitimate right to offer and debate amendments under the longstanding traditional open rule process governing appropriations bills. This includes those amendments that would strike what Members believe to be excessive levels of spending.

Had Republicans been afforded the opportunity to offer amendments under open rules, there's little doubt that much of our effort would be geared towards reducing spending. It was just last week that Democratic members of the Appropriations Committee rejected a Republican amendment in full committee that would have pared back overall discretionary spending this year by $31 billion from Chairman OBEY's generous allocation, and $39 billion from the President's request.

In addition, Republicans have offered amendments in committee this year to reduce spending by over $70 billion. Each and every amendment to reduce the rate of growth of spending has been defeated on a party-line vote. Unfortunately, my Democratic colleagues have not offered a single vote in support of those cuts.

According to the OMB Mid-Session Budget Review, the annual budget deficit is projected to reach a record of $1.47 trillion this year. As a percentage of the economy, it's the largest deficit since World War II. With the Federal Government now borrowing 41 cents on every dollar it spends, and with spending continuing at record levels, it appears that there's little relief in sight.

Indeed, the Obama Administration is conceding that these large deficits are here to stay. According to the President's own numbers, the national debt, which was at $5.8 trillion at the end of 2008, will soar to $18.5 trillion by the end of this decade.

These future deficits are driven almost entirely by rising levels of government spending. I know there's a tendency among some of my friends to blame President Bush for everything, but the fact is that President Obama's budget would push inflation-adjusted Federal spending over $36,000 per household by the year 2020. This is $12,000 above the level per-household that existed under President Bush. Even President Obama's enormous $3 trillion tax increase proposal won't stop this spending from pushing the national debt to even more dangerous levels.

With the mid-session budget review, the Obama White House has now confirmed what committee Republicans have been saying all year: That the Democrat majority's agenda of run-away spending, surging taxes, and soaring budget deficits is leading to historic deficits and record levels of debt. The only way out of this deficit and debt nightmare is to curb Uncle Sam's appetite for spending. We simply must do something about the rising tide of red ink before we're overcome by it. I ask my colleagues on the other side of the aisle how many more shocking budget projections we need before you join us in saying enough is enough?

With that, Mr. Chairman, I urge a "no" vote on final passage.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. KILPATRICK), a very valued member of the Appropriations subcommittee.

Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan. Thank you, Mr. OLVER, our outstanding chairman who has brought us this far.

I want to thank Kate Hallahan and the rest of the staff for working to bring this bill to the floor with us. It's a very complicated bill, but it is the bill in the Federal Government that will put America back to work rebuilding our crumbling infrastructure, providing jobs across America, doing the things that are necessary so we take care of Americans who have lost their jobs, helping the institutions of higher learning so they train, and be able to keep their tuitions lower, so that our children can build a better America as we go forward.

This is a good bill. It's a bill that's been worked for the betterment of America. It's an artistic compilation of ideas and investments that will make America strong again as we move into the 21st century.

Chairman OLVER and Ms. Hallahan and the staff and the rest of us should be commended. We wish we had more. This bill is $1 billion less than what the President gave us because we recognize that our Nation is in crisis. So we had to work with what we had and have some outstanding programs put together in an artistic way that America is invested in again, that our crumbling roads and bridges can be fixed, and that we might put people back to work, help our institutions of higher education, and build a better America.

There are several things I want to highlight in the bill just briefly. Most of you know that our veteran population, who have given their lives to this country, many have returned home. They have returned home unemployed. Many are homeless. There have been studies all over America now from various institutions how homeless veterans must have housing, jobs. This Congress has passed the best veterans bill in several decades. And we are getting to that so that our veterans, who dedicate their lives for our safety, can have those opportunities.

We provide in our Transportation-HUD bill resources for veterans who are now homeless. It's a great opportunity for us to show to our veterans that the Federal Government they worked so hard to secure is in their corner. Let's not accept any amendments that would reduce that.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. OLVER. I yield the gentlelady 1 additional minute.

Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Also we have a program that's called reinvesting into our infrastructure, reinvesting TIGER grants. TIGER is acronym that allows us to invest money. There were over $50 billion worth of investments asked for. Our bill has only under $2 billion. So in TIGER I, many communities were not able to partake. These TIGER grants go right from the Federal Government to communities to help rebuild all kinds of programs that are related to transportation and HUD, putting people back to work. They are very competitive. Let's not accept any amendment that would make it more hard, more difficult for communities to compete with one another for these limited dollars.

TIGER grants, veterans homeless assistance, and other things within this budget, roads, bridges, train dollars, this is a good bill. I commend Ms. Hallahan as well as our chairman. The other side has been working with us pretty good as well. Yes, we have to fix the deficit, but you don't do it on the least of these.

Mr. Chairman, I hope that we will pass this bill and move it onto the Senate, a good bill, beginning to put America back to work.

Mr. Chair, I rise today to support the FY2011 Transportation-Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Bill, H.R. 5850. The FY2011 Transportation-Housing and Urban Development bill before us today addresses a number of housing and transportation challenges.

There is such a broad consensus affirming the great needs for transportation infrastructure investments and for affordable housing throughout the country.

The total budgetary resources include $67.4 billion in discretionary appropriations for the departments and agencies, which is $1.3 billion less than requested by the administration, and $500 million below the FY 2010 appropriations.

This bill seeks to address the need to invest in transportation infrastructure that will create jobs and ensure that our roads, rails, ports and airports are safe. This bill also seeks to address the need for affordable housing through investments in basic program management tools that will improve HUD's ability to operate efficiently as an organization.

Priorities in the bill are focused on investing in the nation's infrastructure to support jobs; supporting vulnerable populations in a difficult economic climate; ensuring safe transportation; building healthy communities with environmentally sustainable solutions; and ensuring responsible management and oversight of government investments.

Overall, the bill balances the housing and transportation needs of the country within current fiscal constraints. Investments are targeted to critical housing and infrastructure needs that will keep this economy moving forward.

The THUD Committee and staff have worked hard to bring a THUD bill that will balance the needs for housing and transportation programs with the call to cut wasteful spending.

Mr. Chair, this is a good bill and I ask all of my colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. PENCE).

(Mr. PENCE asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Well, it's truly remarkable to come to the floor on what may be the second to last day of a long summer session and only be considering the second out of the 12 appropriations bills that Congress historically has spent the entire summer considering. As the distinguished ranking member of the committee said moments ago, this is only the second. We did the first of 12 yesterday.

And as we come to the floor today to speak about the Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, Mr. Chairman, I can't even tell you that this bill is over the budget because not only have we spent the entire summer not appropriating the Federal budget, as Congress is obligated to do, but the Democrat majority didn't even pass a budget. Didn't even try to pass a budget. I mean it really is extraordinary. You can't say this bill exceeds the budget because the majority didn't even pass a budget.

Now, I heard the distinguished chairman of the full committee, who has my respect, the gentleman from Wisconsin, refer to this bill as fiscally responsible. I respect the gentleman. I believe, maybe grading on the curve that he is grading on, maybe it is. But the American people deserve to know the truth about this bill. It is a fact this bill does spend less than—1 percent less than last year's bill. But what they're kind of leaving out of the fine print is last year's bill was a 23 percent increase from the previous year. That didn't even include the $62 billion in related funding that was included in the so-called stimulus bill that's only stimulated more deficits and more debt. I mean it really is incredible.

And this bill, as has been mentioned by other colleagues in this debate, this bill is an earmark factory, with 459 earmarks in this bill, less than one-tenth of 1 percent of which are related to Republican Members of Congress. In fact, the House Republicans made a decision to refrain from submitting earmarks altogether because we believe the American people are tired of borrowing and spending as usual in Washington, D.C. They're tired of an earmarking culture and a favor factory here in Washington, D.C.

The truth is, as I look at this extraordinary piece of legislation and I think of a $1.47 trillion deficit this year, this massive spending bill just seems to be emblematic of the fact that this majority just doesn't get it. They don't understand that the American people are bone weary of deficits and debt and spending as usual. And they long for leadership in Washington, D.C., that's willing to play it straight, make the hard choices.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. PENCE. And this fall they will have the opportunity to elect a majority that will do just that.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The CHAIR. Members are advised to heed the gavel.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ISRAEL), who is a member of the full committee.

□ 1430

Mr. ISRAEL. I thank the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts for recognizing me.

Mr. Chair, I've listened to the points from the other side, and Mr. Chair, my friend from Indiana said the American people are tired of borrowing and spending. Yeah, they are tired of it. They had 8 years of it on the other side. The other side, when they took control, we had a $5.6 trillion surplus. They squandered that and left us $10 trillion in debt. So I think lectures need to be fact-based and not faith-based.

This bill addresses two of the great challenges we have in the United States. We have an aging, deficient infrastructure, and we have millions of people who still need jobs. And this bill addresses both.

Infrastructure: 153,000 bridges in the United States have been rated functionally obsolete or deficient; 162,000 miles of Federal highway have been rated unacceptable. Traffic delays are costing America's small businesses and the American people $78 billion every year. Just in New York City, aviation delays cost our local economy $1.8 billion.

The American Society of Civil Engineers does an annual report card on infrastructure and routinely gives grades of C, D, and F to transportation systems, broadband, and our ports.

Meanwhile, Mr. Chair, in China, they're going to build 97 new airports over the next 12 years; in Spain, they're going to make a $150 billion investment in high-speed rail; in India, 276 port projects, $12 billion investment to double port capacity.

This bill stops the surrender of infrastructure investments to China and to Spain and to India. This bill makes us more competitive in a global economy. This bill creates jobs. Every billion dollars that we invest in infrastructure creates 47,500 jobs and returns $6 billion to our economy.

Mr. Chair, Americans have always done best when we build America—the Erie Canal, the Transcontinental Railroad, the Federal Interstate Highway System.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield the gentleman 1 additional minute.

Mr. ISRAEL. We always do best when we are building with our hands, when we are standing and growing with this economy, putting people to work, manufacturing for a better economy. And this bill turns away 8 years of neglect on infrastructure and starts to rebuild America again and create jobs in the process.

This is a jobs bill. Vote "no" on this bill and you are killing jobs and surrendering to China and Spain and other countries. Vote "yes" and you are creating jobs, investing in this infrastructure, and strengthening America again.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield myself 1 minute.

I just want to tell the gentleman—and I don't want to get into a partisan fight here, but there was not one person on the other side of the aisle who voted to double infrastructure spending in the stimulus bill, spend half as much money overall, and by the President's own top economic adviser, would have created twice as many jobs as what did the stimulus bill that was actually passed and signed into law.

Our motion to recommit was to double the funding for infrastructure, if anybody's forgotten that. That was exactly what it was so that we could have actually created jobs here in the United States. The gentleman apparently forgets that he voted against that.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER).

Mr. BLUMENAUER. I appreciate the gentleman's courtesy, and I commend the subcommittee on its work to refine the administration's proposal, reduce it a billion dollars, but nonetheless deal with the challenges that face the American people.

And Mr. OLVER is right, as is my friend from New York, in talking about how we're losing an infrastructure challenge globally, which is apparent to anybody who travels overseas. This is an important piece of legislation that struggles to help make the Federal Government a better partner in rebuilding and renewing America.

I have great respect for my good friend from Iowa, but I must respectfully disagree. The programs dealing with livability are, in fact, refined and tested. That's why there was such an outpouring of support for things like the TIGER grants. They are popular, and they are already making a difference, as we see, around the country.

As for high-speed rail . . . give me a break. Yes, the administration did move forward with $8 billion for high-speed rail, which takes a little time to work through the process, but China is going to spend more in the next couple of months than we will in the next 3 years, illustrating how we are losing that effort.

Livable communities were actually developed by this subcommittee in the last Congress. The administration took the work that you Mr. Chairman developed, they refined it, they expanded it, and I think it's to your credit for what you have done.

I am saddened by an ill-advised amendment by my friend and colleague, Mr. DEFAZIO from Oregon, targeting transportation livability programs that, in fact, if they were allowed to move forward, would give us a head start on what I think the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee wants to happen with their reauthorization. They know that's important. This would allow a head start on communities large and small, rural and urban, to be able to get ahead of the curve and make those programs work better.

Even more ill-advised, I think, is an amendment from PETERS, ALDER, and HIMES to cut some of the guts this effort from TIGER grants, high-speed rail, Brownfields, HOPE VI, housing for veterans. These are programs that, in community after community, people have acknowledged are important. These have economic vitality. They give communities tools. They leverage far more than the Federal investment.

I would suggest that rather than targeting products of a thoughtful rebalancing that came out of this committee, our goal instead should be to support the committee in its efforts refining the administration's proposal, help rebuild and renew America with infrastructure that is failing and out of date and losing competitiveness. We should reauthorize the Surface Transportation Act.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. OLVER. I yield an additional minute to the gentleman.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. This is the home stretch.

We have had examples, for the last 14 years that I've been in Congress, where communities are struggling to figure out how to put the pieces together. I commend the committee for its work to try and give the tools the communities need to stretch Federal dollars, to be able to encourage private sector investments, to build on models of proven success, the cutting edge of architecture, of construction, of energy conservation, water. These are areas that America desperately needs. I think it would be shortsighted to cut back on this fine work.

I will guarantee you over the course of the next decade that Congresses and future administrations are going to build on the foundation that you've established. I hope that this Congress does its part by moving this forward and supporting the subcommittee's important work.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. HENSARLING).

Mr. HENSARLING. I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, the American people are asking this Congress and this President what part of "broke" don't you understand. Already we have seen, on June 30, the third largest one-day increase in the national debt in our history: $166 billion larger than the entire annual deficit of 2007. Already this year the deficit has crossed the trillion dollar mark for only the second time in American history. Of course, the first time, as we know, was last year.

We are looking at the largest national debt in our Nation's history. As a percentage of our economy, it rivals that of World War II, and it's only due to get worse.

And yet since the Democratic majority has come in, President Obama has been elected, this body has gone on a spending spree, today borrowing 41 cents on the dollar, mainly from the Chinese, to send the bill to our children and our grandchildren. At one time Mr. HOYER of Maryland, now the House majority leader, said to run deficits was akin to "fiscal child abuse," and now all we seemingly hear from the other side is the refrain, "Que sera sera."

So today we have an appropriations bill, one, Mr. Chairman, that's coming to this floor without a budget. First time in the history of the House the House hasn't even attempted to pass a budget. Well, Mr. Chairman, I guess the only reason you want a budget is because you want a limit on spending. If you don't want to limit your spending, you don't need a budget. So we have no budget. We're going directly to the appropriations bill, and in this case, the THUD bill is 39 percent larger than it was in fiscal 2008, the year before the Democrats went on their spending spree. You know, Mr. Chairman, again, how much of this spending meets the test of borrowing 41 cents on the dollar, mainly from the Chinese, sending the bill to our children and our grandchildren?

I have the pleasure of serving on the President's Fiscal Responsibility Commission. It is chaired by the gentleman from North Carolina Erskine Bowles, former chief of staff to President Clinton. He likens the national debt, quote, this debt is like a cancer that's truly going to destroy the country from within, and yet, Mr. Chairman, our Democratic majority brings to the floor a bill spending 38 percent more than just a few years ago.

Recently, it was reported in The Hill that our chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said, The Nation's debt is the biggest threat to U.S. national security. Yet the Democratic majority brings a bill to this floor spending 38 percent more on THUD than just 3 years ago.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield the gentleman 1 additional minute.

Mr. HENSARLING. The director of the Congressional Budget Office, Doug Elmendorf, Democratic appointee, has said, quote, U.S. fiscal policy is unsustainable, unsustainable to an extent that it can't be solved through minor changes. Yet the Democratic majority brings a bill spending 38 percent more since when they came into office.

Economist Robert Samuelson has said that this spending could, quote, trigger an economic and political death boggle. Yet, the Democratic majority brings a bill spending 38 percent more from when they took over.

You know, Mr. Chairman, Americans have seen what is going on in Greece. They've seen the riots in the street. Greece is having to sell sovereign territory. Their debt in relation to their economy is about 112 percent. Ours is at 90 percent.

We are truly at a tipping point which is why the American people are saying: what part of broke don't you understand? No Nation can borrow, spend or bail out its way to economic prosperity. This bill needs to be rejected.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Illinois (Ms. BEAN) for the purposes of a colloquy.

Ms. BEAN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, for yielding and for your thoughtful leadership and stewardship on our Nation's transportation resources and your commitment to strengthening America's competitiveness.

I strongly support the renewed focus and investment in our Nation's critical rail infrastructure. Yet I continue to have grave concerns about the impacts of freight rail traffic on communities whose road infrastructure was not designed to accommodate increased levels of rail traffic.

In communities in my district in Illinois, those concerns include blocked crossings that cause traffic bottlenecks; safety threats due to decreased mobility of emergency responders; safety issues due to increased car volumes and speeds; noise and air pollution; and interference with proposed commuter rail expansions.

The recent acquisition of the EJ&E by Canadian National promises to significantly increase daily rail traffic. This would necessitate construction of over a dozen grade separations, like underpasses and overpasses, to ensure adequate safety and traffic flow. With each construction project estimated at costs of tens of millions of dollars, the impact of this federally approved rail transaction rises to the level of regional and national significance. Municipalities like Barrington and others along the EJ&E need DOT funding to help their communities continue to function which is why we need a multiyear surface transportation reauthorization moving forward to address such needs nationwide.

While funding for grade separation construction will come from the FHA in this bill, the FRA and STB must continue to work together to align transportation and safety priorities. State and local governments cannot be expected to bear the burden of accommodating regionally and nationally significant freight movement. It's in everyone's interest that Federal agencies partner with communities to ensure the impacts of such freight are mitigated to a reasonable and practicable extent.

I would like to point out that crossing hazard reduction efforts should not be limited to high-speed rail corridors. The vast majority of our rail network continues to be comprised of non-high-speed rail, regardless of maximum potential train speed.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. OLVER. I yield the gentlewoman an additional 2 minutes.

Ms. BEAN. I yield to the chairman.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I am glad to work with the gentlewoman from Illinois on grade separation issues which impact our transportation networks and communities across the country, all over the country. The problem you describe is exactly the type of project that should be addressed in the TIGER grant program, which works to address transportation issues of regional and national significance and particularly ones which are intermodal in nature.

Ms. BEAN. I agree with the chairman, and I thank you for giving me the opportunity to speak on these important issues. I look forward to working with you further on it.

Mr. LATHAM. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Wisconsin (Ms. MOORE) for the purposes of a colloquy.

Ms. MOORE of Wisconsin. I thank you, distinguished Chairman OLVER.

I rise to bring to your attention a critical infrastructure need in the Fourth Congressional District of Wisconsin. The Hoan Bridge, a vital thoroughfare in my community, connects downtown Milwaukee to the near southside southern suburbs, on to the airport and beyond to the interstate, but it's rapidly deteriorating. Chunks of concrete have been falling off the bridge, and of course, that has created a significant safety hazard.

My constituents really rely on the Hoan Bridge, and it accommodates about 43,000 vehicles per day. I trust, Representative OLVER, that you will agree that ensuring the bridge's structural integrity and the safety of my constituents is of urgent importance.

I yield to the chairman.

Mr. OLVER. I thank the gentlewoman from Wisconsin for raising this issue, and I've come to realize and I appreciate how important this bridge is to you and your constituents.

The committee, which looks at many critical infrastructure issues like this one across the country, stands ready to work with you on this project in the future.

Ms. MOORE of Wisconsin. I thank you, Representative OLVER. I look forward to working with you as well to ensure the viability of this important bridge, the Hoan Bridge.

Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD. Mr. Chair. I am pleased to rise in support of H.R. 5850, the Fiscal Year 2011 Transportation Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Bill.

As a member of the Subcommittee, I would like to thank Chairman JOHN OLVER and Ranking Member TOM LATHAM for their hard work on this bill. At a time when so many are struggling to keep roofs over their heads and to stay employed, I believe this bill makes wise investments in our nation's housing and transportation infrastructure needs.

For example, the FY11 THUD Appropriations bill will allow HUD to renew all project-based Section 8 rental contracts for a full 12 months. This will help ensure that the nearly 1.3 million low-income families that currently reside in project-based Section 8 housing will not lose their homes.

The Committee has also recognized the unique housing needs of some of our most vulnerable Americans, restoring and increasing funding for the Section 811 and Section 202 programs for the elderly and the disabled. The bill provides $85 million in vouchers to get homeless veterans off the streets and it increases funding for Homeless Assistance Block Grants, which provide permanent and transitional housing for homeless families and individuals.

In addition to these important housing programs, the bill makes important investments necessary to maintain and expand our nation's transportation infrastructure which is critical to our continuing economic recovery efforts. At a time when high unemployment persists, focusing on investments in our transportation infrastructure is an essential job-stimulator.

I want to also specifically highlight two rail issues that I requested the committee to address in the bill: positive train control and environmental and quality of life concerns along proposed high speed rail routes.

First, the bill includes funding for positive train control (PTC) to help prevent railroad collisions. In 2008 the community of Chatsworth in Los Angeles County suffered a tragic head-on train collision between a commuter train and freight train. Tragically eleven lives were lost and dozens more were injured. That awful accident, as well as the deadly 2009 WMATA collision here in our nation's capital, could have been prevented had this train control technology already been operating in both of these rail systems. The funding in the bill will help with the development of technologies to override human error or mechanical failure and automatically prevent collisions such as the Chatsworth crash.

The second rail issue concerns our commitment to protect the residents along new high speed rail routes. In the rush to build a national high speed rail system in our country, I believe it absolutely essential that we ensure careful and thoughtful decisions particularly as they regard impacts on residential communities. Accordingly, the committee report includes important language to ensure that the concerns of poor and minority communities are taken into account in routing these projects.

Building a high speed rail route along existing transportation corridors in communities like Los Angeles may minimize the negative impact to many communities. However, the damage done decades ago to many poor and minority neighborhoods along those corridors by rail and interstate system construction may be exacerbated by construction of the high speed rail system. These communities continue to suffer from the environmental and health impacts long after their neighborhoods were dissected by past construction.

The report directs the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to carefully consider the effects of using existing or new transportation corridors in its analysis of proposed routes. The report also directs the FRA to identify appropriate mitigation measures particularly to offset any negative effects identified in regards to minority populations and low-income populations.

Mr. Chair, I am happy to support passage of this important bill. The funding included in this legislation is critical to building and maintaining our transportation infrastructure, creating jobs, and protecting the housing needs of America's most vulnerable populations. I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong support of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oregon, Mr. DEFAZIO, which makes $200 million in livable community grants provided by this Act contingent on an authorization by Congress.

While I support the vast majority of the bill before us today, and I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. OLVER, for providing substantial and much-needed investment in our Federal transportation programs, I do have concerns with the impact aspects of this Act will have on surface transportation programs.

Unfortunately, certain aspects of H.R. 5850 would enable the Administration to continue to avoid engaging with Congress to enact comprehensive surface transportation authorization legislation.

H.R. 5850 includes some good initiatives in the areas of livable communities, distracted driving, and funding for transit operating expenses. These initiatives, however, should be considered in the context of a comprehensive surface transportation authorization bill.

For the past three years, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, led by Mr. DEFAZIO, has conducted a thorough review of the needs of the nation's surface transportation network. Throughout this process, it has become clear that there is a broad consensus on the need to fundamentally transform highway, highway safety, and public transportation programs to meet the needs of the 21st century surface transportation network. But changes to these programs must be considered as part of a holistic rewrite of the entire surface transportation program, not piecemeal in an annual appropriations bill.

I understand that the Administration has requested the Livable Communities Initiative be included in the fiscal year 2011 budget for the Department of Transportation. What I do not understand is why Congress should agree to this request, thereby allowing the Administration to obtain the policy changes it desires without ever having to do the hard work that will be required to enact the next surface transportation authorization bill.

In effect, H.R. 5850 would let the Administration "eat its dessert first" and then leave the table without ever getting to the meat and potatoes of what needs to be done to fix our nation's transportation systems.

Therefore, this amendment would prohibit the use of FHWA's formula funds under the fiscal year 2011 THUD Act from being used to carry out FHWA's livable communities initiative until legislation is enacted to authorize such a program.

Our objection is not to providing grant funding for livable communities, but rather to the attempt to provide this funding prior to Congressional authorization.

I am hopeful that the Administration will soon engage in a serious effort to enact surface transportation authorization legislation. Enactment of such legislation will be critical to moving forward on new initiatives such as those proposed by H.R. 5850 to develop the surface transportation system to meet the needs of the 21st century.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting Mr. DEFAZIO's amendment.

Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas. Mr. Chair, I rise today in support of H.R. 5850—Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2011. In particular, I am supportive of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, Housing and Urban Development's inclusion of federal funding for the Metropolitan Transit Authority of Harris County for four projects in the City of Houston as well as funding much needed improvements to the Lynchburg Ferry Landings in our area.

The Subcommittee's inclusion of $150 million for the North and Southeast corridor light rail projects will be tremendously helpful for the Houston area. These projects involve a combined 11.8 miles of light rail transit, and will benefit the city by increasing citizen mobility, improving the city's air quality, and promoting economic development and job creation. The funding will be used for the final design and construction of these two corridors, which are part of an overall system of inter-related projects that make up the Advanced Transit Program and Metro Solutions Plan. The success of these light rail projects will facilitate Houston's economic recovery and help the city further develop and improve its infrastructure.

Additionally, H.R. 5850 includes $700,000 for the North and South Lynchburg Ferry Landings in Harris County, Precinct Two. These landings haven't been refurbished or updated in years and these funds will provide better connectivity between the historical and recreational sites to increase the number of visitors and provide an economic stimulus for Ship Channel communities.

I would like to thank the Subcommittee on Transportation, Housing and Urban Development for recognizing the importance of this assistance to the Houston area and including them in this bill.

Mr. NADLER of New York. Mr. Chair, I rise in support of the Fiscal Year 2011 Transportation-HUD Appropriations Act. As we all know, this is a very tight budget year, but Chairman OLVER and the other Members of the Committee are to be commended for providing increased funding for critical transportation and housing programs.

Many of my colleagues joined me in requesting increases for Section 8 and the Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS program—also known as HOPWA. I am pleased that this bill increases funding for Section 8 programs by approximately $2 billion. The bill includes $9.4 billion for project based rental assistance, and $19.4 billion for tenant-based rental assistance, which should be enough to renew all existing vouchers covering more than 2 million families. The bill also has $350 million for HOPWA, which is $15 million more than last year and $10 million over the President's request. I thank the Chairman for his efforts to secure these badly needed resources.

Many Members also joined me in requesting an increase for federal transit programs so that we can maintain our public transportation systems in a state of good repair and accommodate increased ridership. I would like to thank the Chairman for including $11.3 billion for federal transit programs, which is an increase of over $500 million from last year. The bill includes increased funding for transit capital programs as well as $250 million for operating assistance. While I believe the operating assistance provision could be better, this is a step in the right direction.

I commend Chairman OLVER for his leadership and I thank him for his continued support for these critical transportation and housing resources. I look forward to working with him and the rest of my colleagues to preserve and increase these funding levels as this bill moves through Congress.

Mr. VAN HOLLEN. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong support of the Department of Transportation and Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Act for FY2011. This is a jobs bill and it is an economic development bill. It is about rebuilding our infrastructure and revitalizing our communities.

The transportation construction industry has been hard hit with this recession, as states tighten their belts and delay major projects. While we need a long-term surface transportation reauthorization, today's legislation makes vital investments to put people to work rebuilding communities. It includes $45.2 billion for roads and highways, and $11.3 billion for public transportation to bring our infrastructure back to a state of good repair and give Americans transportation options. It invests in Amtrak and high-speed rail to move people around the country. These programs create jobs in our communities.

Today's bill also invests in programs like the Public Housing Capital Fund and the Community Development Block Grant, which allow communities to make vital improvements to public housing and spur business expansion and job creation. The bill includes funding for foreclosure mitigation and rental assistance to stabilize neighborhoods by keeping people in their homes. And it supports housing for vulnerable populations, including homeless veterans, the elderly, and persons with disabilities.

Finally, this bill contains a vital investment for my constituents and the entire D.C. metropolitan region—$150 million for the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA). This funding, authorized by the Passenger Rail Investment and Improvement Act, is part of a 10-year plan to help WMATA make needed safety improvements and address its capital maintenance backlog. I thank Chairman OLVER and the Committee for its continued support of WMATA, which serves so many federal employees and tourists in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Chair, the Transportation and Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Act is a jobs bill. It puts Americans to work to repair aging infrastructure, create new transportation options, and revitalize communities. I urge my colleagues to join me to support these vital investments.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong support of H.R. 5850 the Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies Appropriation Act for Fiscal Year 2011. The bill provides critical funding to our infrastructure across the United States and in the territories. In particular, the bill funds $400 million in a third round of TIGER grants for investment in significant "National Infrastructure Investments." I appreciate the Committee's continued support of this effort and would continue to urge the U.S. Department of Transportation to obligate these funds towards truly innovative projects. I would also urge the Department of Transportation to more adequately fund port infrastructure projects with TIGER funds.

I also greatly appreciate the Committee's continued commitment to funding the NextGen modernization program at the Federal Aviation Administration. In particular, I appreciate the Committee's increase of $10.1 million for the Ground-Based Augmentation System (GBAS). GBAS, also known as Local Area Augmentation-System (LAAS), is a critical component of the NextGen framework. GBAS provides very precise terminal arrival, approach and landing operations for aircraft that have available GPS systems. GBAS conforms to requirements identified in the FAA NextGen Implementation Plan, the National Airspace System (NAS) Enterprise Architecture and the Roadmap for Performance Based Navigation. In short, this system can reduce and improve landing approaches by our nation's airlines. This will reduce cost to consumers and reliance on fuel. Of particular importance to Guam is the portability of the GBAS system. In the event of a significant natural disaster, the system can be disassembled and reassembled in a relatively short time. This is important for Guam because during a typhoon the system can restore precision approach to the airport more quickly than a traditional instrument landing system (ILS) and thus allowing restoration of relief services faster than traditionally possible.

I have worked with the FAA to deploy a system to Guam as a measure of prudence and in an effort to improve the system's capabilities. The additional funds provided by the Committee will provide the FAA with the resources needed to begin the process of identifying additional locations for GBAS which I believe must include Guam. Again, I want to thank Chairman OLVER for his leadership and support of this effort. I want to thank Ranking Member LATHAM and Congressman LATOURETTE for their support of this effort as well.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. All time for general debate has expired.

NEIGHBORHOOD REINVESTMENT CORPORATION

PAYMENT TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD REINVESTMENT CORPORATION

For payment to the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation for use in neighborhood reinvestment activities, as authorized by the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation Act (42 U.S.C. 8101–8107), $137,000,000, of which $5,000,000 shall be for a multi-family rental housing program: Provided, That in addition, $35,000,000 shall be made available until expended for capital grants to rehabilitate or finance the rehabilitation of affordable housing units, including necessary administrative expenses: Provided further, That in addition, $113,000,000 shall be made available until expended to the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation for mortgage foreclosure mitigation activities, under the following terms and conditions:

(1) The Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation (“NRC”), shall make grants to counseling intermediaries approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) (with match to be determined by the NRC based on affordability and the economic conditions of an area; a match also may be waived by the NRC based on the aforementioned conditions) to provide mortgage foreclosure mitigation assistance primarily to States and areas with high rates of defaults and foreclosures to help eliminate the default and foreclosure of mortgages of owner-occupied single-family homes that are at risk of such foreclosure. Other than areas with high rates of defaults and foreclosures, grants may also be provided to approved counseling intermediaries based on a geographic analysis of the Nation by the NRC which determines where there is a prevalence of mortgages that are risky and likely to fail, including any trends for mortgages that are likely to default and face foreclosure. A State Housing Finance Agency may also be eligible where the State Housing Finance Agency meets all the requirements under this paragraph. A HUD-approved counseling intermediary shall meet certain mortgage foreclosure mitigation assistance counseling requirements, as determined by the NRC, and shall be approved by HUD or the NRC as meeting these requirements.

(2) Mortgage foreclosure mitigation assistance shall only be made available to homeowners of owner-occupied homes with mortgages in default or in danger of default. These mortgages shall likely be subject to a foreclosure action and homeowners will be provided such assistance that shall consist of activities that are likely to prevent foreclosures and result in the long-term affordability of the mortgage retained pursuant to such activity or another positive outcome for the homeowner. No funds made available under this paragraph may be provided directly to lenders or homeowners to discharge outstanding mortgage balances or for any other direct debt reduction payments.

(3) The use of Mortgage Foreclosure Mitigation Assistance by approved counseling intermediaries and State Housing Finance Agencies shall involve a reasonable analysis of the borrower’s financial situation, an evaluation of the current value of the property that is subject to the mortgage, counseling regarding the assumption of the mortgage by another non-Federal party, counseling regarding the possible purchase of the mortgage by a non-Federal third party, counseling and advice of all likely restructuring and refinancing strategies or the approval of a work-out strategy by all interested parties.

(4) NRC may provide up to 15 percent of the total funds under this paragraph to its own charter members with expertise in foreclosure prevention counseling, subject to a certification by the NRC that the procedures for selection do not consist of any procedures or activities that could be construed as an unacceptable conflict of interest or have the appearance of impropriety.

(5) HUD-approved counseling entities and State Housing Finance Agencies receiving funds under this paragraph shall have demonstrated experience in successfully working with financial institutions as well as borrowers facing default, delinquency and foreclosure as well as documented counseling capacity, outreach capacity, past successful performance and positive outcomes with documented counseling plans (including post mortgage foreclosure mitigation counseling), loan workout agreements and loan modification agreements. NRC may use other criteria to demonstrate capacity in underserved areas.

(6) Of the total amount made available under this paragraph, up to $3,000,000 may be made available to build the mortgage foreclosure and default mitigation counseling capacity of counseling intermediaries through NRC training courses with HUD-approved counseling intermediaries and their partners, except that private financial institutions that participate in NRC training shall pay market rates for such training.

(7) Of the total amount made available under this paragraph, up to 5 percent may be used for associated administrative expenses for the NRC to carry out activities provided under this section.

(8) Mortgage foreclosure mitigation assistance grants may include a budget for outreach and advertising, and training, as determined by the NRC.

(9) The NRC shall continue to report bi-annually to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations as well as the Senate Banking Committee and House Financial Services Committee on its efforts to mitigate mortgage default.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 OFFERED BY MR. BOEHNER

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 1 printed in part A of House Report 111–578.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. (a) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS.—None of the funds provided in this Act may be used for doctoral dissertation research grants on housing and urban development issues.

(b) CORRESPONDING REDUCTION IN FUNDS.—The amount otherwise provided by this Act for “Department of Housing and Urban Development—Policy Development and Research—Research and Technology” is hereby reduced by $300,000.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I would say to my colleagues that it is no surprise to anyone in this Chamber or to the American people that spending in Washington is out of control. Last year we had a budget deficit of some $1.5 trillion. This year we have a budget deficit estimated to be at $1.4 trillion.

The American people are screaming at the top of their lungs “stop.” Yet here we are moving the appropriation bills that I don’t think have been thoroughly scrubbed.

I have made it pretty clear to my colleagues that one of the things that we have to do, if we are going to get spending under control, is go through every line item in the Federal budget and ask this question: Is this spending so important that we’re willing to ask our kids and grandkids to pay for it? Because this year 43 cents of every dollar the Federal Government spends we have to borrow, and it is going to be our kids and grandkids that are going to get to pay the bill.

Mr. Chairman, under this amendment it addresses a program that doles out approximately $300,000 to fund 12 doctoral dissertations on housing policy. Now, this isn’t funding their tuition; it’s funding the dissertation itself.

I don’t know why our kids and grandkids should be asked to pay some $300,000 to help fund research on housing policy when the Department has 10,000 employees who are charged with developing housing policies.

This may be well intended, some may have a great purpose for it. But as I go through this bill—

Mr. OLVER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BOEHNER. I’m happy to yield to the gentleman.

Mr. OLVER. I understand that the distinguished minority leader has this amendment which will terminate the doctoral dissertation research program at HUD. Even though I believe strongly in the value of good research and what such good research can play in improving the effectiveness of government programs over time, I’m willing to accept the gentleman’s amendment in the spirit of comity.

Mr. BOEHNER. I would be happy to accept.

I yield back the balance of my time. The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 OFFERED BY MR. BOEHNER

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 2 printed in part A of House Report 111–578.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. The aggregate amount otherwise made available by title II, and the amount required to be made available under the third proviso under the heading “Management and Administration—Transformation Initiative”, are each hereby reduced in the amount of $40,000,000.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I won’t go through the spending problems that we have and the debt problems we have, but in going through this bill and asking the question—every line item in the budget—is this spending so important that we are willing to ask our kids and grandkids to pay for it?

I bring my colleagues’ attention to a program called the Transformation Initiative that is designed to train communities that receive HUD funds on how to use the money.

Now, let me get this straight. We’re going to spend $40 million, money that we don’t have, to train communities on how they can spend our money.

I would think that if we are going to send money to a community that we would know what the money is for, that the community would know what it’s for, and that spending $40 million to train them on how to spend our money is a giant waste of time.

I urge my colleagues to support the elimination of the Transformation Initiative and save our kids and grandkids $40 million.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment offered by the distinguished minority leader.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. OLVER. The bill before us includes $40 million for HUD to provide technical assistance to nonprofit organizations, cities, States on how to use HUD funding efficiently and effectively.

The amendment removes every penny, every penny, of this technical assistance funding from HUD. It is a meat axe amendment.

Cutting funding for technical assistance does nothing but make the programs less effective, which I doubt is the gentleman's intent. In fact, technical assistance is the only way that communities can increase their capacity and improve program delivery to their vulnerable populations who need assistance.

Technical assistance funding allows HUD to train communities' own staff on the issues that most affect their particular population. For example, technical assistance funds are used to enhance and inform responses to the foreclosure crisis when HUD provides funding for foreclosure counseling and renovating vacant homes.

These funds are responsive to need. They address broader social and economic imperatives, such as the recent increase in the homeless population, which has been brought on by the longest and deepest recession since the Second World War.

To deny communities technical assistance is to render the HUD programs less effective than they can and should be, and that, very simply, slows down the recovery.

I urge a "no" vote on the gentleman's amendment.

Mr. BOEHNER. I yield myself the balance of my time.

I think the gentleman from Massachusetts makes my point for me. Why would we be sending money to communities that don't have a plan to use it, that may not use it effectively?

I would think before the decision is made to grant the funds to the community that they would have demonstrated a need, they would have demonstrated a capacity to use it effectively before the grant was made. To provide $40 million for metrics, research, demonstrations, innovation, technical assistance, and capacity building, why wouldn't all of these things be in place before the grant was made?

In consideration for the future of my kids and maybe someday my grandkids, I think this is spending that can be eliminated from this bill.

I urge my colleagues to support the amendment.

I yield back the balance of my time.
Mr. OLVER. I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER).

The question was taken; and the Chair announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote, and pending that, I make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

The Chair understands that amendment No. 3 will not be offered.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 OFFERED BY MR. BOEHNER

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 4 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 2, line 13, after the first dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $1,600,000)".

Page 2, line 20, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $1,600,000)".

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Chairman, we all know that we have a spending problem. We all know that it has to start somewhere. Some may suggest that these amendments I am bringing up are not going to solve the problem.

But I will suggest that we have got to start this process somewhere. We have got to find ways to eliminate wasteful spending that we all know exists.

□ 1500

This amendment addresses the creation of 11 bureaucratic positions and six full-time equivalents for a budget office at the Department of Transportation. Now I want to make sure I understand this; $1.6 million to hire a bunch of bureaucrats to monitor the spending of agencies that already have their own budget offices. This is the kind of redundant spending that we just don't need to have.

Mr. OLVER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BOEHNER. I would be happy to yield.

Mr. OLVER. The amendment by the distinguished minority leader would cut the DOT budget office to below last year's funding level. Even though I believe that these funds are needed at the department and that we have added much new work to the load in the Department of Transportation through the recovery legislation, with some misgiving, I will, again, in an effort at comity and bipartisanship, accept the amendment.

Mr. BOEHNER. I gratefully accept.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BOEHNER).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 OFFERED BY MS. KAPTUR

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 5 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk, please.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 77, line 4, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $21,000,000)".

Page 78, line 8, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $21,000,000)".

At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. _____. None of the funds made available in this Act under the heading "Department of Housing and Urban Development—Management and Administration—Executive Direction" may be used by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development for travel expenses.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, I offer this amendment on behalf of myself and other Members, including Mr. DENNIS CARDOZA of California and Mr. JIM COSTA of California, as a way to awaken HUD from its cavalier slumber. Essentially what we do is we take away HUD's travel budget. The idea is that we want HUD to be aggressive in doing mortgage workouts, not traveling all around the world at taxpayer expense.

Our Nation must aggressively confront the continuing hemorrhage of mortgage foreclosures and dead real estate markets across this country. We have not hit bottom in that market yet as the crisis spreads from toxic subprime mortgages to solid mortgages held by the middle class. But where is HUD? Housing workouts are impossible without them.

We know that Wall Street committed the perfect crime, executing the largest transfer of wealth from Main Street to Wall Street by washing out our middle class—over 7.5 million families are scheduled to lose their homes—and then putting their bills, any losses that the Big Six had up there on Wall Street, right back on our taxpayers, and then being reimbursed by our taxpayers 100 cents on the dollar. Wall Street's six megabanks, and we all know the names—Bank of America, JPMorgan Chase, Wells Fargo, Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, HSBC—control two-thirds of the wealth in our country now, including mortgages twisted up in the moral hazard of securitization. Wall Street continues to be rewarded as we stand here today and our citizens are disgorge from their homes.

Rather than let HUD staff use our public dollars to travel to places like Rio de Janeiro, when people in our country are working so hard to try to work out these mortgages and the banks aren't answering the telephones, let HUD use all of its power and authority to bring the worst offenders and their buddies to focus their staff on doing mortgage workouts in places like Toledo, Ohio, Cleveland, Boise, Idaho, Las Vegas, Sacramento. We ought to be doing mortgage workouts, not taking what look like vacations to Rio de Janeiro.

So I think our amendment is very straightforward. It basically sends a strong volley over to HUD. It asks them to do their job, to be aggressive, and to really help us, as the American people, to resolve this tremendous housing foreclosure crisis that is eating away at communities from coast to coast and spreading as we stand here today.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I claim time in opposition to this amendment, but I don't plan to oppose it.

The CHAIR. Without objection, the gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. OLVER. Because I recognize that while this amendment has been signed by eight or 10 Members, that there are a good many other Members who could have signed the amendment who have districts where anywhere from 20 to 30, and sometimes even higher, percentages of all the housing in those districts have either gone through foreclosure and actually foreclosed, or are in foreclosure processes, or in a third case—maybe it's a fourth case—are under water in the sense that the value of their home is less, by sometimes substantial amounts, than the remaining mortgage principle.

I understand that this amendment is designed to draw attention to the national foreclosure crisis, which is still raging in too many communities, and which began more than 3 years ago—actually, probably the seeds were sown for the foreclosure crisis earlier in the decade, and some would say all the way back into the 1980s, much more than a decade ago.

I agree that more needs to be done to help families who are struggling with foreclosure. I would hope that the Department of Treasury, which has been spearheading the administration's efforts thus far, would increase collaboration with the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the FDIC and the newly-created Foreclosure Task Force, which the gentleman and the other Members who are signers are members of.

I believe the Secretary of HUD is the right person to be helping us through this crisis. So I will be happy to work with the gentleman and the other members of the task force in order to ensure that the hardest hit areas of the country receiving funding through what are the remaining sources of potential funding: Number one, the third round of the Neighborhood Stabilization Program that was funded within the financial services reform law signed just last week, and also the remainder of funds that are to be brought back from the Neighborhood Stabilization Program, which was first passed in 2008 in the HERA bill, which clearly gave out more money than they were able to effectively expend when that was given out later in 2008.

In the end, this amendment cuts all travel, which would eliminate critical oversight and the monitoring of housing programs for low-income Americans. I know that is not the intent of the gentleman or of the other signers of the amendment. I am willing to accept the gentleman's amendment as offered at this time. Going forward, I will work with the gentleman and with the signers of the amendment to ensure that housing for low-income individuals is not jeopardized down the road.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. KAPTUR. I thank the chairman very much for his very helpful offer.

I would inquire of the Chair how much time I have remaining.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio has 2½ minutes remaining.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, I want to state for the RECORD that Congressman DENNIS CARDOZA, the main author of this amendment, will be speaking as well as Congressman JERRY MCNERNEY of California and Congressman JIM COSTA of California.

I yield the remaining 2½ minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA) to use and then to share with our other two colleagues.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio must control the time.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA).

Mr. CARDOZA. I would like to thank Ms. KAPTUR for calling up my amendment. It beat us a little bit in our anticipation of its coming forward.

Mr. Chairman, I will tell you simply that the HUD programs have not worked for the central valley of California. The foreclosure programs by HUD have not worked for the United States people. Many of us in Congress warned the administration that they wouldn't work, and they continued to pursue them in any case, and they have simply failed the job.

Thirty percent of the housing units in my district have been foreclosed on. It is unconscionable that we could not have done more to step in and assist the people of my district, of the people of California, of Ohio, of Florida, and of Nevada. I think that the Secretary should give his full attention to this problem. Last March, he took a trip to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He took a whole delegation on an international housing study conference. I think he should have stayed right here in the United States and focused on the problems of the millions of Americans who are losing their homes.

So, Mr. Chairman, I think it is time for HUD to stay at home and to do their jobs. If it requires us to eliminate their travel funds in order to get their attention to focus on the housing crisis, so be it.

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, Congressman COSTA has offered his 30 additional seconds to Congressman CARDOZA.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio must control the time.

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA).

Mr. CARDOZA. I won't take all of that time, Mr. Chairman.

I will just ask my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to join me in sending a strong message to the Department of Housing and Urban Development that the foreclosure programs they have put in place have not worked for America. They need to get the message sooner rather than later because people are losing their homes every single day while they dawdle.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire of the time I have remaining?

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. OLVER. I yield my remaining 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. MCNERNEY).

Mr. MCNERNEY. I rise today in strong support of the amendment under consideration, and I would like to recognize Mr. CARDOZA for his work on this issue.

Mr. Chairman, we both represent parts of the San Joaquin Valley, with Mr. COSTA, which unfortunately has experienced some of the highest foreclosure rates in the Nation. It is long past time for this administration to develop effective measures to alleviate this crisis. Their efforts to date have fallen far short, and I hear from too many people who are in desperate need of help and who continue to suffer from unfair banking practices.

This amendment is meant to deliver a clear message to Secretary Donovan and to senior HUD officials: Get to work and find real solutions.

The administration knows that families are on the verge of losing their homes and that businesses' and workers' economic futures depend on the recovery of the housing market.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts has 15 seconds remaining.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 15 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. COSTA).

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to support the amendment by Mr. CARDOZA.

The administration needs to reset its housing policy. It is not working. Foreclosure rates are above and beyond the call in the San Joaquin Valley. We need to do a better job.

I rise today to support the amendment offered by my friend Representative CARDOZA, to strip travel funding from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

This amendment is in response to the ongoing nationwide foreclosure crisis, which has been extremely devastating to my district in California. This administration's efforts have not worked in the San Joaquin Valley, where many families continue to lose their homes.

This amendment forces HUD to cease their travel, while they properly address this nationwide crisis.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio has 45 seconds remaining.

Ms. KAPTUR. I thank the gentleman for yielding me the remaining time.

Mr. Chairman, I just want to thank Congressman CARDOZA, who really has lived this mortgage foreclosure hell with the people of his region. I also thank Congressman MCNERNEY, Congressman COSTA, and all of these Members from California who have stood up here today to try to put the brake on over there at HUD and say, "Hey, wait a minute. Pay attention to what is happening across California," and I must say across Ohio, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Idaho—all of these States where the middle class is being washed out and where our money and our equity from our homes is being transferred to Wall Street, which now controls two-thirds—six banks—of the wealth of this country.

Something is fundamentally wrong. HUD has to stand up and do its job. We offer our amendment in all good faith, and we just say to Secretary Geithner over at Treasury: Wait until the Treasury bill comes on the floor. There is more to come.

I want to thank the chairman of the Transportation, Housing and Urban Development Subcommittee for his graciousness and willingness to work with us as we stand up for Americans who are facing foreclosure.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR).

The amendment was agreed to.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRIES

Mr. LATOURETTE. Mr. Chairman, I have a parliamentary inquiry.

The CHAIR. The gentleman may state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LATOURETTE. Mr. Chairman, on page 56 of the bill currently under consideration, at the bottom, beginning with the last partial word on line 19 and then proceeding through lines 1 through 4 on page 57, it constitutes legislation and authorizing on an appropriations bill in that it creates a new program, basically a grants program to the Secretary of Transportation. It sets a dollar amount of $250 million, and it further has a limitation clause in terms of the time when that would become effective.

I am aware that the rule waives all points of order against this legislation for violations of rule XXI, paragraph 2(a). I would assert in my parliamentary inquiry that this, in fact, is a violation of the House rules that the Rules Committee has waived. I am aware of that.

Yet it is my understanding that the precedents of the House indicate that, when a legislative provision is inserted into an appropriations bill and that piece of authorizing language is permitted to go—offending the House rules either by the fact that nobody from the authorizing committee gets up and makes a point of order against the provision that violates the rules or if the Rules Committee, as they have done in this case, issues a blanket waiver, waiving all violation of that particular section of the House rules—that it then ripens, and only at that moment in time does it ripen, which is when the rule is adopted or when the provision is read and a member of the authorizing committee doesn't stand up and exercise his or her committee's jurisdiction. It then ripens for there to be a perfecting amendment.

I am further aware that the rule by which this bill came to the floor also only makes in order 24 amendments, not the historic open rule under an appropriations bill.

So my question to the Chair is: At what moment in time would it be appropriate to offer a perfecting amendment to the language that I have just indicated, which is on pages 56 and 57, in light of the fact that this matter only ripened when the rule was passed?

Just by way of making an observation before the Chair gives its answer, if you think about the operation of this rule, there are no perfecting amendments available to authorizing language in a bill until such time as the House has permitted the offense.

□ 1520

The House didn't permit the offense, that is, the waiver of its rules, until the Rules Committee was successful in achieving the passage of this rule.

So my parliamentary inquiry is, when would a Member who might be interested in modifying or perfecting this offending language, in violation of the House rules, have the opportunity to do that?

The CHAIR. Any amendment not specified in the report of the Committee on Rules would be precluded.

Mr. LATOURETTE. If I may ask a further parliamentary inquiry.

The CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for further inquiry.

Mr. LATOURETTE. Just so I am clear on the Chair's ruling, and that is that when the Rules Committee passes a rule waiving the rules of the House and protecting language that is clearly in violation of House rule XXI (2)(a), if the Rules Committee further compounds that by announcing a rule that only a certain subset of amendments are going to be made in order, that no Member, not just majority Members, or the chairman, no Member of this House has the opportunity to do anything about that offending language. Am I correct in that?

The CHAIR. House Resolution 1569 waives points of order against provisions of the bill for failure to comply with clause 2 of rule XXI and specifies the amendments that may be offered.

Mr. LATOURETTE. Further parliamentary inquiry. That was a long sentence. I think the answer to my question was yes.

The CHAIR. The gentleman is correct that neither a point of order nor an amendment is available for that purpose.

AMENDMENT NO. 6 OFFERED BY MR. ARCURI

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 6 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. ARCURI. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 80, line 6, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $2,978,450)".

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from New York (Mr. ARCURI) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York.

Mr. ARCURI. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of my amendment to H.R. 5850, the Transportation, Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Act, which would reduce funding for HUD's Office of Policy Development and Research by nearly $3 million, which is 2.5 percent below the amount currently appropriated in fiscal year 2010.

The Office of Policy Development and Research performs policy analysis, research, surveys, studies and evaluations on housing—

Mr. OLVER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ARCURI. I yield to the gentleman.

Mr. OLVER. I understand that this amendment will reduce funding for policy development and research staff at HUD by $2,978,450. Even though, as I've said earlier in comments to the distinguished minority leader, that I believe strongly in the role of research, I will, with some misgiving, accept the gentleman's amendment.

Mr. ARCURI. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Chairman, I would like to claim the time in opposition.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Iowa is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. LATHAM. While I am not in opposition to the gentleman's amendment, I would like to yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. LATOURETTE).

Mr. LATOURETTE. On this particular amendment, Mr. ARCURI, I congratulate you as a thoughtful member of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee for coming up with a beautiful amendment that's apparently going to be adopted by both sides.

Now that I've talked about the amendment, I want to talk about the parliamentary inquiry that I asked a few minutes ago, and discuss what's at stake here, and ask the distinguished chairman of the subcommittee to reconsider what I consider to be a sad decision.

We spend a lot of time talking about jobs in this place. Some people say they're creating jobs; others say they're not. A lot of people are wandering around saying, where are the jobs.

But at the end of the day, what is immutable, or what is irrefutable, and I believe it's included in the Committee's report on this bill, is that all across the country, in 84 percent of the transit authorities in this Nation, because of the way that the current formula is structured, transit companies around the country have plenty of money to buy buses. They don't have any money to hire or retain people to drive them.

And the last total that I saw since this situation began is that 10,000 people, 10,000 Americans who work for transit companies and drive buses in this country, and rail cars and everything else, are currently out of work.

Now, the transit authorities of this country have come to our attention, and I assume they've visited all Members on the Hill that have transit authorities and they have said, you know what? Just for this year, if we could take some of that capital improvement money that we have sitting around, it's stupid for us to buy a new bus because we don't have enough people to drive the buses that we currently have. And so, if we could just take the cost of fuel and move it from the operations side over to the capital side, we could bring back the people that we have laid off.

So it boggles the mind. And when I offered this in the subcommittee, the chairman shot it down. When I offered it in the full committee, the chairman had a substitute amendment that causes the offending language to rule XXI(2)(a) that's contained on pages 56 and 57.

And let me just tell you why anybody that cares about a transit worker in this country should be upset by this substitute language.

First of all, it's $250 million. It doesn't help every transit authority in the country. It makes it a grant program. So Secretary Ray LaHood can choose, pick and choose, which transit authorities across the country he would choose to participate in this grant program.

But worse than that is the restrictive language that indicates that it only goes into effect if the highway bill comes into play on or before September 30 of 2011.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I spent 12 years on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, and I know how the highway bill works. I participated in writing two of those highway bills.

The President of the United States, through his Secretary, has indicated they don't even want to talk about the reauthorization until March of 2011. Now, even if JIM OBERSTAR, who is a skilled chairman and has the able assistance of people like Mr. ARCURI, is able to work a miracle and put on this floor the reauthorization, and the Senate ever gets their act together enough to pass such a thing and have it signed by the President of the United States, you are looking now at October, November, December, January, February, and March.

Why don't we care enough to put down the partisan nonsense and simply say we care about the 10,000 transit workers in this country who are out of work.

It doesn't spend any more money. It has all the incentives of the green fuel initiatives that, actually, the champanion of this thing is Mr. CARNAHAN of Missouri, has a bill with a lot of co-sponsors on it. Why we wouldn't do that and, instead, hide behind rule XXI (2)(a), hide behind the rule that's been produced by the Rules Committee. Why don't you let these people come back to the work?

The majority and the President of the United States, with the signing of this bill, could claim credit for creating or saving 10,000 jobs with the stroke of a pen. I don't know why we do it.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ARCURI. Mr. Chairman, I would just like to point out that the language that the gentleman from Ohio is referring to was not the language of our amendment, the amendment that I have offered.

I would like to thank the chairman for accepting my amendment. And the only point that I would like to make is that, clearly, the Office of Policy and Development does a very good job, and we want to continue to work. But we felt that our cut was something that would be helpful.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. ARCURI).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 7 OFFERED BY MR. PERLMUTTER

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 7 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 44, line 21, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $50,000,000)".

Page 44, line 25, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $50,000,000)".

Page 45, line 6, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $50,000,000)".

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. PERLMUTTER) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Colorado.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Mr. Chair, I first want to commend Chairman OLVER and Ranking Member LATHAM and the other members of the subcommittee for putting forth a good bill which makes wise investments in our Nation's transportation systems, our housing industry, and our urban development, investments which will go a long way toward helping America return to a prosperous future.

But today I offer an amendment which saves the American people $50 million by cutting a Federal grant program which few States, if any, will participate in this year. It's a small step toward deficit reduction, but it is a wise step. I want to say at the onset I support every man, woman, and child using seatbelts. They save lives and reduce health care costs.

Most States have done the right thing and passed laws which make it a traffic violation to not wear a seatbelt. This means if a law enforcement officer sees someone in a car not wearing a seatbelt, they can pull that person over just for that offense. The Safety Belt Performance Grant program this year will spend up to $124.5 million as incentives for States to pass such laws. Thirty-seven States and territories already have those laws. They've already received their one-time payments under the program. But for the remaining States, the incentive program generally does not seem to be attractive or workable.

Rightly or wrongly, most States which don't have these primary seatbelt laws don't seem to want to pass these new laws. So why, after 5 years, do we continue to fully fund a program under which only a couple of States might get money? My amendment cuts this program by $50 million, leaving about $75 million. So if a few States do pass new enhanced seatbelt laws, NHTSA will provide them the grants as intended. But my amendment cuts the excess, which almost certainly won't be spent this year.

I appreciate the hard work of the subcommittee, and urge my colleagues to adopt this amendment.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. I claim time in opposition, though I am not opposed to the amendment.

The CHAIR. Without objection, the gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. OLVER. I appreciate the work the gentleman has done, and I accept the amendment.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PERLMUTTER. I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. PERLMUTTER).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 8 OFFERED BY MR. LATHAM

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 8 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. LATHAM. I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

Sec. ____ The amounts otherwise provided in this Act for the following accounts and activities are hereby reduced by the following amounts:

(1) "Department of Transportation—Office of the Secretary—National Infrastructure Investment", $400,000,000.

(2) "Department of Transportation—Federal Railroad Administration—Capital Assistance for High Speed Rail Corridors and Intercity Passenger Rail Service", $400,000,000.

(3) "Department of Transportation—Federal Transit Administration—Administrative Expenses", the amount specified in the first proviso for safety oversight activities, $24,139,000.

(4) "Department of Transportation—Federal Transit Administration—Capital Investment Grants", $177,888,000.

(5) "Department of Housing and Urban Development—Public and Indian Housing—Public Housing Capital Fund", the aggregate amount, $455,800,000.

(6) "Department of Housing and Urban Development—Public and Indian Housing—Native American Housing Block Grants", the aggregate amount, $120,000,000.

(7) "Department of Housing and Urban Development—Community Planning and Development—Brownfields Redevelopment", $17,500,000.

(8) "Department of Housing and Urban Development—Community Planning and Development—HOME Investment Partnerships Program", $175,000,000.

(9) "Related Agencies—Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation—Payment to the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation", the amount specified in the first proviso for capital grants to rehabilitate or finance the rehabilitation of affordable housing units, $35,000,000.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Iowa.

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Chairman, I would hope that since we've done very well in accepting these amendments this would be one that the chairman would accept also. I know how supportive he is of this. But I really would hope that we could find some consensus and common ground on cutting spending in this House.

My amendment would reduce or eliminate funding for programs—President Obama, again, this is what President Obama has said and has signaled—that have adequate funding, or there is funding in this bill that's duplicative of other Federal programs. And again, we are just going to what the President asked for, or cutting programs that were not requested, and certainly are not even authorized.

This amendment would save the taxpayer $1.8 billion, without going under the President's budget on any of the accounts targeted for the reduction. The reduction of $1.8 billion would make this bill simply just 3.4 percent lower than the fiscal year 2010 level. And you remember that bill was 23 percent higher than the year before that. And it would send an important message, I think, to the American people that Congress can take care of the Nation's housing and transportation needs without further jeopardizing our Nation's fiscal health.

I would hope that my colleagues would join me in cutting this mere three cents on the dollar out of this bill, with an attempt to put this bill back on the path towards fiscal responsibility.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. OLVER. This amendment would cut $1.8 billion in areas that include important increases above the President's budget. And let me simply remind people that our budget, as brought forward, is $1.3 billion below the President's request. This amendment proposes to remove another $1.8 billion. It is the legislative branch's clearly stated constitutional responsibility to appropriate the proper allocation of resources. And that responsibility must not be ceded to the executive branch.

This amendment would result in cuts to a number of programs that are critical to creating jobs, increasing transportation safety, and restoring support to programs serving vulnerable Americans across the country. It removes $400 million from the TIGER grant program, where for the $1.5 billion Recovery Act TIGER grant program, the requests coming from all of the 50 States were almost $57 billion, showing how much this kind of infrastructure was needed. This funding would have a positive impact on the economy, create thousands of jobs, and occur over a several-year period, thereby serving as a slow release remedy to keep the recovery going as it ought to do.

The amendment also cuts $400 million from the high-speed rail program, which is designed to continue building a high-speed passenger rail network. This again would create jobs and help reinvigorate our manufacturing base. That again, for moneys for appropriations in the Recovery Act, received 259 applications totaling $56 billion for the $8 billion it was provided in the Recovery Act. And the additional moneys are needed to keep investments, not that we put investments in in these places and don't actually produce something, that those continue so that you can complete jobs that will allow more high-speed rail programs in this country, as others have already spoken of.

The amendment would cut $178 million from the FTA's capital investment funds, the New Starts and Small Starts program, cut that back to the 2010 level. It would cut $24 million from FTA's safety activities, if those are authorized. And I need to point out that while the funds are only available to the FTA if the authorizing legislation is enacted, the need for additional transit safety oversight is immense. We have had several accidents on several of our major transit systems. And DOT needs the ability to hire safety personnel to provide oversight.

The amendment would cut $456 million from the Public Housing Capital Fund. Again, that supports renovation and construction of public housing units, where there is a backlog of $25 billion in needs that have been identified in that program.

It would cut $175 million from the HOME Investment Partnerships Program to restore funding to the 2010 level. The HOME is the largest Federal block grant to State and local governments designed exclusively to create affordable for low-income households.

□ 1540

It is a homeownership program for low-income households. We can't afford to cut these programs, and I urge my colleagues to vote "no" on this amendment. All of these are job-creating investments in our infrastructure and provide critical construction jobs in an industry that has been decimated.

While they are not all fast release, they are long-term remedies, as I suggested, for the longest recession since World War II.

Mr. LATHAM. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I appreciate the gentleman's concern for spending. I just wanted to see if we could just step back for a second.

We're going to have a $1.47 trillion deficit this year. Forty-three cents on every dollar that we're spending is borrowed money, and our kids, our grandchildren are going to have to pay for it—or our great-great-grandchildren, the way we're going—and it simply is not sustainable.

This is an extraordinarily modest amendment, and the gentleman says this is critical funding, absolutely necessary, that we have to fund these things. Maybe you should tell your President, the President of your own party, that he should have asked for these things. These are not my reductions. This is what the President says is needed for these programs, the high-speed rail. There's a billion dollars in this bill—would be after the cut. He's got $1.4.

We're taking $400 million out of it. The President asked for a billion dollars. He's had $12 billion, in total, with $8 billion in the stimulus package, $2.5 billion last year, another billion dollars this year. And the money hasn't been spent yet, hasn't even been allotted or a contract signed. There is no need for this spending here to have current contracts go on. It just goes beyond rationale, as far as I'm concerned.

When we are digging ourselves in a financial hole like we are and we continue to keep digging, why don't we say, Stop, let's cut some spending.

This is a very modest cut that the President didn't request, and several of these programs are not even authorized or requested by the President. I mean, I guess it's great if we just go ahead as the Appropriations Committee, say, the heck, we don't need to have authorization for anything. Actually, this whole bill, there's very little that actually is authorized in this bill.

Does anybody go home and listen anymore? Listen to your constituents and hear what they're saying. Can we afford this kind of spending? No, we cannot. If we'll listen and do what the people are telling us to, and that's to modestly reduce spending, cut spending. And if we can't do it here on this very small amendment on this huge bill, we're never going to save our fiscal future for our kids and our grandchildren.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong opposition to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM) which lowers or eliminates funding for many important transportation grants provided by this Act.

The amendment would lower the amount provided for transit Capital Investment Grants, known as New Starts, which fund much needed rail and bus rapid transit systems.

New Start grants create public transportation systems that transform our communities by improving the mobility of a region, reducing congestion on the roadways, decreasing our dependence on oil, and increasing accessibility to work, schools, hospitals, and home.

If Americans rode public transit at the rate of 10 percent of daily travel, the U.S. would reduce its dependence on imported oil by more than 40 percent—equivalent to all the oil we import from the Persian Gulf. This funding for new transit systems should be increased, rather than decreased, and I oppose this amendment.

Moreover the amendment would eliminate $400 million from the high-speed and intercity passenger rail investment program.

The Passenger Rail Investment and Improvement Act of 2008 (PRIIA) (Public Law 110-432, Division B) created two new Federal-State matching grant programs to provide capital assistance to States and Amtrak for development of high-speed and intercity passenger rail. PRIIA also created a congestion grant program, which authorized $325 million over four years for grants to States for eliminating chokepoints on the freight rail network to help reduce congestion and facilitate rider-ship growth on intercity passenger rail.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act) (Public Law 111-1) built upon the three programs created by Congress in the 2008 law, and provided $9.3 billion in capital grants for investment in high-speed and intercity passenger rail. The Department of Transportation is now in its second round of soliciting grant proposals. For the first round of grants, the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) received 259 grant applications from 37 States and the District of Columbia requesting nearly $57 billion in funding—far exceeding the initial $8 billion available under the Recovery Act.

In total, 79 applications from 31 States were selected for funding. In fact, the gentleman's (Mr. LATHAM) home State of Iowa received funding from FRA to conduct Alternatives Analysis and an Environmental Assessment, and to finalize a service development plan for passenger rail service from Chicago, Illinois to Omaha, Nebraska.

In addition, Amtrak is using its Recovery Act grants to invest in much needed Americans with Disabilities Act improvements to make stations in Preston, Ft. Madison, Mt. Pleasant, Osceola, Burlington, and Ottumwa, Iowa, accessible to persons with disabilities.

I urge Members to oppose this amendment. Mr. LATHAM. I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM).

The question was taken; and the Chair announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Iowa will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 OFFERED BY MR. DEFAZIO

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 9 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. DEFAZIO. I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Insert at the end of the bill (before the short title) the following:

SEC. 420. None of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available under this Act may be used to implement section 124 except as authorized by law after the date of enactment of this Act.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Oregon.

Mr. DEFAZIO. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

We need a 21st century transportation policy for America. We need to move beyond the constipated transportation policies of the Bush era that are allowed and have allowed our system to deteriorate: 150,000 bridges on the Federal system in need of substantial replacement or repair; transit systems with an $80 billion backlog for equipment. They're running obsolete railcars right here in the Nation's Capital that are killing people. They should have been retired years ago. They need to be replaced. We have frustrated commuters wasting hundreds of thousands of hours and billions of gallons of fuel caught in congestion; businesses and industries crying out they need help for just-in-time delivery and their trucks are delayed and detoured.

On October 1, we were supposed to do a 6-year bill to direct the investment in the system and enhance the investment. And that bill would have included a major new program for metropolitan mobility and access and had an office of livability. But the Obama administration stopped the bill, and they've refused to come to the table and discuss how we can move forward and make these needed investments.

But now the Secretary would like a little cherry, which would be like an office of livability, not defined, and he'd like $200 million, at his discretion, whatever he defines livability as, to give grants to whomever he wishes under whatever criteria he might, in the future, propose.

Now, this would be, given the state of disrepair of our system and the deterioration of our system, a lot like buying a brand new tire and rim to put on a junk car that's up on blocks. It's not going to get anybody anywhere. It's not going to meaningfully address the problems of the system. We need a comprehensive approach.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. I rise to claim time in opposition to the amendment.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. OLVER. I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM).

Mr. LATHAM. I thank the gentleman very much and for claiming time in opposition while I'm supporting the amendment.

I rise in support of the DeFazio amendment for two reasons:

First, with the stresses on the Highway Trust Fund and the dependence of our States on the moneys from that fund, we're violating our fiduciary responsibilities by granting authority to take $200 million, much-needed dollars, out of the trust fund for a program that has yet to be defined legislatively or otherwise.

Second, as noted in the minority views of the report accompanying this bill, the concept of livable communities is just that. It's a concept. I've never seen the definition of a livable community. There's nothing defined of what a "livable community" is.

The initiatives that would be funded under this concept with the $200 million involve activities that are rightly part of the jurisdictions of State and local governments and metropolitan planning commissions.

And again, I would rise in strong support of this amendment.

Mr. WU. Mr. Chair, I rise in strong support of my friend and colleague, PETER DEFAZIO's amendment.

In answer to the ranking member's inquiry, I just want to say that the definition of a livable community is Portland, Oregon.

I support livability, and from the beautiful and livable State of Oregon, I know what it means for communities to adopt livability standards into their transportation planning. It means more stable economies, integrated transportation systems, and walkable streets. It means jobs.

We are now 10 months past the expiration of the past highway bill, and the administration has yet to provide Congress with an authorization proposal or even to submit its long-promised authorization principles.

All they offer are extension after extension.

By doing this they are ignoring high-wage, middle-class, private-sector jobs generated by transportation and livability projects and engaging in legislative "end arounds" to spend scarce taxpayer dollars with no congressional or other needed oversight.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Chairman, it's my understanding that the chairman is going to accept the amendment.

Mr. OLVER. That is correct.

Mr. DEFAZIO. Given that, Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 10 OFFERED BY MR. CULBERSON

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 10 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Mr. CULBERSON. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. ____ Appropriations made in this Act are hereby reduced in the amount of $12,400,000,000.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CULBERSON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. CULBERSON. The Congressional Budget Office just released a report this week which shows we are on the brink of an unprecedented debt crisis in this Nation which could, in and of itself, trigger a new financial crisis because, if the credit markets become concerned that we, as a Nation, may be overstretched and unable to repay in full the unprecedented national debt that's out there owned by the public, owned by sovereign wealth funds, the credit markets will turn on us very quickly as they did in Greece, as they did in Argentina and in others nations.

Moody's has even warned because of the excessive spending by this President and by this Congress, Moody's has estimated we might, as a Nation, lose our AAA bond rating by 2018, perhaps as early as 2013. Constitutional conservatives such as myself have been working hard to find ways to save money, to bring the spending levels under control to avoid crushing our children under the load of debt, the deficits. The burden that these levels of debt and deficit will impose on our kids will undoubtedly result in massive tax increases, dramatic cuts in social programs. And every chance we get, Mr. Chairman, on every bill, we want to try to do what we can to save money.

And so my amendment today would cut the total spending level in this bill by 18 percent. Remember that this legislation, the transportation appropriations bill, received a 23 percent increase in fiscal year 2010; that the stimulus bill—which I voted against as all borrowed money—the stimulus bill puts $62 billion into transportation. Of that $62 billion, there's still $10 billion unspent. I understand, Mr. Chairman, that the gentleman from Texas (Mr. NEUGEBAUER) has got an amendment later to take that $10 billion of unspent transportation money from the stimulus bill and return that to the taxpayers to reduce the deficit.

My amendment is offered today to cut $12 billion out of this transportation bill. I would prefer to send it back to subcommittee, Mr. Chairman, and let Chairman OLVER and my distinguished ranking member have a chance to decide where to cut it; but this is an 18 percent across-the-board cut, an important step moving back towards a balanced budget.

A constitutional conservative majority if elected to this Congress in November will, beginning in January, get this Nation back on track to a balanced budget by imposing strict spending discipline everywhere we can. This amendment is designed to begin that process. The current level of debt out there today owned by the public, by sovereign wealth funds, exceeds $13 trillion. It's unprecedented, it's dangerous, and it's unacceptable to burden our children with this level of debt. And since our transportation programs just got a $62 billion increase in the stimulus, since our transportation programs just got a 23 percent increase in fiscal year 2010, surely we can cut $12 billion out of this bill and save our kids and prevent our children and grandchildren from paying that off. Because every dollar we spend here today is borrowed money. One hundred percent of the money brought into the Treasury in revenue goes right out the door for Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid and interest on the national debt. This is borrowed money, Mr. Chairman. I would move passage of the amendment.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The CHAIR. The gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. OLVER. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I rise in strong opposition to the amendment. Actually this is about the worst kind of amendment that you can have, because it provides no indication of priorities whatsoever. It just cuts everything in the whole government an equal percentage amount and gives no priority indication whatsoever.

Let me tell you what this amendment ends up doing. In the Department of Housing and Urban Development, this amendment would mean a reduction of more than $3 billion for section 8 tenant based vouchers. Simply, that means that about 450,000 of this country's lowest income citizens would no longer be able to afford their monthly rent.

In addition, the project based section 8 program would see about a $1.7 billion reduction in it, resulting in hundreds of thousands of Americans there unable to afford a roof over their head. Homelessness would be increased dramatically and more Americans would require assistance through HUD's homeless program. Unfortunately, the homeless program would itself be receiving a massive cut of nearly $400 million, making service at the current levels quite impossible, at the same time that we would be creating more homeless people.

In the Department of Transportation, this amendment would eliminate more than $3 billion worth of funding from the Federal Aviation Administration. That would just about assure a part-time air traffic control system which would put us in severe safety jeopardy. Add to that the more than $2 billion which would be cut from the Federal Transit Administration, eliminating some of the best transportation options that are available to millions of Americans, and everyone here can begin to truly see the repercussions of this amendment.

Fiscal prudence simply cannot mean turning hundreds and hundreds of thousands of people out of their homes, eliminating almost a quarter of a million jobs, and creating real transportation safety concerns.

This bill is wisely balanced to meet the needs of citizens within current fiscal constraints. In fact, Mr. Chairman, I am asking you a question if I may: Is this amendment—since I am supposed to address all comments through the Chair—is this amendment deliberately designed to prolong the great recession and send America back into a double dip recession or a great depression? Because that's what happened. In the Great Depression, we went into a double dip recession, or a depression, and ended up with that depression lasting at least twice as long as it otherwise would have.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CULBERSON. Mr. Chairman, listening to the way the Democrats approach this issue and every issue on spending, I am reminded of Winston Churchill's comment that trying to tax and spend yourself into prosperity is like a man trying to raise himself up while standing in a bucket. It is illogical, it is disproven by history, that you can raise taxes and expect the economy to improve. It is illogical. It defies historical fact to say you're going to take money away from one group of people and spend it somewhere else and increase prosperity.

This amendment is a modest 18 percent cut in a bill that has seen a 23 percent increase in fiscal year '10 in programs that got $62 billion additional funding through the stimulus, of which $10 billion is still sitting there unspent. How much is enough? I am still waiting to meet the first Democrat that says, "That's enough money. Don't spend any more." I'm still waiting. I've not met him yet. There is never enough money. There is always some need out there that needs to be filled, but no better way to meet that need than to increase prosperity by letting average Americans keep more of their own hard-earned money to invest and spend and save as they wish, to let business owners hire people by giving them the certainty that their taxes aren't going to go up and they're not going to be torn apart by trial lawyers and they're not going to be buried by the cost of unions.

We need as a Nation to lift up the whole economy by spending less money in Washington. We need to cut taxes and cut spending. And if we can't cut 18 percent here in a bill that's got a 23 percent increase and got a 90 percent increase last year, where can we cut?

The CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman has made some comments. He is entitled to his opinions, but he cannot create his own history.

He has said that history shows that you cannot raise taxes and have a growing economy. That is completely belied by President Clinton's economic program in the early nineties when taxes were raised, with Republicans—the gentleman's party—claiming that that would destroy the economy. And yet the economy grew the fastest that it has done. We created 20 million jobs during the rest of the Clinton administration. That compares with the puny number of jobs, about one-quarter of that number, that were created during the time that Mr. Bush was in the White House the same number of years. With that, I just must point out that the gentleman is trying to re-create and create his own history.

We should defeat this amendment.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CULBERSON).

The question was taken; and the Chair announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. CULBERSON. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas will be postponed.

AMENDMENT NO. 11 OFFERED BY MS. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON OF TEXAS

The CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 11 printed in part A of House Report 111-578.

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 98, line 21, after the dollar amount, insert "(increased by $10,000,000)".

Page 103, line 20, after the dollar amount, insert "(increased by $10,000,000)".

Page 116, line 11, after the dollar amount, insert "(reduced by $10,000,000)".

The CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 1569, the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Texas.

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to support additional funding for activities under section 107 of the Community Development Grant program at HUD. Specifically, I would like to ask for these funds to be diverted for community development grants for minority-serving institutions and Historically Black Colleges and Universities. This program assists minority-serving institutions to expand their role and effectiveness in addressing community development needs in their localities.

An increase of $10 million for this program would double the budget now and allow for an additional 12 to 20 minority-serving institutions to meet urgent community needs. I know these funds are particularly needed at many of our Nation's Historically Black Colleges and Universities. This is an important investment for these schools. It builds a strong relationship between school and community to promote social economic development initiatives. It will create jobs and help revitalize struggling neighborhoods.

Many of our urban HBCUs and other minority-serving institutions are located in areas that are blighted and struggling economically. This program creates a partnership between school and community, raising standards and expectations of the next generation. We want to create neighborhoods that are places people want to reside and feel a connection.

You often hear the phrase "university town" associated with other institutions. We want "university town" for these colleges as well, areas where the university is the center of economic and social life and people are proud to be part of it. We want neighborhoods where a college education is valued and seen as a common practice.

The program has made an immense impact at Benedict College in Columbia, South Carolina. Located less than 10 minutes from the University of South Carolina, Benedict College is an economically depressed neighborhood. With funding from this grant, Benedict College has created a partnership and has been able to build and renovate homes, construct a community recreational park, and build a business development center.

Similar success has been seen at Winston Salem State University in North Carolina where funds have been used for affordable housing development, small business development, and neighborhood cleanup.

This grant creates partnerships that enable students, faculty, and neighborhood organizations to work together to revitalize the economy, generate jobs, and rebuild healthy communities. Funding this program at an additional $10 million would make an immense difference for these schools and communities.

I have used the reverse mortgage fund to offset this funding. This program is not without controversy. Many do not understand that proceeds received under a reverse mortgage may impact Medicaid eligibility. At a time when property values remain low, a reverse mortgage may not be the best route for many individuals. The value that one gets from a reverse mortgage is based on the current appraised value of the property. I have chosen this offset due to the current slump in the real estate market.

I thank the leadership for allowing this amendment to be considered, and I would ask humbly for your support.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. I rise to claim time in opposition, though I do not oppose the amendment.

The CHAIR. Without objection, the gentleman from Massachusetts is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. OLVER. I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM) for comments.

Mr. LATHAM. I thank the chairman for yielding.

Actually, I do oppose this. I agree with the idea of putting more money into where you would like to have the money go. My concern is that this is taking money out of reverse mortgages for seniors, and while the President requested $250 million in his budget, it is funded at $150 million. This would take another 10 out of that. The problem is that if there is increased demand, if more seniors want to have reverse mortgages, then it simply cannot happen without the funding that's there.

So I would just oppose it, not because of the purpose where you would like to have the money go, but we're taking money away from seniors here who may, in fact, want to have a reverse mortgage on their home.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I would just say to my ranking member that I had exactly the same reaction to this and was all prepared to get very excited and oppose this one adamantly, but we were assured that a re-look at the HECM situation and the needs there indicated that it could yield this $10 million offset.

Mr. LATHAM. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. OLVER. I yield to the gentleman.

Mr. LATHAM. Well, when we start getting phone calls, I'll refer them to your office. I appreciate the gentleman's concern, and again, I think the purpose has merit, where the money is going, but I'm just concerned about the limitation here. Thank you.

Mr. OLVER. I thank the gentleman.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas).

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. SALAZAR) having assumed the chair, Mr. SNYDER, Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 5850) making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, and Housing and Urban Development, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2011, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Brian Pate, one of his secretaries.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO OFFER RESOLUTION RAISING A QUESTION OF THE PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to clause 2(a)(1) of rule IX, I hereby notify the House of my intention to offer a resolution as a question of the privileges of the House.

The form of my resolution is as follows:

RESOLUTION

Pledging not to assemble on or between the dates of November 2, 2010 and January 3, 2011, except in the case of an unforeseen, sudden emergency requiring immediate action from Congress.

Whereas the 111th Congress has failed in its promise to be the most open Congress in history, but has instead lost the public's trust by engaging in unprecedented political procedures to advance a partisan agenda;

Whereas on January 18, 2006, House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi stated in prepared remarks, "Democrats are leading the effort to turn the most closed, corrupt Congress in history into the most open and honest Congress in history.";

Whereas on November 7, 2006, House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi stated, "The American people voted to restore integrity and honesty in Washington, D.C., and the Democrats intend to lead the most honest, most open, and most ethical Congress in history.";

Whereas on November 16, 2006, incoming House Speaker Nancy Pelosi stated, "This leadership team will create the most honest, most open, and most ethical Congress in history.";

Whereas on December 6, 2006, incoming House Speaker Nancy Pelosi stated, "We promised the American people that we would have the most honest and open Government and we will.";

Whereas incoming Majority Whip Clyburn stated on December 8, 2006 that, "Democrats will exercise better leadership in the new Congress and work to raise the standard of ethics in this body";

Whereas Speaker Pelosi spoke of individual Member's ethics on January 31, 2007 when she stated, "These strong [ethics] rules are significant steps toward honest leadership; enforcing these rules is critical to ensuring every Member of Congress lives up to the highest ethical standard";

Whereas on January 5, 2010, while at a press conference during the health care debate, Speaker Pelosi stated, "There has never been a more open process for any legislation";

Whereas this statement was reiterated by the Speaker while at a press conference on February 26, 2010, when a reporter prefaced a question about Rangel by noting that Speaker Pelosi had promised to run the "most ethical and honest Congress in history" she interrupted him to say: "And we are.";

Whereas more bills were considered under closed rules, 64 total, in the 110th Congress under Democrat control, than in the previous Congress, 49, under Republican control;

Whereas fewer bills were considered under open rules, 10 total, in the 110th Congress under Democrat control, than in the previous Congress, 22, under Republican control;

Whereas zero bills have been considered so far in the 111th Congress under an open rule;

Whereas 26 bills have been considered so far in the 111th Congress under a closed rule, under Democrat control;

Whereas this Congress is the highest spending Congress in United States history;

Whereas this Congress has presided over the two highest budget deficits in United States history at a time when the public debt is higher than at any other time in history;

Whereas this Congress began its mortgage of the Nation's future with a "stimulus" package costing $1.1 trillion that failed to lower unemployment, spur economic growth, or actually address the needs of struggling American business and families;

Whereas this Congress continued its free-flowing spending with an increase of $72.4 billion in nonemergency discretionary spending in fiscal year 2009 to reach a total spending level of $1.01 trillion for the first time in United States history;

Whereas this Congress approved a budget resolution in 2009 that proposed the six largest nominal deficits in American history and included tax increases of $423 billion during a period of sustained high unemployment;

Whereas this Congress disregarded the needs and opinions of everyday Americans by passing a national energy tax bill that would increase costs on nearly every aspect of American lives by up to $3,000 per year, eliminate millions of jobs, reduce workers' income, and devastate economic growth;

Whereas this Congress disregarded the needs and opinions of everyday Americans by passing a massive Government takeover of health care that will force millions of Americans from their health insurance plans, increase premiums and costs for individuals and employers, raise taxes by $569.2 billion, and fund abortions—at a cost of $2.64 trillion over the first ten years of full implementation;

Whereas this Congress nationalized the student loan industry with a potential cost of 30,000 private sector jobs and $50.1 billion over ten years;

Whereas this Congress passed the DISCLOSE Act in violation of the first amendment, hindering citizens associations' and corporations' free speech while leaving all unions exempt from many of the new requirements, in order to try and influence the outcome of 2010 elections;

Whereas in spite of House Budget Committee Chairman's 2006 statement that "if you can't budget, you can't govern", the Democrat leadership has failed to introduce a budget resolution in 2010 as mandated by law, but instead self-executed a "deeming resolution" that increases nonemergency discretionary spending in fiscal year 2011 by $30 billion to $1.121 trillion, setting another new record for the highest level in United States history;

Whereas this Congress has failed Main Street through passage of a financial system takeover that fails to end the moral hazard of too-big-to-fail, does not address the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac behemoths, and creates numerous new boards, councils, and positions with unconstitutionally broad authorities that will interfere with the creation of wealth and jobs;

Whereas this Congress has wasted taxpayer funds on an unnecessary and unconstitutional auto industry bailout, a "cash for clunkers" program, a home remedification program ("cash for caulkers"), and countless other pork barrel projects while allowing the public debt to reach its highest level in United States history;

Whereas Democrats have recently insinuated that significant legislative matters would deliberately not be addressed during the 111th Congress until after the midterm elections in November 2010;

Whereas the New York Times reported on June 19, 2010 that, "For all the focus on the historic federal rescue of the banking industry, it is the government's decision to seize Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac in September 2008 that is likely to cost taxpayers the most money. . . . Republicans want to sever ties with Fannie and Freddie once the crisis abates. The Obama administration and Congressional Democrats have insisted on postponing the argument until after the midterm elections.";

Whereas the Washington Times reported on June 22, 2010 that House Majority Leader Steny Hoyer stated, "a budget, which sets out binding one-year targets and a multiyear plan, is useless this year because Congress has shunted key questions about deficits to the independent debt commission created by President Obama, which is due to report back at the end of this year.";

Whereas the Hill reported on June 24, 2010 that Senator Tom Harkin, a Democrat from Iowa, suggested that Democrats "might attempt to move 'card-check' legislation this year, perhaps during a lame-duck session. . . . 'A lot of things can happen in a lame-duck session, too,' he said in reference to EFCA.";

Whereas the New York Times published an article on June 28, 2010 titled "Lame-Duck Session Emerges as Possibility for Climate Bill Conference" that declares "many expect the final energy or climate bill to be worked out during the lame-duck session between the November election and the start of the new Congress in January.";

Whereas the Hill reported on July 1, 2010 that "Democratic leaders are likely to punt the task of renewing Bush-era tax cuts until after the election. Voters in November's midterms will thus be left without a clear idea of their future tax rates when they go to the polls.";

Whereas the Wall Street Journal reported on July 13, 2010 that, "there have been signs in recent weeks that party leaders are planning an ambitious, lame-duck session to muscle through bills in December they don't want to defend before November. Retiring or defeated members of Congress would then be able to vote for sweeping legislation without any fear of voter retaliation.";

Whereas the Hill reported on July 27, 2010 that Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid said, at the recent Netroots Nation conference of liberal bloggers, in reference to Democrats' unfinished priorities, "We're going to have to have a lame duck session, so we're not giving up.";

Whereas the Hill reported in the same piece on July 27, 2010 that the lame duck session will include priorities such as "comprehensive immigration reform, climate change legislation and a whole host of other issues";

Whereas the Declaration of Independence notes that governments "[derive] their just powers from the consent of the governed";

Whereas the American people have expressed their loss of confidence through self-organized and self-funded taxpayer marches on Washington, at countless "tea party" events, at town halls and speeches, and with numerous letters, emails, and phone calls to their elected representatives;

Whereas a reconvening of Congress between the regularly scheduled Federal election in November and the start of the next session of Congress is known as a "lame-duck session of Congress";

Whereas the Democrat majority has all-but-announced plans to use any "lame-duck Congress" to advance currently unattainable, partisan policies that are widely unpopular with the American people or that further increase the national debt against the will of most Americans;

Whereas any such action would be a repudiation of the American people's expressed
