MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. CASSIDY. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is the gentleman opposed to the bill?

Mr. CASSIDY. I am, in its current form.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion to recommit.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. CASSIDY moves to recommit the bill H.R. 3534 to the Committee on Natural Resources with instructions to report the same back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike section 231 and insert the following:
SEC. 231.—TERMINATION OF MORATORIA ON OFFSHORE DRILLING.

Notwithstanding, any other provision of this Act, the moratorium set forth in the Minerals Management Service Notice to Lessees No. 2010-N04, dated May 30, 2010, the decision memorandum from the Secretary of the Interior to the Director of the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Regulation, and Enforcement regarding the suspension of certain offshore permitting and drilling activities on the Outer Continental Shelf, dated July 12, 2010, and any suspension of operations issued in connection with the moratorium or the decision memorandum, shall have no force or effect.

Mr. RAHALL (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent the reading of the motion be dispensed with.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from West Virginia?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Louisiana is recognized for 5 minutes in support of his motion.

Mr. CASSIDY. I yield to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BRADY).

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, with millions of American families out of work, Republicans will fight for American energy workers and their jobs. The question is will Democrats fight alongside us?

The drilling moratorium is killing American energy jobs now. It needs to end now. The rigs are already leaving overseas. So are the jobs, equipment, and the capital. Workers are being laid off, small businesses are struggling to survive, and they won't. The Melancon amendment doesn't save these jobs, these families, these small businesses whose livelihoods are at risk. It does not end the current moratorium that's devastating us now. The Republican motion to recommit will.

It is the only vote on this floor where each lawmaker can stand up and fight for these American energy workers right now.

Mr. CASSIDY. Mr. Speaker, the gulf oil spill has been terrible for the gulf coast. But as bad as it has been, the Federal Government's moratorium on deepwater drilling can be worse. And the tragedy of it is that it actually is not going to measurably improve safety.

Now, it's not me saying that, it's the entity, the National Academy of Engineering, eight of them, the President appointed them and asked them to approve and to look at his plan. They issued a statement after the blanket moratorium. These are the petroleum engineers. "A blanket moratorium is not the answer. It will not measurably reduce risk. The tragedy has very specific causes. The blanket moratorium will have the indirect effect of harming thousands of workers and further impact State and local economies. We would in effect be punishing a large swath of people who were and are acting responsibly in providing a product the Nation needs. Overcome emotion with fact."

□ 1750

What does that mean? Overcome emotion with fact. We're all angry. Everybody in here is angry at BP. Everybody in here in some way wants to punish those responsible.

On the other hand, it's not Big Oil being punished. It's not BP. It is the workers. It is the blue collar welders, roustabouts. It is the service industry. It is the caterers. They are the ones who are going to be punished.

And, by the way, the BP fund to recompense them is only $100 million. Estimated wages lost are $700 million. It is not going to come close to covering it. These people don't want an unemployment check. They want a paycheck.

In case you think I overestimate, these are the most conservative estimates of the economic impact. Over 8,000 jobs lost in the gulf coast, 12,000 nationwide, $700 million in lost wages, $2.1 billion in lost economic activity in the gulf coast, and nearly $2.7 billion lost nationwide.

Now, it's not just the President's engineers; it's also the President's co-chairs of his Presidential commission. Bob Graham said—former Senator from Florida—There is a disconnect between Washington and the gulf coast in the sense of urgency needed in winding down the moratorium.

Bill Reilly said, Questions were raised by witnesses. Unanimously, they opposed the moratorium, even among the fishermen.

Now, the other Reilly quote was, It is not clear to me why it should take so long to reassure oneself about safety considerations in those rigs.

So we have the engineers. We have the cochairmen of the Presidential commission. We also have a Federal judge. When the Federal judge threw out the first moratorium, he said, The administration simply cannot justify the immeasurable effect on the plain-tiffs, the local economy, the gulf region.

So we've heard from engineers. We've heard from the cochair. We've heard from a Federal judge. Most importantly, let's hear from the families.

CHARLIE MELANCON earlier spoke movingly of families in his district who fear they will lose it all because of this moratorium. There are people who have walked up to me and said, Hey, I would be with you but my concern is my district won't understand. These people don't fear a district. They fear dissolution of their financial health. Think about it. These are blue-collar people who made decisions about buying a house, about buying a car. They're going to have a 6-month interruption in income. Can any one of those families tolerate 6 months of lost wages?

I ask you to overcome emotion with fact. Agree with the engineers, agree with the cochair, agree with the Federal judge, but, most importantly, agree with the families. End this moratorium now.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RAHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from West Virginia is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. RAHALL. As the gentleman from Louisiana knows from our debate and work in committee on this, this gentleman from West Virginia is not against lifting moratoria when it comes to the production of domestic energy resources. What I care about is safety; the safety of our most valuable resource, which is the worker himself. That's what I care about, whether it's oil and gas or whether it's coal mining.

Mr. CASSIDY. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. RAHALL. I will yield to the gentleman from Louisiana whose amendment just passed that does lift the moratorium when it comes to the protection and safety of our workers. His amendment passed with votes from votes from your side of the aisle. Mr. MELANCON cares about the fishermen, the jobs of everyone along his coast, and I yield to him at this point.

Mr. MELANCON. Thank you, Mr. RAHALL.

I thank the 216 people that stood by me to try and protect what is best and loved by the people of south Louisiana and the entire State. Yes, 80 percent of the people in Louisiana believe that they are directly or indirectly affected by this moratorium, directly and indirectly affected by the spill. So what do we do?

If we have it the way of the other side, we will send rigs back out, not inspect them, the hell with it. Next thing we know, we're back where we started.

My amendment provides for safety inspection in accordance with a rolling stock, to get people back to work, to make sure that America has energy, to make sure the people of my district and the State of Louisiana have jobs, good jobs, and we can continue the prosperity that we have had in the past.

Mr. RAHALL. I yield to the chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, Mr. MILLER of California.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, if we accept this moratorium, it's to suggest that we as a Congress of the United States of America have learned nothing since the Deepwater Horizon blew up in a tragic accident. We have learned nothing in the last hundred days to simply say we're going to go back to business as usual. Mr. MELANCON has given us a way to lift the moratorium, but to do it because the things that we have learned in our congressional investigations, that the Coast Guard has learned and others.

This is to suggest that we would not redesign the levees around Louisiana; we would just give them the money. Because we did that for 30 years, we have to take lessons learned. In every tragedy, the lessons are learned. And you have businesspeople all along the gulf who are losing millions of dollars in business. You have fishers who are losing their livelihood, and the question is will they ever get to come back. And if we do it right in lifting the moratorium, yes, they will get to come back. We will have energy development, and we will have a cleaner gulf than we have today because we learned something.

You take this vote home to your constituents and you're telling them you have learned nothing in the last hundred days about the operation.

We're talking about an oil company that blew up a rig that killed 15 people in Texas City, refused to fix it afterwards, and paid $87 million in fines. We're talking about a company that disregarded their workers. We have got to change those laws so this doesn't happen again. And we're on our way, thanks to Mr. MELANCON and others.

Mr. RAHALL. Mr. Speaker, what we have seen in the gulf is just plain wrong. We don't know what was the final cause of this explosion and this tragedy, but we know that something went wrong and we know that there are other scenarios that exist today where something may yet go wrong again. We hope not. We pray to God it does not.

But the fact is we need new safety requirements, and we cannot lift any moratoria in any domestic production of energy without ensuring that the new safety requirements are met. In this pending legislation, we do that. We don't just trust what the industry gives the oil rig safety inspectors. We say you have to verify. The safety inspectors have to verify what previously had just been given to them by the industry to submit as a final safety report.

So what we're doing in this legislation is not only providing ethics requirements for safety inspectors, proper training for safety inspectors, but we're also saying let's do a better job than we have in the past. And that's what this whole effort is about in the CLEAR Act.

I would urge my colleagues to reject this moratoria MTR because of what we have already adopted again in a bipartisan fashion. We've adopted the gentleman from Louisiana's amendment to lift the moratorium as long as safety requirements are met.

So if you support lifting the moratoria to protect oil workers' jobs, which everybody says they do, I hope that we'll do it and ensure that jobs are safe, and we do that by rejecting this MTR and passing this bill.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to recommit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.
