

Higher estate tax rates would have an especially severe impact on farmers and small business owners in Georgia's Second Congressional District. According to a June 2009 report by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, if Congress does not take action on estate tax relief before the end of this year, the resulting higher estate tax could affect 10 percent of American farms, 98 percent of which are family-owned and operated. Many Georgians could lose farms that have been passed down from generation to generation, or be forced to sell much-needed land, buildings, and equipment. In addition, small business owners could lose the companies they worked so hard to build and hoped to hand down to their children.

We cannot ignore these issues, and it is my hope that a bipartisan agreement can be reached before the New Year. We must extend the 2001 and 2003 tax cuts, at least temporarily, for all Americans, as well as provide substantial estate tax relief for the benefit of our family-owned farms and businesses.

Now is not the time for political games and maneuvering. The nation needs us to come together and address this issue in a bipartisan manner. We truly cannot afford to wait any longer.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, the nonpartisan Joint Committee on Taxation has prepared a technical explanation of the House amendment to the Senate amendment to H.R. 4853. This document expresses the Committee's understanding and intent of the provisions included in this legislation. This document can be found on the Joint Committee on Taxation website, www.jct.gov, under document number JCX-52-10.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4853 the Middle Class Tax Relief Act of 2010. This bill puts the interests of working families and our nation's fiscal health ahead of millionaires. The legislation allows the Bush tax cuts for the wealthy to expire, and protects struggling middle class families from a tax increase they cannot afford during these difficult economic times.

A vote against this bill is a vote against middle class families in order to protect millionaires and billionaires. Our colleagues across the aisle want to hold middle class tax relief hostage so that they can give yet another massive tax break to the wealthy. The Congressional Budget Office reported what we already know: tax cuts for the rich provide virtually no economic stimulus. Extending the rates for the highest income tax brackets is not a break needed by our small businesses. Individuals with small business income make up fewer than three percent of taxpayers in the top two tax brackets. There is no reason for us to use $700 billion that could be used to create jobs or reduce the deficit so that millionaires can get a tax cut.

Earlier this week Congress allowed unemployment insurance to expire for millions of Americans. Two million people will lose their unemployment benefits in December alone, including over 400,000 in my state of California. Last week, nearly every Republican voted against a three month extension of unemployment benefits to help families keep a roof over their heads and food on their dinner table over the holidays. This week, they will gladly justify using $700 billion in borrowed money to make a few thousand millionaires happy. The priorities of the Republicans are dangerous and out of touch with what our economy needs.

I support the Middle Class Tax Relief Act because it will protect middle and lower income families. In addition to making the tax cuts permanent for the first $250,000 of income for all married couples, the legislation will extend the $1,000 child tax credit; provide permanent dividend income tax relief; allow more workers to benefit from the EITC; permanently eliminate the "marriage penalty"; and patch the AMT through 2011. I urge my colleagues to not turn their backs on middle class families and to support this legislation.

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, long before a man finds a political party, he finds his principles. This debate about the "Bush Tax Cuts" is an opportunity to show the American people our principles—to show them that we stand for and believe in a strong middle class; to show them we believe in fiscal responsibility.

Forty-seven years ago, on the steps of The Lincoln Memorial, I criticized both the Republican and the Democratic party for doing too little for the working man and the disenfranchised. And now, as I stand here on the floor of the House of Representatives, I hope this is criticism I will not have to repeat today.

To my colleagues who fret or seek the cover of Republican votes I say, "be not afraid." Be not afraid as history will judge us right. Be not afraid as the numbers are on our side. Be not afraid as an elected official is judged not by the number of years he has served, but by the cause he has served.

Stand up and show America the cause you serve. Stand up and show America your principles. If you value and believe in the strength of America's working families, then vote "yes." If you truly believe in fiscal responsibility, then vote "yes." But if partisanship and political games come first, then vote no and allow America to see you for who you are.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to clause 1(c) of rule XIX, further consideration of this motion is postponed.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE
