

There is no question we need to rein in spending and put our nation on the path to long-term fiscal sustainability—and at the same time invest in job growth and ensure that America remains competitive in the 21st century global economy. With that in mind, President Obama put forth a tough love budget that reduces our deficit over 10 years, while also investing in our future.

This legislation will add another tool to make sure the investments we make are targeted and designed to maximize economic growth. The establishment of an expedited rescission process will help keep us on a responsible path and enforce greater fiscal discipline. An expedited rescission process allows the President to sign a spending bill into law, and at the same time propose to Congress that certain items in the bill with a budgetary cost be “rescinded” or cancelled. The President sends his recommendations for rescission to Congress within a short time-frame after presentation of the spending bill, and the Congress takes up the proposals on a fast track, acting in a short period after receiving the President’s recommendations. The rescissions take effect only if approved by a majority in each house.

Even though the current law already provides Presidential rescission authority, the law does not ensure that the Congress will vote on the President’s proposed rescissions. By contrast, the measure President Obama is now proposing, and I am introducing by request, adds new procedures that will virtually guarantee a vote. In addition, this version of the bill ensures that any savings from Congressional passage of a rescission approval bill will be dedicated to deficit reduction.

This proposal is another step forward on the path to greater fiscal responsibility. Other Members of Congress, including Chairman RYAN, have proposed different versions of expedited recession legislation in past years. I hope this year we can work together to find common ground in this area.

INTRODUCTION OF THE MEDICAID COVERAGE FOR CITIZENS OF FREELY ASSOCIATED STATES ACT OF 2011

HON. MAZIE K. HIRONO

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, March 11, 2011

Ms. HIRONO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Medicaid Coverage for Citizens of Freely Associated States Act of 2011. I would like to thank Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA, Congresswoman COLLEEN HANABUSA, and Congresswoman MADELINE BORDALLO for cosponsoring this bill.

Compact Migrants are citizens from Micronesia, the Marshall Islands, and Palau that have migrated to the United States. Citizens from these countries are allowed to freely enter the United States without a visa, criminal background check, or health certification due to agreements signed by the Federal Government.

The 1996 Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act prohibited Federal Medicaid payments for nonimmigrants, a category that includes Compact Migrants. Prior to this specific prohibition, Compact Migrants were covered by Medicaid. Since enactment of the Federal welfare reform law, state and territorial governments have been the sole sources of funding for meeting the social service and public health needs of this ever growing population.

In 2007, Hawaii spent over $37 million to cover the health care costs of the state’s Compact Migrant population. Of this amount, $30 million would have been eligible for partial Federal reimbursement through the Medicaid program.

The decision to allow citizens of the Freely Associated States to come to the United States was a Federal decision; however, the cost of that decision has fallen mainly on a handful of states and territories. Most Compact Migrants have settled in the Pacific region, likely because the environments and climates are similar to their home nations. Hawaii is home to 12,215 Compact Migrants; Guam, 18,305; and the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas Islands, 2,100. Compact Migrants are also on the continental United States, including California, Oregon, Washington, and Arkansas—a state where they have been specifically recruited as laborers. Restoring Medicaid coverage is the only fair way to address the Federal mandate.

Our former colleague and now Governor of Hawaii, Neil Abercrombie, worked with Congressman ELIOT ENGEL and Congresswoman ANNA ESHOO on an amendment to provide Medicaid coverage for Compact Migrants during the mark-up of the House health care reform bill by the Energy and Commerce Committee. This amendment was adopted by the Committee by a voice vote.

Regrettably, the Senate health care reform bill did not include comparable language. So today, I am introducing that same, bipartisan supported amendment language as a stand-alone bill.

Restoring the Medicaid eligibility of Compact Migrants is an important issue not only for Hawaii, but also Arkansas, California, Oregon, and Washington as well as the territories of American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Marianas Islands. I look forward to continuing to work with my colleagues on this important issue.

HONORING JOSEPH GIROLAMO

HON. THADDEUS G. McCOTTER

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, March 11, 2011

Mr. McCOTTER Mr. Speaker, today I rise to honor and acknowledge Joseph Girolamo, a remarkable Michigan citizen and esteemed veteran, upon his 90th birthday.

Born on March 9, 1921 in New York City, Joseph Girolamo is the oldest of seven children born to Pellegrino and Mary Girolamo. Pellegrino came to the United States as an immigrant from Benevento, Italy during World War I and served in the Army. The young family moved to Detroit when Joe was a toddler. Growing up in Detroit, Joseph Girolamo has made Livonia his home for the last 58 years.

Joseph Girolamo has always been active in his community. As a youngster Joe sold newspapers on the street corners of Detroit. He became a Boy Scout and a proud member of the Junior ROTC in high school. Young Joe joined the army during World War II and served honorably as a staff sergeant of General George Patton’s 7th Army in the European Theatre of Africa, France and Italy. It was during his time in the service that Joe, given his penchant for taking “creative liberties” on the interpretation of music as the camp bugler, became known as the “Boogie Woogie Bugler.”

When World War II ended Joseph came home to begin a 32-year career with Ford Motor Company, working in the Tool and Die Division and holding the position of committeeman. Joe also became a very accomplished bugler. He served as Drum Major for the Wayne County Council and the Detroit Edison Lamplighter Drum and Bugle Corps. Joseph has written drill and instructed many marching units in both the United States and Canada.

During his service as an instructor he trained a women’s drum and bugle corps where he met Lillian Paananen. Finding a genuine harmony, Joseph and Lillian were married on June 12, 1951. The Girolamos quite literally made beautiful music as both became state champion buglers and Joseph became a national champion bugler. On June 5, 1957 Joe and Lillian became parents to daughter Joyce Arlene and their family was complete. After celebrating 40 years of marriage in June of 1991, Joseph’s beloved Lillian succumbed to leukemia in October of that year.

Joseph Girolamo continues to be involved in his community through various veterans’ programs. He is the JR. VICE of VFW Post 3941 and the Patriotic Instructor for American Legion Post 32, both in Livonia. Major Joe teaches flag etiquette to the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies. He volunteers as a marching and drill instructor with the Livonia Churchill High School Junior ROTC. Major Joe is also a popular speaker at local schools as he shares his involvement and experiences during World War II.

Mr. Speaker, for 90 years Joseph Girolamo has graced the world with his kindness, patriotic dedication, hard work, and community spirit. Today, I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Joseph Girolamo upon reaching his 90th birthday on March 9, 2011, and to honor his heartfelt commitment and brave service to his community and his country.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE BEVIN
KALATHIL VARUGHESE MEMO-RIAL FOUNDATION

HON. GARY L. ACKERMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, March 11, 2011

Mr. ACKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to seek Congressional recognition of the vital mission and achievements of the Bevin Kalathil Varughese Memorial Foundation (BKV). The BKV Memorial Foundation has been instrumental in raising awareness and resources for individuals battling leukemia. The Foundation's creation was inspired by the remarkable life of one of my constituents, Bevin Kalathil Varughese—a life which was tragically cut short following an unsuccessful bout with this terrible disease.

Born in Manhasset, New York, Bevin Kalathil Varughese was an affectionate individual and a cherished son, brother, nephew, cousin, and uncle. An extraordinarily motivated young man, Bevin graduated from Herricks High School in New York and went on to earn his Bachelor's Degree in Finance and Real Estate from Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. His cheerfulness, generosity, and love of life were evident to all who knew him; his personality touched all who were close to him.

Bevin's drive and good-nature were unwavering—even when he was diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia in January 2004 at the age of 24. Although Bevin fluctuated between relapse and remission for four years, he refused to let the disease dampen his spirits or weaken his will. Instead, Bevin focused his energy on researching the disease and the resources available to those it afflicts. By working with his family and friends, he created the South Asian Cancer Foundation (SACF) which advocates for leukemia awareness, particularly within the South Asian-American community. Bevin was also involved in a variety of other organizations dealing with the disease and those affected by it—he hosted fundraisers to benefit both the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS) and the SACF, took part in the LLS Light the Night Walk, and organized numerous blood and bone marrow drives.

Although Bevin eventually lost his battle with leukemia on February 7th, 2008 at the all-too-young age of 28, his passion and legacy live on through the Bevin Kalathil Varughese Memorial Foundation. The BKV Memorial Foundation was created in 2008 to both preserve Bevin's memory and to continue his work with the South Asian Cancer Foundation. The Foundation's mission is to raise awareness about acute lymphoblastic leukemia and other blood-related diseases. This non-profit organization provides resources to those suffering from leukemia and to their families. The assistance comes in the form of support for leukemia patients, financial aid for those who cannot afford treatment, and donations for research to find a cure for the disease. The BKV Foundation works tirelessly to raise funding through countless charity events and organizations. It has also reached out to the greater community by encouraging individuals to register with the National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP).

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to recognize the achievements and dedication of the Bevin Kalathil Varughese Memorial Foundation. Through its attempts to preserve and honor Bevin's memory, this Foundation is making a positive and lasting impact on countless lives. I ask that my colleagues in the House join me in recognition of the achievements of the Bevin Kalathil Varughese Memorial Foundation.

FHA REFINANCE PROGRAM
TERMINATION ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 10, 2011

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 830) to rescind the unobligated funding for the FHA Refinance Program and to terminate the program, with Mr. Bass of New Hampshire in the chair.

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Chair, I rise today to urge my colleagues to vote no on H.R. 830, the FHA Refinance Program Termination Act. This bill would terminate the authority for the FHA to guarantee new single family refinance loans under the FHA refinance program at 97.75 percent of the home's value. I am concerned that the Republican plan would kill a program that offers a cost effective approach to assisting underwater borrowers achieve sustainable long-term homeownership.

This Congress should be committed to helping struggling homeowners stay in their homes. Instead it seems we are taking up measures that would only complicate this effort. According to the FHA nearly one quarter of American homeowners are underwater on their mortgages. Terminating a program that would allow hard-working Americans who are current in their mortgages the ability to stay in their homes will only add to our nation's foreclosure crisis.

Mr. Chair, homeownership is the American dream for many families in this country. The FHA Refinance Program will give the American people a chance to keep their dream alive by allowing lenders the ability to write off mortgage principal, at no cost to the tax payer.

This Congress must stand with the distressed homeowners in this country who have lost their jobs through no fault of their own. Before moving forward we should ask ourselves who do we value, and more importantly who do we stand with? Congress must stand on the side of the homeowners in this country. I urge my colleagues to vote no H.R. 830.
