WILLIAM COORS TRIBUTE

HON. SCOTT R. TIPTON

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 31, 2011

Mr. TIPTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize one of Colorado's most successful businessman, William Coors. A native of Colorado, Mr. Coors took the small brewery that his grandfather founded and turned it into a nationwide product and one of the largest beer producers in the world.

Mr. Coors earned his bachelors and masters degrees in chemical engineering at Princeton University. Following his graduation, he returned to Colorado and joined Coors' management team, rising quickly through the ranks. He eventually became Chairman and CEO of the company and led it through its greatest period of growth.

What is now the Molson-Coors Brewing Company, has been one of the great success stories among Colorado businesses. The company, nestled in the city of Golden, employs thousands of workers and has led the industry in innovation. Bill Coors is proud to mention that he oversaw the invention of the recyclable aluminum can, which is now a staple among all beer producers. He is also intensely proud that a relatively small, specialty brewery could grow to its current size and lead the industry for so long.

Mr. Speaker, it is truly an honor to stand and pay tribute to a man who revolutionized business in Colorado, and the country at large. Bill Coors was an exemplary leader, and I admire his business acumen. I have no doubt that Colorado will feel the imprint left by Mr. Coors for many years and that his company will continue to thrive under his blueprint.

IN RECOGNITION OF MRS. CAROLYN PRICE'S HONOR OF RECEIVING THE 2011 COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD FROM THE LAMBDA RHO ZETA CHAPTER OF ZETA PHI BETA

HON. GARY C. PETERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Mrs. Carolyn Price, my friend of many years, who is being honored by the Lambda Rho Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta with the 2011 Community Service Award for her decades of volunteer work with the residents of Pontiac, Michigan.

Carolyn's professional career has been marked by scores of years of service—service to Pontiac and to residents across southeast Michigan. As an employee of the United States Postal Service for 39 years, Carolyn spent much of her day-to-day work directly assisting residents. Following her work with the Postal Service, Carolyn worked with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) as a regional investigator, working to ensure fair treatment for federal employees across the thirteen States in the region. Through her hard work and dedication, Carolyn eventually rose to become the manager of the EEOC's Detroit district. After her work with the EEOC, Carolyn continued to work with residents in Michigan, working as a community organizer in 2010 for the U.S. Census Bureau in Pontiac, creating a dialogue with area residents to ensure maximum participation in the Census.

Carolyn's service in her professional work is mirrored in her volunteer commitment to the residents of Pontiac. Carolyn, herself an 8 year survivor of breast cancer, serves as Coordinator of survivor participation for the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life in Pontiac and Auburn Hills. Carolyn also volunteers a significant amount of time volunteering on behalf of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's Riley Foundation Sister and Sister Free Mammogram program, which educates minority communities on the importance of early detection in maintaining good health. In addition, Carolyn also served as a tutor for the Oakland County Literacy Program and as board member for Jay Shop, an organization dedicated to assisting persons with disabilities with rehabilitation. One area where Carolyn has left a profound mark is in her work with area seniors, as President of the Pontiac Golden Opportunities Club, which provides programming and events tailored to seniors.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me today in recognizing Mrs. Carolyn Price's unique and substantive contributions to the residents of Southeast Michigan. Her passion for advocacy on breast cancer awareness and her spirit of giving to the residents of Pontiac have undoubtedly touched the lives of so many area residents. I wish Carolyn many years of continued service to the Pontiac community.

RECOGNIZING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF PETER G. LEFEVRE

HON. LAMAR SMITH

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 31, 2011

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize Peter G. LeFevre. Mr. LeFevre has served in the Office of the Law Revision Counsel for 30 years, and has spent the past 7 years as the head of that Office. He will retire on June 1, 2011.

The job of the Law Revision Counsel primarily involves two tasks. The first is maintaining the United States Code. Mr. LeFevre determines what part of the legislation that Congress enacts every year is law of a general and permanent nature that should be written into the Code, finds the best place in the Code to put each enactment, and accurately restates the legislation as part of the Code. The second task is to revise the existing titles of the Code. Mr. LeFevre takes out obsolete provisions, corrects errors, clears up ambiguities, improves the structure, and prepares codification bills for the Judiciary Committee to enact the old titles as new positive law titles of the Code.

Mr. LeFevre's leadership has earned him regard by his colleagues as the master of the Code. His great attention to detail, ability to retain detailed information, and long experience have given Mr. LeFevre an encyclopedic knowledge of the Code. While being respectful of the practices of the Office, he has simultaneously encouraged his staff to rethink the way things are done in order to streamline the work without sacrificing accuracy. He has fostered a collegial atmosphere in the Office, where new ideas are welcomed and given thoughtful and fair consideration. Mr. LeFevre's dedication to the Office of the Law Revision Counsel and its staff has earned him the admiration of all who know him.

Mr. Speaker, I sincerely thank Mr. LeFevre for his important contributions to the work of the House and wish him many happy and fulfilling years of retirement.

TRIBUTE TO CHIEF RANDY SCHOEN

HON. GREG WALDEN

OF OREGON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 31, 2011

Mr. WALDEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the career of Randy Schoen, chief of police for the City of Medford, Oregon. Upon his upcoming retirement from the Medford Police Department on June 20, 2011, I want to thank Chief Schoen for his service to the state of Oregon as he begins a new chapter of his life.

Chief Schoen began his law enforcement career in 1978 with the Grants Pass Department of Public Safety and later joined the Medford Police Department in 1984, where he earned the rank of chief in 2007. Throughout his career, Chief Schoen worked tirelessly to implement cost-effective police services, stand as a steward for public resources, and serve and protect the citizens of Oregon.

As chief of police he often referred to the police department as "the only 24 hour broker of social services," and throughout his police career he operated under the motto that no call is too small.

Chief Schoen's career has been a history full of force improvements and innovative practices that improved the efficiency of the force. As a sergeant early in his career, he observed that sworn police officers were delivering court documents, enforcing minor city ordinances, and serving subpoenas. To better allow sworn police officers to focus on fighting crime, he began Medford's Community Service Officer, CSO. The CSO program primarily hires college students who aim to become police officers. This program provides an opportunity for the police department to review, monitor, and train a potential police officer's commitment to service, character, and work ethic.

In addition, then-Sergeant Schoen also developed Medford's first K9 and SWAT programs. Over the years, the K9 team has grown to five dogs and the SWAT team has developed into an interagency squad. Both programs have won numerous awards and have been recognized as among Oregon's premier policing practices.

In 1999, Schoen was promoted to deputy chief of operations, where he worked on a strategic plan to shape the future of the Medford Police Department. His plan improved service, saved money, and created an environment in which officers were encouraged to pursue excellence and continued professional improvement.

Among the successful programs in Chief Schoen's plan was the Medford Volunteer Program, which now has over 40 volunteers. In 2009, the labor provided by these volunteers was conservatively valued at $100,000.

Within the police department, Chief Schoen has improved the evaluation process and the availability of career resources. Officers can now refer to a career guide to help them set goals towards achieving their desired position within the department. In addition, the department now has a mentoring program available to any employee committed to self improvement. Chief Schoen strongly believes if you recognize and celebrate great performances, it encourages others to improve themselves. For this reason, he has also instituted a rewards program that includes a payday bulletin highlighting outstanding performances, an awards banquet, and the Master Police Officer program, which rewards an exemplary patrol officer to serve as an assistance supervisor to the sergeant.

In 2007, Randy Schoen was appointed chief of police and has continued his distinguished career with the Medford Police Department. While the City of Medford and the department will surely miss his leadership, Chief Schoen has helped build the Medford Police Department into a stronger organization that will continue to improve thanks, in no small measure, to the strong foundation he leaves behind.

Mr. Speaker, on June 20, 2011, Chief Randy Schoen will retire from the Medford Police Department after 33 years of exemplary public service. I invite my colleagues to join me in wishing Chief Schoen all the best as he begins retirement.
