

manage Federal Property, including federally owned property used for any "needful" government purpose. The federal government's duty to raise and maintain a military force subsumes a duty to maintain and take care of its veterans from such military forces. Thus, a veterans' center is a "needful building" to fulfill a core constitutional duty, and thus Congress has the exclusive authority to manage it and give it a name. James v. Dravo Contracting Co., 302 U.S. 134, 143 (1937) (taking the "view" that the phrase "other needful buildings" embraces "whatever structures are found to be necessary in the performance of the functions of the federal government). For these reasons, the bill seeking to name a veteran's center is constitutionally permissible.
