

and Affordable Care Act and the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act, which include several specific provisions that exceed the powers granted to Congress by the Constitution. The general repeal of these laws is consistent with the Tenth Amendment, which reserves to the States and to the people those powers that are not delegated to the United States by the Constitution.

Division A (Sections 101 and 111), Title IV of Division B, and Division F are enacted pursuant to Article I, Section 8, Clause 1 of the Constitution, which grants Congress the power to collect taxes to pay debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States.

Division A (except Sections 101 and 111), Division B (except Title IV), Division C, Division E, and Division G are enacted pursuant to Article I, Section 8, Clause 3 of the Constitution, which grants Congress the power to regulate interstate commerce.

Division D removes the federal government from the doctor-patient relationship consistent with the rights and powers reserved to the states and the people under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments.

Division F (Section 602) protects the right of the people to free exercise of religion under the First Amendment, and the right of the people to the equal protection of the laws under the Fourteenth Amendment.
