

then controls the time, may offer an amendment to the rule, or yield for the purpose of amendment."

In Deschler's Procedure in the U.S. House of Representatives, the subchapter titled "Amending Special Rules" states: "a refusal to order the previous question on such a rule [a special rule reported from the Committee on Rules] opens the resolution to amendment and further debate." (Chapter 21, section 21.2) Section 21.3 continues: "Upon rejection of the motion for the previous question on a resolution reported from the Committee on Rules, control shifts to the Member leading the opposition to the previous question, who may offer a proper amendment or motion and who controls the time for debate thereon."

Clearly, the vote on the previous question on a rule does have substantive policy implications. It is one of the only available tools for those who oppose the Republican majority's agenda and allows those with alternative views the opportunity to offer an alternative plan.

Mr. WOODALL. I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. WOODALL. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

PROVIDING FOR AN ADJOURNMENT OR RECESS OF THE TWO HOUSES

Mr. WOODALL. Mr. Speaker, I send to the desk a privileged concurrent resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the concurrent resolution, as follows:

H. CON. RES. 17

SEC. 2. The Speaker of the House and the Majority Leader of the Senate, or their respective designees, acting jointly after consultation with the Minority Leader of the House and the Minority Leader of the Senate, shall notify the Members of the House and the Senate, respectively, to reassemble at such place and time as they may designate if, in their opinion, the public interest shall warrant it.

Mr. WOODALL. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question are postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

Messrs. PEARCE and YOUNG of Alaska changed their vote from “nay” to “yea.”

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

(By unanimous consent, Mr. BOEHNER was allowed to speak out of order.)

THE HOUSE WORKS BEST WHEN THE HOUSE IS ALLOWED TO WORK ITS WILL

Mr. BOEHNER. My colleagues, I think a lot of you know that I have always believed that the House works best when the House is allowed to work its will.

I think all of you know that we are embarking on a more open process in this Congress, and it will start today with the consideration of this continuing resolution.

I take to the well to suggest to the Members that we want all Members to be able to participate in the debate here in the House. We also want to keep our commitment to the Members to meet the schedule that we have outlined for everyone. That means, as we go through the next couple of days, I am going to ask Members on both sides of the aisle to try to bring your amendments together, to try to respect the amount of time that is being taken so that all Members have an opportunity to be heard and to participate in the debate.

We have never had an open process for a continuing resolution in our history; so we are into some uncharted waters. I am ready to expect whatever. But I do believe that this process is important for all the Members, and I want this week for all of us to get started down this road working together so that, as we get into the weeks and months ahead, we can show the American people that the House can work together, the House can work its will. And, at the end of the day, I think the American people will be better served by our service.
