

they break ground on a new 200,000-square-foot campus in Monroe County. In the past 40 years, Northampton Community College has grown into a public, comprehensive community college, matriculating 36,000 students through their credit programs, workforce training, adult literacy, and youth classes.

The new campus will nearly double the capacity of its current Monroe County campus and enable Northampton to continue offering degree programs specifically targeted to meet the needs of the local community. For example, the new campus will house the Workforce Development and Training Center, which is projected to train more than 1,000 new, incumbent and displaced workers within five years of completion. Additionally, the expanded campus will serve the needs of the community by providing greater public meeting spaces and athletic fields for youth sports.

Furthermore, this project will assist in helping the community weather tough economic times by spurring economic growth, creating hundreds of new jobs for Pennsylvanians and generating millions in economic revenue activity.

I would like to congratulate Northampton Community College on reaching a great milestone and look forward to hearing of future achievements.●
