

CONGRATULATIONS TO MS. CHARLOTTE LANDRETH-MELVILLE ON HER 90TH BIRTHDAY

HON. MICHAEL G. FITZPATRICK

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to wish Ms. Charlotte Landreth-Melville, a resident of historic Bristol Borough in my home of Bucks County, Pennsylvania a Happy Birthday as she turns 90 on June 25th.

During her 90 years, Charlotte has seen sixteen U.S. presidents take the oath of office, has honorably served her country in World War II as a member of the Women Marines, has traveled the world, and has started her own small business. Charlotte has enjoyed quite a healthy, exciting life.

Over the course of her life, she has climbed to the peak of Mount Kilimanjaro, trekked through the Sahara Desert, lived on a houseboat in India and bicycled all across Europe. One way or another, she still managed to find time to remain active in her local community as a contributor to the Bristol Pilot Newspaper.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to speak on Charlotte's behalf today, and I wish her the very best on this momentous occasion. Charlotte's free spirit and dedication to her country and community make her a perfect role model in today's society. I wish her many more years of good health, success and happiness.

HONORING THE OUTSTANDING CAREER OF RETIRING RED CROSS OFFICIAL ARMOND MASCELLI

HON. MARK S. CRITZ

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. CRITZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a son of southwestern Pennsylvania and a tremendous public servant.

In 1971, a young man named Armond Mascelli took the advice of his Scranton college professor and went to work for the American Red Cross. Four decades later, after a distinguished career of philanthropic work that has taken him to many different parts of the world, Armond is set to retire from the Red Cross as Vice President for Disaster Operations.

Over the last 41 years, Armond has served on and directed numerous disaster relief operations throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Central America and the U.S. Virgin Islands. He has also served on Red Cross assignments in South Vietnam, Thailand, Japan, Canada, Mexico, Turkey and Guam.

Over his long career, there have been many significant disasters and Armond remembers them all, particularly the Johnstown, PA, flood of 1977.

Any school child from my district can tell you about the Great Johnstown Flood of 1889 caused by a dam failure which resulted in the release of 20 million tons of water into Johnstown. The flood killed more than 2,200 people and was the first major disaster relief effort handled by the American Red Cross, led by Clara Barton.

But on July 20, 1977, a line of severe thunderstorms moved slowly over Johnstown, dropping a foot of rain on the city in only 12 hours. Small streams overflowed and several dams failed, causing history to repeat itself. Water tore through highways, homes, factories and stores.

The death toll would eventually reach 85 as a result of the flood. Property damage reached about $300 million. Hundreds were left homeless. Our town was once again reminded of its tragic history, opening old wounds and inflicting new ones. But not all of the stories from this flood were sad.

The Red Cross and many other non-profit agencies, State and Federal Governments, and private individuals rushed to help with the relief efforts. Armond Mascelli was a young Red Cross disaster worker who had been assigned to the Johnstown relief operation for more than a month when he met a young and attractive Johnstown girl who was volunteering for the Red Cross in the operations. Armond and Kathy Lenzi were married 2 years later.

Armond was also assigned to the Three Mile Island nuclear disaster near Harrisburg, PA, in 1979, and was part of the task force at Indiantown Gap near Lebanon, PA, helping the more than 19,000 refugees brought there during the Cuban Boat Lift in 1980 and 1981.

Armond has been part of the Red Cross response to a number of major national and international disasters over the past four decades, including hurricanes Hugo, Andrew, Mitch and Katrina, the Loma Prieta and North Ridge earthquakes and the 1993 flooding in the Midwest. When the floods from Irene ravaged our State last year, Armond was in the Red Cross Disaster Operations Center coordinating the response.

When asked if it was ever difficult to stay in a field that witnesses so much devastation and sadness, he said the good work the Red Cross does was motivation to stay in the job.

"Disaster is unfair, heartbreaking," he said. "Working for the Red Cross is an opportunity to provide assistance to those in need. I've met a ton of real interesting people—good people—through my years with Red Cross."

"The people I work with really believe in the principles of the Red Cross, the mission," he said. "And our volunteers—they amaze me. It's neighbor helping neighbor. People in this country want to help when something happens, it's part of their makeup."

"Part of being with the Red Cross is to make it better. I'm passing this to someone else for them to make improvements," Mascelli said. "The Red Cross is always looking to the future, to change, to improve. We're an old organization, but we're still relevant. I attribute that to our mission, our volunteers and adapting to meet the changing needs of those we serve."

Mr. Speaker, I congratulate Armond on his upcoming retirement and salute his great service to our Nation and to the American Red Cross. He and his wife Kathy have my best wishes as they transition into a new phase of their life together.

RECOGNIZING THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF "TAPS"

HON. TOM REED

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. REED. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 150th anniversary of the writing of

"Taps," a song I have worked tirelessly here in Congress to recognize as the National Song of Remembrance for those who have served our country.

Much like "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever," which were born from the winds of war, "Taps" shares a similar history. In July 1862, following the Seven Days battles, Union General Daniel Butterfield and bugler Oliver Willcox Norton created "Taps" at Berkley Plantation, Virginia, as a way to signal the end of daily military activities. Since that time, "Taps" has become known throughout the United States as part of the military honors accorded at funerals, memorial services, and wreath ceremonies held for members of the uniformed services and veterans who have faithfully served our nation during times of war and peace.

The designation of "Taps" as the National Song of Remembrance is timely because the 150th anniversary of the writing of "Taps" will be observed with events culminating this month, June 2012, with a rededication of the Taps Monument at Berkley Plantation, Virginia. I am proud that the House of Representatives passed this language as a tribute to honor those that have fallen in service of our country.

RECOGNIZING THE ADRIAN CITY BAND ON THEIR 175TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. TIM WALBERG

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. WALBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Adrian City Band as they celebrate their 175th year of providing musical entertainment to the community of Adrian, Michigan.

The Adrian City Band is one of the oldest continuously organized city bands in the United States, tracing their roots back to 1838. Under the leadership of director Jim Rice, the band of nearly 80 members recently kicked off their weekly summer concert series, which will feature eight performances with historical themes.

In spite of the down economy and tight city finances, the band members and leadership have continued the tradition without pay, while the community has supported the band through financial donations.

Community bands are an American tradition, and for decades, the Adrian City Band has offered a fine example of this civic pastime. The Adrian City Band will continue to entertain and impress with a series of eight concerts this summer at the Trestle Park bandshell, and they deserve recognition for their dedication and sacrifice in bringing entertainment to Southeast Michigan.

Mrs. HARTZLER. Mr. Speaker, on Monday, June 18, 2012, I was unable to vote due to a conflicting obligation in my district. Had I been present, I would have voted as follows: on rollcall No. 379, "yea"; on rollcall No. 380, "yea."

IN RECOGNITION OF THE VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION HEALTH GROUP'S 100TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. FRANK PALLONE, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) Health Group as its employees gather to celebrate its 100th anniversary. VNA Health Group members continue to exemplify outstanding dedication to the promotion and restoration of the health status of community individuals. Their service is truly worthy of this body's recognition.

The Visiting Nurse Association Health Group was established in 1912 in Lincroft, New Jersey. Within its first decade, the organization completed a study of mentally handicapped children in public schools, launched child welfare programs and established a mobile health clinic to assist constituents throughout Monmouth County, New Jersey. The organization adopted the name Monmouth County Organization for Social Services (MCOSS) in 1918 and maintained their focus on improving healthcare needs for women and children. The agency acquired the Visiting Nurses Association in Middlesex County in 1988 and expanded their services to include the constituents of Middlesex County; later that year, the New Jersey hospice care program was certified by Medicaid and served more than 1,500 patients and their families.

In December 1993, the organization adopted the name Visiting Nurse Association of Central New Jersey; the new name allowed for the establishment of a governing board and the ability to raise funds on behalf of the organization. VNA of Central New Jersey later joined with other organizations, including the Visiting Nurse and Hospice Services and Essex Valley Visiting Nurse Association, and partnered with Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital to continue expanding their service area. In 2011, VNA of Central New Jersey affiliates and partners unified under the title Visiting Nurse Association Health Group to better reflect the organization's growth. Today, the organization and its employees continue to personify compassionate, caring and patient-centered services to constituents throughout New Jersey.

VNA Health Group is New Jersey's largest non-profit community health provider of home health, hospice and community services. Today, the VNA remains a volunteer organization that assists over 100,000 individuals throughout New Jersey each year. VNA Health Group is accredited by the Community Health Accreditation Program, Inc. and continues to provide outstanding in-home services including certified home health aide services, pediatric care, rehabilitative therapy, palliative care, tele-health monitoring, geriatric care management, companion homemaker services, and nutritional counseling. As a result of their outstanding efforts, VNA Health Group is the proud recipient of the New York Times Tribute to Nurses Award and the New Jersey Hospice and Palliative Care Association Award, among others.

Mr. Speaker, once again, please join me in celebrating the Visiting Nurse Association Health Group's 100th Anniversary. The organization has provided exquisite services to constituents throughout Monmouth County and New Jersey.

TRIBUTE TO FRANCES PRESTON

HON. HOWARD L. BERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 19, 2012

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am joined by my colleagues Congressmen STEVE COHEN, JIM COOPER, MARSHA BLACKBURN, JERROLD NADLER, HOWARD COBLE, LAMAR SMITH, BARNEY FRANK, and JOHN CONYERS to honor the life and memory of one of the First Ladies of American music, Frances W. Preston, the former president and Chief Executive Officer of Broadcast Music Inc. (BMI).

Frances Preston was a trailblazer who opened up doors of opportunity for a new generation of female executives in the music and entertainment industries. No barriers stopped Frances in advocating for songwriters' rights, and on Capitol Hill, her tireless advocacy was critical in protecting the music industry. Her counsel was indispensable and we sought it often.

The business acumen of Frances Preston was exceeded only by her charisma and charm, and by the respect, affection and admiration her colleagues and peers had for her. She was lauded for her empathy and for the gracious manner in which she treated every person, from the hottest star to the humblest worker. She was an exceptional executive, leader, role model and friend.

With Frances at its head, BMI grew to represent over 300,000 American and foreign songwriters, composers and music publishers in licensing music, and collecting and distributing royalties from play on radio and in television, films, ads and other media. Its artists represent all types of music and its catalog contains 4.5 million works. During her 18 years as president, its revenue grew more than three times to more than $625 million.

BMI has become an internationally respected leader and a unique success story as the entertainment industry has been transformed by digital technology and globalization. Sensitive to the changing world of music, Frances focused on domestic licensing, foreign performing rights, legislation for fair compensation for writers and publishers, and copyright protection.

Frances joined BMI in 1958 after working in music and broadcasting in Nashville. She opened BMI's regional office there, and led her company to preeminence in the South, signing writers and publishers with roots in both country and other types of music.

In 1964, the year the Nashville BMI building opened on Music Row, Frances became a vice president of BMI—reportedly, the first woman corporate executive in Tennessee.

She has often been called a trailblazer in the music business but Frances was also a trailblazer among women. She was the first woman Rotarian in the State of Tennessee. She was the first woman to work with the National Chamber of Commerce. She was one of the first four women—and the first businesswoman—to be invited to join the Friars Club in New York and the first woman to serve on their board of governors.

Frances was an industry pioneer and a compassionate humanitarian who touched the lives of many people, and she will be sorely missed.
